City Gets Gift In Odd Land Deal

By C. P. McCARTHY

San Rafael City Council last night accepted a gift — with $170,000 worth of strings attached — of 539 acres of undeveloped property in the Black Canyon area of the city.

The council, which indicated at the beginning of a discussion of the offer that it was in favor of accepting, almost balked after running into an hour's worth of squabbling with proponents of the plan and a representative of the gift-givers.

In the end, the council approved a much amended motion which accepted the gift of the land, with thanks, and assumed a final mortgage payment on the property with the deal to be effective tomorrow, subject to approval of a preliminary title report by City Atty. Fred C. Robbins Jr., and with the council reserving the right to sell portions of the property to recoup its $170,000 investment. (Another San Rafael council story, page 5.)

The property, valued at about $1.5 million, was given to San Rafael by its owners, a Southern California partnership headed by entertainer Frank Sinatra. The group purchased the property in 1961 for a sum estimated to be more than $400,000.

The property, part of it shrub-covered and part densely forested, will be maintained as a recreational "greenbelt" area, according to San Rafael City Mgr. James H. McCown.

Prior to accepting the offer, a move which was greeted with applause by the 100 persons attending the meeting, the council heard from about 15 persons in favor of accepting one opposed and Los Angeles attorney Norman Tyre, representing the Sinatra group.

It was Tyre who gave the councilmen their most serious concern about the offer as he demanded that the transfer of property be termed a gift and insisted that the deal be closed immediately.

The $170,000 the city will pay includes a $167,000 final mortgage payment and the cost of two appraisals and a title report.

Tyre denounced everyone — councilmen and audience alike

Nation's Railroads On Brink Of Strike

Union Defies President In Deadline Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks said today there will be a nationwide strike at 12:01 A.M. Thursday regardless of what Congress does and even if he is jailed in the process.

C. L. Dennis, president of the clerks, said it was not possible to reach an agreement with the railroads before the deadline and his men would defy any government order to stay on the job.

"If I'm thrown in jail, I think you guys will keep the ranks firm," Dennis told 150 applauding legislative representatives of the clerks.

They fanned out to try to persuade members of Congress to defeat President Nixon's request for a 45-day postponement of the strike. On Capitol Hill, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield urged Nixon to take "a direct, active part" in finding a solution and said he doubted Congress could enact a postponement before the deadline,

The clerks are one of four unions who are seeking wage increases and other benefits. The clerks want a higher money settlement than the 37 per cent increase over three years recommended by a White House commission. The other three unions have not officially announced a strike but have said they will honor the clerks' picket lines.

"We are going to strike," said L. E. Dennis, son of the clerks' president and the brotherhood's executive director.

AFL-CIO President George Meany issued a statement urging Congress to reject Nixon's proposed 45-day extension because "there is no justification for forcing workers to labor against their will for the private profit of employers."

"Simple justice demands that, if the Congress deems the railroads so vital to the economy that workers are to be denied their rights as free ment, then the government should seize and operate the railroads, with the operating income going to the public treasury," Meany said.

In Congress, Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., introduced a resolution calling for the 45-day postponement sought by the administration.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said "the administration has done almost all it could do" to prevent the approaching rail strike and he urged "prompt consideration" of the resolution.

However, Mansfield also urged the President "to give serious consideration to laying his prestige on the line" in the face of the union's refusal to postpone its walkout.

Dennis charged that Nixon, in asking for delaying legislation, had sided with "profit-taking railroad management" and had "destroyed any hope of collec-

35th Story Of My Lai Horror

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—A soldier who was under 1st Lt. William L. Calley's command at My Lai testified today he refused to obey Calley's order to shoot screaming civilians in a ditch where mothers piled atop their children to save them from automatic rifle fire.

The witness, James Joseph Dursi, employe of an electrical manufacturing firm in Brooklyn, N.Y., was the 35th produced by the government in its attempt to convict the diminutive Calley of the premeditated murder of 102 civilians in the Vietnamese village March 16, 1968.

His testimony followed that of another former soldier who said he watched Calley act as the lone executioner of five to 10 separate groups brought to the ditch during a 90-minute period.

Dursi, a huge man with black hair, sideburns and mustasche, said he was a private first class in the platoon Calley commanded.

After his testimony, Capt. Auburey M. Daniel III, the prosecutor, told the court Dursi probably was the last prosecution witness, but that he would not rest the government case without making an effort to find two more witnesses he has been trying to locate. Dursi said at Calley's order, he, Pfc. Paul D. Meadlo, and Calley put their rifles in the port-arms position and pushed people into a ditch at My Lai.

"Some started to cry and they were yelling," he said. "Meadlo was crying and pushing the people. We were ordered to shoot by Lt. Calley.

"I don't remember his exact words, but he said something like: Start firing.'

UAW, Ford Reach Tentative Contract

DETROIT (UPI)The Ford Rouncil of the United Auto Workers today examined a tentative contract agreement with Ford Motor Co. which almost certainly averts a second crippling strike this year in the auto industry.

Once the 200-member council has finished examining the agreement, which will cost Ford an additional $1.2 billion, at least, in wages alone over three years, it will decide whether to recommend acceptance by the union's 166,000 members at Ford's U.S. plants.

Traditionally, the council recommends that the workers accept—and the workers always have accepted—the agreement their bargainers worked out. The council is expected to recommend acceptance in this case.

Like the GM workers, Ford's UAW members will get an average 51 cents per hour pay increase in the first year and 3 per cent boosts in each of the second and third years of the three-year pact, assuming they ratify it.

But the company and union tentatively agreed to pay 26 cents of the first-year increase retroactively to Sept. 15, when the old contract expired. The remaining 25 cents would be paid retroactively to Nov. 15.

Originally, the union demanded the entire 51 cents be paid retroactively to Sept. 15, while the company wanted to pay 26 cents then and the remainder only when the national contract was signed and the last local settlement was in.

The compromise on the effective date of retroactive pay will give Ford workers an average $175 as a Christmas bonus in their paychecks.

Ford workers, as their GM counterparts, would get between $12,000 and $13,000 per year. Under the old contract, they made about $9,000 per year.

In the Ford contract, the union also won the right for the company to make arrangements with local unions to deduct from a worker's pay check payments for dental care insurance. The union originally demanded company-paid dental care for workers and their families, and it won no concessions in that area from GM. The Ford deductions would work much like the present Blue Cross and Blue Shield payments, except the company pays those.

Although ratification of the Ford pact was expected, production could be hampered by unsettled local disputes. So far, 31 of the Union's 99 bargaining units at Ford still have not agreed on local contracts.

Chrysler Corp., which is not under a strike deadline, is now the only member of the "Big Three" which has not come to terms with the UAW. American Motors begins negotiations with tue UAW in Green Bay, Wis., this week.

Major Breakthrough In Stopping Genetic Defects

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Dr. James Danielli, who says he constructed a living and reproducing cell from already existing living matter, believes man soon may be able to stop genetic defects and "end the deterioration of the human race."

Danielli revealed last month he and other researchers at the State University of New York at Buffalo had for the first time successfully synthesized living and reproducing cells. He said it was done by breaking cells down into their basic components and then reassembling them into new cells.

Some of the applications of his discovery, he said, were:

-The development of new crops from semiarid areas.

-The development of special organisms from environmental control, including organisms that could more effectively treat sewage or remove salt from the water.

-Present methods of chemical engineering which pollute the atmosphere with biological synthesis would be replaced by tailor-made organisms that would be nontoxic and could later be used as either food or fertilizer.

"We may wish to reverse our toleration of genetic defects and end the deterioration of the human race," Danielli said. He declined to set down a timetable for man's ability to "add or subtract genes" in human reproduction, but said "many of these things will be done in 100 years and a great deal will be done in 20."

Dandelli said it would even be possible to cross a man and a horse," in a sense, though I can't see any reason for doing it, mind you."

Danielli's process for the artificial synthesis of living and reproducing cells involves taking several amoebae —simple one-celled organisms —and breaking them down into their basic components —membrane, cytoplasm and nucleus.

The cytoplasm of one amoeba is then added to the membrane of another. Finally, the nucleus of a third amoeba is added and an entirely new cell is in existence.

Danielli said the reassembled cells "feed, digest, move and reproduce in a manner indistinguishable from that of the original cells."

Danielli and Dr. Robert Rosen, assistant director of the center, cautioned those who continue research in the area of all cell synthesis care must be taken to "prevent the accidental introduction of harmful properties."

They said within the next 20 years man's capacity to develop new viruses, new cells and new organisms will be greatly extended.

Rogers Pledges No-Involvement Type Military Aid To Cambodia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers pledged today that the United States would aid Cambodia without resorting to ground combat troops or giving the embattled government sophisticated military equipment that might require U.S. advisers.

Rogers told the Senate Appropriations Committee the Nixon administration was depending on "the united will and patriotic fervor" of the Cambodians to hold off Communist troops and permit the United States to make a speedy exit from Southeast Asia.

Rogers and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird appeared before the committee to urge swift approval of the administration's $1 billion supplemental aid request that includes $255 million for Cambodia. They said 70 per cent of the Cambodia outlay was earmarked for ammunition and the rest for small arms, trucks and other equipment that the Cambodians could maintain and use themselves without U. S. advisers.

Rogers said when the United States withdrew from Cambodia following last spring's offensive it "had no intention at that time, nor have we any today, of sending further combat troops or military advisers into Cambodia.

"What we have done instead is to take advantage of the assets that have enabled the Cambodian government thus far to stand up to the Communists: the united will and patriotic fervor of a people confronted with external ag-

Angela Case To State

Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales revealed today that he has pulled out of the Angela Y. Davis - Ruchell Magee Case, saying he was too personally involved to handle it.

The state attorney general's office will take over prosecution of the case.

Bales made the following statement to Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch in a letter sent to him:

"After long and hard reflection upon my deep personal involvement in the tragic events of Aug. 7 involving the slaying of my close friend Judge Harold Joseph Haley, who gave my my first position as a practicing attorney, and the terrible injuries suffered by my chief assistant, Gary W. Thomas, I have concluded that the interests of justice will be better served by having an independent office prosecute . . . the case."

Bales said today that he received a reply from Lynch saying he agreed to have his office step into the case.

"Since I am very well aware of your long experience and your proven competence as a prosecutor, I accept the validity of your conclusion and I commend your decision reached . . . after long and hard reflection," Lynch wrote.

He said that he had assigned Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris Jr. to the case.

Cars Crawl In Rush Hour

A series of stalled vehicles on Highway 101 this morning snarled commute traffic on the freeway from Hamilton Air Force Base to Waldo Grade.

The California Highway Patrol said a car stalled on the Waldo Grade at 7:30 a.m. and another near the Greenbrae interchange combined with heavy rains to slow traffic.

One motorist reported it took her an hour to drive from the Air Force base to Ross.

At about 8:30 a.m. a truck broke down on the Richardson Bay Bridge and caused further delays.

Terra Linda Gets Man On Council

Lawrence F. Mulryan, 32, was appointed to the San Rafael City Council last night.

Mulryan, who lives at 74 Upper Oak Drive, will take the council seat of Fred C. Robbins Jr., who was appointed city attorney to succeed David Menary Jr. when the latter was named a Marin Municipal Court judge.

The council's decision to appoint Mulryan was reached in a closed meeting of the council prior to its regular meeting last night. The appointment, made at the regular meeting, was moved by Councilman Fred E. Jensen and passed unanimously.

Jensen said the council had been pressured to appoint someone from Terra Linda.

Mulryan, an attorney in San Francisco, was appointed to the San Rafael Planning Commission in 1969.

He attended San Diego State College and received his law degree from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. He and his wife, Betty, have lived in Marin County since 1963.

Mulryan's term on the council will expire in April 1973.

Suit Is Possible On Trails

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County is prepared to sue the state to keep from going bankrupt from the burden of expensive trials and security measures.

The existence of San Quentin Prison and the violence resulting from the Aug. 7 shoot-out added $73,000 to court and security cost for just three months (July through September), County Auditor-Controller Michel Mitchell reported today to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

COSTS BILLED

The costs were billed to the state Department of Corrections, but the state rejected all the claims, County Administrator Alan Bruce told the supervisors.

Supervisors asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to investigate the possiblility of a suit against the state to get reimbursement.

"The situation is wacky," said Maloney. "The governor doesn't have the money so he leans on the various departments, and they in turn lean on the counties."

"It's adding insult to injury to have the state throw out the claims," bristled chariman John F. McInnis. He asked Bruce to contact other counties in the state where state prisons are located and "descend on Sacramento en masse."

QUESTIONS PRISON

"Couldn't we develop something to say that San Quentin is obsolete and accomplishing nothing but incarceration and no rehabilitation?" asked Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said the Marin legislators should be asked to put some pressure on the governor. "Just have them make a date with the governor and lay it on the line."

"Marin taxpayers will face a financial crisis unless the state assumes the cost of San Quentin trials," warned Mitchell. "The cost could go into the hundreds

Nation's Railroads On Brink Of Strike

Union Defies President In Deadline Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks said today there will be a nationwide strike at 12:01 A.M. Thursday regardless of what Congress does and even if he is jailed in the process.

Bales made the following statement to Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch in a letter sent to him:

"After long and hard reflection upon my deep personal involvement in the tragic events of Aug. 7 involving the slaying of my close friend Judge Harold Joseph Haley, who gave my my first position as a practicing attorney, and the terrible injuries suffered by my chief assistant, Gary W. Thomas, I have concluded that the interests of justice will be better served by having an independent office prosecute . . . the case."

Bales said today that he received a reply from Lynch saying he agreed to have his office step into the case.

"Since I am very well aware of your long experience and your proven competence as a prosecutor, I accept the validity of your conclusion and I commend your decision reached . . . after long and hard reflection," Lynch wrote.

He said that he had assigned Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris Jr. to the case.

Terra Linda Gets Man On Council

Lawrence F. Mulryan, 32, was appointed to the San Rafael City Council last night.

Mulryan, who lives at 74 Upper Oak Drive, will take the council seat of Fred C. Robbins Jr., who was appointed city attorney to succeed David Menary Jr. when the latter was named a Marin Municipal Court judge.

The council's decision to appoint Mulryan was reached in a closed meeting of the council prior to its regular meeting last night. The appointment, made at the regular meeting, was moved by Councilman Fred E. Jensen and passed unanimously.

Jensen said the council had been pressured to appoint someone from Terra Linda.

Mulryan, an attorney in San Francisco, was appointed to the San Rafael Planning Commission in 1969.

He attended San Diego State College and received his law degree from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. He and his wife, Betty, have lived in Marin County since 1963.

Mulryan's term on the council will expire in April 1973.

Suit Is Possible On Trails

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County is prepared to sue the state to keep from going bankrupt from the burden of expensive trials and security measures.

The existence of San Quentin Prison and the violence resulting from the Aug. 7 shoot-out added $73,000 to court and security cost for just three months (July through September), County Auditor-Controller Michel Mitchell reported today to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

COSTS BILLED

The costs were billed to the state Department of Corrections, but the state rejected all the claims, County Administrator Alan Bruce told the supervisors.

Supervisors asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to investigate the possiblility of a suit against the state to get reimbursement.

"The situation is wacky," said Maloney. "The governor doesn't have the money so he leans on the various departments, and they in turn lean on the counties."

"It's adding insult to injury to have the state throw out the claims," bristled chariman John F. McInnis. He asked Bruce to contact other counties in the state where state prisons are located and "descend on Sacramento en masse."

QUESTIONS PRISON

"Couldn't we develop something to say that San Quentin is obsolete and accomplishing nothing but incarceration and no rehabilitation?" asked Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said the Marin legislators should be asked to put some pressure on the governor. "Just have them make a date with the governor and lay it on the line."

"Marin taxpayers will face a financial crisis unless the state assumes the cost of San Quentin trials," warned Mitchell. "The cost could go into the hundreds

Cars Crawl In Rush Hour

A series of stalled vehicles on Highway 101 this morning snarled commute traffic on the freeway from Hamilton Air Force Base to Waldo Grade.

The California Highway Patrol said a car stalled on the Waldo Grade at 7:30 a.m. and another near the Greenbrae interchange combined with heavy rains to slow traffic.

One motorist reported it took her an hour to drive from the Air Force base to Ross.

At about 8:30 a.m. a truck broke down on the Richardson Bay Bridge and caused further delays.

Farmer Quits; Lectures Next

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James Farmer has resigned after 22 months as the Nixon administration's top black official, declining to criticize the system within which he worked but conceding he longed for the days when he was a critic and a civil rights activist

His immediate plans, Farmer said, are for six months of lecturing and writing an autobiography and book and magazine articles.

Farmer once headed the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and was outspoken in the civil rights movement of the last decade before black power and militant black nationalism began playing a major role in the struggle. In his post as an assistant secretary in the Health, Education and Welfare department, Farmer was not much in the spotlight, and even eschewed publicity.

After meeting with President Nixon Monday, he said:

"I'm not repudiating the machinery of government. I am not repudiating the establishment." But he said he longed to regain his "old role as advocate, critic and activist."

"I came to Washington believing I could at that point serve my people better inside the new administration, planning programs and influencing actions —especially as they affect blacks and other minorities.

"The achievements are not sufficient or fast enough to satisfy my appetite for progress," he said.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Farmer was leaving "on a very, very good basis" as far as Nixon was concerned.

Banker's Son Is Safe; Pair Held

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The kidnaped son of a bank manager was found safe late Monday and two men arrested in a foiled $100,000 ransom plot which sent the victim's father to Las Vegas, Nev. to deliver the money.

Police said the two men offered no resistance when taken into custody in two separate cars in nearby Burbank. The victim, Lee Spath, 20, a student, was found safe in one of the suspect's vehicles.

Booked on suspicion of kidnap for ransom were George Foorens, 35, and Thomas Leroy Coleman, 20.

Police said the kidnap plot evolved when two men, one armed with a sawed-off shotgun, went to the home of Lee's father, William Spath, 48, in Granada Hills Sunday night.

They demanded the elder Spath give them the key to the night deposit box of the branch of the bank of America he manages in Glendale. When Spath explained he did not have the key and could not obtain one at night, the men took an undetermined amount of money from the home and forced his son to accompany them in the youth's car.

Police said Spath was contacted by telephone the next morning and told to take the money by bus to Las Vegas, Nev. Spath left the money in a locker at the depot and returned home by plane.

Several hours later, one of the men went to the Spath home in the son's car and demanded the locker key, which Spath handed over.

For the next two hours, more than a dozen unmarked police vehicles and a helicopter were employed to follow the suspect.

When he met with the other suspect, officers saw Lee Spath in the back seat of the second suspect's vehicle and moved in. No shots were fired.

Meanwhile, FBI agents and Las Vegas police had staked out the locker and recovered the money after the arrests. A Los Angeles police spokesman said no other arrests were anticipated.

Officers, aware of the kidnap shortly after it occurred, asked news media not to release the story until after the arrests were made.

Romanian Plane Crash Kills 19

VIENNA UPI — The death toll in the crash of a Romanian airliner rose to 19 today with the death of a woman injured when the plane crashed Monday night on a flight from Israel to Romania.

The Israeli Embassy in Bucharest said the 19th victim was a Romanian woman. A Romanian man was in critical condition, the embassy said, while seven other injured passengers were in good condition.

The BAC 111 jetliner of the Romanian airline Tarom — crashed in fog three miles from the airport at the Black Sea city of Constanta, after being diverted from the Romanian capital of Bucharest, its destination. It had taken off from Tel Aviv.

Field Car Hits Mine, Killing Two

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command said today a U.S. Army armored personnel carrier ran over a Communist mine on South Vietnam's northern coast, killing two Americans and wounding 22 others.

Field reports from Phnom Penh said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units launched simultaneous attacks Monday night against Cambodian positions in Svay Rieng province near the South Vietnamese border.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese artillerymen Monday night shelled a position of a unit of the Americal Division, resulting in what the U.S. Command described as light casualties.

Although the Command called casualties in the shelling light, wording of the communique indicated there might have been a fatality.

Curtis W. Tarr, director of the Selective Service System, visited sailors aboard two U.S. aircraft carriers off the coast of Vietnam Monday and headed to the Americal Division to talk to draftees on ways to improve the draft.

Rube Goldberg Dies Of Cancer At 87

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rube Goldberg, whose drawings of bizarre "inventions" and other cartoons poked fun at America's foibles and technology and earned him a place in the dictionary, died Monday at his home here. He was 87.

His satires and ludicrous situations earned Goldberg vast popularity and a personal fortune from 1916-38 in the comic strips "Boob McNutt," "Lala Palooza" and "Mike and Ike — They Look Alike." His most famous character, however, was Professor Lucifer Gorgonzola Butts, the demonstrator of the "inventions" which made Rube Goldberg a dictionary definition.

Goldberg turned to editorial cartooning in 1938 when he was 55. Ten years later he won a Pulitzer Prize for "Peace Today," a drawing warning of the perils of atomic weapons. He continued cartooning until six years ago.

The "inventions" were devices which used a series of common, everyday items to demonstrate convincingly that the simplest task was impossibly difficult.

Each of the contraptions used many mechanical steps to accomplish the goal—abridging the laws of physics with flights of fancy whenever necessary.

The cartoonist was compared to Mark Twain and Will Rogers as one "who helps us see the world in proportion."

"Rube Goldberg" is an adjective in Webster's Third New International Dictionary. It means "accomplishing by extremely complex roundabout means what actually or seemingly could be done simply."

Reuben Lucius Goldberg, born in San Francisco in 1883, began drawing as a child but was discouraged by his father, a banker and real estate man, who convinced him to study engineering at the University of California. After graduation and a brief job in the city engineer's office, Goldberg's natural desire held sway and he went to work for the San Francisco Chronicle as a sports cartoonist.

Caught In Ambush

By UP International

A Jordanian army patrol came under heavy fire today in an ambush deliberately set by Arab guerrillas in northern Jordan, an official Jordanian spokesman said in Amman. The incident threatened Monday's cease-fire that ended five days of guerrilla-army fighting.

The spokesman, in a statement broadcast by Amman Radio, said the guerrillas set up the ambush at a road fork outside Jerash, 24 miles north of Amman, and attacked with machine guns, mortars and Chinese Katusha rockets which are banned by Cairo and Amman agreements.

New Treatment?

CHICAGO (UPI) — Television cameras soon may be used in large scale programs to detect potential skin cancer victims at an early age, a scientist said today.

The TV-testing program would be similar to the mass X-ray screenings employed to spot tuberculosis.

Dr. Frederick Urbach, the head of the dermatology department at Temple University, outlined the program to the convention of American Academy of Dermatology. He said a special filter placed on the television camera lens permits it to show lower layers of skin with ultraviolet light.

These layers of skin have patterns of pigmentation that show a patient's susceptibility to severe sunburn and skin cancer — the most preventable, curable and common form of cancer in the United States, Urbach said.

Hunt For Envoy

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — Police carried out a massive search today for the Swiss ambassador, kidnapped Monday by a band of terrorists as he was being driven to work. Officials also were checking ransom notes to see if they were authentic.

One of the ransom notes demanded 68 prisoners be released in exchange for the life of Giovanni Enrico Bucher, 57, a career diplomatic noted for his love of adventure. Bucher, a bachelor, was the fourth diplomat kidnapped in Brazil in the past 14 months.

About 3,000 police were mobilized in Rio in the hunt for the ambassador.

Toward Victory

KARACHI (UPI) — Socialist parties led by a champion of East Pakistan autonomy and a pioneer of the nation's friendly relations with Communist China today swept toward victory in Pakistan's first general election.

The election in which nearly 50 million of Pakistan's 125 million people voted was to choose a national assembly which will draft a new constitution.

The election's Socialistic direction was led by Sheikh Mujibur Rehman of East Pakistan and former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto in the West.

Ky At Home

SAIGON (UPI) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky returned to South Vietnam today after an absence of nearly two months, carrying assurances by the United States it will adopt a hands-off policy in South Vietnam's 1971 presidential election.

Ky told a news conference upon his arrival, "I have a clear understanding that any political solution, including the presidential elections, will be purely South Vietnamese."

Asked who gave him the assurances in the United States, Ky replied: "The President, vice president, secretary state and other officials."

Take To Foot

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 800,000 New Yorkers who normally ride cabs made their way around town on foot and public transportation Monday, the firstbusiness day of the taxi strike, but transit authorities reported only minor congestion on buses and subways.

Traffic moved relatively freely through the city's streets unclogged by the 12,000 taxis now sitting in their parking lots for the fourth day today.

Gypsy cabs, as well as private citizens illegally hacking on their own time, charged exorbitant fares hustling riders from point to point.

British Strikes

LONDON (UPI) — strikes and simmering industrial unrest blacked out wide areas of Britain today, left most Britons without newspapers, closed two of London's central food markets and hit docks and some automotive plants.

Although the trouble did not approach proportions of a general strike, leaders of the strike claimed about 500,000 workers stayed off the job.

'Peaceful' Budget

The defense appropriation placed before the Supreme Soviet Parliament of the Soviet Union was still the largest since World War II, but just barely.

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov presented the budget, listing projected expenditures of $188.2 billion, including a defense outlay of $19.9 billion.

The defense total was only slightly higher than $19.81 billion appropriated last year for 1970.

Talks Pleasing

HELSINKI (UPI) — The United States said today it is satisfied with the rate of progress at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks — SALT — with Russia. Following the 11th working session at the present third round of SALT, U.S. delegation sources said the negotiations are going along as had been expected when they began one year ago.

They said no one believed agreement was possible within one year, not even a partial accord.

Take To Foot

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 800,000 New Yorkers who normally ride cabs made their way around town on foot and public transportation Monday, the firstbusiness day of the taxi strike, but transit authorities reported only minor congestion on buses and subways.

Traffic moved relatively freely through the city's streets unclogged by the 12,000 taxis now sitting in their parking lots for the fourth day today.

Gypsy cabs, as well as private citizens illegally hacking on their own time, charged exorbitant fares hustling riders from point to point.

British Strikes

LONDON (UPI) — strikes and simmering industrial unrest blacked out wide areas of Britain today, left most Britons without newspapers, closed two of London's central food markets and hit docks and some automotive plants.

Although the trouble did not approach proportions of a general strike, leaders of the strike claimed about 500,000 workers stayed off the job.

'Peaceful' Budget

The defense appropriation placed before the Supreme Soviet Parliament of the Soviet Union was still the largest since World War II, but just barely.

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov presented the budget, listing projected expenditures of $188.2 billion, including a defense outlay of $19.9 billion.

The defense total was only slightly higher than $19.81 billion appropriated last year for 1970.

Talks Pleasing

HELSINKI (UPI) — The United States said today it is satisfied with the rate of progress at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks — SALT — with Russia. Following the 11th working session at the present third round of SALT, U.S. delegation sources said the negotiations are going along as had been expected when they began one year ago.

They said no one believed agreement was possible within one year, not even a partial accord.

Railway Union Defies Appeal, Sets Strike

tive bargaining in the two critical days that could have brought a settlement."

He called on Congress to "show greater wisdom and stay out of this dispute."

It also was disclosed that Dennis earlier sent out a strike notice to union locals saying that if the government attempted to prevent a strike, "we will not tolerate such action," and that union members should be prepared to see their leaders go to jail and the union treasury depleted by court fines.

In answer to a question early today of what he would do if Congress ordered the postponement, Dennis said:

"My intentions, at this time, if there are no further developments, are to strike. By developments I mean agreement with the carriers. I don't believe it's ethical for anyone to change the rules of the game when one team is at the goal line."

He added: "We are not prepared to forego our basic right to strike . . . the law says we can strike at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 10. We intend to do that."

Dennis' statement came after a four and one-half hour session at a Washington hotel, during which Assistant Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr. attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate a voluntary delay in the strike. The meeting broke up at 1:30 a.m. EST today.

The four unions involved—of which the BRAC is the most militant —earlier Monday refused a personal request from Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson in a meeting at the same hotel that they postpone their strike.

Nixon asked Congress for the 45-day postponement after the unions rejected Hodges' plea. Nixon said a nationwide stoppage would harm the econoomy and cause hardship for all Americans, "particularly a stoppage at the height of the pre-Christmas season."

"It is essential that our railroads continue to operate," Nixon said Monday in a statement, adding that if the 45-day delay did not produce a negotiated settlement, "I shall make additional recommendations to the Congress."

The BRAC is demanding a higher money settlement than the 37 per cent increase over three years recommended by a White House commission. The other three unions have not officially announced a strike, but have said they will honor the clerks' picket lines.

The four unions represent three of every four rail workers.

Some 150 to 2200 local union legislative representatives were brought into Washington earlier, in anticipation that they would have to lobby against delaying legislation.

But Dennis' strike notice made it clear there would be a strike even if the lobbying effort did not bear fruit. In the notice, he mentioned the possibility of government intervention and said:

"This time we will fight such action with every resource at our command. We must, therefore, be prepared for the same kind of struggle which has been waged in this nation by postal workers, school teachers, firemen, policemen, transit workers and others.

"We must be prepared to defend ourselves and hold the line in spite of any government intervention.

"Throughout this whole struggle we have followed all the rules of the game. Now the rules say we have the right to strike. If they try to remove that right, we have to denonstrate that we will not tolerate such action."

He said the stand "can possibly mean jail sentences for some union officers," and "it can mean fines which may seriously diminish your union treasury."

New Lease Talk For Depot Building

Declaring itself unhappy with conditions at the Lytton Square bus depot, the Mill Valley City Council last night decided to negotiate a new lease on the building.

On a motion by Councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, the council voted to discuss terms on the city-owned building with Janice Aronoff, who operates the depot bookstore and sells bus tickets as well.

Western Greyhound Lines, which previously leased the building for $200 a month and sublet it to Mrs. Aronoff, has told the city it wants to terminate the lease effective Dec. 31.

In moving to negotiate directly with Mrs. Aronoff, several councilmen said they wanted to see her made responsible for cleaning up litter around the depot.

"The scene at that building can be summed up in one word — crummy," declared Councilman Jerome C. Hauke. "This isn't Seventh Street in San Francisco, but when you walk inside you're suddenly there."

L. D. Hofeditz, a Greyhound official, told the council that service to Mill Valley would continue even though the firm no longer leased the depot.

But he objected to moving the bus stop to another location in Mill Valley, as has been suggested. If ticket sales and waiting room facilities were removed from the depot, he said, Greyhound would continue to loop buses through downtown Mill Valley but passengers would have to buy tickets in San Francisco or San Rafael.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen said he hoped the new lease would make Mrs. Aronoff responsible for cleaning the area and would earn the city more than $200 a month, which he termed "grossly inadequate."

A fairer price, he said, would be $375.

people. Meadlo turned to me and told me: 'Shoot! Why don't you shoot?'

'He was crying and yelling to me.

"I just said: 'I can't! I won't!' And I looked down at the ground. 'The people were screaming and yelling. It was mostly automatic and some semiautomatic fire, and the weapons were pointed down into the ditch. I remember Meadlo changing magazines at one time. They fired three to four minutes.

"The people were diving on top of each other—some of the mothers trying to protect their children.

"Lt. Calley came to me right after the firing and told me to get across the ditch before I got sick."

Dursi said he saw "a lot of blood on the chests and arms and some head wounds" on the bodies.

Earlier, the military judge at Calley's trial, Co. Reid W. Kennedy, denied a motion to prevent the testimony of the first witness of the day. He also refused to strike out an account of a 90-minute execution given by the witness on direct examination Monday.

Kennedy also denied a defense motion for a mistrial on the basis that the testimony of the 24-year-old former infantry team leader in the Calley platoon, Thomas W. Turner of Bellevue, Neb., went beyond the confines of prosecution covered in the government's bll of particulars.

The bill mentioned only 30 killings in the southern part of My Lai, 70 killings in the ditch area and two individual killings. The defense contended that a 90-minute parade of several groups of civilians to the ditch was testimony that went beyond the bill.

"If there is any factual variance, that will have to be resolved by the jury," Kennedy ruled. "I'm satisfied the testimony falls within the bill."

Kennedy late Monday granted a defense motion to strike out the other big point of Turner's testimony—that he saw Calley pump bullets into the chest of a young Vietnamese woman who had her arms upraised in a sign of surrender.

Bikers Hurt In Hit-Run Crash

Two San Rafael boys riding a bicycle were injured yesterday by the hit-and-run driver of a pickup truck, police reported.

Alvin Holmes, 11, of 509 Canal Street, Apt. 15, was treated for bruises on back and left knee at Marin General Hospital. His passenger, James Bianchi, 7, of 35 Fairfax Street, Apt. 2, was treated for bruises of back, abdomen and both knees at Marin General Hospital.

The boys were riding east on Second Street at 5:25 p.m. when they were knocked down in front of 620 Second Street, police reported. A witness said that it was an International pickup truck which hit them, police reported.

— who had used the words sell or sale during the discussion, as he insisted the offer be called a "gift for public purposes."

"In no sense," he told the council, "are you buying anything."

Toward the end of last night's discussion, as Jensen moved to accept the offer with the deal to be completed by the end of the year, Tyre leapt from his seat to announce that the deal had to be recorded today.

The attorney said his group had been trying to transfer the land to the city since March of 1969 and the council had had plenty of time to investigate it.

McCown explained to the council that the Sinatra group had first offered the land for sale to the city but he had told them the price was out of the question. The gift offer was made Oct. 29 he said, with the stipulation that there be no public announcement.

McCown said a title report had been obtained by the city in October, but Robbins said he thought it should be updated to the date the deal was recorded.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he was hesitant about accepting the offer without an updated title report, and Tyre reluctantly agreed to wait until tomorrow to complete the deal.

The council retained the right to sell part of the property at the insistence of Jensen and Councilman Harry A. Barbier who expressed concern about depleting the city's reserve fund.

The $170,000 cost to the city will leave only $30,000 in the fund.

Several members of the audience — the most persistent of whom was Peter C. Meyer, county elections officer — attempted to dissuade the council from retaining the right to sell. Failing that, they sought to persuade the council to limit the right to exercise only after a year or in an emergency or only to recover the $170,000 investment. That, too, failed.

Although Bettini had asked only opponents of the offer to speak, several individuals and representatives of homeowners associations voiced their support of the plan.

Alfred W. Berney of 8 Lillian Lane was the sole opponent. He said that if the city was paying $170,000 for the property, it was not a gift and he said the assessed valuation of the land was only $306,000.

McCown said the county appraised valuation was $358,000 and that figure was used for tax purposes only. The appraisals which valued the parcel at about $1.5 million indicated the price a buyer would be willing to pay for the land, he said.

Berney argued the property should be left on the tax rolls and the $170,000 be spent for a new fire house or senior citizens center.

When the council voted to accept the offer and Bettini called for a short recess, Berney was asking why it hadn't been mentioned that the "gift" was actually a tax write-off for the Sinatra group.

Normally, the extra cost for San Quentin trials have been running about $60,000 per year, which the state has been reimbursing.

This routine cost for July through September came to $16,400. The added special cost stemming from the Aug. 7 shhotout amounted to $56,600 for the three months, Mitchell explained. Those special expenses include insurance, medical and state compensation costs for the victims and survivors of the shoot-out.

These costs will continue as compensation payments are made to the survivors, said Mitchell.

If a lawsuit is filed against the state, Maloney said the county will take the stand that the law provides for reimbursement of costs attributable to the existence of a state prison.

"We believe the Aug. 7 incident and the Angela Davis trial costs are added to the county's burden solely by virtue of the fact that San Quentin is located in Marin," said Maloney.

A random check of five polling places after 11 a.m. indicated the turnout was light throughout the district.

At Sinaloa Junior High School 19 out of a possible 700 cast ballots; at Marion School 50 of a possible 1,434; at the Novato Community House 42 of a possible 500; at Novato High School 57 of a possible 700 and at All Saints Church, 68 of a possible 600

Center Gift Of $30,000 Draws Ire

A group of citizens today objected to a "gift of $30,000" which Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized for the Child Development Center in Tiburon on Nov. 24.

Jerry R. Bendshadler of Corte Madera told the supervisors this morning he represents about 100 citizens who are opposed to the county subsidy of the center, a private school to care for 21 disturbed children at a cost of about $90,000 per year.

"This $30,000 is not to start a new school," chairman John E. McInnis declared. "It's an ongoing concern of a highly specialized nature." Supervisor William A. Gnoss and other supervisors said they believe the special school for disturbed children deserved county support to keep it open through June of next year.

The county is not committed to further subsidization beyond next June, said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

"What grounds do we have to allocate public funds to a private school?" demanded A.J. Weber of Tiburon.

McInnis explained that the $30,000 aid had been discussed by the Marin Mental Health Advisory board, which approved the expenditure by unanimous vote.

"No," said Sally Mishkind, a member of the mental health advisory board. She said several members abstained from voting because they were afraid the $30,000 outlay would open a pandora's box. "Paying $90,000 per year for 20 children is quite expensive," said Mrs. Mishkind.

McInnis asked the county administrator to prepare for the public an explanation of how the child development center operates and the costs involved.

ROGERS

gression."

The request for extra funds faced an end-of-the-session attack by war critics who believed the Cambodian money might lead to another Vietnam.

But the fight for a ban on U.S. troops in Cambodia appeared to be finished at least so far as the Senate was concerned. The restriction was sealed into a $64 billion defense appropriations bill which reached the Senate floor Thursday with no sign that an effort would be made to take it out. Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said the White House does not like the restriction but is not prepared to fight it, as it did for two months last summer against a similar proposal after the U.S. offensive into Cambodia.

The limitation, added to the bill by the Senate Appropriations panel, would prohibit use of funds to introduce U.S. ground combat troops into Cambodia. A similar ban is already in effect for Laos and Thailand —South Vietnam's other neighboring allies.

The measure was aimed at blocking the President from renewing May's offensive into Communist border sanctuaries inside Cambodia. But administration backers were expected to contend that Nixon still would have the constitutional power to do this, regardless of the restriction, if such action was necessary to protect American lives. American lives.

The administration, however, so far has ignored the proposed language and has concentrated its Senate efforts instead on getting approval this year for money to equip the 150,000-man army of Premier Lon Nol. Scott contends the administration's effort for the Lon Nol government will emphasize "dollars instead of blood."

The Cambodia aid for which Rogers and Laird testified is part of a $1 billion supplemental foreign aid bill for Cambodia, South Korea, Indonesia, Jordan, Lebanon, South Vietnam and Israel. Congress already has provided authority for $500 million in aid to Israel, but the other half of the package must be cleared by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before the aid money bill can be enacted.

The committee, headed by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ar., has not been friendly to the proposal and may attempt to bottle it up for the few days left in the current Congress.

OBITUARIES

Ettore Esposti Dies At 85

Funeral for Ettore Degli Esposti, a former Mill Valley restaurateur, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Mortuary, 19981 Broadway, Sonoma.

Esposti, who resided in Sonoma for 26 years, died Sunday at his home following a short illness. He was 85.

Esposti, a native of Bologna, Italy, owned Esposti's Restaurant on Throckmorton Avenue in Mill Valley for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1944.

He is survived by his wife, Marie; a daughter, Jane A. Breen of Salinas; a son, Rudolph of Tehachapi, Kern County; six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mountain Cemetery, Sonoma.

ROBERT WILLIAMS

In the obituary of Williams, 60, who died Friday after a long illness, the Independent-Journal erroneously reported she is still principal of the school.

The I-J also erred in reporting the sex of his daughter, Meredith Williams, and misspelled the name of a sister, Mrs. Charles Shiner of Harrisburg, Pa.

DOMENICO BALDINI

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at All Souls Catholic Church, South San Francisco, for Domenico Baldini, father of Anna Lamperti of San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary in South San Francisco, and entombment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Baldini, 88, of South San Francisco, died Sunday at a Burlingame hospital following a short illness.

He was a native of Italy and had lived in the United States and California 63 years. He was a retired laborer.

Baldini was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation, Societa di Opera, Sons of Italy and the Druids, all of South San Francisco.

In addition to Mrs. Lamperti, he is survived by his wife, Italia; a son, Aldo, and a sister, Erminia Lombardi, all of South San Francisco; three brothers in Italy, four grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

WILLIAM KELLY

William Thomas Kelly, 61, collapsed and died at 3:40 a.m. today in his home at 1032-C Los Gamos Road, San Rafael. Death was believed due to a heart attack, according to Keith C. Craig, coroner's investigator. Kelly had a history of heart trouble, Craig said.

Kelly was found by his wife Agnes, who summoned a doctor and a son, Morgan Kelly, of 1036-E Los Gamos Road.

Kelly, an apartment house manager, had lived four months in San Rafael, and three years in California. He was a native of Toronto, Canada.

He also is survived by another son, Donald Kelly of St. Lamberts, Quebec, Canada, and a daughter, Beverly Alderson of Greenfield Park, Quebec.

COL. WORLEY

He was born in San Francisco, but grew up in Sausalito. He graduated from Tamalpais High School. He was a veteran of World War II. He worked federal civil service in transportation, retiring last April from both his civilian job and from the Army reserve. He was assistant to the director of operations of the Army Pacific Terminal Command at Oakland.

He was a member of Marin Lodge No. 191, Free and Accepted Masons, member and past secretary of the National Defense Transportation Association-Oakland Army Base and a member of the Officers Club of Fort Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Frances H.Worley and a daughter, Marian W. Kenst of Pleasanton, who said her father had apparently suffered a heart attack.

Masonic service will be conducted by Marin Lodge No. 191, at 10 a.m., Thursday, at Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MANUEL CABRAL

The obituary also erred in reporting Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. It will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato. Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato, and burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

MRS. HEGARTY

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Petpetuas Catholic Church in Lafayette for Irene M. Hegarty, sister of Louis J. Geissberger of Larkspur. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Grant Miller Mortuaries Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette, and burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Hegarty died Saturday at a convalescent hospital in Rheem, Contra Costa County, following a long illness.

She was a native of San Francisco and a long-time resident of Lafayette. She had worked for more than 30 years as a switchboard operation with Transamerica Corp. in San Francisco.

She is also survived by another brother, Harry I. Geissberger of El Cerrito.

Homeowners Organize

The Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association organized and adopted by-laws last night and set regular meetings for the second Monday of every month.

The meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the multiuse room of La Tercera School.

Membership chairman Janet Fountain said a list of 70 members had been compiled and that prospective members may contact her at 1637 Sarkesian Drive.

Hitchhike Thugs To Be Sentenced

Jerry Ray Wade, 20, of San Rafael, and John Edward Brown, 20, of Santa Rosa, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of stealing money from a hitchhiker on Sept. 17.

A second count of armed robbery was dismissed.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 25. Brown is already serving a one-year sentence for burglary.

The youths were arrested in San Rafael after officers spotted them in a car which matched the description of one given by the hitchhiker who said he had been strong-armed by two men.

16-Year-Old Struck By Car

A 16-year-old Corte Madera girl was injured yesterday when she was hit by a car on C Street south of Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, police reported.

Judy Ann Underhill of 109 Harbor Drive, was treated for multiple bruises at Marin General Hospital.

She was walking west on C Street at 1:34 p.m. when she was hit by a car driven by Jonathan Baker, 47, of 14 West Castlewood Drive, San Rafael, going north on C Street, police reported.

Reason For Late Delivery

If your copy of the Independent-Journal arrived later than normal yesterday it was because of the I-J's change to a new printing method.

According to Allan Howells, circulation manager, papers arrived from one to five hours late to some Marin and Southern Sonoma locations.

Railway Union Defies Appeal, Sets Strike

tive bargaining in the two critical days that could have brought a settlement."

He called on Congress to "show greater wisdom and stay out of this dispute."

It also was disclosed that Dennis earlier sent out a strike notice to union locals saying that if the government attempted to prevent a strike, "we will not tolerate such action," and that union members should be prepared to see their leaders go to jail and the union treasury depleted by court fines.

In answer to a question early today of what he would do if Congress ordered the postponement, Dennis said:

"My intentions, at this time, if there are no further developments, are to strike. By developments I mean agreement with the carriers. I don't believe it's ethical for anyone to change the rules of the game when one team is at the goal line."

He added: "We are not prepared to forego our basic right to strike . . . the law says we can strike at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 10. We intend to do that."

Dennis' statement came after a four and one-half hour session at a Washington hotel, during which Assistant Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr. attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate a voluntary delay in the strike. The meeting broke up at 1:30 a.m. EST today.

The four unions involved—of which the BRAC is the most militant —earlier Monday refused a personal request from Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson in a meeting at the same hotel that they postpone their strike.

Nixon asked Congress for the 45-day postponement after the unions rejected Hodges' plea. Nixon said a nationwide stoppage would harm the economy and cause hardship for all Americans, "particularly a stoppage at the height of the pre-Christmas season."

"It is essential that our railroads continue to operate," Nixon said Monday in a statement, adding that if the 45-day delay did not produce a negotiated settlement, "I shall make additional recommendations to the Congress."

The BRAC is demanding a higher money settlement than the 37 per cent increase over three years recommended by a White House commission. The other three unions have not officially announced a strike, but have said they will honor the clerks' picket lines.

The four unions represent three of every four rail workers.

Some 150 to 2200 local union legislative representatives were brought into Washington earlier, in anticipation that they would have to lobby against delaying legislation.

But Dennis' strike notice made it clear there would be a strike even if the lobbying effort did not bear fruit. In the notice, he mentioned the possibility of government intervention and said:

"This time we will fight such action with every resource at our command. We must, therefore, be prepared for the same kind of struggle which has been waged in this nation by postal workers, school teachers, firemen, policemen, transit workers and others.

"We must be prepared to defend ourselves and hold the line in spite of any government intervention.

"Throughout this whole struggle we have followed all the rules of the game. Now the rules say we have the right to strike. If they try to remove that right, we have to denonstrate that we will not tolerate such action."

He said the stand "can possibly mean jail sentences for some union officers," and "it can mean fines which may seriously diminish your union treasury."

New Lease Talk For Depot Building

Declaring itself unhappy with conditions at the Lytton Square bus depot, the Mill Valley City Council last night decided to negotiate a new lease on the building.

On a motion by Councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, the council voted to discuss terms on the city-owned building with Janice Aronoff, who operates the depot bookstore and sells bus tickets as well.

Western Greyhound Lines, which previously leased the building for $200 a month and sublet it to Mrs. Aronoff, has told the city it wants to terminate the lease effective Dec. 31.

In moving to negotiate directly with Mrs. Aronoff, several councilmen said they wanted to see her made responsible for cleaning up litter around the depot.

"The scene at that building can be summed up in one word — crummy," declared Councilman Jerome C. Hauke. "This isn't Seventh Street in San Francisco, but when you walk inside you're suddenly there."

L. D. Hofeditz, a Greyhound official, told the council that service to Mill Valley would continue even though the firm no longer leased the depot.

But he objected to moving the bus stop to another location in Mill Valley, as has been suggested. If ticket sales and waiting room facilities were removed from the depot, he said, Greyhound would continue to loop buses through downtown Mill Valley but passengers would have to buy tickets in San Francisco or San Rafael.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen said he hoped the new lease would make Mrs. Aronoff responsible for cleaning the area and would earn the city more than $200 a month, which he termed "grossly inadequate."

A fairer price, he said, would be $375.

people. Meadlo turned to me and told me: 'Shoot! Why don't you shoot?'

'He was crying and yelling to me.

"I just said: 'I can't! I won't!' And I looked down at the ground. 'The people were screaming and yelling. It was mostly automatic and some semiautomatic fire, and the weapons were pointed down into the ditch. I remember Meadlo changing magazines at one time. They fired three to four minutes.

"The people were diving on top of each other—some of the mothers trying to protect their children.

"Lt. Calley came to me right after the firing and told me to get across the ditch before I got sick."

Dursi said he saw "a lot of blood on the chests and arms and some head wounds" on the bodies.

Earlier, the military judge at Calley's trial, Co. Reid W. Kennedy, denied a motion to prevent the testimony of the first witness of the day. He also refused to strike out an account of a 90-minute execution given by the witness on direct examination Monday.

Kennedy also denied a defense motion for a mistrial on the basis that the testimony of the 24-year-old former infantry team leader in the Calley platoon, Thomas W. Turner of Bellevue, Neb., went beyond the confines of prosecution covered in the government's bll of particulars.

The bill mentioned only 30 killings in the southern part of My Lai, 70 killings in the ditch area and two individual killings. The defense contended that a 90-minute parade of several groups of civilians to the ditch was testimony that went beyond the bill.

"If there is any factual variance, that will have to be resolved by the jury," Kennedy ruled. "I'm satisfied the testimony falls within the bill."

Kennedy late Monday granted a defense motion to strike out the other big point of Turner's testimony—that he saw Calley pump bullets into the chest of a young Vietnamese woman who had her arms upraised in a sign of surrender.

Bikers Hurt In Hit-Run Crash

Two San Rafael boys riding a bicycle were injured yesterday by the hit-and-run driver of a pickup truck, police reported.

Alvin Holmes, 11, of 509 Canal Street, Apt. 15, was treated for bruises on back and left knee at Marin General Hospital His passenger, James Bianchi, 7, of 35 Fairfax Street, Apt. 2, was treated for bruises of back, abdomen and both knees at Marin General Hospital.

The boys were riding east on Second Street at 5:25 p.m. when they were knocked down in front of 620 Second Street, police reported. A witness said that it was an International pickup truck which hit them, police reported.

— who had used the words sell or sale during the discussion, as he insisted the offer be called a "gift for public purposes."

"In no sense," he told the council, "are you buying anything."

Toward the end of last night's discussion, as Jensen moved to accept the offer with the deal to be completed by the end of the year, Tyre leapt from his seat to announce that the deal had to be recorded today.

The attorney said his group had been trying to transfer the land to the city since March of 1969 and the council had had plenty of time to investigate it.

McCown explained to the council that the Sinatra group had first offered the land for sale to the city but he had told them the price was out of the question. The gift offer was made Oct. 29 he said, with the stipulation that there be no public announcement.

McCown said a title report had been obtained by the city in October, but Robbins said he thought it should be updated to the date the deal was recorded.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he was hesitant about accepting the offer without an updated title report, and Tyre reluctantly agreed to wait until tomorrow to complete the deal.

The council retained the right to sell part of the property at the insistence of Jensen and Councilman Harry A. Barbier who expressed concern about depleting the city's reserve fund.

The $170,000 cost to the city will leave only $30,000 in the fund.

Several members of the audience — the most persistent of whom was Peter C. Meyer, county elections officer — attempted to dissuade the council from retaining the right to sell. Failing that, they sought to persuade the council to limit the right to exercise only after a year or in an emergency or only to recover the $170,000 investment. That, too, failed.

Although Bettini had asked only opponents of the offer to speak, several individuals and representatives of homeowners associations voiced their support of the plan.

Alfred W. Berney of 8 Lillian Lane was the sole opponent. He said that if the city was paying $170,000 for the property, it was not a gift and he said the assessed valuation of the land was only $306,000.

McCown said the county appraised valuation was $358,000 and that figure was used for tax purposes only. The appraisals which valued the parcel at about $1.5 million indicated the price a buyer would be willing to pay for the land, he said.

Berney argued the property should be left on the tax rolls and the $170,000 be spent for a new fire house or senior citizens center.

When the council voted to accept the offer and Bettini called for a short recess, Berney was asking why it hadn't been mentioned that the "gift" was actually a tax write-off for the Sinatra group.

Center Gift Of $30,000 Draws Ire

A group of citizens today objected to a "gift of $30,000" which Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized for the Child Development Center in Tiburon on Nov. 24.

Jerry R. Bendshadler of Corte Madera told the supervisors this morning he represents about 100 citizens who are opposed to the county subsidy of the center, a private school to care for 21 disturbed children at a cost of about $90,000 per year.

"This $30,000 is not to start a new school," chairman John E. McInnis declared. "It's an ongoing concern of a highly specialized nature." Supervisor William A. Gnoss and other supervisors said they believe the special school for disturbed children deserved county support to keep it open through June of next year.

The county is not committed to further subsidization beyond next June, said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

"What grounds do we have to allocate public funds to a private school?" demanded A.J. Weber of Tiburon.

McInnis explained that the $30,000 aid had been discussed by the Marin Mental Health Advisory board, which approved the expenditure by unanimous vote.

"No," said Sally Mishkind, a member of the mental health advisory board. She said several members abstained from voting because they were afraid the $30,000 outlay would open a pandora's box. "Paying $90,000 per year for 20 children is quite expensive," said Mrs. Mishkind.

McInnis asked the county administrator to prepare for the public an explanation of how the child development center operates and the costs involved.

Normally, the extra cost for San Quentin trials have been running about $60,000 per year, which the state has been reimbursing.

This routine cost for July through September came to $16,400. The added special cost stemming from the Aug. 7 shhotout amounted to $56,600 for the three months, Mitchell explained. Those special expenses include insurance, medical and state compensation costs for the victims and survivors of the shoot-out.

These costs will continue as compensation payments are made to the survivors, said Mitchell.

If a lawsuit is filed against the state, Maloney said the county will take the stand that the law provides for reimbursement of costs attributable to the existence of a state prison.

"We believe the Aug. 7 incident and the Angela Davis trial costs are added to the county's burden solely by virtue of the fact that San Quentin is located in Marin," said Maloney.

ROGERS

gression."

The request for extra funds faced an end-of-the-session attack by war critics who believed the Cambodian money might lead to another Vietnam.

But the fight for a ban on U.S. troops in Cambodia appeared to be finished at least so far as the Senate was concerned. The restriction was sealed into a $64 billion defense appropriations bill which reached the Senate floor Thursday with no sign that an effort would be made to take it out. Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said the White House does not like the restriction but is not prepared to fight it, as it did for two months last summer against a similar proposal after the U.S. offensive into Cambodia.

The limitation, added to the bill by the Senate Appropriations panel, would prohibit use of funds to introduce U.S. ground combat troops into Cambodia. A similar ban is already in effect for Laos and Thailand —South Vietnam's other neighboring allies.

The measure was aimed at blocking the President from renewing May's offensive into Communist border sanctuaries inside Cambodia. But administration backers were expected to contend that Nixon still would have the constitutional power to do this, regardless of the restriction, if such action was necessary to protect American lives. American lives.

The administration, however, so far has ignored the proposed language and has concentrated its Senate efforts instead on getting approval this year for money to equip the 150,000-man army of Premier Lon Nol. Scott contends the administration's effort for the Lon Nol government will emphasize "dollars instead of blood."

The Cambodia aid for which Rogers and Laird testified is part of a $1 billion supplemental foreign aid bill for Cambodia, South Korea, Indonesia, Jordan, Lebanon, South Vietnam and Israel. Congress already has provided authority for $500 million in aid to Israel, but the other half of the package must be cleared by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before the aid money bill can be enacted.

The committee, headed by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ar., has not been friendly to the proposal and may attempt to bottle it up for the few days left in the current Congress.

Ettore Esposti Dies At 85

Funeral for Ettore Degli Esposti, a former Mill Valley restaurateur, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Mortuary, 19981 Broadway, Sonoma.

Esposti, who resided in Sonoma for 26 years, died Sunday at his home following a short illness. He was 85.

Esposti, a native of Bologna, Italy, owned Esposti's Restaurant on Throckmorton Avenue in Mill Valley for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1944.

He is survived by his wife, Marie; a daughter, Jane A. Breen of Salinas; a son, Rudolph of Tehachapi, Kern County; six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mountain Cemetery, Sonoma.

ROBERT WILLIAMS

In the obituary of Williams, 60, who died Friday after a long illness, the Independent-Journal erroneously reported she is still principal of the school.

The I-J also erred in reporting the sex of his daughter, Meredith Williams, and misspelled the name of a sister, Mrs. Charles Shiner of Harrisburg, Pa.

DOMENICO BALDINI

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at All Souls Catholic Church, South San Francisco, for Domenico Baldini, father of Anna Lamperti of San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary in South San Francisco, and entombment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Baldini, 88, of South San Francisco, died Sunday at a Burlingame hospital following a short illness.

He was a native of Italy and had lived in the United States and California 63 years. He was a retired laborer.

Baldini was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation, Societa di Opera, Sons of Italy and the Druids, all of South San Francisco.

In addition to Mrs. Lamperti, he is survived by his wife, Italia; a son, Aldo, and a sister, Erminia Lombardi, all of South San Francisco; three brothers in Italy, four grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

WILLIAM KELLY

William Thomas Kelly, 61, collapsed and died at 3:40 a.m. today in his home at 1032-C Los Gamos Road, San Rafael. Death was believed due to a heart attack, according to Keith C. Craig, coroner's investigator. Kelly had a history of heart trouble, Craig said.

Kelly was found by his wife Agnes, who summoned a doctor and a son, Morgan Kelly, of 1036-E Los Gamos Road.

Kelly, an apartment house manager, had lived four months in San Rafael, and three years in California. He was a native of Toronto, Canada.

He also is survived by another son, Donald Kelly of St. Lamberts, Quebec, Canada, and a daughter, Beverly Alderson of Greenfield Park, Quebec.

COL. WORLEY

He was born in San Francisco, but grew up in Sausalito. He graduated from Tamalpais High School. He was a veteran of World War II. He worked federal civil service in transportation, retiring last April from both his civilian job and from the Army reserve. He was assistant to the director of operations of the Army Pacific Terminal Command at Oakland.

He was a member of Marin Lodge No. 191, Free and Accepted Masons, member and past secretary of the National Defense Transportation Association-Oakland Army Base and a member of the Officers Club of Fort Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Frances H.Worley and a daughter, Marian W. Kenst of Pleasanton, who said her father had apparently suffered a heart attack.

Masonic service will be conducted by Marin Lodge No. 191, at 10 a.m., Thursday, at Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MANUEL CABRAL

The obituary also erred in reporting Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. It will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato. Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato, and burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

MRS. HEGARTY

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Petpetuas Catholic Church in Lafayette for Irene M. Hegarty, sister of Louis J. Geissberger of Larkspur. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Grant Miller Mortuaries Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette, and burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Hegarty died Saturday at a convalescent hospital in Rheem, Contra Costa County, following a long illness.

She was a native of San Francisco and a long-time resident of Lafayette. She had worked for more than 30 years as a switchboard operation with Transamerica Corp. in San Francisco.

She is also survived by another brother, Harry I. Geissberger of El Cerrito.

Homeowners Organize

The Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association organized and adopted by-laws last night and set regular meetings for the second Monday of every month.

The meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the multiuse room of La Tercera School.

Membership chairman Janet Fountain said a list of 70 members had been compiled and that prospective members may contact her at 1637 Sarkesian Drive.

Hitchhike Thugs To Be Sentenced

Jerry Ray Wade, 20, of San Rafael, and John Edward Brown, 20, of Santa Rosa, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of stealing money from a hitchhiker on Sept. 17.

A second count of armed robbery was dismissed.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 25. Brown is already serving a one-year sentence for burglary.

The youths were arrested in San Rafael after officers spotted them in a car which matched the description of one given by the hitchhiker who said he had been strong-armed by two men.

16-Year-Old Struck By Car

A 16-year-old Corte Madera girl was injured yesterday when she was hit by a car on C Street south of Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, police reported.

Judy Ann Underhill of 109 Harbor Drive, was treated for multiple bruises at Marin General Hospital.

She was walking west on C Street at 1:34 p.m. when she was hit by a car driven by Jonathan Baker, 47, of 14 West Castlewood Drive, San Rafael, going north on C Street, police reported.

Reason For Late Delivery

If your copy of the Independent-Journal arrived later than normal yesterday it was because of the I-J's change to a new printing method.

According to Allan Howells, circulation manager, papers arrived from one to five hours late to some Marin and Southern Sonoma locations.

Unions Comply On Documents

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four Bay Area labor unions yesterday submitted in federal court documents connected with their participation in San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike against the Independent-Journal.

The papers were handed over to U.S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert by attorneys for the typographical union, Teamsters Union locals 85 of San Francisco and 70 of Oakland and longshoremen's local 10 of San Francisco.

The documents — names and address of officers, constitutions and by-laws, minutes of union meetings, financial records and copies of union publications — were sought by the National Labor Relations Board which is seeking contempt of court findings against the unions for their alleged secondary boycott activity against I-J advertisers in defiance of earlier court orders.

The unions had fought Sweigert's order to produce the documents, but lost an appeal to the U.S. District Court of Appeals last Friday.

In presenting the records yesterday, union attorneys said they still reserved the right to appeal Sweigert's order to a higher court.

The attorneys said that some records supoenaed by the NLRB did not exist. These included records of ownership of union automobiles, reimbursement to union members for use of their own cars in Marin, and bills paid for renting cars and hotel rooms and for meals in Marin.

The contempt action was begun by the NLRB after picketing began in October at Marin supermarkets and other stores advertising in the I-J. Truck drivers reported being turned back while attempting deliveries in Marin, and there were reports of tire slashing and other vandalism to delivery trucks.

Nod To Novato Plan For Regional Center

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended adoption of the plan for a regional shopping center in the Pinheiro Ranch area.

Commissioners also recommended adoption of the proposed program for the Highway 101 eastside by-pass and for a transit station in the general vicinity of Olive Avenue near the proposed regional center.

The plan by consultants Sedway and Cooke calls for a regional shopping center to serve Novato, northern Marin and Southern Sonoma, on 90 acres, north of Olive Avenue, east and west of Highway 101.

Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said there was no protest from a small audience.

Commissioners considered the need to have land uses in the area north of Cherry Street, between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way, compatible with the regional center, Mattson reported. The property is used for various industrial pruposes.

The commission also discussed the staff recommendation that the regional center site be extended to Second Street and Kaehler Street to eliminate future potential conflict with residential property backing up to a major shopping center, Mattson said.

Under the plan there would be a transit station with land area sufficient to accommodate from 800 to 1,000 cars, with the preferred location immediately north of Olive Avenue.

Commissioners felt that because of the large scale of the garage and parking requirements for a transit station, special consideration should be given to the design of the project, Mattson said.

The hearing was the first in a series on the downtown plan, with the next session at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House to cover the Novato Downtown Center, Creekside area and Novato sub-areas of the plan and the program for Novato Creek.

Sonoma Gives Approval To New Refuse Disposal Site

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved acquisition of a new refuse disposal site, but only over objections of neighboring property owners.

The site approved included the 395-acre Stefenoni dairy ranch at Meacham and Hammel roads, west of Petaluma. Donald B. Head, director of public works, said he hoped the prooperty could be acquired as soon as possible with the disposal area in operation by next May.

As some residents complained that their property values would decrease because of odors, noise and litter from the dump, Head maintained that all possibel steps will be taken to avert such problems.

He said that only one-third of the property would be used initially and that long range plans call for converting the dump into a park area.

Head said the Roblar Road dump site would be phased out and that the new facility would serve Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati, Sebastopol and South Santa Rosa.

In a four-hour hearing, residents said roads in the area would be inadequate to handle the flow of traffic and forecast large amounts of litter on roadways leading to the site.

Head said the refuse would be covered daily, but residents said they still expected to be bothered by insects, rodents and bad odors.

The board vote on the proposal was 4-0 with Supervisor Arthur Ruonavaara absent. The price for the property has been set at $266,000.

In other action, the board approved a special election next November for Petaluma Hospital District directors. The election, which was scheduled for last November, was not held because of late filing by the district.

Man Switches To Guilty Plea

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A San Francisco man accused of beating a cocktail waitress from Mill Valley has changed his plea to guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

Lloyd J. Hartman, who is charged with clubbing Patty Noland, 32, with a tire iron, is to appear for sentencing in superior court here Dec. 23.

Hartman, 39, who had previously pleaded innocent changed his plea Nov. 27.

He was arrested in July after an early-morning fracas outside a San Francisco bar. He was subdued by several customers, police said, as he allegedly attacked Miss Noland, who lives at 31 Millay Place.

Petition Protests Home Use

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night was presented a petiton protesting continued residential-commercial use of a home at 205 The Alameda.

The petition, signed by 20 neighbors, protested a use permit application from Beatrice H. Blum to teach dancing at the residence currently used by Helen O. Gui to teach music (organ, accordion and guitar).

According to the commission secretary, Mrs. Blum has an option to buy the home conditional upon obtaining a permit from the city for continued joint use of the home.

Claiming there is sufficient property available elsewhere in the city for such use, the protesters said their main concerns were increases in traffic and noise.

The commission delayed consideration of the use permit request until its next meeting Dec. 21 when it will reconsider the original use permit granted Mrs. Gui in 1966.

The commission agreed to recommend to the city council a proposed ordinance amendment governing types of businesses in residential areas.

The proposed amendment maintains that "uses permitted within this district (neighborhood business districts) be reasonably compatible with the surrounding residential use and that in allowing any particular use, special attention be given to traffic, sound production and impact on the neighborhood."

The commission also continued to its next meeting consideration of rezoning four lots on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Oak Knoll Avenue from commercial to residential and discussion on future development of properties served by Sonoma Avenue.

Mill Valley Chamber Picks New Officers

New officers for 1971 were elected at yesterday's meeting of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, according to Secretary-mgr. Granville L. Beedle.

In addition, Schneider will serve as chairman of the merchants division and Steindl will head the civic affairs division.

New directors are William R. Bacon and Gerald W. Belanger. Lawrence A. Meyer and Edward N. Mills were reelected directors.

Sentencing Set In Burglary Case

Steven Joseph O'Brien, 21, of Corte Madera, and Robert Donzill Price, 18, of Marin City, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the second degree burglary of a Mill Valley residence on June 6.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 15. It was indicated in court that the district attorney's office will recommend a six-month jail sentence.

The two were arrested inside a house at 28 Vasco Drive, which police said had been ransacked although nothing appeared to be missing.

City Retirement Program Upgraded

The San Rafael City Council, rejecting a plea for a higher package for police and fireman, last night approved an upgraded retirement program for all city employees. (Other San Rafael council stories, page 1)

The total cost of the package to the city this year will be $409,580, an increase of about $69,000 over last year.

The new program, operating under the state public employees retirement system, was made necessary when employees voted in September to drop out of the federal social security program.

The package lowers the age of eligibility for retirement to 55 for safety employees and 60 for other employees.

Douglas pleaded for a state package, called the CHP program, which would have allowed retirement at age 50, but Councilman Fred E. Jensen, 70, told Douglas 50 was too young to retire anyway.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

HOUSING — Received a presentation of the City-County Planning Council's housing element report from Adelaide Wilson, chairman of the council's housing and social planning committee; Werner von Gundell, Marin County planning director, and Marjorie Macris, a county planner.

GOALS — Endorsed an Association of Bay Area Government's statement supporting a goal to provide adequate housing opportunities for all persons.

IMPROVEMENTS — Approved a five-year capital improvement program through 1975 for the public works department.

SEARS — Passed a resolution of intention to vacate utilities easement on the site of a proposed Sears Roebuck and Company store at Northgate Shopping Center and set a public hearing on the vacation for Jan. 4.

PERSONNEL — Referred back to McCown for revision a report on personnel reclassifications and wage adjustments.

MEETING — Adjourned to its next regular meeting at 8 p.m. Dec. 21.

Rohnert Park Reverses On Underground Utilities

The Rohnert Park City Council reversed itself last night and said Young America Homes Inc. need not underground utility lines to its new headquarters on Commerce Boulevard.

William Mueller of Young America Homes complained that the council action two weeks ago requiring undergrounding was unfair. He said that property around the building under construction is undeveloped and that other property owners would benefit at the expense of Young America.

Councilman Arthur R. Roberts reversed his vote from the last meeting and joined James W. Rogers and Jack Buchanan in voting to allow overhead lines. Mayor Vernon P. Smith and Councilman Warren K. Hopkins voted for undergrounding.

The Rohnert Park City Council Also:

SIGNS — Approved an ordinance regulating political signs and requiring they not be posted until 45 days before the election and be removed immediately after. They will be confined to private property.

ETHICS — Rejected the request of Smith to adopt a code of ethics, saying all ethical questions are covered by state laws.

UNDERGROUND — Received a report from Ralph Fitch of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. that an undergrounding utility line district at Adrian Drive and Southwest Boulevard would cost an estimated $43,000. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said he would see what county funds are available and will start paper work on the project.

BRIDGE — Approved plans to build a small bridge over Hinebaugh Creek on Commerce Boulevard and authorized the advertising for bids. Cost has been estimated at $42,000.

DRAINAGE — Heard developer Paul Golis complain that flood control work being done behind the Bart Mitchell realty building was being done at the expense of other projects. The council asked for a report from the Sonoma County water agency.

Nobel Winner Would Aid Slums

STOCKHOLM (UPI) —Prof. Paul A. Samuelson, the American winner of the 1970 Nobel Economy award, today called for stepped up economic efforts in the city slums in the United States.

The 55-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) economist, a leading critic of the Nixon administration's economic policies, told a news conference, "American economists have a renewed concern for the city slum problem."

Samuelson, who was awarded the $78,400 prize for "raising the level of analysis in economic science," will receive his award at a ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10.

Design Board Rejects Plan For Enclosures

The Corte Madera Board of Design last night rejected an application from architect Ervin H. Hille for mass approval of deck enclosures for 115 residences in the Mariner Green subdivision.

According to board secretary Lillian Moller, the board said it would only consider the enclosures on an individual basis.

Hille requested the additions for 86 three-bedroom and 29 two-bedroom condominiums.

In other action, the board approved remodeling of the Standard service stations at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive, deck additions to three Mariner Green Court residences and landscaping and modernization plans submitted by Kenneth E. Niles for the building at 5643 Paradise Drive.

Grand Jury Won't Hold Wide Probe

The Sonoma County Grand Jury has rejected the request of the Petaluma City Council for an investigation of "governmental affairs," saying it was beyond the jury's scope.

Foreman Edward C. Trigiero, in a letter to the council, said the request was too broad to warrant an investigation. He said the jury could concern itself only with specific charges or willful or corrupt practices by city officials.

The council had asked for the citywide investigation after misconduct charges were leveled at Planning Commission Chairman Paul Stanley.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert said the jury and district attorney's office are investigating the charges against Stanley, but that the final determination will probably be made by the 1971 grand jury.

The Petaluma City Council also:

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of five acres on North McDowell Boulevard as requested by David A. Young of Novato. He said he had no immediate development plan for the property.

WRISTWRESTLING — Heard a request from Bill Soberanes that $1,000 be transferred to his nonprofit corporation for the 1971 World's Wristwrestling Championship. The council said the funds had been set aside in the promotion fund, but asked Soberanes for a more detailed accounting on how the money would be spent.

LUCCHESI — Approved the expenditure of $600 to hire San Rafael landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin to prepare grading, drainage and landscape plans for the development of another five acres at Lucchesi Park.

REZONING — Approved rezoning 601 D Street from single family residential to multi-family to permit duplexes.

FIRE HOSE — Authorized the purchase of $6,000 worth of fire hose.

Tate Trial Is In Postponement

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Sharon Tate murder trial has been postponed until Dec. 16 to allow the "associate counsel" of missing defense lawyer Ronald Hughes to study the massive 18,000-page transcript of more than five months of court proceedings.

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older granted the continuance Monday after Maxwell Keith told him he needs more time to bone up on the transcript. If Keith is ready by that date, closing arguments will begin.

Petaluma's Growing Pains Scrutinized

Petaluma's population may leap by more than 6,000 in the next year, but that could bring development to a standstill because of sewage plant limitations, the city council heard last night.

Councilman David W. Brainerd said his council committee had three meetings with developers and found that 1,918 single family units may be built in 1971. He said that coupled with 264 multi-family units and a mobile home park already approved, the developments could yield a population addition of 6,089 on the east side.

He said the present operation of the sewage plant could accomodate an additional 5,000 residents while still reserving some space for new industry.

Brainerd said that the figures indicate the plant will be operating beyond its capacity, but he added that the building projections given by developers may be as much as 30 per cent above actual construction.

After the meeting, Brainerd said his committee, which also included Councilman Robert A. Brunner and Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr., had not asked builders to slow development voluntarily as had been suggested by City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer.

He said the committee had discussed only treatment plant problems and had not talked about any problems related to crowded schools or the lack of recreational facilities on the east side that residents have been complaining about for several months.

Brainerd said that tentative and final development maps already approved would bring a total population of 33,090 in the next year. The September city population was estimated at 26,001. Another 1,000 residents outside the city limits are also served by city sewers.

As an indication of a possible timetable for plant expansion, City Engineer David A. Young estimated the design phase might begin in August with construction bids advertised in May of 1972 with the new plant operational by May, 1974.

In line with Brainer's report that no future development can be considered until a plant expansion plan is prepared and financed, the council later turned down an annexation request.

Denied was the request of Taylor and Mazza Inc. to annex 55 acres on Casa Grande Road for future single and multi-family residences. Representatives said the development would include 80 homes per year over a five-year period, but could be scaled down if necessary because of sewage limitations.

The council also put off a rezoning request by Arthur Condiotti for a 28-acre mobile home park on North McDowell Boulevard, adjacent to the Candlewood Mobile Home Park.

The council delayed the request for three months, saying the rezoning could be granted, but development might have to be delayed for up to two years.

Guaraldi And Wife Granted A Dissolution

Pianist Vincent A. Guaraldi and his wife Shirley were granted dissolution of their marriage today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner inMarin Superior Court.

Only the long-haired bespectacled musician appeared in court to testify that the couple had been separated over two years and that irreconcilable differences existed between them.

A property settlement had been reached between Guaraldi, 41, and Mrs. Guaraldi in which assets were divided approximately equally. She is to receive $300 support monthly plus $150 for each of their two children.

Guaraldi testified that the youngsters, David, and Dia, live with their mother in Mill Valley.

The Guaraldis were married in San Francisco in 1953 and separated in June 1968, when Mrs. Guaraldi filed for divorce. She had also filed in 1966 but the suit was dismissed when the couple reconciled.

Asphalt Plant Meets Opposition

The Novato Beautification Committee last night opposed an application by McPhails Inc. to construct an asphalt plant at Highways 101 and 37 where the firm operates a concrete batch plant.

The Novato City Council will have a hearing on the application at 8 p.m. today at Novato Community House.

Unions Comply On Documents

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four Bay Area labor unions yesterday submitted in federal court documents connected with their participation in San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike against the Independent-Journal.

The papers were handed over to U.S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert by attorneys for the typographical union, Teamsters Union locals 85 of San Francisco and 70 of Oakland and longshoremen's local 10 of San Francisco.

The documents — names and address of officers, constitutions and by-laws, minutes of union meetings, financial records and copies of union publications — were sought by the National Labor Relations Board which is seeking contempt of court findings against the unions for their alleged secondary boycott activity against I-J advertisers in defiance of earlier court orders.

The unions had fought Sweigert's order to produce the documents, but lost an appeal to the U.S. District Court of Appeals last Friday.

In presenting the records yesterday, union attorneys said they still reserved the right to appeal Sweigert's order to a higher court.

The attorneys said that some records supoenaed by the NLRB did not exist. These included records of ownership of union automobiles, reimbursement to union members for use of their own cars in Marin, and bills paid for renting cars and hotel rooms and for meals in Marin.

The contempt action was begun by the NLRB after picketing began in October at Marin supermarkets and other stores advertising in the I-J. Truck drivers reported being turned back while attempting deliveries in Marin, and there were reports of tire slashing and other vandalism to delivery trucks.

Grand Jury Won't Hold Wide Probe

The Sonoma County Grand Jury has rejected the request of the Petaluma City Council for an investigation of "governmental affairs," saying it was beyond the jury's scope.

Foreman Edward C. Trigiero, in a letter to the council, said the request was too broad to warrant an investigation. He said the jury could concern itself only with specific charges or willful or corrupt practices by city officials.

The council had asked for the citywide investigation after misconduct charges were leveled at Planning Commission Chairman Paul Stanley.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert said the jury and district attorney's office are investigating the charges against Stanley, but that the final determination will probably be made by the 1971 grand jury.

The Petaluma City Council also:

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of five acres on North McDowell Boulevard as requested by David A. Young of Novato. He said he had no immediate development plan for the property.

WRISTWRESTLING — Heard a request from Bill Soberanes that $1,000 be transferred to his nonprofit corporation for the 1971 World's Wristwrestling Championship. The council said the funds had been set aside in the promotion fund, but asked Soberanes for a more detailed accounting on how the money would be spent.

LUCCHESI — Approved the expenditure of $600 to hire San Rafael landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin to prepare grading, drainage and landscape plans for the development of another five acres at Lucchesi Park.

REZONING — Approved rezoning 601 D Street from single family residential to multi-family to permit duplexes.

FIRE HOSE — Authorized the purchase of $6,000 worth of fire hose.

Petaluma's Growing Pains Scrutinized

Petaluma's population may leap by more than 6,000 in the next year, but that could bring development to a standstill because of sewage plant limitations, the city council heard last night.

Councilman David W. Brainerd said his council committee had three meetings with developers and found that 1,918 single family units may be built in 1971. He said that coupled with 264 multi-family units and a mobile home park already approved, the developments could yield a population addition of 6,089 on the east side.

He said the present operation of the sewage plant could accomodate an additional 5,000 residents while still reserving some space for new industry.

Brainerd said that the figures indicate the plant will be operating beyond its capacity, but he added that the building projections given by developers may be as much as 30 per cent above actual construction.

After the meeting, Brainerd said his committee, which also included Councilman Robert A. Brunner and Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr., had not asked builders to slow development voluntarily as had been suggested by City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer.

He said the committee had discussed only treatment plant problems and had not talked about any problems related to crowded schools or the lack of recreational facilities on the east side that residents have been complaining about for several months.

Brainerd said that tentative and final development maps already approved would bring a total population of 33,090 in the next year. The September city population was estimated at 26,001. Another 1,000 residents outside the city limits are also served by city sewers.

As an indication of a possible timetable for plant expansion, City Engineer David A. Young estimated the design phase might begin in August with construction bids advertised in May of 1972 with the new plant operational by May, 1974.

In line with Brainer's report that no future development can be considered until a plant expansion plan is prepared and financed, the council later turned down an annexation request.

Denied was the request of Taylor and Mazza Inc. to annex 55 acres on Casa Grande Road for future single and multi-family residences. Representatives said the development would include 80 homes per year over a five-year period, but could be scaled down if necessary because of sewage limitations.

The council also put off a rezoning request by Arthur Condiotti for a 28-acre mobile home park on North McDowell Boulevard, adjacent to the Candlewood Mobile Home Park.

The council delayed the request for three months, saying the rezoning could be granted, but development might have to be delayed for up to two years.

Guaraldi And Wife Granted A Dissolution

Pianist Vincent A. Guaraldi and his wife Shirley were granted dissolution of their marriage today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner inMarin Superior Court.

Only the long-haired bespectacled musician appeared in court to testify that the couple had been separated over two years and that irreconcilable differences existed between them.

A property settlement had been reached between Guaraldi, 41, and Mrs. Guaraldi in which assets were divided approximately equally. She is to receive $300 support monthly plus $150 for each of their two children.

Guaraldi testified that the youngsters, David, and Dia, live with their mother in Mill Valley.

The Guaraldis were married in San Francisco in 1953 and separated in June 1968, when Mrs. Guaraldi filed for divorce. She had also filed in 1966 but the suit was dismissed when the couple reconciled.

Nod To Novato Plan For Regional Center

Commissioners also recommended adoption of the proposed program for the Highway 101 eastside by-pass and for a transit station in the general vicinity of Olive Avenue near the proposed regional center.

The plan by consultants Sedway and Cooke calls for a regional shopping center to serve Novato, northern Marin and Southern Sonoma, on 90 acres, north of Olive Avenue, east and west of Highway 101.

Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said there was no protest from a small audience.

Commissioners considered the need to have land uses in the area north of Cherry Street, between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way, compatible with the regional center, Mattson reported. The property is used for various industrial pruposes.

The commission also discussed the staff recommendation that the regional center site be extended to Second Street and Kaehler Street to eliminate future potential conflict with residential property backing up to a major shopping center, Mattson said.

Under the plan there would be a transit station with land area sufficient to accommodate from 800 to 1,000 cars, with the preferred location immediately north of Olive Avenue.

Commissioners felt that because of the large scale of the garage and parking requirements for a transit station, special consideration should be given to the design of the project, Mattson said.

The hearing was the first in a series on the downtown plan, with the next session at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House to cover the Novato Downtown Center, Creekside area and Novato sub-areas of the plan and the program for Novato Creek.

Rohnert Park Reverses On Underground Utilities

The Rohnert Park City Council reversed itself last night and said Young America Homes Inc. need not underground utility lines to its new headquarters on Commerce Boulevard.

William Mueller of Young America Homes complained that the council action two weeks ago requiring undergrounding was unfair. He said that property around the building under construction is undeveloped and that other property owners would benefit at the expense of Young America.

Councilman Arthur R. Roberts reversed his vote from the last meeting and joined James W. Rogers and Jack Buchanan in voting to allow overhead lines. Mayor Vernon P. Smith and Councilman Warren K. Hopkins voted for undergrounding.

The Rohnert Park City Council Also:

SIGNS — Approved an ordinance regulating political signs and requiring they not be posted until 45 days before the election and be removed immediately after. They will be confined to private property.

ETHICS — Rejected the request of Smith to adopt a code of ethics, saying all ethical questions are covered by state laws.

UNDERGROUND — Received a report from Ralph Fitch of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. that an undergrounding utility line district at Adrian Drive and Southwest Boulevard would cost an estimated $43,000. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said he would see what county funds are available and will start paper work on the project.

BRIDGE — Approved plans to build a small bridge over Hinebaugh Creek on Commerce Boulevard and authorized the advertising for bids. Cost has been estimated at $42,000.

DRAINAGE — Heard developer Paul Golis complain that flood control work being done behind the Bart Mitchell realty building was being done at the expense of other projects. The council asked for a report from the Sonoma County water agency.

Mill Valley Chamber Picks New Officers

New officers for 1971 were elected at yesterday's meeting of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, according to Secretary-mgr. Granville L. Beedle.

The officers are president, Richard C. Conrad; first vice president, Samuel W. Schneider; second vice president, Christain R. Steindl and treasurer, Jack Packard, ast year's president.

In addition, Schneider will serve as chairman of the merchants division and Steindl will head the civic affairs division.

New directors are William R. Bacon and Gerald W. Belanger. Lawrence A. Meyer and Edward N. Mills were reelected directors.

Design Board Rejects Plan For Enclosures

The Corte Madera Board of Design last night rejected an application from architect Ervin H. Hille for mass approval of deck enclosures for 115 residences in the Mariner Green subdivision.

According to board secretary Lillian Moller, the board said it would only consider the enclosures on an individual basis.

Hille requested the additions for 86 three-bedroom and 29 two-bedroom condominiums.

In other action, the board approved remodeling of the Standard service stations at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive, deck additions to three Mariner Green Court residences and landscaping and modernization plans submitted by Kenneth E. Niles for the building at 5643 Paradise Drive.

Tate Trial Is In Postponement

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Sharon Tate murder trial has been postponed until Dec. 16 to allow the "associate counsel" of missing defense lawyer Ronald Hughes to study the massive 18,000-page transcript of more than five months of court proceedings.

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older granted the continuance Monday after Maxwell Keith told him he needs more time to bone up on the transcript. If Keith is ready by that date, closing arguments will begin.

Asphalt Plant Meets Opposition

The Novato Beautification Committee last night opposed an application by McPhails Inc. to construct an asphalt plant at Highways 101 and 37 where the firm operates a concrete batch plant.

The Novato City Council will have a hearing on the application at 8 p.m. today at Novato Community House.

Sonoma Gives Approval To New Refuse Disposal Site

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved acquisition of a new refuse disposal site, but only over objections of neighboring property owners.

The site approved included the 395-acre Stefenoni dairy ranch at Meacham and Hammel roads, west of Petaluma. Donald B. Head, director of public works, said he hoped the prooperty could be acquired as soon as possible with the disposal area in operation by next May.

As some residents complained that their property values would decrease because of odors, noise and litter from the dump, Head maintained that all possibel steps will be taken to avert such problems.

He said that only one-third of the property would be used initially and that long range plans call for converting the dump into a park area.

Head said the Roblar Road dump site would be phased out and that the new facility would serve Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati, Sebastopol and South Santa Rosa.

In a four-hour hearing, residents said roads in the area would be inadequate to handle the flow of traffic and forecast large amounts of litter on roadways leading to the site.

Head said the refuse would be covered daily, but residents said they still expected to be bothered by insects, rodents and bad odors.

The board vote on the proposal was 4-0 with Supervisor Arthur Ruonavaara absent. The price for the property has been set at $266,000.

In other action, the board approved a special election next November for Petaluma Hospital District directors. The election, which was scheduled for last November, was not held because of late filing by the district.

Sentencing Set In Burglary Case

Steven Joseph O'Brien, 21, of Corte Madera, and Robert Donzill Price, 18, of Marin City, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the second degree burglary of a Mill Valley residence on June 6.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 15. It was indicated in court that the district attorney's office will recommend a six-month jail sentence.

The two were arrested inside a house at 28 Vasco Drive, which police said had been ransacked although nothing appeared to be missing.

Nobel Winner Would Aid Slums

STOCKHOLM (UPI) —Prof. Paul A. Samuelson, the American winner of the 1970 Nobel Economy award, today called for stepped up economic efforts in the city slums in the United States.

The 55-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) economist, a leading critic of the Nixon administration's economic policies, told a news conference, "American economists have a renewed concern for the city slum problem."

Samuelson, who was awarded the $78,400 prize for "raising the level of analysis in economic science," will receive his award at a ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10.

Man Switches To Guilty Plea

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A San Francisco man accused of beating a cocktail waitress from Mill Valley has changed his plea to guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

Lloyd J. Hartman, who is charged with clubbing Patty Noland, 32, with a tire iron, is to appear for sentencing in superior court here Dec. 23.

Hartman, 39, who had previously pleaded innocent changed his plea Nov. 27.

He was arrested in July after an early-morning fracas outside a San Francisco bar. He was subdued by several customers, police said, as he allegedly attacked Miss Noland, who lives at 31 Millay Place.

LONDON BROIL PEPPER STEAK

One LONDON BROIL, 2 to 2½ lbs.
1½ tbls. whole black peppercorns
1½ tbls. olive oil
¼ cup brandy

Allow LONDON BROIL to reach room temperature, approximately 1 hour. Crush peppercorns by wrapping in a cloth and crush with a mallet or rolling pin. Press pepper firmly into both sides of LONDON BROIL. Let stand at room temperature 15 to 20 minutes. Heat olive oil in a heavy frying pan. Pan broil steak to desired doneness — approximately 25 minutes for medium. Season with salt to taste. Place LONDON BROIL on a hot platter. Pour brandy into frying pan, set aflame. Stir to extinguish flame. When sauce is bubbling hot, pour over LONDON BROIL. Slice diagonally in ¼ inch slices and serve 4 to 6 servings

Fremont Plant Resumes Work

FREMONT (UPI) — General Motors' assembly plant resumed production of cars and trucks today after a two-month strike.

The 4,500 workers at the plant on the east side of San Francisco Bay ratified a local settlement last Friday, two weeks after the nationwide GM strike by the United Auto Workers was settled.

Today's Hand Shows Why Culbertson Was Top Player

People sometimes ask how good a player Ely Culbertson was. (For the benefit of those who just came in, Culbertson was the monarch of bridge in the early 30s.) Culbertson was as good a player as he needed to be to stay on top. The game has advanced since his time, but if he had maintained his interest in bridge he would have kept pace with the best players. Today's hand shows a typical Culbertson coup.

VERY DIFFICULT

Culbertson could not reproach his wife, Josephine, for taking him out of the double of four spades since West would have lost only one spade, one heart and one diamond. But making five clubs was a very difficult proposition since there seemed to be no way to avoid the loss of one heart and two diamonds.

Nevertheless, Culbertson found a persuasive way to swindle his opponents out of a trick. Mind you, the opponents were not exactly beginners, since the hand was played during the 1937 world championships in Budapest. See if you can find Culbertson's coup before you read on.

PLAYS SMOOTHLY

When West opened the king of spades, Culbertson played the six of spades smoothly from the South hand. Naturally, each opponent thought that his partner had the ace of spades.

West shifted to the eight of diamonds, and West took the ace of diamonds and returned the queen of hearts. Culbertson won with the ace of hearts and led out seven rounds of trumps, discarding the nine of diamonds and the two hearts from his hand.

LAST THREE CARDS

Culbertson's last three cards were the king of diamonds and the A-2 of spades. The defenders were so sure that Culbertson had no spades (since he hadn't ruffed any in the dummy) that they had thrown away their spades to save "protection" in the red suits. The old master therefore took the king of diamonds and then won the last two tricks with the ace and deuce of spades.

Don't sniff. The same play might work today against any but the very best.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠—A 6 2
♥—A 8 3
♦—K 9 3
♣—A Q 10 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 1 no-trump, promising 16 to 18 points in high cards, with balanced distribution and strength in three suits. (Culbertson's bidding methods were different when he held this hand in 1937.)

Disbarment Issue

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—A hearing to determine whether defense attorney F. Lee Bailey should be barred from practicing in New Jersey was scheduled Tuesday before the State Supreme Court. The hearing resulted from a recommendation by Superior Court Justice Morris Pashman that Bailey be disbarred because of his actions in the Kavanaugh-DeFranco murder trials.

LONDON BROIL PEPPER STEAK

One LONDON BROIL, 2 to 2½ lbs. 1½ tbls. olive oil
1½ tbls. whole black peppercorns ¼ cup brandy

Allow LONDON BROIL to reach room temperature, approximately 1 hour. Crush peppercorns by wrapping in a cloth and crush with a mallet or rolling pin. Press pepper firmly into both sides of LONDON BROIL. Let stand at room temperature 15 to 20 minutes. Heat olive oil in a heavy frying pan. Pan broil steak to desired doneness — approximately 25 minutes for medium. Season with salt to taste. Place LONDON BROIL on a hot platter. Pour brandy into frying pan, set aflame. Stir to extinguish flame. When sauce is bubbling hot, pour over LONDON BROIL. Slice diagonally in ¼ inch slices and serve 4 to 6 servings
Serve with Sebastiani Pinot Noir

Fremont Plant Resumes Work

FREMONT (UPI) — General Motors' assembly plant resumed production of cars and trucks today after a two-month strike.

The 4,500 workers at the plant on the east side of San Francisco Bay ratified a local settlement last Friday, two weeks after the nationwide GM strike by the United Auto Workers was settled.

VERY DIFFICULT

Culbertson could not reproach his wife, Josephine, for taking him out of the double of four spades since West would have lost only one spade, one heart and one diamond. But making five clubs was a very difficult proposition since there seemed to be no way to avoid the loss of one heart and two diamonds.

Nevertheless, Culbertson found a persuasive way to swindle his opponents out of a trick. Mind you, the opponents were not exactly beginners, since the hand was played during the 1937 world championships in Budapest. See if you can find Culbertson's coup before you read on.

PLAYS SMOOTHLY

When West opened the king of spades, Culbertson played the six of spades smoothly from the South hand. Naturally, each opponent thought that his partner had the ace of spades.

West shifted to the eight of diamonds, and West took the ace of diamonds and returned the queen of hearts. Culbertson won with the ace of hearts and led out seven rounds of trumps, discarding the nine of diamonds and the two hearts from his hand.

LAST THREE CARDS

Culbertson's last three cards were the king of diamonds and the A-2 of spades. The defenders were so sure that Culbertson had no spades (since he hadn't ruffed any in the dummy) that they had thrown away their spades to save "protection" in the red suits. The old master therefore took the king of diamonds and then won the last two tricks with the ace and deuce of spades.

Don't sniff. The same play might work today against any but the very best.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠—A 6 2
♥—A 8 3
♦—K 9 3
♣—A Q 10 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 1 no-trump, promising 16 to 18 points in high cards, with balanced distribution and strength in three suits. (Culbertson's bidding methods were different when he held this hand in 1937.)

Disbarment Issue

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—A hearing to determine whether defense attorney F. Lee Bailey should be barred from practicing in New Jersey was scheduled Tuesday before the State Supreme Court. The hearing resulted from a recommendation by Superior Court Justice Morris Pashman that Bailey be disbarred because of his actions in the Kavanaugh-DeFranco murder trials.

County Fire And Police Proposals Need Hard Look

The Marin County Board of Su- that could materially change the structure of local government in the county.

The board last week called for an election in March on formation of a county-wide fire district, which would include all areas not now within a city or a fire district.

On the same day, the board set for Jan. 26 hearing on a proposal for a county police services area, to include all territory now dependent on the sheriff's office for law enforcement.

THE PROPOSED county fire district and the proposed county police services area have two goals in common:

First, they supposedly would provide better fire and police protection to those areas which do not have local setups in these fields.

Second, they supposedly would make it possible to shift some of the tax load for county fire and police protection away from those who are "double-taxed" to support their local fire and police departments plus the county fire department and sheriff's office.

The proposed setups might do neither of these things, however. They without doubt would result in increased taxation for residents of unincorporated areas. And they might not save much of anything for those who live within cities and fire districts.

FIRST, LET'S CONSIDER fire protection.

The county fire department exists to fight grass, brush and forest fires. It never was intended for structural fire protection. It does its best to save homes and other structures within its jurisdiction from being destroyed by fire, but that is not its purpose.

If residents want more fire protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a fire district.

However, a fire district embracing all those areas not now within one would be a patchwork of disconnected parcels. Each would require its own complement of men and equipment — in essence a separate district.

What part of the cost of this extra manpower and equipment would be chargeable to the fire district? All of it? But if so, would then the county fire department be needed also to protect against forest and brush fires? And who would pay for it? And if it were not needed, should not city residents help pay for this protection which benefits them also?

HOW ABOUT POLICE protection?

The sheriff's office was no more created to provide police patrols than was the county fire department to fight structural fires.

If the residents want more police protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a police district.

A county services area for police protection would embrace a greater assortment of disconnected parcels than the proposed county fire district. It would be under administration of the board of supervisors — so probably it would be operated by the sheriff's department.

Then, how much of the sheriff's department's increased cost should be charged county-wide, and how much only within the police services area? How would the tax be broken down?

There are cans of worms here. Each worm should be examined before buying the cans. The imagined "tax equity" may prove ephermal.

Reinecke's Under-River Sewer Plan Faces Many Difficulties

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A unique plan to end pollution of Sacramento River waters has been proposed by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke. Whether the plan is practical remains to be seen.

In the plant, the water would be treated and discharged into San Francisco Bay.

HIS ULTIMATE plan would be to have sewage discharges all along the river, into the sewer line. This would result in a tremendous load with the necessity of having to sink a really large pipe line in the river.

Discharges from various communities, he says, could be effected without much expense, as most of the communities have pipe lines to the river anyhow, which discharge sewage into it.

"From the economic standpoint", Reinecke said, "one very large treatment plant could handle larger volumes of effluent at less cost than large number of smaller ones, and do a better job in the long run. Initial treatment would continue to be accomplished near the source, but final treatment to a purity quality necessary to permit return to the river would be the responsibility of the master plant."

REINECKE SUGGESTS feasibility study, which should also include industrial waste and pesticide content.

"There are engineering problems which must be looked into,'' he said. "There may be navigational and dredging problems that are not visible at this time. However, a feasibility study would determine if the idea has merit, or whether the cost would be justifiable.

"The plan also might end the spectre of one sewage plant dumping partially treated effluent into the river just a few miles upstream from the drinking water intake of such cities as Sacramento, as is now the case."

He believes elimination of pollution in rivers and San Francisco Bay could become an accomplished fact if such a sewer line were constructed. But of course, there is no cost estimate as to how much the taxpayers would be stuck to construct it.

ALSO THERE IS no assurance that the federal government would issue a permit for construction of such a sewer line. The federal government controls the river channel.

With all the obstacles tossed in the way, it probably will be another lifetime before much, if any, serious consideration is given to the Reinecke proposal, but at least, it's something to think about.

Vote Unanimous Against Fence

The editor erred in an editor's note on a letter yesterday in saying that City Councilman William G. Fleckles voted to allow Dr. Robert C. Ceniceros's eight-foot scrap lumber fence in Larkspur. Fleckles said he liked the fence, but joined the other four council members in an unanimous turndown, since it exceeded the height limit set by ordinance.

Pot Smoking But No Religion

I noticed the news story "No Noon Religious Rites."

It seems strange to me that the school officials can look the other way on pot-smoking teachers and students, violent attacks on students in rest rooms, and revolutionary literature distributed, while we have here a group of kids who are not harming anyone and trying to do good, to whom the school says, "no, you can't meet."

It's time for the citizens to regain control of their schools, from these over-degreed and over-paid intellectuals who can't even maintain decent discipline and respect.

Is it any wonder that school bonds are voted down?

Need Stop Sign At School Crossing

This letter is about a stop sign being put at Laurel Dell Primary School crosswalk.

It started when my brother's dog got hit by a speeding car which didn't stop at the crosswalk. A boy was crossing at the Laurel Dell Primary, a speeding car almost hit him. Two dogs got hit by a speeding car. One was my brother's.

By putting a stop sign or light we can stop accidents before they happen. There is a danger of people crossing the street and a speeding car not seeing them. I have already made a petition. I have 86 signatures from teachers and the principal and the kids of Laurel Dell Primary and Intermediate. I think something should be done about this.

Let's Remember Pearl Harbor

I heard a person comment on the radio this morning (Dec 7) about the lack of the "mentioning" of Pearl Harbor and he stated. "Perhaps it's just as well. We all have so much on our minds." Do we have so much on our minds that we must forget so easily?

The small flag in my window this morning was to signify I remember Pearl Harbor. I remember the many who gave their lives there. I remember our entry into World War Two. Can I forget my six brothers and sister serving there? Yet another brother served in the Korean conflict. I can pause to remember Pearl Harbor for I like to feel that those who died there made the world a better place for me and my children.

Comparing Defense And HEW Costs

Editorial cartoons are swell. They can imply anything, without directly stating it. And no one should complain, especially if the cartoons are anti-American.

Your Dec. 5 cartoon, with the rocket labelled "More and More and More and More Defense Spending" is a splendid example.

I challenge you to publish a table listing, by year, the Defense Department budget and the HEW Department budget for the last five available years. Show the American side of the picture once in a while.

DANIEL T. MAHONEY
Fairfax

(The latest five budgets for the Defense Department and Health, Education and Welfare Department as as follows:

|---|---|
| Fiscal | 1967 |
| Defense, | $69,090,000,000 |
| HEW, | $34,890,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1968 |
| Defense, | $79,098,000,000 |
| HEW, | $40,706,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1969 |
| Defense | $81,240,000,000 |
| HEW, | $55,920,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1970 |
| Defense, | $79,432,000,000 |
| HEW, | $64,635,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1971 |
| Defense, | $73,585,000,000 |
| HEW, | $73,450,000,000 |

The increases in the HEW budget have been due chiefly to the increased cost to the federal government of the welfare program. "Income protection" totaled $37,399,000,000 in fiscal 1969, rose to $43,832,000,000 in 1970, and to $50,384,000,000 in this year's budget. — Editor.)

U.S. Generals Detention Shows Double Standard

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The detention of two American generals in Russia after their plane strayed across the Turkish frontier comes within a few weeks after the Nixon administration raised a calculated uproar over highly tendentious allegations that the Soviets might be building a submarine base in Cuba. The two events bear thinking about in juxtaposition.

Turkey has been a military outpost of the United States for 20 years, and that is why American generals were close enough to the Soviet border to "stray" across in the now familiar bad weather. Americans might ask themselves what gives the United States the right to base nuclear weapons and aircraft in a country hard against the Russian frontier while at the same time we object fiercely to Soviet bases in Cuba, 90 miles from our shores.

NOTHING, OF COURSE, gives us any such right. If we would be honest with ourselves, we should either withdraw our military bases from Turkey, or withdraw objections to comparable Soviet bases in our own back yard. But for many years Americans have been accustomed to applying a double standard of international conduct, one for ourselves and a quite different one for others.

During the Cuba missile crisis in 1962, the late Adlai E. Stevenson was roundly abused for daring to suggest that in exchange for getting Soviet missiles out of Cuba the United States might remove its Jupiter missile bases from Turkey. Some of the abuse came from sources close to the Kennedy administration; the mere suggestion of such a single standard of conduct was deemed a species of appeasement or worse.

Years later the information came out that at the peak of the crisis the Kennedy administration had, in fact, made a secret offer to remove the Jupiters from Turkey if Khrushchev would back off from Cuba. Khrushchev's backdown was widely publicized, but the Jupiter withdrawal was kept quiet.

Well, the Jupiters were obsolete anyway, and nothing was given up by removing them. Meanwhile our government went right on pouring other weapons and additional dollars into Turkey, and today we remain in the same position as before. We claim the right to hold a loaded pistol at Russia's head, but howl with righteous indignation at the very thought of hostile bases in our own hemisphere.

WHAT MAKES the situation doubly absurd is the declining value of conventional military positions like those in Turkey. It is a safe bet that Soviet missiles are locked into every Turkish air field, and that in the event of war they would be among the first fired. If nuclear deterrence deters at all, it is not from Turkish bases, but from intercontinental missile bases in the United States and Polaris submarines at sea.

The strong suspicion is that we go on maintaining bases in Turkey only because we got started doing it,and that they could be abandoned without the slightest effect on genuine national security. It is true that reducing such commitments overseas would narrow the career opportunities for military officers, and shrink the market for the military-industrial complex. But if the result were to check the arms race and bring the superpowers closer to a reliable peace, those disadvantages could be endured.

Europe Questions U.S. Reliance On Force To Settle Vietnam Issue

PARIS — The day after the latest bombing of North Vietnam, the two top representatives of Hanoi paid a formal call on one of the highest officials in the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Xuan Thuy, head of Hanoi's delegation to the Paris peace talks, and Mai Van Bo, chief delegate of North Vietnam, had a twofold purpose.

They wanted to register their indignation at the resumption of the bombing. But, more important, they expressed their conviction that they would never capitulate regardless of the extent to which bombing was used.

THIS SAME opinion is widely held within the Pompidou government. The belief is more or less openly expressed that the war cannot be brought to an end by the tactics now pursued by the Nixon administration and that the illusion persists in Washington that force will eventually prevail.

There is evidence that, despite the comparatively small show of outward opposition, the new bombing and the commando raid on what proved to be an empty prison camp has shaken Western Europe once again over the erratic nature of America's course in Vietnam. The government here issued a statement deploring the bombing. But it was with a sense of the helplessness of any outsider, however friendly or sympathetic, to influence the course of events in Southeast Asia.

The substance as against the shadow of America's place in the world is increasingly in question. The nearly 300,000 American troops in Europe 25 years after the end of World War II are to be kept here for at least another year. But Europeans are asking whether this is merely holding a fort that has little meaning for the future.

WHEN PRESIDENT Nixon on his first European tour in February, 1969, called on President Charles de Gaulle, the discussion centered on France's opening to the East and the importance of developing relations with the Communist bloc. De Gaulle, as his close associates recall it today, was impressed by Nixon's understanding of the need to try to bridge the great divide. It was, after all, scarcely a month since in his inaugural address the President had pronounced the end of the era of confrontation and the beginning of the era of negotiation.

But does the President, the American visitor is asked, hold these same views on negotiation as against confrontation? The doubt is over the ill wind out of Washington that seems intended to slow the pace of the opening to the East.

If it is meant to freeze the bold initiative taken by West Germany's Willy Brandt in the treaty with Moscow and the subsequent pact with Poland, doubts of the Nixon administration will grow. Brandt's position is precarious enough as the Christian Democrat opposition tries to bring him down and balk ratification of the treaties. High French officials were outraged when they learned only two days before it happened that the Christian Democrats were to hold a party conference in Berlin which would be certain to cut across delicate four-power negotiations for an improved status of the city.

FRANCE'S NO. 1 diplomat, Herve Alphand, secretary general of the ministry of Foreign Affairs, is shortly with his charming wife, Nicole, to visit America. In the 10 years he was ambassador to Washington, Alphand made myriad friends.

He will meet with the President and the whole panoply of power and place. And it is certain that in his engaging, often witty, way he will express the doubts over America's shifting course. This will be the service of a friend who feels the United States is his second home.

It is easy to discount the doubter and the critic. France lost one Indochina war. But, as de Gaulle repeatedly warned American visitors, Vietnam is quicksand in which the white man, the American, the symbol of wealth and power, will be drawn deeper and deeper, finally to be left alone. The wisdom of experience can be ignored only at the gravest risk.

Japan Dislikes Peking — But Likes Peking's Trade

By ROBERT CRABBE

TOKYO (UPI)—"She's a bad woman," a Frenchman said of his mistress, "but such good company!"

Japanese businessmen feel much the same way about Communist China. They have just asked Peking for a one-year renewal of the humiliating but profitable commercial agreement that makes Japan Red China's leading trade partner.

Chances are good the pact will be renewed. The Chinese need the chemicals, steel and machinery that Japan has to offer. Japan wants the profits it is making on the Chinese mainland, which this year will be the highest since the two countries resumed trade in 1962.

However, Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi says Japan will go right on recognizing President Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa-based regime as the government of all China. He adds Japan will continue opposing Red China's entry into the United Nations, even if America should drop the idea.

ON A TWO-WAY basis, Japan's sales and purchases from Communist China this year will hit a post World War II record of around $800 million. Japan sells Red China much more than she buys. The 1970 balance probably will be more than $200 million in its favor.

Since the Peking and Tokyo governments have no contacts, Japan's trade with China is conducted by the "Memorandum Trade Office," an association of Japanese businessmen who do business on the mainland.

Each year their representatives travel to Peking, sign a communique denouncing the Japanese government's China policy, and then sit down with the Communists to negotiate an extension of the agreement.

Last year's communique said Japan's security treaty with the United States was in danger of becoming "a new Japanese-American military alliance ained at the Chinese people, the Korean people, and the various nations of Asia."

It was signed by Yoshimi Furui, a Conservative member of the Japanese parliament, who belongs to a faction of "doves" on the China question.

This year he will be replaced by Kaheita Okazaki, chief of the Memorandum Trade Office. Okazaki is president of All Nippon Airways, Japan's main domestic air carrier.

THE CHINESE never buy consumer goods — only industrial equipment, special types of steel they don't make themselves, wheat and certain metals like copper.

The Japanese turned a neat profit by filling the breach when the Soviet Union slashed its trade with the Chinese during a dispute between the Communist giants in the early 1960s. During the decade, Russian trade with Japan sank from around $2 billion a year to $50 million.

The Chinese turned to Japan and the European Common Market countries as suppliers of industrial goods. Japan won the lion's share of the market.

City Parks No Longer Viewed As Blessings Without Drawbacks

There was a time when no one knocked motherhood or parks, but those days are gone.

Even the Novato Jaycees had to concede recently that not everyone stands up and cheers when the talk turns to acquiring park land.

The Jaycees had worked long and hard compiling a community-wide park survey, and learned that 82 per cent of the 1,271 persons who responded believed the city should provide parks.

The bad news came when the Jaycees said the survey also brought to light "a surprising community-wide awareness of the problems no one really enjoys admitting to or discussing."

The "most tragic" of the findings was the "overall belief this community, not unlike others our size and makeup, has a most explosive and potential drug problem."

The Jaycees came across this information by the simple process of asking those opposing parks why they were against them.

ROBERT K. MADGETT, Jaycees president, told the Novato City Council the "no" group was worried about the use of narcotics in parks.

They also cited vandalism and "lack of order" at existing parks, and asked for better police protection at the parks, he said.

In one district of the city 41.7 per cent of the "no" group cited vandalism as the reason for opposing more parks, and in another district it was 40.4 per cent.

They also mentioned that parks would mean higher taxes and there was a greater need for better streets than more parks.

A little later in the evening, the parks came under fire during a hearing on Boise Cascade Building Co's plan to develop townhouses in an area west of the city.

Neighboring residents not only opposed the townhouse plan, but also looked askance at the firm's offer to donate 20 acres at the site for park land.

Again came the comments that parks create problems, that they are hangouts for youths smoking marijuana and areas where the "drug subculture" flourishes.

According to the Jaycee survey, residents said they wanted parks for picnicking, swimming, hiking, loafing or camping and their children would participate in tennis, baseball, bicycle riding and the like.

No one said they wanted the parks for pot smoking.

FOR THOSE WHO wonder if high school students change their outlook in the first few years after graduation, Novato High School's newspaper, the Hornet's Buzz, had a revealing item in its latest edition.

There were a few paragraphs about Mrs. Richard J. Zell of 1428 Cambridge Street, of the class of 1965, now the mother of a four-year-old son and working in the pharmacy department at Long's Drug's.

The Buzz reported: "Ronni feels that high school was sufficient in her days for preparing her for life, but now she feels that students have way too much liberty."

It quotes her as saying: "Students guide the faculty more than the faculty guides the students. I think the dress code is too liberal. The students should have more pride in their campus and themselves."

Five years is a mighty short generation gap.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The national Christmas tree, a 78-foot spruce from the black hills of South Dakota, is standing once again across the street from the White House, apparently undamaged by the windstorm which blew it down.

Drop Charges, Defense Asks

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Defense attorneys asked Municipal Court on Monday to dismiss armed robbery and auto theft charges against six Latin-American youths who were acquitted of killing a San Francisco policeman.

The six are charged with stealing $10 and an automobile at gunpoint from a couple at Pescadero Beach five days after patrolman Joseph Brodnik was shot to death last May 1.

Their attorneys argued those charges should be dropped because the six did not receive a speedy trial and should have been tried in San Mateo County before the slaying trial in San Francisco.

Judge Paul I. Meyers scheduled a hearing on the plea for Jan. 15.

Two of the six—Jose Rios, 19, and Nelson Rodriguez, 20—were arrested earlier in the day by San Francisco police who said they found marijuana and dangerous drugs in their car.

Reagan To Dedicate Reagan Building

The $920,000 structure, which houses two basketball courts, a swimming pool, offices and classroom space, was named after the governor and his brother Neal Reagan, a Los Angeles advertising company executive and a graduate of Eureka College.

Solution To Railroads' Passenger Troubles: Commuter Container

WASHINGTON — The question of what to do about American passenger railroads is still very much on the administration's mind. There is no doubt that the railroads are losing money on passenger business. If they had their druthers, they would just stay with freight. At the same time, the public's need for passenger trains, particularly commuter trains, is great.

What is the solution? Professor Heinrich Applebaum, who holds the Casey Jones chair of railroad philosophy at Pullman University, has come up with a radical idea that could save both the railroads and the needed passenger service.

PROFESSOR Applebuam says the solution to the problem can be found in large aluminum containers which are now being used for freight.

These containers are placed on trains already packed, and unloaded the same way. This saves companies money in freight handling, loss due to pilferage and breakage, and also saves time.

Applebaum claims there is no reason you can't use the same containers for people.

THIS IS HOW it would operate: Let us assume that 150 people are going to take the 7:30 a.m from Greenwich. When they arrived at the platform, they would be placed horizontally in the containers. (This would give everyone an extra hour's sleep to New York.) The container would be insulated as well as air-conditioned.

When everyone was squeezed in the container, it would be sealed. Then a freight train going through Greenwich would stop and the container would be hoisted on board a flatcar.

The same thing would happen all along the way. Commuters in containers at Portchester, Rye and Larchmont would all be waiting to be picked up by the freight train.

When the train arrived at Grand Central Station, the containers would be taken off by cranes and opened on the platform, and everyone could go to work.

THE REVERSE would happen in the evening, Applebaum said, except in this case, to break the monotony, the commuters would be loaded in vertically.

The beauty of the plan, says Applebaum, is that by using containers, railroads could cut the cost of a ticket from Greenwich to New York by $3.50.

They could also profit by the fact that they would not have to build new passenger trains, and they could eliminate the bar cars.

Psychologically, they wouldn't have to worry about customer relations, as the commuter service would be run by the freight department.

THE BIG ADVANTAGE of this is that once the railroads were able to legitimately treat passengers as freight, they would improve their service rather than try to discourage people from using the railroads.

Applebaum says that, at the moment, the container idea would only be practical on short runs, but he felt that as time went on a method could be developed for long runs to freeze people in refrigerator cars and then thaw them out when they reach their destinations.

The Department of Transportation, which is trying to find a solution to the passenger train problem, has expressed great interest in the Applebaum plan. A spokesman for the department said:

County Fire And Police Proposals Need Hard Look

The Marin County Board of Suthat could materially change the structure of local government in the county.

The board last week called for an election in March on formation of a county-wide fire district, which would include all areas not now within a city or a fire district.

On the same day, the board set for Jan. 26 hearing on a proposal for a county police services area, to include all territory now dependent on the sheriff's office for law enforcement.

THE PROPOSED county fire district and the proposed county police services area have two goals in common:

First, they supposedly would provide better fire and police protection to those areas which do not have local setups in these fields.

Second, they supposedly would make it possible to shift some of the tax load for county fire and police protection away from those who are "double-taxed" to support their local fire and police departments plus the county fire department and sheriff's office.

The proposed setups might do neither of these things, however. They without doubt would result in increased taxation for residents of unincorporated areas. And they might not save much of anything for those who live within cities and fire districts.

FIRST, LET'S CONSIDER fire protection.

The county fire department exists to fight grass, brush and forest fires. It never was intended for structural fire protection. It does its best to save homes and other structures within its jurisdiction from being destroyed by fire, but that is not its purpose.

If residents want more fire protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a fire district.

However, a fire district embracing all those areas not now within one would be a patchwork of disconnected parcels. Each would require its own complement of men and equipment — in essence a separate district.

What part of the cost of this extra manpower and equipment would be chargeable to the fire district? All of it? But if so, would then the county fire department be needed also to protect against forest and brush fires? And who would pay for it? And if it were not needed, should not city residents help pay for this protection which benefits them also?

HOW ABOUT POLICE protection?

The sheriff's office was no more created to provide police patrols than was the county fire department to fight structural fires.

If the residents want more police protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a police district.

A county services area for police protection would embrace a greater assortment of disconnected parcels than the proposed county fire district. It would be under administration of the board of supervisors — so probably it would be operated by the sheriff's department.

Then, how much of the sheriff's department's increased cost should be charged county-wide, and how much only within the police services area? How would the tax be broken down?

There are cans of worms here. Each worm should be examined before buying the cans. The imagined "tax equity" may prove ephermal.

Reinecke's Under-River Sewer Plan Faces Many Difficulties

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A unique plan to end pollution of Sacramento River waters has been proposed by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke. Whether the plan is practical remains to be seen.

In the plant, the water would be treated and discharged into San Francisco Bay.

HIS ULTIMATE plan would be to have sewage discharges all along the river, into the sewer line. This would result in a tremendous load with the necessity of having to sink a really large pipe line in the river.

Discharges from various communities, he says, could be effected without much expense, as most of the communities have pipe lines to the river anyhow, which discharge sewage into it.

"From the economic standpoint", Reinecke said, "one very large treatment plant could handle larger volumes of effluent at less cost than large number of smaller ones, and do a better job in the long run. Initial treatment would continue to be accomplished near the source, but final treatment to a purity quality necessary to permit return to the river would be the responsibility of the master plant."

REINECKE SUGGESTS feasibility study, which should also include industrial waste and pesticide content.

"There are engineering problems which must be looked into," he said. "There may be navigational and dredging problems that are not visible at this time. However, a feasibility study would determine if the idea has merit, or whether the cost would be justifiable.

"The plan also might end the spectre of one sewage plant dumping partially treated effluent into the river just a few miles upstream from the drinking water intake of such cities as Sacramento, as is now the case."

He believes elimination of pollution in rivers and San Francisco Bay could become an accomplished fact if such a sewer line were constructed. But of course, there is no cost estimate as to how much the taxpayers would be stuck to construct it.

ALSO THERE IS no assurance that the federal government would issue a permit for construction of such a sewer line. The federal government controls the river channel.

With all the obstacles tossed in the way, it probably will be another lifetime before much, if any, serious consideration is given to the Reinecke proposal, but at least, it's something to think about.

Vote Unanimous Against Fence

The editor erred in an editor's note on a letter yesterday in saying that City Councilman William G. Fleckles voted to allow Dr. Robert C. Ceniceros's eight-foot scrap lumber fence in Larkspur. Fleckles said he liked the fence, but joined the other four council members in an unanimous turndown, since it exceeded the height limit set by ordinance.

Pot Smoking But No Religion

It seems strange to me that the school officials can look the other way on pot-smoking teachers and students, violent attacks on students in rest rooms, and revolutionary literature distributed, while we have here a group of kids who are not harming anyone and trying to do good, to whom the school says, "no, you can't meet."

It's time for the citizens to regain control of their schools; from these over-degreed and over-paid intellectuals who can't even maintain decent discipline and respect.

Let's Remember Pearl Harbor

I heard a person comment on the radio this morning (Dec 7) about the lack of the "mentioning" of Pearl Harbor and he stated. "Perhaps it's just as well. We all have so much on our minds." Do we have so much on our minds that we must forget so easily?

U.S. Generals Detention Shows Double Standard

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The detention of two American generals in Russia after their plane strayed across the Turkish frontier comes within a few weeks after the Nixon administration raised a calculated uproar over highly tendentious allegations that the Soviets might be building a submarine base in Cuba. The two events bear thinking about in juxtaposition.

Turkey has been a military outpost of the United States for 20 years, and that is why American generals were close enough to the Soviet border to "stray" across in the now familiar bad weather. Americans might ask themselves what gives the United States the right to base nuclear weapons and aircraft in a country hard against the Russian frontier while at the same time we object fiercely to Soviet bases in Cuba, 90 miles from our shores.

NOTHING, OF COURSE, gives us any such right. If we would be honest with ourselves, we should either withdraw our military bases from Turkey, or withdraw objections to comparable Soviet bases in our own back yard. But for many years Americans have been accustomed to applying a double standard of international conduct, one for ourselves and a quite different one for others.

During the Cuba missile crisis in 1962, the late Adlai E. Stevenson was roundly abused for daring to suggest that in exchange for getting Soviet missiles out of Cuba the United States might remove its Jupiter missile bases from Turkey. Some of the abuse came from sources close to the Kennedy administration; the mere suggestion of such a single standard of conduct was deemed a species of appeasement or worse.

Years later the information came out that at the peak of the crisis the Kennedy administration had, in fact, made a secret offer to remove the Jupiters from Turkey if Khrushchev would back off from Cuba. Khrushchev's backdown was widely publicized, but the Jupiter withdrawal was kept quiet.

Well, the Jupiters were obsolete anyway, and nothing was given up by removing them. Meanwhile our government went right on pouring other weapons and additional dollars into Turkey, and today we remain in the same position as before. We claim the right to hold a loaded pistol at Russia's head, but howl with righteous indignation at the very thought of hostile bases in our own hemisphere.

WHAT MAKES the situation doubly absurd is the declining value of conventional military positions like those in Turkey. It is a safe bet that Soviet missiles are locked into every Turkish air field, and that in the event of war they would be among the first fired. If nuclear deterrence deters at all, it is not from Turkish bases, but from intercontinental missile bases in the United States and Polaris submarines at sea.

The strong suspicion is that we go on maintaining bases in Turkey only because we got started doing it,and that they could be abandoned without the slightest effect on genuine national security. It is true that reducing such commitments overseas would narrow the career opportunities for military officers, and shrink the market for the military-industrial complex. But if the result were to check the arms race and bring the superpowers closer to a reliable peace, those disadvantages could be endured.

Europe Questions U.S. Reliance On Force To Settle Vietnam Issue

PARIS — The day after the latest bombing of North Vietnam, the two top representatives of Hanoi paid a formal call on one of the highest officials in the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Xuan Thuy, head of Hanoi's delegation to the Paris peace talks, and Mai Van Bo, chief delegate of North Vietnam, had a twofold purpose.

They wanted to register their indignation at the resumption of the bombing. But, more important, they expressed their conviction that they would never capitulate regardless of the extent to which bombing was used.

THIS SAME opinion is widely held within the Pompidou government. The belief is more or less openly expressed that the war cannot be brought to an end by the tactics now pursued by the Nixon administration and that the illusion persists in Washington that force will eventually prevail.

There is evidence that, despite the comparatively small show of outward opposition, the new bombing and the commando raid on what proved to be an empty prison camp has shaken Western Europe once again over the erratic nature of America's course in Vietnam. The government here issued a statement deploring the bombing. But it was with a sense of the helplessness of any outsider, however friendly or sympathetic, to influence the course of events in Southeast Asia.

The substance as against the shadow of America's place in the world is increasingly in question. The nearly 300,000 American troops in Europe 25 years after the end of World War II are to be kept here for at least another year. But Europeans are asking whether this is merely holding a fort that has little meaning for the future.

WHEN PRESIDENT Nixon on his first European tour in February, 1969, called on President Charles de Gaulle, the discussion centered on France's opening to the East and the importance of developing relations with the Communist bloc. De Gaulle, as his close associates recall it today, was impressed by Nixon's understanding of the need to try to bridge the great divide. It was, after all, scarcely a month since in his inaugural address the President had pronounced the end of the era of confrontation and the beginning of the era of negotiation.

But does the President, the American visitor is asked, hold these same views on negotiation as against confrontation? The doubt is over the ill wind out of Washington that seems intended to slow the pace of the opening to the East.

If it is meant to freeze the bold initiative taken by West Germany's Willy Brandt in the treaty with Moscow and the subsequent pact with Poland, doubts of the Nixon administration will grow. Brandt's position is precarious enough as the Christian Democrat opposition tries to bring him down and balk ratification of the treaties. High French officials were outraged when they learned only two days before it happened that the Christian Democrats were to hold a party conference in Berlin which would be certain to cut across delicate four-power negotiations for an improved status of the city.

FRANCE'S NO. 1 diplomat, Herve Alphand, secretary general of the ministry of Foreign Affairs, is shortly with his charming wife, Nicole, to visit America. In the 10 years he was ambassador to Washington, Alphand made myriad friends.

He will meet with the President and the whole panoply of power and place. And it is certain that in his engaging, often witty, way he will express the doubts over America's shifting course. This will be the service of a friend who feels the United States is his second home.

It is easy to discount the doubter and the critic. France lost one Indochina war. But, as de Gaulle repeatedly warned American visitors, Vietnam is quicksand in which the white man, the American, the symbol of wealth and power, will be drawn deeper and deeper, finally to be left alone. The wisdom of experience can be ignored only at the gravest risk.

Japan Dislikes Peking — But Likes Peking's Trade

By ROBERT CRABBE

TOKYO (UPI)—"She's a bad woman," a Frenchman said of his mistress, "but such good company!"

Japanese businessmen feel much the same way about Communist China. They have just asked Peking for a one-year renewal of the humiliating but profitable commercial agreement that makes Japan Red China's leading trade partner.

Chances are good the pact will be renewed. The Chinese need the chemicals, steel and machinery that Japan has to offer. Japan wants the profits it is making on the Chinese mainland, which this year will be the highest since the two countries resumed trade in 1962.

However, Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi says Japan will go right on recognizing President Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa-based regime as the government of all China. He adds Japan will continue opposing Red China's entry into the United Nations, even if America should drop the idea.

ON A TWO-WAY basis, Japan's sales and purchases from Communist China this year will hit a post World War II record of around $800 million. Japan sells Red China much more than she buys. The 1970 balance probably will be more than $200 million in its favor.

Since the Peking and Tokyo governments have no contacts, Japan's trade with China is conducted by the "Memorandum Trade Office," an association of Japanese businessmen who do business on the mainland.

Each year their representatives travel to Peking, sign a communique denouncing the Japanese government's China policy, and then sit down with the Communists to negotiate an extension of the agreement.

Last year's communique said Japan's security treaty with the United States was in danger of becoming "a new Japanese-American military alliance ained at the Chinese people, the Korean people, and the various nations of Asia."

It was signed by Yoshimi Furui, a Conservative member of the Japanese parliament, who belongs to a faction of "doves" on the China question.

This year he will be replaced by Kaheita Okazaki, chief of the Memorandum Trade Office. Okazaki is president of All Nippon Airways, Japan's main domestic air carrier.

THE CHINESE never buy consumer goods — only industrial equipment, special types of steel they don't make themselves, wheat and certain metals like copper.

The Japanese turned a neat profit by filling the breach when the Soviet Union slashed its trade with the Chinese during a dispute between the Communist giants in the early 1960s. During the decade, Russian trade with Japan sank from around $2 billion a year to $50 million.

The Chinese turned to Japan and the European Common Market countries as suppliers of industrial goods. Japan won the lion's share of the market.

Tenement Fire Traps 50, Kills 1

NEW YORK (UPI)—A man died and four other persons were seriously burned in a fire that trapped an estimated 50 residents for a short time early today in a city-owned tenement on the Lower East Side.

Firemen said they cleared the six-story building of the 18 "legitimate" occupants and a large number of "squatters" during the two-hour blaze fought in freezing, windy weather. The fire was brought under control about 5 a.m. EST.

The victims were not immediately identified.

Tired Thief

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—A thief walked into a house Sunday and stole a single bed, police said.

Five Injuries Reported In Marin, Sonoma Mishaps

Five persons were injured — one hospitalized — in five accidents in Marin and Southern Sonoma counties during the weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Roger W. Sheridan, 18, of 120 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in good condition yesterday at Marin General Hospital with leg injuries received at 1 p.m. Saturday in a two motorcycle accident.

The Sheridan motorycyle and one driven by Randal S. Roan, 15, of 17 Sondra Way, Corte Madera, collided on a dirt road south of Endeavor Drive, Corte Madera, officers said.

Imogene S. Hovey, 61, of Huntington, W. Va., was treated for a cut forehead at Marin General Hospital from an accident at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, the hospital reported.

She was a passenger in the southbound car dirven by her husband, Bry E. Hovey, 67, on Shoreline highway south of Stinson Beach, CHP reported. Their car collided with one driven northbound by Richard Thomas Hankins, 22 of Mare Island.

Rene Bernadsky, 9, of 200 Bay View Drive, Mill Valley, was treated Sunday at Marin General Hospital for scalp bruises suffered in a one-car accident at 4 p.m. in the driveway of her home. Officers said she was injured when the brakes failed in a car driven by her sister, Jeanette M., 16, causing the vehicle to plunge over an embankment.

Two men received minor injuries early yesterday when their autos collided on Highway 37 just west of the Sonoma Creek Bridge, according to the Highway patrol.

Jay W. Bailinson, 23, of Forestville, Sonoma County, was treated at Broadway Hospital in Vallejo for face cuts and pain in the left ankle. Joseph W. Nesbit, 30, of Vallejo, was treated for cut lips and loose teeth.

Officers said the accident occured at 12:45 a.m. when Nesbit's eastbound auto apparently crossed the center line and collided with the Bailinson's westbound vehicle.

Kennedy Confident

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says he has talked to his Senate colleagues and is confident he has the votes to be reelected assistant Democratic leader when the new Congress convenes in January.

Vietnam Visit

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the 3 million-member Lutheran Church in America, will visit Vietnam Jan. 24-30 to meet with Lutheran chaplains and talk to members of the U.S. armed forces. Marshall, who will travel to Africa before proceeding to the Far East, also will visit church leaders in Thailand and Hawaii.

Free Calls Offer To Overseas GIs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Federation of Musicians (AFM) said yesterday it expects about 350 overseas servicement to take advantage of its offer of free calls to their families in the United States Dec. 24 through 26.

The calls are handled by the Military Amateur Radio Service (MARS) which is located at al' military installations. A union spokesman said interested servicemen should contact the MARS radio operator as soon as possible to specify a date and time for his phone call to the United States.

In addition, the serviceman must write Robert Altomonte, 3460 Park Avenue West, Mansfield, Ohio, 44906, giving the date and time his call can be expected and also the frequency and call sign of the sending station. He should also inform his family of the scheduled call so they can be at home.

City Parks No Longer Viewed As Blessings Without Drawbacks

There was a time when no one knocked motherhood or parks, but those days are gone.

Even the Novato Jaycees had to concede recently that not everyone stands up and cheers when the talk turns to acquiring park land.

The Jaycees had worked long and hard compiling a community-wide park survey, and learned that 82 per cent of the 1,271 persons who responded believed the city should provide parks.

The bad news came when the Jaycees said the survey also brought to light "a surprising community-wide awareness of the problems no one really enjoys admitting to or discussing."

The "most tragic" of the findings was the "overall belief this community, not unlike others our size and makeup, has a most explosive and potential drug problem."

The Jaycees came across this information by the simple process of asking those opposing parks why they were against them.

ROBERT K. MADGETT, Jaycees president, told the Novato City Council the "no" group was worried about the use of narcotics in parks.

They also cited vandalism and "lack of order" at existing parks, and asked for better police protection at the parks, he said.

In one district of the city 41.7 per cent of the "no" group cited vandalism as the reason for opposing more parks, and in another district it was 40.4 per cent.

They also mentioned that parks would mean higher taxes and there was a greater need for better streets than more parks.

A little later in the evening, the parks came under fire during a hearing on Boise Cascade Building Co's plan to develop townhouses in an area west of the city.

Neighboring residents not only opposed the townhouse plan, but also looked askance at the firm's offer to donate 20 acres at the site for park land.

Again came the comments that parks create problems, that they are hangouts for youths smoking marijuana and areas where the "drug subculture" flourishes.

According to the Jaycee survey, residents said they wanted parks for picnicking, swimming, hiking, loafing or camping and their children would participate in tennis, baseball, bicycle riding and the like.

No one said they wanted the parks for pot smoking.

FOR THOSE WHO wonder if high school students change their outlook in the first few years after graduation, Novato High School's newspaper, the Hornet's Buzz, had a revealing item in its latest edition.

There were a few paragraphs about Mrs. Richard J. Zell of 1428 Cambridge Street, of the class of 1965, now the mother of a four-year-old son and working in the pharmacy department at Long's Drug's.

The Buzz reported: "Ronni feels that high school was sufficient in her days for preparing her for life, but now she feels that students have way too much liberty."

It quotes her as saying: "Students guide the faculty more than the faculty guides the students. I think the dress code is too liberal. The students should have more pride in their campus and themselves."

Five years is a mighty short generation gap.

Standing Again

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The national Christmas tree, a 78-foot spruce from the black hills of South Dakota, is standing once again across the street from the White House, apparently undamaged by the windstorm which blew it down.

Drop Charges, Defense Asks

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Defense attorneys asked Municipal Court on Monday to dismiss armed robbery and auto theft charges against six Latin-American youths who were acquitted of killing a San Francisco policeman.

The six are charged with stealing $10 and an automobile at gunpoint from a couple at Pescadero Beach five days after patrolman Joseph Brodnik was shot to death last May 1.

Their attorneys argued those charges should be dropped because the six did not receive a speedy trial and should have been tried in San Mateo County before the slaying trial in San Francisco.

Judge Paul I. Meyers scheduled a hearing on the plea for Jan. 15.

Two of the six—Jose Rios, 19, and Nelson Rodriguez, 20—were arrested earlier in the day by San Francisco police who said they found marijuana and dangerous drugs in their car.

Reagan To Dedicate Reagan Building

The $920,000 structure, which houses two basketball courts, a swimming pool, offices and classroom space, was named after the governor and his brother Neal Reagan, a Los Angeles advertising company executive and a graduate of Eureka College.

Teaching Is Love

DENVER (UPI) — James Fluckey, music instructor at Denver West High School, has been named Colorado Teacher of the Year for 1971. Fluckey, a former president of the Denver Music Educators Association, said "I sincerely believe that the success of a teacher is 95 per cent love, one per cent skill and the rest dumb luck"

Solution To Railroads' Passenger Troubles: Commuter Container

WASHINGTON — The question of what to do about American passenger railroads is still very much on the administration's mind. There is no doubt that the railroads are losing money on passenger business. If they had their druthers, they would just stay with freight. At the same time, the public's need for passenger trains, particularly commuter trains, is great.

What is the solution? Professor Heinrich Applebaum, who holds the Casey Jones chair of railroad philosophy at Pullman University, has come up with a radical idea that could save both the railroads and the needed passenger service.

PROFESSOR Applebuam says the solution to the problem can be found in large aluminum containers which are now being used for freight.

These containers are placed on trains already packed, and unloaded the same way. This saves companies money in freight handling, loss due to pilferage and breakage, and also saves time.

Applebaum claims there is no reason you can't use the same containers for people.

THIS IS HOW it would operate: Let us assume that 150 people are going to take the 7:30 a.m from Greenwich. When they arrived at the platform, they would be placed horizontally in the containers. (This would give everyone an extra hour's sleep to New York.) The container would be insulated as well as air-conditioned.

When everyone was squeezed in the container, it would be sealed. Then a freight train going through Greenwich would stop and the container would be hoisted on board a flatcar.

The same thing would happen all along the way. Commuters in containers at Portchester, Rye and Larchmont would all be waiting to be picked up by the freight train.

When the train arrived at Grand Central Station, the containers would be taken off by cranes and opened on the platform, and everyone could go to work.

THE REVERSE would happen in the evening, Applebaum said, except in this case, to break the monotony, the commuters would be loaded in vertically.

The beauty of the plan, says Applebaum, is that by using containers, railroads could cut the cost of a ticket from Greenwich to New York by $3.50.

They could also profit by the fact that they would not have to build new passenger trains, and they could eliminate the bar cars.

Psychologically, they wouldn't have to worry about customer relations, as the commuter service would be run by the freight department.

THE BIG ADVANTAGE of this is that once the railroads were able to legitimately treat passengers as freight, they would improve their service rather than try to discourage people from using the railroads.

Applebaum says that, at the moment, the container idea would only be practical on short runs, but he felt that as time went on a method could be developed for long runs to freeze people in refrigerator cars and then thaw them out when they reach their destinations.

The Department of Transportation, which is trying to find a solution to the passenger train problem, has expressed great interest in the Applebaum plan. A spokesman for the department said:

Old Wives' Tales Include Many About Heart Disease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rub an onion on your wart and then bury the onion in the back yard. This will make the wart go away.

Don't break a mirror or you will have bad luck for the next seven years.

These "Scientific" techniques for avoiding misfortune are usually referred to as "old wives' tales." Many false beliefs about heart disease could also be classified as "old wives' tales."

Test yourself on the following questions supplied by the San Francisco Heart Association and then check your answers. Each correct answer is worth 10 points. Nine or 10 correct is very good, 7 or 8 is good, 6 is fair, 5 or below is poor.

1. Strenuous exercise is not harmful to the healthy youth or young adult who is in good physical condition (true or false).

2. For a healthy diet you should eat how many eggs per week? (A) all you want (B) no more than three (C) seven.

3. Polyunsaturates are found in (A) animal fats (B) vegetable oils (C)completely hydrogenated margarine.

4. Getting up and around after a heart attack usually takes from six months to a year (true or false).

5. Chest pains usually indicate a heart attack (true or false).

6. To stop smoking and gain weight is about as detrimental to your health as to continue smoking and remain slim (true or false).

7. If you have a family history of heart disease, there is little you can do to avoid this disorder (true or false).

8. Low blood pressure is always a serious condition. (true or false).

9. Headaches usually indicate that a person had high blood pressure (true or false).

10. An occasional throbbing or skipping sensation of the heart that you can feel means that you have heart disease (true or false).

Answers:

1. True. Many doctors believe that regular physical activity protects people from heart disease. Older persons and those with histories of heart disease should consult with their physicians about the type and amount of activity.

2. (B) No more than three yolks because of the high cholesterol count. However, you may eat as many egg whites as you desire.

3. (B) Vegetable oils. They tend to lower the cholesterol level in the blood by helping the body eliminate excess, newly formed cholesterol.

4. False. Many patients are exercising and leading lives similar to that which they experienced before their heart attack six weeks after the initial attack.

5. False. Chest pains do not necessarily indicate heart attack. Indigestion can produce symptoms similar to heart attack. Attacks of pain behind the breast bone which shoot down the left arm (sometimes the right) for an extended period may indicate a heart attack.

6. False. Many doctors will overlook an initial 10 to 15 pound weight gain if their patient has quit smoking. Of course, the patient should work on returning to normal weight after a short time.

7. False. Heredity can't be changed, but you can reduce your risk of heart disease by watching your weight, avoiding animal fats, giving up smoking, taking regular exercise and seeing your doctor annually for a check-up.

8. False. Very occasionally low blood pressure is a serious condition. However, it is usually thought of as an asset because it places less strain on the heart and arteries.

9. False. In most cases only a physician can diagnose high blood pressure.

10. False. These sensations are called palpitations and are only rarely related to heart disease.

Against The Midi

"The main reaction against the midi length is from older women who are afraid of aging themselves by wearing longer skirts," says French couturier Pierre Balmain. "With the mini, older women felt they looked younger. It was completely psychological. They were not looking younger, they were looking silly."

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

BRITISH AUTHORITY FINDS

Gaps In Care Of U.S. Old People

By BARBARA HOSMER

The problems are the same but the attitude is somewhat different when it comes to caring for old people in England and America, says an authority on the aged in Britain.

People in England are quite concerned about the old, says Miss Barbara O. Glasgow, who has been in America on an observation tour of programs for the elderly.

"They ask themselves, 'what kind of life would I want when I reach that age' and most people do now reach old age," she said during her visit yesterday to the Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Greenbrae as a part of a day-long tour of senior citizens programs and residences in Marin.

"In England the government policy is different from America. It is that old people should remain in their own home, and all services are based on this idea: people should remain in homes that perhaps they have lived in all their lives."

Miss Glasgow, herself barely 40, is the senior officer in charge of the Council for Old People for Birmingham, England's second largest city, with one million population. It is a private committee run largely with volunteers and serves as channeling group to all clubs or programs that care for the elderly in the city.

But it offers a wide range of services that go beyond what the city provides.

MOST UNLIKE America's is the variety of housing schemes it offers to older persons in varying stages of health.

"Here in America there is nothing really comprehensive that fits between home living and full nursing service of convalescent hospitals," Miss Glasgow said.

Services in Birmingham, which she said was fairly typical of the plan throughout Britain, range from residential care for those who can't cope with any housekeeping or food preparation to bungalow housing in which hot food is brought in by volunteers through the Meals on Wheels program. In between, she explained, is the sheltered housing scheme.

This takes the form of blocks of 22 apartments owned by the council and providing each old person dwelling in the one or two bedroom apartment a communication system with a direct line to a resident manageress, who is on call 24 hours a day. She is called only in emergency and in that case she can summon all services needed. Sheltered housing residents do their own cooking and carry on their normal life until an emergency arises or they have need of more supervisory or nursing home care.

WITH SOME 143,000 retired persons in the city of Birmingham, Miss Glasgow said that there are day centers in 15 areas to serve the people who are housebound otherwise.

"A different group of 14 to 20 persons comes each day, brought by taxi and cared for by volunteers. They stay until 3:30 p.m.

"This program is really to keep their link with the community. They might have no social contact otherwise, and the volunteers are extremely good to them.

Another emphasis in Britain for elderly persons is the hot meal program, she said.

At the day centers and the five senior centers in Birmingham, for instance, she said that a hot lunch is served daily. And for persons who live in their own homes the twice a week Meals-on-Wheels program takes a hot meal to assure proper nutrition is maintained. Volunteers run the program for 1,500 persons and the food is prepared in volunteers' homes, the senior centers or hospitals.

Miss Glasgow said that another facet of the council's program is to offer yearly vacations for some 3,000 elderly and housebound persons. A vacation for the frail means a trip to the country where, in a special hotel converted for use of the handicapped, the frail also can enjoy special outings each year.

"We're the largest organization in the country but there is a network of 1,500 similar groups," Miss Glasgow explained.

Not many have their own housing such as Birmingham does. A house was given to the council, then another was donated. Then someone capitalized the job of converting another. And two industrialists gave money for a home and a nursing home, and one subsidizes the vacation for 400 frail persons. Another house was bought for elderly housing by the students of Birmingham University. The city subsidizes some housing, also.

"People in sheltered homes pay rent and it covers the cost. The basic rent would be about $13 a week for a two bedroom apartment. Of course, your values are much higher here. We can manage for that.

THE ENGLISH rely mostly on volunteers to run their programs for the aged.

"We don't give them too much training because when they offer to give two hours a week, they want to do it. They don't want to be faced with a training program instead.

"We accept all the offers of help we can, and we put a new person with someone with experience. Training is subtle and each year we have a study day, a form of conference which is really subtle training.

"We might have medical people saying how much elderly patients have benefitted from the programs, then perhaps an occupational therapist describing what has worked and why. This is really training for volunteers, but it is not done blatantly.

There are currently some 1,200 volunteers who visit 5,000 housebound aged in Birmingham, a program that is paralleled in Marin on a smaller scale.

"WE DON'T have high rise apartments for the elderly," she said, referring to The Tamalpais residence just up the hill in Greenbrae. "People in England aren't used to that. It's a government policy for homes for the aged not to have more than 60 persons in them.

"There are lots of people here who are under nursing care who don't need it," she said of residences and convalescent hospitals where the aged abound, adding that it drives the expenses

SPENDING THE DAY observing the various residences and programs for the elderly in Marin yesterday, British authority on aging Miss Barbara O. Glasgow talks with a resident at Bayside Convalescent Home in Greenbrae. She accompanied Ed Ryken, right, director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, as he conducted a Christmas music program at the home. More "sheltered housing" for the elderly is what she recommends here after a tour of U.S. cities the past two months.

35 Bar Applicants Pass Examinations

Thirty-three applicants from Marin and two from Southern Sonoma have passed the 1969 fall bar examination, the committee of bar examiners announced today.

Those from Marin who passed are:

NEW YORK (UPI)—A man died and four other persons were seriously burned in a fire that trapped an estimated 50 residents for a short time early today in a city-owned tenement on the Lower East Side.

Firemen said they cleared the six-story building of the 18 "legitimate" occupants and a large number of "squatters" during the two-hour blaze fought in freezing, windy weather. The fire was brought under control about 5 a.m. EST.

The victims were not immediately identified.

Tired Thief

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—A thief walked into a house Sunday and stole a single bed, police said.

Five Injuries Reported In Marin, Sonoma Mishaps

Five persons were injured — one hospitalized — in five accidents in Marin and Southern Sonoma counties during the weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Roger W. Sheridan, 18, of 120 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in good condition yesterday at Marin General Hospital with leg injuries received at 1 p.m. Saturday in a two motorcycle accident.

The Sheridan motorcycle and one driven by Randal S. Roan, 15, of 17 Sondra Way, Corte Madera, collided on a dirt road south of Endeavor Drive, Corte Madera, officers said.

Imogene S. Hovey, 61, of Huntington, W. Va., was treated for a cut forehead at Marin General Hospital from an accident at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, the hospital reported.

She was a passenger in the southbound car dirven by her husband, Bry E. Hovey, 67, on Shoreline highway south of Stinson Beach, CHP reported. Their car collided with one driven northbound by Richard Thomas Hankins, 22 of Mare Island.

Rene Bernadsky, 9, of 200 Bay View Drive, Mill Valley, was treated Sunday at Marin General Hospital for scalp bruises suffered in a one-car accident at 4 p.m. in the driveway of her home. Officers said she was injured when the brakes failed in a car driven by her sister, Jeanette M., 16, causing the vehicle to plunge over an embankment.

Two men received minor injuries early yesterday when their autos collided on Highway 37 just west of the Sonoma Creek Bridge, according to the Highway patrol.

Jay W. Bailinson, 23, of Forrestville, Sonoma County, was treated at Broadway Hospital in Vallejo for face cuts and pain in the left ankle. Joseph W. Nesbit, 30, of Vallejo, was treated for cut lips and loose teeth.

Officers said the accident occured at 12:45 a.m. when Nesbit's eastbound auto apparently crossed the center line and collided with the Bailinson's westbound vehicle.

Kennedy Confident

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says he has talked to his Senate colleagues and is confident he has the votes to be reelected assistant Democratic leader when the new Congress convenes in January.

Vietnam Visit

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the 3 million-member Lutheran Church in America, will visit Vietnam Jan. 24-30 to meet with Lutheran chaplains and talk to members of the U.S. armed forces. Marshall, who will travel to Africa before proceeding to the Far East, also will visit church leaders in Thailand and Hawaii.

Free Calls Offer To Overseas GIs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Federation of Musicians (AFM) said yesterday it expects about 350 overseas servicement to take advantage of its offer of free calls to their families in the United States Dec. 24 through 26.

The calls are handled by the Military Amateur Radio Service (MARS) which is located at al' military installations. A union spokesman said interested servicemen should contact the MARS radio operator as soon as possible to specify a date and time for his phone call to the United States.

In addition, the serviceman must write Robert Altomonte, 3460 Park Avenue West, Mansfield, Ohio, 44906, giving the date and time his call can be expected and also the frequency and call sign of the sending station. He should also inform his family of the scheduled call so they can be at home.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Help Others And You'll Notice Your Problems Aren't So Bad

DEAR HELEN:

I'm going to mail four letters to you at once, because one wouldn't tell all my troubles. Maybe you can condense them. I can't.

It's just awful. Another year of being "tease target" at school. I'm in eighth grade and my nose is bo big and ugly you wouldn't believe it. I can't get it fixed until I'm 16 (and get my growth or whatever). How can I stand being Eaglebeak until then? My friends — the few I have — are gorgeous, which makes it worse.

Trying to hide my nose isn't my only trouble: I hate school and my teachers and the kids that tease me. I need to be loved, but I can't get new friends, especially boys, because I'm so witch-nosed. I have a good figure, but boys only look at pretty faces. I hate them too.

I get in fights with my parents, and they think I'm "impossible," but it's just because I'm so miserable. I can't stand walking into class any more. I'm so self-conscious.

You've got to help me. Our guidance counselor can't because I can see she thinks my nose is hideous too. — MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:

Before I or anyone esle can help, you've got to help yourself. You're so busy "hating" you can't see that at least three-fourths of your troubles are caused, not by your nose or appearnce, but by your attitude. As long as you think all the kids are "out to get you" they'll oblige. As long as you focus attention on your "defects," they'll tease you about them.

Self-pity is a form of selfishness. You're too involved with your own problems to notice that other people are unhappy also. Try helping them, and maybe you'll discover you aren't so bad off after all.

About your nose: It's true you probably can't have it bobbed until around age-16, but a visit to a plastic surgeon would give you hope for the future and make the waiting less painful. Perhaps your folks will make an appointment — if you show them how much it means to you. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to add my bit to the letter from "Let The Light Shine On" who asks everyone to keep on porch lights overnight. Thank goodness the right persons did.

I was walking home along a dark street. I heard footsteps behind me, and then someone grabbed me. Just then a porch light went on. It startled my attacker enough so he let go, and I ran up to the house, called my parents, and they came after me. If those people hadn't turned on their light at that moment, well, maybe I wouldn't be here.

A porch light not only protects houses from burglars, but it protects passers-by too. — LUCKY TEEN-AGER

DEAR HELEN:

This letter is for girls who really go for older guys and then get let down. I waited two years while my guy served in Vietnam — he was 19, and I was 15. I missed out on the fun of high school dating because I had to be "true."

Well, he came back — and told me he wasn't sure if he cared enough. Then I found out that he'd stepping out on me all along, besides writing to an old girl friend who is now divorced. And he's with her today, while I'm regretting all the fun I missed.

I've forgotten him (almost), but not the hurt. Girls, don't tie yourselves down while you're in high school and he's far away. He won't!! — SORRY TOO LATE.

Mrs. Wist

Mrs. Wist Is Elected

Mrs. John R. Wist of San Rafael has been elected president of the Central Marin Newcomers Club, which was organized three months ago.

Carol Wist and her husband have lived in Marin for three months, coming from Southern California. She has been interim treasurer of the Newcomers Club, is also a substitute teacher and was a ways and means chairman of the nursery school in Southern California. She is now a member of the Lucas Valley Home and School Club and is editor of the school newsletter.

Mrs. Wist says of the Newcomers, no fund raising activities are planned. Rather, each special interest group within the club will plan its own activities and trips. The general membership will have luncheons and excursions to various restaurants with the husbands for dinner. Special interest groups within the club now are bridge, antiques, art, stitchery and Canasta, she says. The club is open to any woman who has lived in Marin less than a year and a half.

Carol Wist was born in Wichita, Kan., and attended Fremont High School in Los Angeles and Long Beach City College. She hopes to enroll at the College of Marin to obtain a degree in nursery education.

She and her husband, a sales engineer, are parents of three children, Paul, 18, and Missy and Jody, both 5.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles — Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might be perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem

The girdle itself is part "wonder" Lycra spandex. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer - genius, Olga. They are available at all 9 Emporium stores, in the Shape Shop Come in soon to try one and charge it' up. Nursing homes in England cost about $43 a week, while simple supervisory care situations cost $17 a week.

In America perhaps the emphasis is on youth, while in England people care a great deal about the old, she said.

Miss Glasgow is at the end of a two month tour on a Winston Churchill Fellowship, with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare arranging her visit to various U.S. cities.

And when she is not working with the aged she serves once each two weeks as a magistrate in the City of Birmingham courts.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Marin Women

Old Wives' Tales Include Many About Heart Disease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rub an onion on your wart and then bury the onion in the back yard. This will make the wart go away.

Don't break a mirror or you will have bad luck for the next seven years.

These "Scientific" techniques for avoiding misfortune are usually referred to as "old wives' tales." Many false beliefs about heart disease could also be classified as "old wives' tales."

Test yourself on the following questions supplied by the San Francisco Heart Association and then check your answers. Each correct answer is worth 10 points. Nine or 10 correct is very good, 7 or 8 is good, 6 is fair, 5 or below is poor.

1. Strenuous exercise is not harmful to the healthy youth or young adult who is in good physical condition (true or false).

2. For a healthy diet you should eat how many eggs per week? (A) all you want (B) no more than three (C) seven.

3. Polyunsaturates are found in (A) animal fats (B) vegetable oils (C)completely hydrogenated margarine.

4. Getting up and around after a heart attack usually takes from six months to a year (true or false).

5. Chest pains usually indicate a heart attack (true or false).

6. To stop smoking and gain weight is about as detrimental to your health as to continue smoking and remain slim (true or false).

7. If you have a family history of heart disease, there is little you can do to avoid this disorder (true or false).

8. Low blood pressure is always a serious condition. (true or false).

9. Headaches usually indicate that a person had high blood pressure (true or false).

10. An occasional throbbing or skipping sensation of the heart that you can feel means that you have heart disease (true or false).

Answers:

1. True. Many doctors believe that regular physical activity protects people from heart disease. Older persons and those with histories of heart disease should consult with their physicians about the type and amount of activity.

2. (B) No more than three yolks because of the high cholesterol count. However, you may eat as many egg whites as you desire.

3. (B) Vegetable oils. They tend to lower the cholesterol level in the blood by helping the body eliminate excess, newly formed cholesterol.

4. False. Many patients are exercising and leading lives similar to that which they experienced before their heart attack six weeks after the initial attack.

5. False Chest pains do not necessarily indicate heart attack. Indigestion can produce symptoms similar to heart attack. Attacks of pain behind the breast bone which shoot down the left arm (sometimes the right) for an extended period may indicate a heart attack.

6. False. Many doctors will overlook an initial 10 to 15 pound weight gain if their patient has quit smoking. Of course, the patient should work on returning to normal weight after a short time.

7. False. Heredity can't be changed, but you can reduce your risk of heart disease by watching your weight, avoiding animal fats, giving up smoking, taking regular exercise and seeing your doctor annually for a check-up.

8. False. Very occasionally low blood pressure is a serious condition. However, it is usually thought of as an asset because it places less strain on the heart and arteries.

9. False. In most cases only a physician can diagnose high blood pressure.

10. False. These sensations are called palpitations and are only rarely related to heart disease.

Against The Midi

"The main reaction against the midi length is from older women who are afraid of aging themselves by wearing longer skirts," says French couturier Pierre Balmain. "With the mini, older women felt they looked younger. It was completely psychological. They were not looking younger, they were looking silly."

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

BRITISH AUTHORITY FINDS

Gaps In Care Of U.S. Old People

By BARBARA HOSMER

The problems are the same but the attitude is somewhat different when it comes to caring for old people in England and America, says an authority on the aged in Britain.

People in England are quite concerned about the old, says Miss Barbara O. Glasgow, who has been in America on an observation tour of programs for the elderly.

"They ask themselves, 'what kind of life would I want when I reach that age' and most people do now reach old age," she said during her visit yesterday to the Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Greenbrae as a part of a day-long tour of senior citizens programs and residences in Marin.

"In England the government policy is different from America. It is that old people should remain in their own home, and all services are based on this idea: people should remain in homes that perhaps they have lived in all their lives."

Miss Glasgow, herself barely 40, is the senior officer in charge of the Council for Old People for Birmingham, England's second largest city, with one million population. It is a private committee run largely with volunteers and serves as channeling group to all clubs or programs that care for the elderly in the city.

But it offers a wide range of services that go beyond what the city provides.

MOST UNLIKE America's is the variety of housing schemes it offers to older persons in varying stages of health.

"Here in America there is nothing really comprehensive that fits between home living and full nursing service of convalescent hospitals," Miss Glasgow said.

Services in Birmingham, which she said was fairly typical of the plan throughout Britain, range from residential care for those who can't cope with any housekeeping or food preparation to bungalow housing in which hot food is brought in by volunteers through the Meals on Wheels program. In between, she explained, is the sheltered housing scheme.

This takes the form of blocks of 22 apartments owned by the council and providing each old person dwelling in the one or two bedroom apartment a communication system with a direct line to a resident manageress, who is on call 24 hours a day. She is called only in emergency and in that case she can summon all services needed. Sheltered housing residents do their own cooking and carry on their normal life until an emergency arises or they have need of more supervisory or nursing home care.

WITH SOME 143,000 retired persons in the city of Birmingham, Miss Glasgow said that there are day centers in 15 areas to serve the people who are housebound otherwise.

"A different group of 14 to 20 persons comes each day, brought by taxi and cared for by volunteers. They stay until 3:30 p.m.

"This program is really to keep their link with the community. They might have no social contact otherwise, and the volunteers are extremely good to them.

Another emphasis in Britain for elderly persons is the hot meal program, she said.

At the day centers and the five senior centers in Birmingham, for instance, she said that a hot lunch is served daily. And for persons who live in their own homes the twice a week Meals-on-Wheels program takes a hot meal to assure proper nutrition is maintained. Volunteers run the program for 1,500 persons and the food is prepared in volunteers' homes, the senior centers or hospitals.

Miss Glasgow said that another facet of the council's program is to offer yearly vacations for some 3,000 elderly and housebound persons. A vacation for the frail means a trip to the country where, in a special hotel converted for use of the handicapped, the frail also can enjoy special outings each year.

"We're the largest organization in the country but there is a network of 1,500 similar groups," Miss Glasgow explained.

Not many have their own housing such as Birmingham does. A house was given to the council, then another was donated. Then someone capitalized the job of converting another. And two industrialists gave money for a home and a nursing home, and one subsidizes the vacation for 400 frail persons. Another house was bought for elderly housing by the students of Birmingham University. The city subsidizes some housing, also.

"People in sheltered homes pay rent and it covers the cost. The basic rent would be about $13 a week for a two bedroom apartment. Of course, your values are much higher here. We can manage for that.

THE ENGLISH rely mostly on volunteers to run their programs for the aged.

"We don't give them too much training because when they offer to give two hours a week, they want to do it. They don't want to be faced with a training program instead.

"We accept all the offers of help we can, and we put a new person with someone with experience. Training is subtle and each year we have a study day, a form of conference which is really subtle training.

"We might have medical people saying how much elderly patients have benefitted from the programs, then perhaps an occupational therapist describing what has worked and why. This is really training for volunteers, but it is not done blatantly.

There are currently some 1,200 volunteers who visit 5,000 housebound aged in Birmingham, a program that is paralleled in Marin on a smaller scale.

"WE DON'T have high rise apartments for the elderly," she said, referring to The Tamalpais residence just up the hill in Greenbrae. "People in England aren't used to that. It's a government policy for homes for the aged not to have more than 60 persons in them.

"There are lots of people here who are under nursing care who don't need it," she said of residences and convalescent hospitals where the aged abound, adding that it drives the expenses

SPENDING THE DAY observing the various residences and programs for the elderly in Marin yesterday, British authority on aging Miss Barbara O. Glasgow talks with a resident at Bayside Convalescent Home in Greenbrae. She accompanied Ed Ryken, right, director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, as he conducted a Christmas music program at the home. More "sheltered housing" for the elderly is what she recommends here after a tour of U.S. cities the past two months.

Sausalito Woman's Club To Have Traditional Swedish Celebration

"God Jul" may replace "Merry Christmas" as the greeting exchanged by Sausalito Woman's Club members when they gather for a traditional Swedish holiday afternoon at the clubhouse Thursday at 1:30.

The program will be based on the Festival of Lights celebrated in Sweden during the season of Long Winter Nights, beginning with the first day of Advent and ending on St. Canute' Day, Jan. 13.

One of the high points of the long season of feasting is Lucia Day on Dec. 13., when the eldest daughter in the family dons a long white dress and holly crown with seven lighted candles and awakens her parents by serving them hot coffee and saffron buns.

Lucia on Thursday will be Martha Ann Thomson, 11-year-old daughter of club president Mrs. Walter Thomson and Mr. Thomson. Wearing the candled crown she will lead younger children, each carrying a lighted candle, into the darkened clubhouse to accompaniment of authentic Lucia music recorded in Sweden. The children (including Erik Gergus, Peter Eckman, Cicely Muldoon, Heidi Reckenwald and Doretta and Bettina Boehm) will then sing "Silent Night."

Mrs. Albert F. Boehm, soprano, will sing a pair of Christmas songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman.

"Lucia" will then lead the group to the table of Swedish-style refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Robert R. Lyon. Accompanying the traditional saffron rolls and heart-shaped ginger cookies will be a steming bowl of "Julglogg," the good-cheer drink of spiced wine popular in Sweden on Lucia Day. Serving will be Mmes. Clifford Raisbeck and Patrick Flynn.

The Swedish program will be prefaced by a slide-illustrated talk on "Holiday Foods from Many Lands" presented by Peggy Hopkins, home economist for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

She will discuss the influence of other countries' cultures on holiday customs and will give festive cooking ideas from England, France, Italy, Mexico, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

NEW MEMBERS of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley will be initiated Thursday at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley.

Being initiated with members of Petaluma Rebekah Lodge 86 and Sebastopol Rebekah Lodge 44 are Mrs. Rebecca Robbins, Linda Williams, Rhonda Nordgren and Sheran Sherade, all of Mill Valley.

Noble grand, Ethel Skinner, will preside, and chairman for the evening, Mrs. Connie Post, will be assisted by Mrs. Betty Columbo and Florence Popp.

"WE GROW — And Then We Grow Some More," will be the topic of Dr. Robert Shukraft's talk at the dessert meeting of the Congregation Rodef Sholom Sisterhood Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the temple in Santa Venetia.

There will also be a talk by the sisterhood president, Mrs. Betty Harris, who attended the Sisterhood Regional Conference in Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Shukraft, a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, is a member of the psychology staff at Dominican College and a doctor of theology candidate at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley.

TAMALPAIS CENTRE Woman's Club is having a Christmas party Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Mmes. Louis Ravicz and C.D. Bessellieu are in charge of the program and will be assisted by Mmes. G.K. Burgen and R.D. Bailey.

SAUSALITO'S Star of the Sea Church's Men's Club is sponsoring the parish's fifth annual Christmas dinner dance Saturday at the church hall in Sausalito.

Ralph M. Bell is chairman of the party, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8 with dancing beginning at 9.

THE NOVATO Hostess Club members will have a holiday dinner dance Friday at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club with Mrs. Jerry Carstens as chairman.

A cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing at 8:30 p.m.

Mmes. Frank Nelson and Don Braun are co-chairmen for the prizes; C. J. Goudeau, decorations and Richardson Cuthbert, name tags. Mrs. Richard Watts is reservations chairman.

Vows Said In Fairfax

Marilyn Castell-Blanch exchanged vows with Edward C. Olson in a Saturday afternoon wedding ceremony at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch Jr. of San Anselmo, was attended by Sandra Grimm of Fairfax as maid of honor and Virginia Partridge of Novato and Cecilia Castell-Blanch of San Francisco were the bridesmaids.

Michael Halkovich of Novato served as best man for Edward. Seating the guests were John Bjor of Vallejo and Ramon Castell-Blanch III of Seattle, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the Sleepy Hollow Clubhouse.

The bride is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and will attend San Diego State College in February. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. J. Partridge of Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olson of San Anselmo are parents of the bridegroom. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Frank Knox. Edward is the brother of Robert Olson of San Anselmo and Mrs. Harry Harnett, also of San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson of Daly City are his grandparents.

The couple will live in San Diego.

Math Has Spark, Animation

New math or old math — some kids still can't add or subtract.

Despite the fact that kids today as in years past, learn the concept of numbers, educators have found that in increasing numbers they are unable to transfer their knowledge to the real test — solving problems.

"This has been the big problem we've faced in mathematics for many years," said Dr. Lola J. May, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University and math consultant to the Winnetka, Ill., public schools.

"WE HAVE always felt that by the end of second grade a child should have mastered his number facts — that is, he should be able to add all of the combinations and subtract all of the combinations of numbers up to 20. But, understanding the concept and being able to do the job just aren't the same.

"So, for years, we've relied on a 'number line', Dr. May continued. "This is a device which simply lists the number through 20, and when called for, a child can add two to one, for example, and get three. But, we've found too, that children get entirely too dependent on this and cannot transfer their knowledge to the problem format of math."

Dr. May maintains that nothing replaces "good old drill," for learning numbers, but in the past learning number facts has been drudgery and dull.

As author of Borg-Warner Educational Systems math programs, Dr. May has put spark and animation into math teaching. She's put mathematic drills onto System 80, a new diagnostic and prescriptive audio-visual teaching approach that was designed to give children individual instruction without disturbing classroom activities and to give teachers more time to do more creative work.

SYSTEM 80 includes a television like audio-visual unit, special 12-inch records, and 80-frame filmslides. Each filmslide lesson presents illustrations and problems representing possible responses to the questions asked on the coordinated recording. If the student selects the wrong answer, the question is repeated. If however, he selects the correct answer and pushes the right response button, the lesson moves on to a new picture and question.

"System 80 allows us to have organized drill in math," said Dr. May. "It takes three or four facts and drills a student in an organized way, seeking a variety of responses to assure the teacher and student, that the child not only understands the math concept, but is able to do problems as well.

"System 80 makes math drill, basically an unattractive and unpalatable activity, more interesting and therefore creates an effective learning environment," Dr. May said.

Dr. May maintains that one of the breakdowns in math teaching is that the teacher always had to be involved in the various drill techniques available.

"FOR EXAMPLE," she said, "the 'number line' requires that a teacher observe each child solve each problem. Flash cards, used extensively in classrooms throughout the country, require a teacher or aide to turn the cards and ascertain that correct responses are given."

With System 80, a child can work quietly in the back of a classroom and test himself. Quick observation of the self-testing tab informs the teacher whether the student has satisfactorily accomplished the required drill.

With the recent addition of 46 new lessons, Learning Number Facts series created by Dr. May now numbers 92 in the basic addition, subtraction, multiplication and division program which teaches number readiness including concept development and counting.

System 80 also has created programs in the areas of alphabet + phonics, spelling, and reading.

ST. RAPHAEL'S Catholic Church in San Rafael was the setting for the marriage of Kathleen Virginia Richards and James Morgan. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell S. Richards of San Anselmo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan of Atkinson, Neb., and the brother of Patricia, Joh, Harold, Pete, Michael and Maureen Morgan and Mrs. LaVerne Kreiger.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Help Others And You'll Notice Your Problems Aren't So Bad

DEAR HELEN:

I'm going to mail four letters to you at once, because one wouldn't tell all my troubles. Maybe you can condense them. I can't.

It's just awful. Another year of being "tease target" at school. I'm in eighth grade and my nose is bo big and ugly you wouldn't believe it. I can't get it fixed until I'm 16 (and get my growth or whatever). How can I stand being Eaglebeak until then? My friends — the few I have — are gorgeous, which makes it worse.

Trying to hide my nose isn't my only trouble: I hate school and my teachers and the kids that tease me. I need to be loved, but I can't get new friends, especially boys, because I'm so witch-nosed. I have a good figure, but boys only look at pretty faces. I hate them too.

I get in fights with my parents, and they think I'm "impossible," but it's just because I'm so miserable. I can't stand walking into class any more. I'm so self-conscious.

You've got to help me. Our guidance counselor can't because I can see she thinks my nose is hideous too. — MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:

Before I or anyone esle can help, you've got to help yourself. You're so busy "hating" you can't see that at least three-fourths of your troubles are caused, not by your nose or appearnce, but by your attitude. As long as you think all the kids are "out to get you" they'll oblige. As long as you focus attention on your "defects," they'll tease you about them.

Self-pity is a form of selfishness. You're too involved with your own problems to notice that other people are unhappy also. Try helping them, and maybe you'll discover you aren't so bad off after all.

About your nose: It's true you probably can't have it bobbed until around age-16, but a visit to a plastic surgeon would give you hope for the future and make the waiting less painful. Perhaps your folks will make an appointment — if you show them how much it means to you. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'd like to add my bit to the letter from "Let The Light Shine On" who asks everyone to keep on porch lights overnight. Thank goodness the right persons did.

I was walking home along a dark street. I heard footsteps behind me, and then someone grabbed me. Just then a porch light went on. It startled my attacker enough so he let go, and I ran up to the house, called my parents, and they came after me. If those people hadn't turned on their light at that moment, well, maybe I wouldn't be here.

A porch light not only protects houses from burglars, but it protects passers-by too. — LUCKY TEEN-AGER

DEAR HELEN:

This letter is for girls who really go for older guys and then get let down. I waited two years while my guy served in Vietnam — he was 19, and I was 15. I missed out on the fun of high school dating because I had to be "true."

Well, he came back — and told me he wasn't sure if he cared enough. Then I found out that he'd stepping out on me all along, besides writing to an old girl friend who is now divorced. And he's with her today, while I'm regretting all the fun I missed.

I've forgotten him (almost), but not the hurt. Girls, don't tie yourselves down while you're in high school and he's far away. He won't!! — SORRY TOO LATE.

Mrs. Wist

Mrs. Wist Is Elected

Mrs. John R. Wist of San Rafael has been elected president of the Central Marin Newcomers Club, which was organized three months ago.

Carol Wist and her husband have lived in Marin for three months, coming from Southern California. She has been interim treasurer of the Newcomers Club, is also a substitute teacher and was a ways and means chairman of the nursery school in Southern California. She is now a member of the Lucas Valley Home and School Club and is editor of the school newsletter.

Mrs. Wist says of the Newcomers, no fund raising activities are planned. Rather, each special interest group within the club will plan its own activities and trips. The general membership will have luncheons and excursions to various restaurants with the husbands for dinner. Special interest groups within the club now are bridge, antiques, art, stitchery and Canasta, she says. The club is open to any woman who has lived in Marin less than a year and a half.

Carol Wist was born in Wichita, Kan., and attended Fremont High School in Los Angeles and Long Beach City College. She hopes to enroll at the College of Marin to obtain a degree in nursery education.

She and her husband, a sales engineer, are parents of three children, Paul, 18, and Missy and Jody, both 5.

up. Nursing homes in England cost about $43 a week, while simple supervisory care situations cost $17 a week.

In America perhaps the emphasis is on youth, while in England people care a great deal about the old, she said.

Miss Glasgow is at the end of a two month tour on a Winston Churchill Fellowship, with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare arranging her visit to various U.S. cities.

And when she is not working with the aged she serves once each two weeks as a magistrate in the City of Birmingham courts.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Rios-Soares Nuptial Held In Priory Chapel

The Dominican Priory Chapel in Kentfield was the setting for the wedding of Ester Soares and Louis Rios on Nov. 28.

Ester is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Soares of Lisbon, Portugal. Louis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Rios of New York City.

The attendents were Mrs. Al Freitas of Terra Linda and Barney Whitehill of San Anselmo. A reception was held at the Whitehill home, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel. They are living in San Anselmo.

The bride was graduated from Saint Isabella High School in Lisbon and is the sister of Mari Soares of Lisbon.

Louis, a student at the University of California, is the brother of Blanche, Teresa, Mary Elsie, Carmen, John, Nick and Joseph Rios, all of New York.

Prosecution In Riot Case Rests

I-J Special Report

FAIRFIELD — After seven weeks of trial, the prosecution rested its case yesterday against seven men arrested during the Valentine's Day riot outside the Independent-Journal in San Rafael.

Later in the day, the defense opened its case before Judge William E. Jensen in Solano County Superior Court. Defense attorneys said they did not know how many witnesses they would call but hoped the trial would end by Christmas.

Officer Harold Pennington of the San Rafael police, who testified he was assaulted by one of the seven defendants, was the 19th and final witness called by the prosecutor, Marin Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas.

To date, more than 4,200 pages of testimony have been taken and 189 exhibits, most of them photographs depicting the violent events of Feb. 14, introduced into evidence.

The seven — John J. DeMartini, 47, of Mill Valley; Joe E. Reese, 32, of Hayward; Terry W. Lansing, 20, of Berkeley, and Charles P. Vance, 56, James S. Brooke, 36, Nimmes H. Shelton, 41, and Alvis D. Bailey, 43, all of San Francisco — are charged in a 36-count indictment returned by the Marin County Grand Jury.

All are accused of participating in a riot and unlawful assembly, while all but Shelton are charged with felony assault on a police officer.

The Feb. 14 violence erupted at a demonstration called in support of San Francisco Typographical Union 21, on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7. Police estimates of the number of protesters ranged up to 800. In the morning, I-J windows were smashed and the building splattered with paint. A delivery truck was set afire.

The seven were arrested in the afternoon as police attempted to enforce orders to a crowd of chanting demonstrators on Julia Street to disperse. Prosecution testimony indicated a policeman began struggling with a member of the chanting crowd and other officers surged to his aid.

DeMartini, Reese, Lansing, Vance, Brooke and Bailey were alleged to have struck officers either during or just prior to the police sweep. The defense contends police used excessive force to clear the narrow street.

Attorney Robert Y. Bell began the defense case by delivering his opening statement to the jury of two men and 10 women. His remarks had been deferred from the start of the trial.

He said defense evidence would show police were disorganized and confused on Julia Street and that the tactic of some officers was to "knock heads and knock bodies and arrest people later."

Testimony would prove, he claimed, that the orders to disperse, given via loudspeaker, were unfounded and that demonstrators couldn't hear them anyway because of crowd chanting.

The defense further would show, Bell said, that the morning acts of vandalism were irrelevant because the seven defendants did not take part and that the prosecution could not even present evidence they were present.

The first defense witness was DeMartini, vice president of the printers' union local and formerly an employee at the I-J for 15 years.

Under questioning by his attorney, Carl B. Shapiro, DeMartini said the rally was planned by a special labor committee and he took no part in its preparation. He said his only role the day of the demonstration was to take pictures for union use, noting he had a camera slung around his neck.

In other developments yesterday, Judge Jensen approved a bid by Thomas to bus the jury to San Rafael to view the scene of the demonstration, if time permitted, and also required the defense to supply Thomas names and addresses of witnesses and to permit him to view photographs it intended to introduce.

Testimony is to resume tomorrow. Legal arguments were scheduled today.

Minor Injuries To Pedestrian

A 54-year-old Larkspur man was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts sustained when he was struck by an auto while crossing Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

Police said today Branko Rakic of 137 Baltimore Avenue apparently darted into the path of the car driven by Richard L. Slack of 38 Park Street, Woodacre.

Rakic was crossing Magnolia at Baltimore when the 6:45 p.m. accident occurred, Police said.

Crash Pad Fire Hazard

The hostelry for transient youth at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley is illegal and the building must be modified or the use stopped, the Mill Valley city council declared last night.

Mayor George E. Wickham said the church at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue has been warned three or four times of the violations.

To comply with the city's zoning ordinance, the church would have to remodel the crash pad room to meet the fire code and obtain a use permit.

The pad is operated at the church by the Street Ministry of Southern Marin for about 14 transient youths each night.

Failure to comply with the ordinance makes the church liable to a $500 fine, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said.

Councilman Jerome C. Hauke said he wanted to avoid wasting time bytelling the church to apply for a use permit if the council did not intend to grant one.

"I get the distinct impression we don't like the use," he said. "If so, I'd like to get it out in the open."

But the council decided to inform the church of the violation and then consider a use permit application if one is made.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

SEWER — Awarded a $5,534 contract to API Specialty Construction Co. of San Rafael to extend the Ethel Avenue sewer main. Engineer's estimate: $5,536.

REZONING — Instructed Jordan to prepare an ordinance rezoning four acres of land near La Goma Street and Miller Avenue from commercial to multiple family residential. Developer Peter Haywood wants to build 68 condominiums on the property.

RETIREMENT — Approved in principle a plan to build 317 apartments for retirees at Camino Alto and Miller Avenue. The applicant, the Community Church of Mill Valley, must return to the council with a detailed plan.

LIGHTING — Instructed staff to do further work on a proposed ordinance controlling lighting in residential zones.

DEPOSITS — Endorsed a resolution by the city of Modesto, calling on the state Legislature to require deposits on all beer and soft drink containers.

REDWOOD — Annexed lots at 480-484 Edgewood Avenue, the so-called Redwood Camp, into the city and rezoned the property single-family residential, one unit per 10,000 square feet.

HOLIDAYS — Adopted the state schedule of 1971 holidays.

CREEK — Appropriated $1,000 for flood control work on Warner Creek at Glen Drive and $3,000 to control erosion of Boyle Park by the creek.

SEWER — Approved plans and called for bids for sewer main replacement on Hillside and Oakdale avenues.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. at city hall in memory of Dorothy Boericke Symmes, mother of Councilman Jean S. Barnard. Mrs. Symmes died Nov. 24.

Bids Called For Widening Of 101

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Division of Highways Monday called for bids on a $4.3 million project to widen U.S. 101 in Marin County from six to eight lanes near Mill Valley.

The project will involve Richardson Bay Bridge and its approaches.

Seven Injured On Rain-Slick Highways

Three rear-end accidents on rain-slick highways, one involving a Greyhound bus on the Golden Gate Bridge, injured seven persons yesterday, none seriously, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said the bridge pileup occurred in the southbound lanes at 2:15 p.m. when a car driven by Kathee L. Sperling, 21, of San Francisco, stalled near mid-span.

A car behind her, driven by Winifred S. Dammann, 34, of Los Altos Hills, also halted, but a Greyhound bus driven by William L. Sullivan, 40, of San Jose, was unable to stop, and skidded into the vehicles.

Miss Sperling said she would see her own doctor, and a passenger, Jack Warnick, 27, of Daly City, was to see his own doctor for pain in the left knee.

The second accident, the patrol said, occurred when Gunvor M. Galvan, 38, of Santa Rosa, and Charles M. Hinke, 26, of Sonoma, stopped in traffic on southbound Highway 101 in San Rafael at 7 a.m.

A car driven by Edward T. Haines, 29, of 1145 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, failed to stop, officers said, and struck the other vehicles. Galvan was to see his own doctor for neck and back pain, while Hinke complained of neck pain.

The third accident took place at 5 p.m. on northbound Highway 101, south of Novato when Robert W. Noble, 42, of 6 Ruben Court, Novato, stopped in traffic.

His vehicle was struck by a car driven by Robert E. Kinney, 16, of 40 Jacinto Way, Novato, and pushed into one driven by Mary A. Beck, 34, of 956 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Noble, Kinney and Thomas Emerson, 16, of 45 Paladini Road, Novato, were treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for cuts and scrapes.

Sierra Club Supporting Proposed Recreation Area

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Sierra Club has announced its support of the proposed Golden Gate National Recreation Area which would include Army forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite in Marin.

In the resolution adopted during a quarterly meeting of the club's board of directors here Saturday and Sunday, the conservation group calls for a 10,000 acre recreation area on both sides of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The club supported the concept of a headlands park that would include "those parts of the military forts (Funston, Miley, Mason, Presidio, Barry, Baker, Cronkhite) which have for their highest and best use the provision of public recreation" plus state, city and private lands needed to make a 10,000-acre park.

Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, introduced legislation in June that would have created the recreation area on land "no longer vital for military purposes."

The U.S. House of Representatives has not acted on the bill.

Meanwhile, the commanding general of the Sixth Army has announced that parts of Fort Baker are being considered by the Army for development of housing for personnel employed at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Sign Sprayer Gets 30 Days

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court has sent Phillip J. Byrne II, 22, of Sausalito to jail for 30 days for spraying a slogan on the wall of Olney Hall at College of Marin last May.

The judge also placed Byrne on probation for one year and ordered him to make $42 restitution.

The youth had been arrested after spraying "Free Bobby Seale" on the wall of the building.

Women Hurt As Cars Hit

Two San Rafael women were hurt in a two-car accident at 1:34 p.m. yesterday at Hetherton and Third Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Frances Marie Rae, 52, of 130 Surrey Lane, San Rafael, was treated for a broken rib and bruises on her right side and face at Marin General Hospital. Her passenger, Gwendolyn Boyle, 79, same address, was treated for a scalp cut at Marin General Hospital.

The Rae car was southbound on Hetherton Street when it collided with one driven west on Third Street by Frank Harold Wendell, 60, of 115 Sequoia Avenue, San Anselmo, police reported.

Preserves Decision Postponed

Action on the question of Marin's agricultural preserve area, too complicated to be decided in one hearing, will be taken Dec. 21, county planning commissioners decided yesterday.

The Land Conservation Advisory Committee recommended that the present 313,000 acres in the agricultural preserve area should be reduced to the 92,000 acres already under contract. It recommended 49 small parcels be taken out of the preserve.

A dozen property owners who were given notices their preserve contracts would not be renewed protested the recommendations during the hearing.

Motorcycle enthusiasts asked that riding trails be designated compatible to agriculture. Planning Director Werner Von Gundell agreed the trails should be included.

Von Gundell, however, objected to the drastic reduction in the agricultural preserve area. He suggested a new zoning district to be set up for open areas presently designated limited agricultural.

Faced with various alternatives and pleas from small property owners who want to retain their agricultural preserve contracts, the planning commissioners decided to take another look at the whole picture on Dec. 21.

Planning Commissioners also:

PET CLINIC — Put over until Dec. 21 a request for a use permit to open a pet clinic at 524 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley.

FRIED CHICKEN — Put over until Dec. 21 a use permit request to open a take-home restaurant at the former C's Drive-In at 510 Miller Avenue, near Tamalpais High School.

SHOP BUILDING— Declared a proposed shop building for retarded children at Lucas Valley County Farm should be relocated to reduce noise nuisance for nearby residents and asked the county schools office to return Dec. 21 with new plans for the shop.

BAYVIEW HEIGHTS — Deferred until Jan. 11 decision on a proposed five-unit town house development on Bayview Heights near Bel Aire.

White House Tree

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House Christmas tree, a 20-foot white spruce from Wisconsin, will be delivered tomorrow. A spokesman said the tree will be brought to the White House by the families of Calvin and George Frelik, who grew the tree on their Merrillan, Wis., farm.

Musical Variety At Promenade Concert

A free public "promenade" concert will be presented Sunday by Sán Rafael High School and other Marin Musicians at 3 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The school's orchestra will play the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major featuring violinist Mark Jordan and cellist Jed Barahal and the first movement of the same composer's Concerto in A Minor under the direction of Barahal; and Blues Suite by Gerry Olds, a San Francisco State College faculty member who wrote the work on commission for the school.

The blues suite conducted by Barry Ehrlich, a musician doing his practice teaching in San Rafael schools, will feature a jazz solo group composed of Nancy Levinsohn, piano; Chris Braun, drums; Bert Truax, trumpet; and Joe Weiss, bass.

Hugo Rinaldi, San Rafael schools' music department head, will conduct the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major, ballet music from Gounod's opera "Faust" and the Vaughn Williams Cantata "Dona Nobis Pacem." The orchestra for this work will be the Orchestra Piccola, a top group of young musicians in the Marin Youth Orchestra. Soloists will be soprano Marian Marsh and baritone Byron Jones. Other sqngers will be the San Rafael High School A Cappella Choir.

Jones, head of vocal music in San Rafael schools, will conduct the high school's chamber choir in Randall Thompson's "Glory to God in the Highest" and a Bach /Swingle canon.

Band, Choir Plan Concert At High School On Sunday

San Marin High School's concert band and concert choir will present their third annual fall concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the school gymnasium.

Among the selections to be played by the 43-piece band will be "Zaragoza" by Odivadoti, tunes from "West Side Story," selections from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" and "Windmills of Your Mind."

The 46-voice choir will sing "Alleluia" by Boyce, "Ave Verum" by Mozart, "What the World Needs Now is Love," "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," among other selections.

The choir will be accompanied by a special instrumental ensemble.

The finale will be a combined choir-band performance of a paraphrased of "America the Beautiful" by Ward entitled "From Sea to Shining Sea." John F. Yardas will be director of the concert.

Tickets can be purchased from any member of the band or choir or at the door.

Proceeds To Litchfield

The American Cancer Society isn't getting a cent from all that smoke at Pepperland, the rock music hall at 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

A story in last Wednesday's Independent-Journal erred when it reported that proceeds of a cigarette machine on the premises were donated to the cancer society.

A sign over the machine says the proceeds are given to the society, but a Pepperland spokesman said yesterday that the sign had been put there by someone as a joke.

Proceeds actually go to Irving (White Litchfield, the Pepperland sookesman said, who owns the building housing the concert hall.

Music of India In Two Concerts

Two concerts of classical music of India will be presented by Debu Chaudhuri Thursday at San Rafael High School and the College of Marin.

The high school concert will be at 3 p.m. and the college concert will be at 8 p.m. in the Theater of Fine Arts Building at the Kentfield campus.

Chaudhuri is a leading player of the sitar. He will be accompanied on the Tabla (drums) by Sharma and by classical singer and tambourinist, Manjustree.

Sausalito Woman's Club To Have Traditional Swedish Celebration

"God Jul" may replace "Merry Christmas" as the greeting exchanged by Sausalito Woman's Club members when they gather for a traditional Swedish holiday afternoon at the clubhouse Thursday at 1:30.

The program will be based on the Festival of Lights celebrated in Sweden during the season of Long Winter Nights, beginning with the first day of Advent and ending on St. Canute' Day, Jan. 13.

One of the high points of the long season of feasting is Lucia Day on Dec. 13., when the eldest daughter in the family dons a long white dress and holly crown with seven lighted candles and awakens her parents by serving them hot coffee and saffron buns.

Lucia on Thursday will be Martha Ann Thomson, 11-year-old daughter of club president Mrs. Walter Thomson and Mr.Thomson. Wearing the candled crown she will lead younger children, each carrying a lighted candle, into the darkened clubhouse to accompaniment of authentic Lucia music recorded in Sweden. The children (including Erik Gergus, Peter Eckman, Cicely Muldoon, Heidi Reckenwald and Doretta and Bettina Boehm) will then sing "Silent Night."

Mrs. Albert F. Boehm, soprano, will sing a pair of Christmas songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman.

"Lucia" will then lead the group to the table of Swedish-style refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Robert R. Lyon. Accompanying the traditional saffron rolls and heart-shaped ginger cookies will be a steming bowl of "Julglogg," the good-cheer drink of spiced wine popular in Sweden on Lucia Day. Serving will be Mmes. Clifford Raisbeck and Patrick Flynn.

The Swedish program will be prefaced by a slide-illustrated talk on "Holiday Foods from Many Lands" presented by Peggy Hopkins, home economist for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

She will discuss the influence of other countries' cultures on holiday customs and will give festive cooking ideas from England, France, Italy, Mexico, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

NEW MEMBERS of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley will be initiated Thursday at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley.

Being initiated with members of Petaluma Rebekah Lodge 86 and Sebastopol Rebekah Lodge 44 are Mrs. Rebecca Robbins, Linda Williams, Rhonda Nordgren and Sheran Sherade, all of Mill Valley.

Noble grand, Ethel Skinner, will preside, and chairman for the evening, Mrs. Connie Post, will be assisted by Mrs. Betty Columbo and Florence Popp.

"WE GROW — And Then We Grow Some More," will be the topic of Dr. Robert Shukraft's talk at the dessert meeting of the Congregation Rodef Sholom Sisterhood Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the temple in Santa Venetia.

There will also be a talk by the sisterhood president, Mrs. Betty Harris, who attended the Sisterhood Regional Conference in Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Shukraft, a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, is a member of the psychology staff at Dominican College and a doctor of theology candidate at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley.

TAMALPAIS CENTRE Woman's Club is having a Christmas party Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Mmes. Louis Ravicz and C.D. Bessellieu are in charge of the program and will be assisted by Mmes. G.K. Burgen and R.D. Bailey.

Ralph M. Bell is chairman of the party, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8 with dancing beginning at 9.

THE NOVATO Hostess Club members will have a holiday dinner dance Friday at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club with Mrs. Jerry Carstens as chairman.

A cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing at 8:30 p.m.

Mmes. Frank Nelson and Don Braun are co-chairmen for the prizes; C. J. Goudeau, decorations and Richardson Cuthbert, name tags. Mrs. Richard Watts is reservations chairman.

Vows Said In Fairfax

Marilyn Castell-Blanch exchanged vows with Edward C. Olson in a Saturday afternoon wedding ceremony at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch Jr. of San Anselmo, was attended by Sandra Grimm of Fairfax as maid of honor and Virginia Partridge of Novato and Cecilia Castell-Blanch of San Francisco were the bridesmaids.

Michael Halkovich of Novato served as best man for Edward. Seating the guests were John Bjor of Vallejo and Ramon Castell-Blanch III of Seattle, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the Sleepy Hollow Clubhouse.

The bride is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and will attend San Diego State College in February. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. J. Partridge of Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olson of San Anselmo are parents of the bridegroom. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Frank Knox. Edward is the brother of Robert Olson of San Anselmo and Mrs. Harry Harnett, also of San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson of Daly City are his grandparents.

The couple will live in San Diego.

Math Has Spark, Animation

New math or old math — some kids still can't add or subtract.

Despite the fact that kids today as in years past, learn the concept of numbers, educators have found that in increasing numbers they are unable to transfer their knowledge to the real test — solving problems.

"This has been the big problem we've faced in mathematics for many years," said Dr. Lola J. May, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University and math consultant to the Winnetka, Ill., public schools.

ST. RAPHAEL'S Catholic Church in San Rafael was the setting for the marriage of Kathleen Virginia Richards and James Morgan. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell S. Richards of San Anselmo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan of Atkinson, Neb., and the brother of Patricia, Joh, Harold, Pete, Michael and Maureen Morgan and Mrs. LaVerne Kreiger.

"WE HAVE always felt that by the end of second grade a child should have mastered his number facts — that is, he should be able to add all of the combinations and subtract all of the combinations of numbers up to 20. But, understanding the concept and being able to do the job just aren't the same.

"So, for years, we've relied on a 'number line', Dr. May continued. "This is a device which simply lists the number through 20, and when called for, a child can add two to one, for example, and get three. But, we've found too, that children get entirely too dependent on this and cannot transfer their knowledge to the problem format of math."

Dr. May maintains that nothing replaces "good old drill," for learning numbers, but in the past learning number facts has been drudgery and dull.

As author of Borg-Warner Educational Systems math programs, Dr. May has put spark and animation into math teaching. She's put mathematic drills onto System 80, a new diagnostic and prescriptive audio-visual teaching approach that was designed to give children individual instruction without disturbing classroom activities and to give teachers more time to do more creative work.

SYSTEM 80 includes a television like audio-visual unit, special 12-inch records, and 80-frame filmslides. Each filmslide lesson presents illustrations and problems representing possible responses to the questions asked on the coordinated recording. If the student selects the wrong answer, the question is repeated. If however, he selects the correct answer and pushes the right response button, the lesson moves on to a new picture and question.

"System 80 allows us to have organized drill in math," said Dr. May. "It takes three or four facts and drills a student in an organized way, seeking a variety of responses to assure the teacher and student, that the child not only understands the math concept, but is able to do problems as well.

"System 80 makes math drill, basically an unattractive and unpalatable activity, more interesting and therefore creates an effective learning environment," Dr. May said.

Dr. May maintains that one of the breakdowns in math teaching is that the teacher always had to be involved in the various drill techniques available.

"FOR EXAMPLE," she said, "the 'number line' requires that a teacher observe each child solve each problem. Flash cards, used extensively in classrooms throughout the country, require a teacher or aide to turn the cards and ascertain that correct responses are given."

With System 80, a child can work quietly in the back of a classroom and test himself. Quick observation of the self-testing tab informs the teacher whether the student has satisfactorily accomplished the required drill.

With the recent addition of 46 new lessons, Learning Number Facts series created by Dr. May now numbers 92 in the basic addition, subtraction, multiplication and division program which teaches number readiness including concept development and counting.

System 80 also has created programs in the areas of alphabet + phonics, spelling, and reading.

Prosecution In Riot Case Rests

I-J Special Report

FAIRFIELD — After seven weeks of trial, the prosecution rested its case yesterday against seven men arrested during the Valentine's Day riot outside the Independent-Journal in San Rafael.

Later in the day, the defense opened its case before Judge William E. Jensen in Solano County Superior Court. Defense attorneys said they did not know how many witnesses they would call but hoped the trial would end by Christmas.

Officer Harold Pennington of the San Rafael police, who testified he was assaulted by one of the seven defendants, was the 19th and final witness called by the prosecutor, Marin Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas.

To date, more than 4,200 pages of testimony have been taken and 189 exhibits, most of them photographs depicting the violent events of Feb. 14, introduced into evidence.

The seven — John J. DeMartini, 47, of Mill Valley; Joe E. Reese, 32, of Hayward; Terry W. Lansing, 20, of Berkeley, and Charles P. Vance, 56, James S. Brooke, 36, Nimmes H. Shelton, 41, and Alvis D. Bailey, 43, all of San Francisco — are charged in a 36-count indictment returned by the Marin County Grand Jury.

All are accused of participating in a riot and unlawful assembly, while all but Shelton are charged with felony assault on a police officer.

The Feb. 14 violence erupted at a demonstration called in support of San Francisco Typographical Union 21, on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7. Police estimates of the number of protesters ranged up to 800. In the morning, I-J windows were smashed and the building splattered with paint. A delivery truck was set afire.

The seven were arrested in the afternoon as police attempted to enforce orders to a crowd of chanting demonstrators on Julia Street to disperse. Prosecution testimony indicated a policeman began struggling with a member of the chanting crowd and other officers surged to his aid.

DeMartini, Reese, Lansing, Vance, Brooke and Bailey were alleged to have struck officers either during or just prior to the police sweep. The defense contends police used excessive force to clear the narrow street.

Attorney Robert Y. Bell began the defense case by delivering his opening statement to the jury of two men and 10 women. His remarks had been deferred from the start of the trial.

He said defense evidence would show police were disorganized and confused on Julia Street and that the tactic of some officers was to "knock heads and knock bodies and arrest people later."

Testimony would prove, he claimed, that the orders to disperse, given via loudspeaker, were unfounded and that demonstrators couldn't hear them anyway because of crowd chanting.

The defense further would show, Bell said, that the morning acts of vandalism were irrelevant because the seven defendants did not take part and that the prosecution could not even present evidence they were present.

The first defense witness was DeMartini, vice president of the printers' union local and formerly an employee at the I-J for 15 years.

Under questioning by his attorney, Carl B. Shapiro, DeMartini said the rally was planned by a special labor committee and he took no part in its preparation. He said his only role the day of the demonstration was to take pictures for union use, noting he had a camera slung around his neck.

In other developments yesterday, Judge Jensen approved a bid by Thomas to bus the jury to San Rafael to view the scene of the demonstration, if time permitted, and also required the defense to supply Thomas names and addresses of witnesses and to permit him to view photographs it intended to introduce.

Testimony is to resume tomorrow. Legal arguments were scheduled today.

Minor Injuries To Pedestrian

A 54-year-old Larkspur man was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts sustained when he was struck by an auto while crossing Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

Police said today Branko Rakic of 137 Baltimore Avenue apparently darted into the path of the car driven by Richard L. Slack of 38 Park Street, Woodacre.

Rakic was crossing Magnolia at Baltimore when the 6:45 p.m. accident occurred, Police said.

Crash Pad Fire Hazard

The hostelry for transient youth at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley is illegal and the building must be modified or the use stopped, the Mill Valley city council declared last night.

Mayor George E. Wickham said the church at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue has been warned three or four times of the violations.

To comply with the city's zoning ordinance, the church would have to remodel the crash pad room to meet the fire code and obtain a use permit.

The pad is operated at the church by the Street Ministry of Southern Marin for about 14 transient youths each night.

Failure to comply with the ordinance makes the church liable to a $500 fine, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said.

Councilman Jerome C. Hauke said he wanted to avoid wasting time bytelling the church to apply for a use permit if the council did not intend to grant one.

"I get the distinct impression we don't like the use," he said. "If so, I'd like to get it out in the open."

But the council decided to inform the church of the violation and then consider a use permit application if one is made.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

SEWER — Awarded a $5,534 contract to API Specialty Construction Co. of San Rafael to extend the Ethel Avenue sewer main. Engineer's estimate: $5,536.

REZONING — Instructed Jordan to prepare an ordinance rezoning four acres of land near La Goma Street and Miller Avenue from commercial to multiple family residential. Developer Peter Haywood wants to build 68 condominiums on the property.

RETIREMENT — Approved in principle a plan to build 317 apartments for retirees at Camino Alto and Miller Avenue. The applicant, the Community Church of Mill Valley, must return to the council with a detailed plan.

LIGHTING — Instructed staff to do further work on a proposed ordinance controlling lighting in residential zones.

DEPOSITS — Endorsed a resolution by the city of Modesto, calling on the state Legislature to require deposits on all beer and soft drink containers.

REDWOOD — Annexed lots at 480-484 Edgewood Avenue, the so-called Redwood Camp, into the city and rezoned the property single-family residential, one unit per 10,000 square feet.

HOLIDAYS — Adopted the state schedule of 1971 holidays.

CREEK — Appropriated $1,000 for flood control work on Warner Creek at Glen Drive and $3,000 to control erosion of Boyle Park by the creek.

SEWER — Approved plans and called for bids for sewer main replacement on Hillside and Oakdale avenues.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. at city hall in memory of Dorothy Boericke Symmes, mother of Councilman Jean S. Barnard. Mrs. Symmes died Nov. 24.

Bids Called For Widening Of 101

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Division of Highways Monday called for bids on a $4.3 million project to widen U.S. 101 in Marin County from six to eight lanes near Mill Valley.

The project will involve Richardson Bay Bridge and its approaches.

Seven Injured On Rain-Slick Highways

Three rear-end accidents on rain-slick highways, one involving a Greyhound bus on the Golden Gate Bridge, injured seven persons yesterday, none seriously, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said the bridge pileup occurred in the southbound lanes at 2:15 p.m. when a car driven by Kathee L. Sperling, 21, of San Francisco, stalled near midspan.

A car behind her, driven by Winifred S. Dammann, 34, of Los Altos Hills, also halted, but a Greyhound bus driven by William L. Sullivan, 40, of San Jose, was unable to stop, and skidded into the vehicles.

Miss Sperling said she would see her own doctor, and a passenger, Jack Warnick, 27, of Daly City, was to see his own doctor for pain in the left knee.

The second accident, the patrol said, occurred when Gunvor M. Galvan, 38, of Santa Rosa, and Charles M. Hinke, 26, of Sonoma, stopped in traffic on southbound Highway 101 in San Rafael at 7 a.m.

A car driven by Edward T. Haines, 29, of 1145 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, failed to stop, officers said, and struck the other vehicles. Galvan was to see his own doctor for neck and back pain, while Hinke complained of neck pain.

The third accident took place at 5 p.m. on northbound Highway 101, south of Novato when Robert W. Noble, 42, of 6 Ruben Court, Novato, stopped in traffic.

His vehicle was struck by a car driven by Robert E. Kinney, 16, of 40 Jacinto Way, Novato, and pushed into one driven by Mary A. Beck, 34, of 956 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Noble, Kinney and Thomas Emerson, 16, of 45 Paladini Road, Novato, were treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for cuts and scrapes.

Sierra Club Supporting Proposed Recreation Area

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Sierra Club has announced its support of the proposed Golden Gate National Recreation Area which would include Army forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite in Marin.

In the resolution adopted during a quarterly meeting of the club's board of directors here Saturday and Sunday, the conservation group calls for a 10,000 acre recreation area on both sides of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The club supported the concept of a headlands park that would include "those parts of the military forts (Funston, Miley, Mason, Presidio, Barry, Baker, Cronkhite) which have for their highest and best use the provision of public recreation" plus state, city and private lands needed to make a 10,000-acre park.

Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, introduced legislation in June that would have created the recreation area on land "no longer vital for military purposes."

The U.S. House of Representatives has not acted on the bill.

Meanwhile, the commanding general of the Sixth Army has announced that parts of Fort Baker are being considered by the Army for development of housing for personnel employed at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Sign Sprayer Gets 30 Days

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court has sent Phillip J. Byrne II, 22, of Sausalito to jail for 30 days for spraying a slogan on the wall of Olney Hall at College of Marin last May.

The judge also placed Byrne on probation for one year and ordered him to make $42 restitution.

Women Hurt As Cars Hit

Two San Rafael women were hurt in a two-car accident at 1:34 p.m. yesterday at Hetherton and Third Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Frances Marie Rae, 52, of 130 Surrey Lane, San Rafael, was treated for a broken rib and bruises on her right side and face at Marin General Hospital. Her passenger, Gwendolyn Boyle, 79, same address, was treated for a scalp cut at Marin General Hospital.

The Rae car was southbound on Hetherton Street when it collided with one driven west on Third Street by Frank Harold Wendell, 60, of 115 Sequoia Avenue, San Anselmo, police reported.

Preserves Decision Postponed

Action on the question of Marin's agricultural preserve area, too complicated to be decided in one hearing, will be taken Dec. 21, county planning commissioners decided yesterday.

The Land Conservation Advisory Committee recommended that the present 313,000 acres in the agricultural preserve area should be reduced to the 92,000 acres already under contract. It recommended 49 small parcels be taken out of the preserve.

A dozen property owners who were given notices their preserve contracts would not be renewed protested the recommendations during the hearing.

Motorcycle enthusiasts asked that riding trails be designated compatible to agriculture. Planning Director Werner Von Gundell agreed the trails should be included.

Von Gundell, however, objected to the drastic reduction in the agricultural preserve area. He suggested a new zoning district to be set up for open areas presently designated limited agricultural.

Faced with various alternatives and pleas from small property owners who want to retain their agricultural preserve contracts, the planning commissioners decided to take another look at the whole picture on Dec. 21.

Planning Commissioners also:

PET CLINIC — Put over until Dec. 21 a request for a use permit to open a pet clinic at 524 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley.

FRIED CHICKEN — Put over until Dec. 21 a use permit request to open a take-home restaurant at the former C's Drive-In at 510 Miller Avenue, near Tamalpais High School.

SHOP BUILDING— Declared a proposed shop building for retarded children at Lucas Valley County Farm should be relocated to reduce noise nuisance for nearby residents and asked the county schools office to return Dec. 21 with new plans for the shop.

BAYVIEW HEIGHTS — Deferred until Jan. 11 decision on a proposed five-unit town house development on Bayview Heights near Bel Aire.

White House Tree

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House Christmas tree, a 20-foot white spruce from Wisconsin, will be delivered tomorrow. A spokesman said the tree will be brought to the White House by the families of Calvin and George Frelik, who grew the tree on their Merrillan, Wis., farm.

Musical Variety At Promenade Concert

A free public "promenade" concert will be presented Sunday by Sán Rafael High School and other Marin Musicians at 3 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The school's orchestra will play the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major featuring violinist Mark Jordan and cellist Jed Barahal and the first movement of the same composer's Concerto in A Minor under the direction of Barahal; and Blues Suite by Gerry Olds, a San Francisco State College faculty member who wrote the work on commission for the school.

The blues suite conducted by Barry Ehrlich, a musician doing his practice teaching in San Rafael schools, will feature a jazz solo group composed of Nancy Levinsohn, piano; Chris Braun, drums; Bert Truax, trumpet; and Joe Weiss, bass.

Hugo Rinaldi, San Rafael schools' music department head, will conduct the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major, ballet music from Gounod's opera "Faust" and the Vaughn Williams Cantata "Dona Nobis Pacem." The orchestra for this work will be the Orchestra Piccola, a top group of young musicians in the Marin Youth Orchestra. Soloists will be soprano Marian Marsh and baritone Byron Jones. Other sqngers will be the San Rafael High School A Cappella Choir.

Jones, head of vocal music in San Rafael schools, will conduct the high school's chamber choir in Randall Thompson's "Glory to God in the Highest" and a Bach / Swingle canon.

Band, Choir Plan Concert At High School On Sunday

San Marin High School's concert band and concert choir will present their third annual fall concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the school gymnasium.

Among the selections to be played by the 43-piece band will be "Zaragoza" by Odivadoti, tunes from "West Side Story," selections from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" and "Windmills of Your Mind."

The 46-voice choir will sing "Alleluia" by Boyce, "Ave Verum" by Mozart, "What the World Needs Now is Love," "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," among other selections.

The choir will be accompanied by a special instrumental ensemble.

The finale will be a combined choir-band performance of a paraphrased of "America the Beautiful" by Ward entitled "From Sea to Shining Sea." John F. Yardas will be director of the concert.

Tickets can be purchased from any member of the band or choir or at the door.

Proceeds To Litchfield

The American Cancer Society isn't getting a cent from all that smoke at Pepperland, the rock music hall at 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

A story in last Wednesday's Independent-Journal erred when it reported that proceeds of a cigarette machine on the premises were donated to the cancer society.

A sign over the machine says the proceeds are given to the society, but a Pepperland spokesman said yesterday that the sign had been put there by someone as a joke.

Proceeds actually go to Irving (White Litchfield, the Pepperland sookesman said, who owns the building housing the concert hall.

Music of India In Two Concerts

Two concerts of classical music of India will be presented by Debu Chaudhuri Thursday at San Rafael High School and the College of Marin.

The high school concert will be at 3 p.m. and the college concert will be at 8 p.m. in the Theater of Fine Arts Building at the Kentfield campus.

Chaudhuri is a leading player of the sitar. He will be accompanied on the Tabla (drums) by Sharma and by classical singer and tambourinist, Manjustree.

Belvedere To Study Merging Its Police With Tiburon's

The Belvedere City Council last night voted to form a committee to study the possible merger of its police force with Tiburon's.

The vote was 4-0 with Councilman Willard G. Pittman abstaining.

Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel was authorized to select a committee to meet with a similar committee from Tiburon.

The city attorney was asked to work with the city attorney of Tiburon to study ways in which this could be done legally.

Mayor Drechsel suggested possible ways of doing it: joint jurisdiction, the formation of a community service district or Belvedere contracting with Tiburon to furnish police service on an annual basis.

Councilman Thomas S. Price said he was willing to discuss the pros and cons, but did not want to rush into anything hastily. "With our police chief leaving, we might be pushed into action immediately," Price said.

Mayor Drechsel said that the committees should make a thorough study and perhaps have recommendations ready by July 1

Retiring Police Chief William S. Woodington said he thought merger was a good idea because it would give more efficient service.

"The two departments (the sheriff's seven deputies on contract to Tiburon and the five Belvedere police officers) have been working closely together now," the chief said. He added that there were times when each department called for help,but the other could not give it in time

The chief said that in his opinion a combined department should have two additional personnel as each department was too short handed at present time.

Price warned that the council should not lead the people into believing that it was feasible at this time.

"This is just a study to explore the possibilities," he said.

The Belvedere City Council also.

DISABILITY — Granted Police Chief Woodington 100 per cent disability This will increase his retirement by approximately $8,000 if he takes it in one sum. The chief will retire at the end of this month

CABLE TV — Passed a resolution asking the Tiburon City Council to approve a trunk line connection through Tiburon to Cable Television of Marin so that Belvedere would get better cable reception

LANE — Voted to abandon an unnamed lane at 280, 286, 288 and 290 Beach Road. The lane has been unused for years and houses have been constructed over it

DEBRIS BOX — Authorized City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to see if the City of Belvedere could put a collection box beside that of the City of Tiburon on the land owned by Sanitary District 5

ANNEXATION — Passed a resolution setting the effective date of San Rafael Avenue annexation as Oct. 6, 1969. Residents of the area have been paying taxes to Belvedere and the Tiburon Fire Protection District since that time

GENERATOR — Rejected the two bids for a standby generator for the Community House as neither bid met specifications.

CREST ROAD — Authorized the city manager to put a stop order on a new house being constructed on Crest Road to study if it meets the five foot setback requirement. The council received a petition from 10 families on the private road against the house.

VARIANCES — Referred to the planning commission for study the question of whether or not there should be a one-year delay between applications for a variance on the same property.

CORPORATION YARD — Authorized the city manager to see what restrictions should be placed on the Ireland and Robinson Inc corporation yard. The manager is to report back to the Jan 5 meeting.

FRONTAGE — Passed an ordinance limiting lots to 65 foot frontage

TELEPHONES — Heard a report that Pacific Telephone Co would start improving the equipment in June and that the city would have free calls to San Francisco in October of next year

CLOSED MEETING — Adjourned at midnight to a closed meeting to discuss qualifications for a new police chief.

Civic Groups Canvassed For Prospective Jurors

Marin Superior Court judges have asked 82 civic organizations in the county to submit names of prospective members for next year's grand jury.

Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of the Superior Court,said that he and the other four judges hope that 100 or more names will be submitted by Friday, the deadline.

Carrying out a suggestion made by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, the judges have asked the organizations for nominees in order that a broader cross section of the community will be represented on the jury panel than in the past.

Before, the judges have relied upon suggestions made to them by friends and acquaintances and persons whom they knew.

Judge Wilson explained that the list of those proposed will be whittled by the judges down to between 25 and 30 names as required by law. From that number, 19 names will be drawn at random for grand jury duty.

Although the judges drew up no rigid rules for qualifications, they suggested that only persons who had lived in the county at least two years and had exhibited an interest in county affairs be nominated.

2 Ex-Convicts To Be Tried

Two 30-year-old San Francisco men pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of burglarizing Tiburon and Corte Madera apartments.

A jury trial for George Ruiz Gonzales and Paul Herrera was set for the week of Jan. 4.

The men were arrested July 1 while seen fleeing from a Tiburon apartment. Both men are ex-convicts and are reportedly heroin addicts.

Shepherd Named To Housing Authority

Wallace K. Shepherd has been chosen executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, replacing Donald O. Sfutsman who resigned from the post in June.

Shepherd, who has served as acting executive director since July, was named Saturday by commissioners of both groups. He was one of 77 applicants for the job.

In assuming his new role, Shepherd said he hopes to "break the log jam which exists in regard to redevelopment in Marin County" and he indicated he will attempt "to make future housing programs compatible with Marin County's unique environment."

The new director came to work for the housing authority as administrative assistant in June of 1968. Before that, he worked for a year as field representative for the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

He has also been a representative for the North Bay Development Corporation and for 10 years was a civilian employee for the U.S. Air Force's Aero-Medical Squadron at Travis Air Force Base, Solano County.

While in Solano, Shepherd was instrumental in setting up a citizens police review committee to study problems between law enforcement officials and the community. He was also chairman of the labor and industry committee for the county chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Shepherd established the state's first Youth Opportunity Center — to provide employment and recreational opportunities for young people — in Vallejo and assisted in the organization of the Marin County Ecumenical Housing Council.

He and his wife, Artimae and three children live at 30 Amber Court, Novato.

Garage Car Theft

Suzanne Lecount Hendrickson of 905 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, reported today to police that her 1967 model car was taken from her garage sometime between 11 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

7 Drivers Sentenced For Drinking

Seven Persons have been sentenced by Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipa Court for drunken driving.

Marian Louise Patterson, 47 of 3 Coronet Drive, Mill Valley arrested Sept. 6 on Highway 101 was placed on probation for on year.

David Todd Stowell, 45, of 2 Trish Drive, Novato, arreste Nov. 3 on Highway 101, wa placed on probation for one yea and fined $150.

William Henry Patterson, 44 of 1563 Buchanan Street, Novato arrested Sept. 23 on Highwa 101, was placed on probation fo two years and fined $150.

Frank Cunningham, 48, of 2 Mc Dowell Street, Petaluma arrested Dec. 12, 1969 on High way 101, was placed on proba tion for three years and sent t jail for 30 days.

Frederick Bernard Faulkne 32, of 20 Kenrick Drive, San Anselmo, arrested July 7 on Mano Drive, was placed on probatio for one year and sent to jail fo two days.

Elmer Lawrence Nielsen, 51 of 2300 Sir Francis Drake Boule vard, Fairfax, arrested Oct. 1 on Highway 101, was placed o probation for one year and fine $150.

Roy Shigekazu Hirohama, 1 of San Francisco, arrested i Sausalito June 27, was placed o probation for one year and fine $150.

Pool Drive Not Part Of CSD

The Marin City Communit Services District has disclaime all responsibility for a fun drive, now under way in Mari County, to build a swimmin pool for Marin City children according to Reba G. Mason secretary for the district.

The drive, including mone collection cans, is the work o Karibuni, Inc., a Sausalit community service organizatio headed by Gene Jones.

Mrs. Mason said the servic district wants the public to kno "that there has never been firm committment fro Karibuni that such a pool woul actually be built in Marin City.

Since the district "is withou proper information" regarding the proposed pool, Mrs. Maso said it would be impossible fo the district to "endorse solicitation of funds in our name.

"This does not, however mean that Karibuni, Inc. is engaged in any nefarious activities," she continued. "It merel indicates they have no connection with this organization an have not received our approva for their project."

Last Election Race Settled

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The nation's last undecided congressional race was settled Monday when Republican Rep. William O. Cowger conceded to Democrat Romano L. Mazzoli in the 3rd congressional district.

Mazzoli, 38, a state senator for four years, won the Nov. 3 election by 211 votes. Final certification has been blocked by a temporary injunction obtained by Cowger's lawyers.

Jefferson Circuit Judge Marvin J. Sternberg dissolved the injunction Friday. The judge denied Cowger's request for permanent injunction to hold up certification, which the congressman sought on the basis of a two-vote discrepancy found in one voting machine.

Cowger, a former Louisville mayor seeking his third term in the House, said in conceding that he would for years wonder "why the local Democratic power structure . . . used their muscle to block my attempt to remove this dark cloud over the election."

Belvedere To Study Merging Its Police With Tiburon's

The Belvedere City Council last night voted to form a committee to study the possible merger of its police force with Tiburon's.

The vote was 4-0 with Councilman Willard G. Pittman abstaining.

Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel was authorized to select a committee to meet with a similar committee from Tiburon.

The city attorney was asked to work with the city attorney of Tiburon to study ways in which this could be done legally.

Mayor Drechsel suggested possible ways of doing it: joint jurisdiction, the formation of a community service district or Belvedere contracting with Tiburon to furnish police service on an annual basis.

Councilman Thomas S. Price said he was willing to discuss the pros and cons, but did not want to rush into anything hastily. "With our police chief leaving, we might be pushed into action immediately," Price said.

Mayor Drechsel said that the committees should make a thorough study and perhaps have recommendations ready by July 1

Retiring Police Chief William S. Woodington said he thought merger was a good idea because it would give more efficient service.

"The two departments the sheriff's seven deputies on contract to Tiburon and the five Belvedere police officers have been working closely together now," the chief said. He added that there were times when each department called for help, but the other could not give it in time

The chief said that in his opinion a combined department should have two additional personnel as each department was too short handed at present time.

Price warned that the council should not lead the people into believing that it was feasible at this time.

"This is just a study to explore the possibilities," he said.

The Belvedere City Council also.

DISABILITY — Granted Police Chief Woodington 100 per cent disability This will increase his retirement by approximately $8,000 if he takes it in one sum. The chief will retire at the end of this month

CABLE TV — Passed a resolution asking the Tiburon City Council to approve a trunk line connection through Tiburon to Cable Television of Marin so that Belvedere would get better cable reception

LANE — Voted to abandon an unnamed lane at 280, 286, 288 and 290 Beach Road. The lane has been unused for years and houses have been constructed over it

DEBRIS BOX — Authorized City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to see if the City of Belvedere could put a collection box beside that of the City of Tiburon on the land owned by Sanitary District 5

ANNEXATION — Passed a resolution setting the effective date of San Rafael Avenue annexation as Oct. 6, 1969. Residents of the area have been paying taxes to Belvedere and the Tiburon Fire Protection District since that time

GENERATOR — Rejected the two bids for a standby generator for the Community House as neither bid met specifications.

CREST ROAD — Authorized the city manager to put a stop order on a new house being constructed on Crest Road to study if it meets the five foot setback requirement. The council received a petition from 10 families on the private road against the house.

VARIANCES — Referred to the planning commission for study the question of whether or not there should be a one-year delay between applications for a variance on the same property.

CORPORATION YARD — Authorized the city manager to see what restrictions should be placed on the Ireland and Robinson Inc corporation yard. The manager is to report back to the Jan 5 meeting.

FRONTAGE — Passed an ordinance limiting lots to 65 foot frontage

TELEPHONES — Heard a report that Pacific Telephone Co would start improving the equipment in June and that the city would have free calls to San Francisco in October of next year

CLOSED MEETING — Adjourned at midnight to a closed meeting to discuss qualifications for a new police chief.

Civic Groups Canvassed For Prospective Jurors

Marin Superior Court judges have asked 82 civic organizations in the county to submit names of prospective members for next year's grand jury.

Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of the Superior Court, said that he and the other four judges hope that 100 or more names will be submitted by Friday, the deadline.

Carrying out a suggestion made by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, the judges have asked the organizations for nominees in order that a broader cross section of the community will be represented on the jury panel than in the past.

Before, the judges have relied upon suggestions made to them by friends and acquaintances and persons whom they knew.

Judge Wilson explained that the list of those proposed will be whittled by the judges down to between 25 and 30 names as required by law. From that number, 19 names will be drawn at random for grand jury duty.

Although the judges drew up no rigid rules for qualifications, they suggested that only persons who had lived in the county at least two years and had exhibited an interest in county affairs be nominated.

2 Ex-Convicts To Be Tried

Two 30-year-old San Francisco men pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of burglarizing Tiburon and Corte Madera apartments.

A jury trial for George Ruiz Gonzales and Paul Herrera was set for the week of Jan. 4.

The men were arrested July 1 while seen fleeing from a Tiburon apartment. Both men are ex-convicts and are reportedly heroin addicts.

Annexation Door Open In Tiburon

Tiburon's planning commission and city council last night adopted a resolution legally opening the doors for the Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts to annex to the city.

The resolution, approved by the planners at 8 p.m. and then rushed to the council upstairs at city hall about 8:20 p.m., concerns only those areas which are north of Tiburon Boulevard.It does not include the Strawberry Peninsula.

Residents may now begin circulating petitions calling for the annexation which, if approved, would add about 985 registered voters to Tiburon's rolls.

SIMPLE MAJORITY

If at least 10 per cent of the voters in the area sign the petition, then the city will set a series of public hearings on the annexation proposal and call a special election. Only a simple majority of voters favoring the annexation is needed.

Councilmen last night voted 4-0 — with Carlisle Becker absent — to adopt the resolution.

The council made it clear that by last night's action that it was not discouraging annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula.

"This only means that the area north of Tiburon Boulevard might come into the city a little sooner," said Branwell D. Fanning.

The annexation of both of the areas received the approval of the Marin Council Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) last September.

A HOT ISSUE

The annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula area, which has the revenue-producing Strawberry Shopping Center, has been the object of some controversy since both Tiburon and Mill Valley have sought to annex it. Mill Valley's request to LAFCO however was rejected last September.

The Strawberry Peninsula area — which was not included in last night's action — is much larger in area and population. Annexation of that area would bring another 5,684 registered voters into Tiburon, almost doubling the city's number of voters.

The Assessed valuation of the Strawberry Peninsula is also much larger than the area north of Tiburon Boulevard. Its assessed valuation is currently set at $8.9 million compared to $3.6 million for the Bel Aire Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts.

Plenty Of Helium

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Bureau of Mines has told a House Appropriations subcommittee it has about 27 billion cubic feet of helium —a 37-year supply —stored underground.

U.S. Withdrawal An Accepted Fact

By LARRY MOWELL

"The United States pullout is accepted as a fact of life in South Vietnam," according to Saigon's representative in San Francisco.

Luong Nhi Ky, consul general of South Vietnam, told the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday that American withdrawal is expected "by this time next year at the latest."

Nevertheless, Ky said, "we shall continue to fight until peace and security are shielded."

Vietnam wants peace, but not peace at any price, Ky said.

He called the Communists a "small group of fanatic and organized revolutionaries who impose their will on a confused and frightened public" to achieve "liberation by terrorism and murder."

The Communists, he said, want peace on their terms only so the war-weary South Vietnamese will fight on.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are willing to negotiate peace only after unilateral American withdrawal, Ky said.

"You know very well it is not the allies in the Far East (who block peace); it is the totally ruthless Communists," he said.

The Communits will continue to hold a hard-line policy at the Paris peace talks, he said, as long as they are convinced America does not have the patience to thrash out a fair settlement to the war.

"This is very much a contest of determination and will," Ky said.

Ky has been consul general in San Francisco since 1967. He was attached to the Vietnamese embassy in Washington D.C. in 1965 when American combat troops were committed to Southeast Asia.

South Vietnam called for help only "when we were at the brink of disaster," Ky said.

About 100,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed and twice that number wounded in 10 years of fighting, he said. South Vietnam currently has more than one million of its 16 million people bearing arms, he said.

The opposition has about 150,000 regular troops in South Vietnam and 120,000 in neighboring countries, Ky maintained.

To turn back the Communist tide, Ky said it would take cooperation between America and Asian countries.

"Only close cooperation between the nations of Southeast Asia can prevent further incursions," Ky said.

America, as a Pacific power, must remain active in Asia or create a power vacuum that would be filled by Red China and Russia.

However, he saw no danger of either country committing itself to the Vietnamese conflict.

Captured Americans are considered as hostages by North Vietnam, which is trying to sap American will, he said.

However, if Americans can maintain their resolve while South Vietnam assumes the complete fighting burden, the Communist strategy will fail, Ky said.

Order Behind Defector Flap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Coast Guard admiral who ordered a Lithuanian sailor handed back to the Soviets did so in part because he did not want to jeopardize fishing talks that had been underway between the United States and Russia, according to an official report.

Reports released Monday by the White House pinpointed Adm. William B. Ellis, commander of the 1st Coast Guard District at Boston, as the man who gave the order without consulting Washington.

According to the Department of Transportation report, Ellis told the commander of the Coast Guard cutter involved that he was taking the action "in the interest of not fouling up any of our arrangements as far as the fishing situation is concerned."

Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group Plans Concert

The Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group will present the second program in the Homestead Valley Community Association's candlelight Concert series Sunday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

For this first of the three concerts to be performed by the group during the 1970-71 series the group will play: Kimmertrio in G Minor, Handel; Sinfonia from Cantata no. 12 for Oboe, Strings and Continuo, J. S. Bach; the Christmas Cantata "Was Gleicht Dem Adel Wahrer Christen" and Concerto for Trumpet and Two Oboes in D Minor, Telemann; Cantata Pastorale, Scarlatti; and London Trio for Two Violins and Cello, Haydn.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, soprano; Raymond Duste and Eleanor Biondi, Oboes; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola; Teressa Adams, cello; and Donald Pippin, harpsichord.

The evening concert will be preceded in the afternoon by a children's concert starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Shepherd Named To Housing Authority

Wallace K. Shepherd has been chosen executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, replacing Donald O. Sfutsman who resigned from the post in June.

Shepherd, who has served as acting executive director since July, was named Saturday by commissioners of both groups. He was one of 77 applicants for the job.

In assuming his new role, Shepherd said he hopes to "break the log jam which exists in regard to redevelopment in Marin County" and he indicated he will attempt "to make future housing programs compatible with Marin County's unique environment."

The new director came to work for the housing authority as administrative assistant in June of 1968. Before that, he worked for a year as field representative for the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

He has also been a representative for the North Bay Development Corporation and for 10 years was a civilian employee for the U.S. Air Force's Aero-Medical Squadron at Travis Air Force Base, Solano County.

While in Solano, Shepherd was instrumental in setting up a citizens police review committee to study problems between law enforcement officials and the community. He was also chairman of the labor and industry committee for the county chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Shepherd established the state's first Youth Opportunity Center — to provide employment and recreational opportunities for young people — in Vallejo and assisted in the organization of the Marin County Ecumenical Housing Council.

He and his wife, Artimae and three children live at 30 Amber Court, Novato.

Pool Drive Not Part Of CSD

The Marin City Community Services District has disclaimed all responsibility for a fund drive, now under way in Marin County, to build a swimming pool for Marin City children, according to Reba G. Mason secretary for the district.

The drive, including money collection cans, is the work of Karibuni, Inc., a Sausalito community service organization headed by Gene Jones.

Mrs. Mason said the service district wants the public to know "that there has never been a firm committment from Karibuni that such a pool would actually be built in Marin City.

Since the district "is without proper information" regarding the proposed pool, Mrs. Mason said it would be impossible for the district to "endorse solicitation of funds in our name.

"This does not, however, mean that Karibuni, Inc. is engaged in any nefarious activities," she continued. "It merely indicates they have no connection with this organization and have not received our approval for their project."

Last Election Race Settled

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The nation's last undecided congressional race was settled Monday when Republican Rep. William O. Cowger conceded to Democrat Romano L. Mazzoli in the 3rd congressional district.

Mazzoli, 38, a state senator for four years, won the Nov. 3 election by 211 votes. Final certification has been blocked by a temporary injunction obtained by Cowger's lawyers.

Jefferson Circuit Judge Marvin J. Sternberg dissolved the injunction Friday. The judge denied Cowger's request for permanent injunction to hold up certification, which the congressman sought on the basis of a two-vote discrepancy found in one voting machine.

Cowger, a former Louisville mayor seeking his third term in the House, said in conceding that he would for years wonder "why the local Democratic power structure . . . used their muscle to block my attempt to remove this dark cloud over the election."

Nolan's Stirring Halftime Talk

What happens when a team smells out a stadium in the first half and then comes roaring back in championship form in the second half?

That's what the 49ers did Sunday at Kezar Stadium, trailing 13-0 after five minutes of play and 20-7 at half.

What transpired in the locker room at halftime that inspired this most successful 49er team in several years to a dramatic 24-20 triumph? What did Coach Dick Nolan say at halftime?

"For the first time he really read the riot act to us," said Windsor. "And I was glad to see it. We were playing crappy football. Nolan said, 'You just get your fannies out there and play football, rock and sock 'em, or you'll just get blown out of this park.' And we would have."

Windsor admitted Nolan usually keeps his cool under adverse conditions, but Sunday's riot act "did my heart good. It was the most stirring halftime talk I've ever heard in pro football. We needed it after that flat first half."

Like the rest of his teammates, Windsor, a fourth year 49er from Kentucky, exudes confidence. He concluded his question and answer session with the 80 or so Goal Rushers with: "The only thing I can say is that we're going to go all the way." Cheers.

He referred to final regular season games at New Orleans next Sunday and at Oakland in what looms as the game of the year on Dec. 20. "It's going to be a helluva game," Windsor promised. "I feel deep down inside we can beat Oakland; we have the personnel." This in spite of the fact the Raiders have won three straight over the 49ers in their cross-bay rivalry, including a 31-17 romp this pre-season.

Asked to predict next Monday's key Los Angeles-Detroit television battle, Windsor said: "I have to go for Detroit. They have the best team and the momentum going for them."

In comparing L.A. Ram Roman Gabriel with Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, Windsor said Gabriel is "really a strong quarterback but Lamonica is the better play caller. Of course, I can't believe that old man," referring to Lamonica's backup, old George Blanda, who has been pulling miracles all year."

Windsor surprised many Goal Rushers by revealing that running back Bill Tucker was awarded the game ball Sunday. Many thought defensive tackle Earl Edwards deserved it because he was all over Atlanta quarterback Bob Berry most of the afternoon. "Yes," Windsor said, "Earl was really fired up. And I think that Tucker will get a couple (of touchdowns) this week" at New Orleans.

Asked why the 49er screen pass, so effective early this season, has been consistently stopped in recent games, Windsor explained: "I guess maybe we're tipping it off to the defense. Or maybe we've been running it too often."

Key play in Sunday's game was a 58-yard John Brodie-to-Gene Washington pass that assured the 49er victory. It was a risky play called deep from their own territory. "In the huddle," Windsor said, "Brodie told Gene, 'I think we can beat them with this one. Just get out there and go and I'll get it to you.' A play like that," said Windsor, "really charges you up."

He said Atlanta is "one of the most physicial teams in the league" and defensive end Claude Humphrey is ". . . one of the most aggressive men in football."

The 6-foot-4, 229-pounder explained the numerous penalties in the game resulted from "flared tempers. It was a physical game, a bitter game." Also, because Atlanta Coach Norman Van Brocklin has said unkind words about the Niners, "We're all bitter" against the Dutchman. "He said we lay down. We don't lay down and yesterday we showed him we can play rock-sock, too."

No Day Off For Browns

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Cleveland Browns are so determined to beat cross-state rival Cincinnati for the AFC's Central Division crown they passed up a day off this week and returned to work at noon today to begin preparing for Saturday's game with the Dallas Cowboys.

The Players decided to skip the day of rest during a quick meeting in the locker room of the Astrodome Monday night after beating the Houston Oilers 21-10. That put the Browns in a first place tie with Coach Paul Brown's Bengals, each with 6-6 records with only two games to go.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns said he planned to give the players the day off, "but they insisted they wanted to come back and decided to meet at noon.

"Four of us (coaches) won't even go home," Collier said. "We won't get home until 4 a.m. so Fritz (Heisler), (Bob) Nussbaumer and (Howard) Keys and I will stay in a hotel."

Collier said the Browns' goal line stand in the second quarter was the turning point of the game. Trailing 3-0, the Browns stopped the Oilers' Joe Dawkins twice inside the one yard line midway through the second period.

Tackle Jim Houston, who calls defensive plays for the Browns, said the line slanted the correct way both times, first to the left to stop Dawkins going off right tackle and then to the right to stop Dawkins as he headed for left end.

"It's just a matter of sheer luck," Houston said. "If we slant the wrong way, it's a touchdown."

Individually, Ron Snidow, a second team defensive end, was the star of the stand. He moved inside the blockers to stop Dawkins the first time and then raced over to help linebacker Billy Andrews and end Jack Gregory stop him the second time. (Snidow played his Prep ball at San Rafael High School before going onto Oregon.)

Then the Browns drove 99 and two-thirds yards to score and go ahead 7-3 with eight seconds remaining in the first half. The key play in the drive was a third-down-and-seven draw play from their own 4 when Leroy Kelly broke for 32 yards to put the ball out of danger.

The next test was a third-and-eight situation on the Brown 38 and quarterback Bill Nelsen threw 26 yards to wide receiver Fair Hooker to put the ball on the Houston 36.

Seven plays later, Nelsen hit veteran Gary Collins for a one-yard touchdown pass. The other Brown touchdowns were a two-yard run by Bo Scott in the third quarter and a one-yard run by Kelly in the fourth period.

Kelly finished with 20 carries for 108 yards, the second time this season and the 22nd time in his career he has made more than 100 yards in a game. Scott's touchdown came after a pass interference call on Kenny Houston against Chip Glass moved the ball from the 20 to the 2.

The penalty was another big third down play that the Browns and Nelsen kept making all night. In that same drive—on third-and-four—Nel-

Warriors Show Need For Mullins

CHICAGO (UPI) —The San Francisco Warriors have proved the obvious. They need the backcourt gunning of Jeff Mullins.

The 6-4 Mullins missed Monday night's game with Cincinnati and the Royals rolled 124-113. For some strange reason, the game was played in Omaha.

Mullins received a fractured cheekbone when he took an elbow against Phoenix last Saturday. He may be able to play tonight wearing a special mask.

The Warriors emerged with a 15-13 mark. They're not only fading back of Los Angeles (15-10), but San Diego (16-14) is breathing down their neck.

San Francisco must play seven games in nine days in a killing road test and could use a win or two in a hurry. They hope to get hot against the Chicago Bulls tonight.

Peetz Is Elected Yacht Club Head

Dr. C. J. "Jack" Peetz of Corte Madera was elected commodore of Loch Lomond Yacht Club for 1971 at a membership meeting last week. Also elected were Robert C. Ryan as vice commodore and Stanley T. Moore, rear commodore. Both are San Rafael residents.

Other newly elected club officers are R. J. Naylor of Greenbrae, secretary; Robert Candee of San Rafael, treasurer; Henry Serra of San Rafael, port captain; Frank Chun of San Francisco, power fleet captain; and Donald A. Huffman of San Rafael, sail fleet captain.

Dr. Peetz will succeed Robert Montgomery of Daly City, who will become a director. Other directors elected at the meeting are Charles Rosenbaum and Merle S. Greenblat, both of San Rafael.

Cassius Clay Thinks Ahead About Fight With Frazier

Whips Oscar Bonavena On TKO In 15th Round

NEW YORK (UPI) – Cassius Clay was hardly out of the ring after his 15th round technical knockout of Oscar Bonavena, but now Joe Frazier was on his mind.

"I'm sore, tired and I don't want to fight no more," said Clay, who was gored and butted by Bonavena before finally ending the evening's frustration with three knockdowns in the last round for a technical knockout with just 57 seconds left.

"He had me going in the six; in the ninth I thought maybe I had been predicting my own knockout all the time instead of his; and sometime during the 12th I said 'is it all worth it?'"

But then Yank Durham, the manager of Frazier, who won the heavyweight title after Clay was stripped of the crown and banned from boxing in 1967, stuck his head in the room. Frazier and Clay will meet here in February. "Joe says you'll go in six," Durham said.

"I'm done with all that predicting myself," the 28-year-old Clay replied," but I'll have some words for him later."

The $10-million bout with Frazier will give the fighters the biggest payday in sports history, but Clay was still counting his blessings for getting past Bonavena instead of counting the money he will get from his next bout.

For nearly the entire fight, the bull from Argentina had gored and butted away at Clay, a matador in red-tasseled dancing shoes. Bonavena's headlong charge across the ring and wild low blow at the opening bell let Clay know exactly what was going to be in store for him. The referee, Mark Conn, frowned on Bonavena's tactics early, however, and took that first round away from him.

From the start of the ninth, Clay, who had an eight-pound advantage at 212, came down off his toes and went for the knockout, and he wound up being staggered himself. Clay fell to the canvas in a vain atempt to connect with the stopper, and Bonavena came back after being momentarily stunned to bloody Clay's mouth and send him reeling back to his corner.

"He should have gone down," Clay complained to his cornermen after the barrage failed.

Even at the end, Clay couldn't put the bull down for good. The matador had hoped for a cruel kill, but Bonavena got up after being clubbed to the canvas for the third time for an automatic technical knockout.

A hard right dropped him on his side with a minute gone in the last round, and Bonavena's eyes were glazed as he staggered to his feet. Then came another barrage, and as Clay stood over him, ignoring the referee's orders to go to a neutral corner, a towel was tossed into the ring by one of the Argentine cornermen. Conn ignored the towel, and Bonavena tumbled to the canvas once again from another flurry to end the bout.

Until the TKO, the scorecards all had Clay leading. Conn had it 12-2, while the judges had it 10-3-1 and 8-5-1.

"That man is better than I thought," admitted Clay, who was making his second comeback fight after disposing of Jerry Quarry on a cut eye only last Oct. 26. "He's better than Joe Frazier. I sure know I won't need another tuneup for Frazier."

The 28-year-old Bonavena, a mere 6-to-1 prohibitive underdog, agreed that Clay was ready for the champion. Bonavena lost two decisions in going a total of 25 rounds with Frazier and knocked him down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"This man, he the champion," Bonavena said, pointing to Clay.

The victory was the 31st in a row and 25th knockout for Clay. It was Bonavena's seventh loss against 46 victories and marked the first time he had ever been stopped.

A crowd of 19,417 paid $615,401 to watch the bout. Even more people will pay more money to watch the battle between the unbeaten champions, Frazier and Clay.

Clay's Win Doesn't Impress Joe Frazier

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier watched Cassius Clay succeed where he had failed, but still was not impressed.

In two bouts, Frazier went a total of 25 rounds in winning a pair of decisions from Bonagena and the champion was knocked down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"The way I saw it, Bonavena won every round," Frazier said after watching the bout on closed circuit television at Monticello Raceway. "Furthermore, I thought Clay fought a dirty fight. I thought Bonavena would fight dirty, but Clay's actions were unsportsmanlike, especially coming from a former champion."

Frazier accused Clay of leaning on his opponent and spinning him into the ropes.

"All those mistakes Clay made tonight," he'll make again," Frazier predicted. "And when he does, hello, look out. One thing for sure, our fight won't go the distance."

Frazier will go into training in Philadelphia next Monday for a proposed bout with Clay in February that will provide the biggest payday in sports history.

"I'm not looking for the money, even though they say it will be the richest purse in history," Frazier said. "This is one guy I want to whip, and I'm going to whip him."

49ers' Edwards Still Gets Praise Over Sunday's Play

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Big Earl Edwards is still getting accolades for his play against Atlanta in the frantic 24-20 win over Atlanta that kept San Francisco in the thick of the division and playoff fights.

Forty Niners defensive line coach Paul Wiggin confirmed what was apparent to the fans —that the 272-pound Edwards outmuscles 257-pound Andy Maurer all day.

Edwards called it "the best game I ever played."

San Francisco emerged with an 8-3-1 record—the first time since the 1957 season that they have achieved the eight win mark. They still have to play Sunday at New Orleans and next week at Oakland.

The 49ers fans also can't quite figure out who to root for in next Monday night's Los Angeles-Detroit titanic. The Rams are also 8-3-1, yet a loss by Detroit, New York, and Dallas and a win by the Forty Niners at New Orleans could get the prospector in the playoffs no matter what.

An underrated tussle for both the Rams and 49er's playoffs hopes is Saturday's Dallas invasion of Cleveland. It would be a huge boost for both Coast squads if Cleveland pulled the small upset to hand Dallas its fifth loss. Cowboys don't figure to lose their final game with Houston.

Washington Blacks Meet With Regents

SEATTLE (UPI) —A dozen black University of Washington athletes held a 2-1-2-hour meeting here Monday night with the school's regents, President Dr. Charles Odegaard and athletic director Joe Kearney.

It was the first meeting between school officials and blacks since four football players resigned Nov. 23 charging the coaching staff with racial injustices.

Raiders' Tackles Ready For Chiefs

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland Raiders not only pulled their weekly miracle act in nipping New York, but they did it without their injured first-string defensive tackles.

This means that both Tom Keating and Carleton Oats should be ready to go when Kansas City and Oakland match 7-3-2 records Saturday in their annual war of the red and black at the Oakland Coliseum.

The last second Warren Wells catch of a Daryle Lamonica toss at Shea Stadium meant that Oakland has won three and tied one with less than five seconds showing on the clock. When they edged Denver, there was 2:28 left when the final score came.

Coach John Madden praised his defensive unit not only for their play throughout the Jets' game, but also for calling quick time outs when the Jets ran their last three plays. The series took only about 20 seconds.

They finally had to punt it to George Atkinson who ran it 10 yards back to the Oakland 30 with 38 seconds on the clock.

Meanwhile, the Raider offense had been huddling on the sideline. "We had a play all ready, so we didn't have to huddle," said Madden. "We just lined up and ran it."

The play resulted in a pass interference at the New York 33. Lamonica then tossed it to Wells, who caught it when one of three New York defenders around him batted it up in the air.

Among those who missed the weekly mwgic show were a host of New York writers who were headed to the Jets' dressing room to congratulate the winners.

They watched in wonder as the Oakland Raiders came by laughing and cheering and the Jets walked glumly into their dressing room.

Annexation Door Open In Tiburon

Tiburon's planning commission and city council last night adopted a resolution legally opening the doors for the Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts to annex to the city.

The resolution, approved by the planners at 8 p.m. and then rushed to the council upstairs at city hall about 8:20 p.m., concerns only those areas which are north of Tiburon Boulevard.It does not include the Strawberry Peninsula.

Residents may now begin circulating petitions calling for the annexation which, if approved, would add about 985 registered voters to Tiburon's rolls.

SIMPLE MAJORITY

If at least 10 per cent of the voters in the area sign the petition, then the city will set a series of public hearings on the annexation proposal and call a special election. Only a simple majority of voters favoring the annexation is needed.

Councilmen last night voted 4-0 — with Carlisle Becker absent — to adopt the resolution.

The council made it clear that by last night's action that it was not discouraging annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula.

"This only means that the area north of Tiburon Boulevard might come into the city a little sooner," said Branwell D. Fanning.

The annexation of both of the areas received the approval of the Marin Council Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) last September.

A HOT ISSUE

The annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula area, which has the revenue-producing Strawberry Shopping Center, has been the object of some controversy since both Tiburon and Mill Valley have sought to annex it. Mill Valley's request to LAFCO however was rejected last September.

The Strawberry Peninsula area — which was not included in last night's action — is much larger in area and population. Annexation of that area would bring another 5,684 registered voters into Tiburon, almost doubling the city's number of voters.

The Assessed valuation of the Strawberry Peninsula is also much larger than the area north of Tiburon Boulevard. Its assessed valuation is currently set at $8.9 million compared to $3.6 million for the Bel Aire Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts.

U.S. Withdrawal An Accepted Fact

By LARRY MOWELL

"The United States pullout is accepted as a fact of life in South Vietnam," according to Saigon's representative in San Francisco.

Luong Nhi Ky, consul general of South Vietnam, told the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday that American withdrawal is expected "by this time next year at the latest."

Nevertheless, Ky said, "we shall continue to fight until peace and security are shielded."

Vietnam wants peace, but not peace at any price, Ky said.

He called the Communists a "small group of fanatic and organized revolutionaries who impose their will on a confused and frightened public" to achieve "liberation by terrorism and murder."

The Communists, he said, want peace on their terms only so the war-weary South Vietnamese will fight on.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are willing to negotiate peace only after unilateral American withdrawal, Ky said.

"You know very well it is not the allies in the Far East (who block peace); it is the totally ruthless Communists," he said.

The Communits will continue to hold a hard-line policy at the Paris peace talks, he said, as long as they are convinced America does not have the patience to thrash out a fair settlement to the war.

"This is very much a contest of determination and will," Ky said.

Ky has been consul general in San Francisco since 1967. He was attached to the Vietnamese embassy in Washington D.C. in 1965 when American combat troops were committed to Southeast Asia.

South Vietnam called for help only "when we were at the brink of disaster," Ky said.

About 100,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed and twice that number wounded in 10 years of fighting, he said. South Vietnam currently has more than one million of its 16 million people bearing arms, he said.

The opposition has about 150,000 regular troops in South Vietnam and 120,000 in neighboring countries, Ky maintained.

To turn back the Communist tide, Ky said it would take cooperation between America and Asian countries.

"Only close cooperation between the nations of Southeast Asia can prevent further incursions," Ky said.

America, as a Pacific power, must remain active in Asia or create a power vacuum that would be filled by Red China and Russia.

However, he saw no danger of either country committing itself to the Vietnamese conflict.

Captured Americans are considered as hostages by North Vietnam, which is trying to sap American will, he said.

However, if Americans can maintain their resolve while South Vietnam assumes the complete fighting burden, the Communist strategy will fail, Ky said.

Order Behind Defector Flap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Coast Guard admiral who ordered a Lithuanian sailor handed back to the Soviets did so in part because he did not want to jeopardize fishing talks that had been underway between the United States and Russia, according to an official report.

Reports released Monday by the White House pinpointed Adm. William B. Ellis, commander of the 1st Coast Guard District at Boston, as the man who gave the order without consulting Washington.

According to the Department of Transportation report, Ellis told the commander of the Coast Guard cutter involved that he was taking the action "in the interest of not fouling up any of our arrangements as far as the fishing situation is concerned."

Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group Plans Concert

The Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group will present the second program in the Homestead Valley Community Association's candlelight Concert series Sunday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

For this first of the three concerts to be performed by the group during the 1970-71 series the group will play: Kimmertrio in G Minor, Handel; Sinfonia from Cantata no. 12 for Oboe, Strings and Continuo, J. S. Bach; the Christmas Cantata "Was Gleicht Dem Adel Wahrer Christen" and Concerto for Trumpet and Two Oboes in D Minor, Telemann; Cantata Pastorale, Scarlatti; and London Trio for Two Violins and Cello, Haydn.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, soprano; Raymond Duste and Eleanor Biondi, Oboes; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola; Teressa Adams, cello; and Donald Pippin, harpsichord.

The evening concert will be preceded in the afternoon by a children's concert starting at 2:30 o'clock.

An Exciting Day At The Meeting

If you couldn't attend the winter baseball meetings and feel a little left out of things, tell you what you do: Get 200 guys with brooms and one pile of dirt and get them to sweep that same pile back and forth across the floor for five days.

Or, you can sit and stare at a closed door for 12 hours. Arrange for someone to come out solemnly from time to time, rap for attention, and then read off the correct time. Put a notice ostentatiously on a bulletin board calling attention to the fact tomorrow is Saturday. Drink lots of coffee. Phone around for night harness passes. Call your relatives and explain you can't drop around and see them because you're sitting on a lot of fast-breaking stories. Send hairy stories back to the home office hinting the home team is about to trade so that its infield next year would be 8-5 against the league All-Stars and will have Henry Aaron on first, Tony Perez on second, Ron Santo at short, and Brooks Robinson on third.

11:30 a.m. — Dodgers announce they have made "serious" offer to Mets: Fred Norman and Von Joshua for Tom Seaver, Gary Gentry, Staten Island and an unnamed state to be named later.

11:35 — Mets counter-offer Rod Gaspar, Art Shamsky and Duffy Dyer for entire Dodger pitching staff, Griffith Park, and Grauman's Chinese Theater and Alpine County.

Noon — "Minor-League-Executive-of-the-Year" named, committee formed to bring him award at gas station he now works in. His minor league disbanded after setting attendance record of 928 for 150-game schedule.

1 p.m. — Bob Short of Washington Senators petitions baseball for permission to dicker for Eddie Cicotte, Chick Gandil, and Danny Gardella.

1:15 p.m. — Frank Robinson, who wins 80 games a year for Baltimore Orioles, put out as trade bait for pitcher who might win 15.

1:20 p.m. — New Orleans offers to share new domed stadium with existing franchise which might be willing to schedule a portion of its 81 home games in it — say 27 to 30. Baseball enthusiastic. Offers them Little Rock. San Diego, however, offers to share. Suggests 80 games as a starter.

2:15 p.m. — Unofficial Pioneer League averages posted.

2:20 p.m. — Casey Stengel holds impromptu press conference — a detailed critique of John McGraw's pitching choices in the 1923 World Series, followed by a long discourse on how to pitch to Dolph Camilli, followed by capsule observation on the success of the Mets: "It must do 'em some good to go to college, myself, I took up denistry."

2:45 p.m. — Suggestion is made to speed up the game by making the infield-fly rule applicable even when no one is on base. Someone suggests an even better method would be to expand the infield-fly rule to include the outfield. It is moved and seconded that any ball hit in the direction of Frank Howard be excepted.

3 p.m. — Major trade announced: Three .220 hitters exchanged for three five-game winners. "This trade will hurt both clubs," is pressroom consensus.

8 p.m. — First annual Baseball Awards Banquet. Statuettes in the form of banjos will be awarded to hitters and gophers to the pitchers. Umpires' will be white canes. Umpire Ken Burkhart is given first umpiring award for proving conclusively that eyesight and / or position has nothing to do with good play-calling in recognition of his deciding a World Series game (or a World Series) on a play where he interfered with 1) the baserunner; 2) the ptcher; 3) the ball — and called it all while both eyes were staring straight up at the sky as he fell. The award will be in Braille, and will include a new collar for his dog.

The next award will go to Henry Aaron, not for his 3,000 hit or his 600th home run, but for his 8,000 popups, his 17,000 foul tips, and his 2,109 dribblers along the first-base line. Frank Howard will be saluted for losing a ball in the lights in a day game. Art Shamsky will be saluted for the throws that took the most bounces on the way to the cut-off man. Earl Weaver will get the award as the "non-manager of the year" for the second consecutive year. Bob Short will be saluted for having put together an act that's funnier than Congress. The Montreal Expos get the award for the highest attendance for a minor-league team. Walter O'Malley gets a plaque for the longest tenure as commissioner of baseball since Arnold Rothstein, and the San Diego Padres get the St. Louis Browns' award for breaking the Browns' season record for playing before most empty seats.

Kerr, Furlong Are Honored By Boosters

Larry Kerr of Terra Linda High School and Dan Furlong of Tomales High, Marin County's nominees for the 11th annual National Football Foundation Hall of Fame scholar-athlete scholarships, were honored yesterday by the Marin chapter of the San Francisco 49ers Boosters.

Kerr, a linebacker-quarterback who was the Marin County Athletic League player of the year, and Furlong, a two-way tackle named to the North Coast League's all-conference team for two straight years, were honored along with head coach Jim Kovalik of Tomales and assistant coach Dick Schultz of Terra Linda at the Boosters' weekly luncheon at Holiday Inn in Terra Linda.

Armed Man Shot During TV Fight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A man, armed with a "small sword," was shot to death Monday night at the Spectrum where the Cassius Clay-Oscar Bonavena bout was telecast from New York City.

Captain Alex Sikora said the victim was shot to death by an off-duty police officer. The victim carried "a small sword about 12 inches long" and was shot as he tried to attack the off-duty officer, Sikora said.

The shooting occurred in a rear level concourse of the multi-million dollar South Philadelphia sports facility.

son passed nine yards to Homer Jones, and on third-and-11 he passed 13 yards to Collins.

The Oilers' only points came on a 43-yard first quarter field goal by Roy Gerela and a 9-yard touchdown pass from Jerry Rhome to Jim Beirne with 1:52 to go in the game.

The loss dropped the Oilers to 3-8-1 and mathematically eliminated them from contention in the Central Division.

Falcons Dying, Report Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Peregrine falcons, who dive on their prey at 100 miles an hour, are becoming extinct because of pesticides, the State Fish and Game Department reports.

Dr. Steven G. Herman, Humboldt State College naturalist who prepared the report, said Monday that only 10 of the lightning-swift birds were counted in California during this year's nesting season.

Herman said the state survey found only two nests with eggs this summer, from which only four falcons were born.

"This means there are fewer than 10 pairs of falcons that laid eggs," he estimated.

Longhorns Win UPI Top Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Texas, its mighty offensive machine having ground down 10 opponents this season, is United Press International's national champion for 1970.

The high-scoring Longhorns were named first on 25 of the 33 ballots cast Monday by the 35-member UPI Board of Coaches. Texas finished with 321 points to easily outdistance runner-up Ohio State, second with 284.

UPI's national champion is selected on regular season performance only and does not include post-season participation.

Nebraska (10-0-1) finished third behind Ohio State, with Tennessee fourth and Notre Dame fifth. Louisiana State, Michigan, Arizona State, Auburn and Stanford completed the top 10.

Alcindor Retains His Scoring Lead

Robertson, one of Alcindor's key feeders, has the fourth best assists record with an 8.3 average. This scoring duo propelled Milwaukee to a 20-3 record in the fastest getaway of the league this season.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego and Boston's John Havlicek are tied for second place in scoring with 29.4 averages.

Jerry West of Los Angeles, the defending scoring champion, heads the league in assists with a 10.2 average. The likeable Laker will soon become the fifth man in league history to reach the 20,000-point plateau. He now has 19,829 career points.

Golf

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lee Trevino has regained the lead in 1970 golf earnings with a total of $147,522 after tying for third in the Coral Springs Open last weekend, it was announced Monday by the PGA Tournament Players Division.

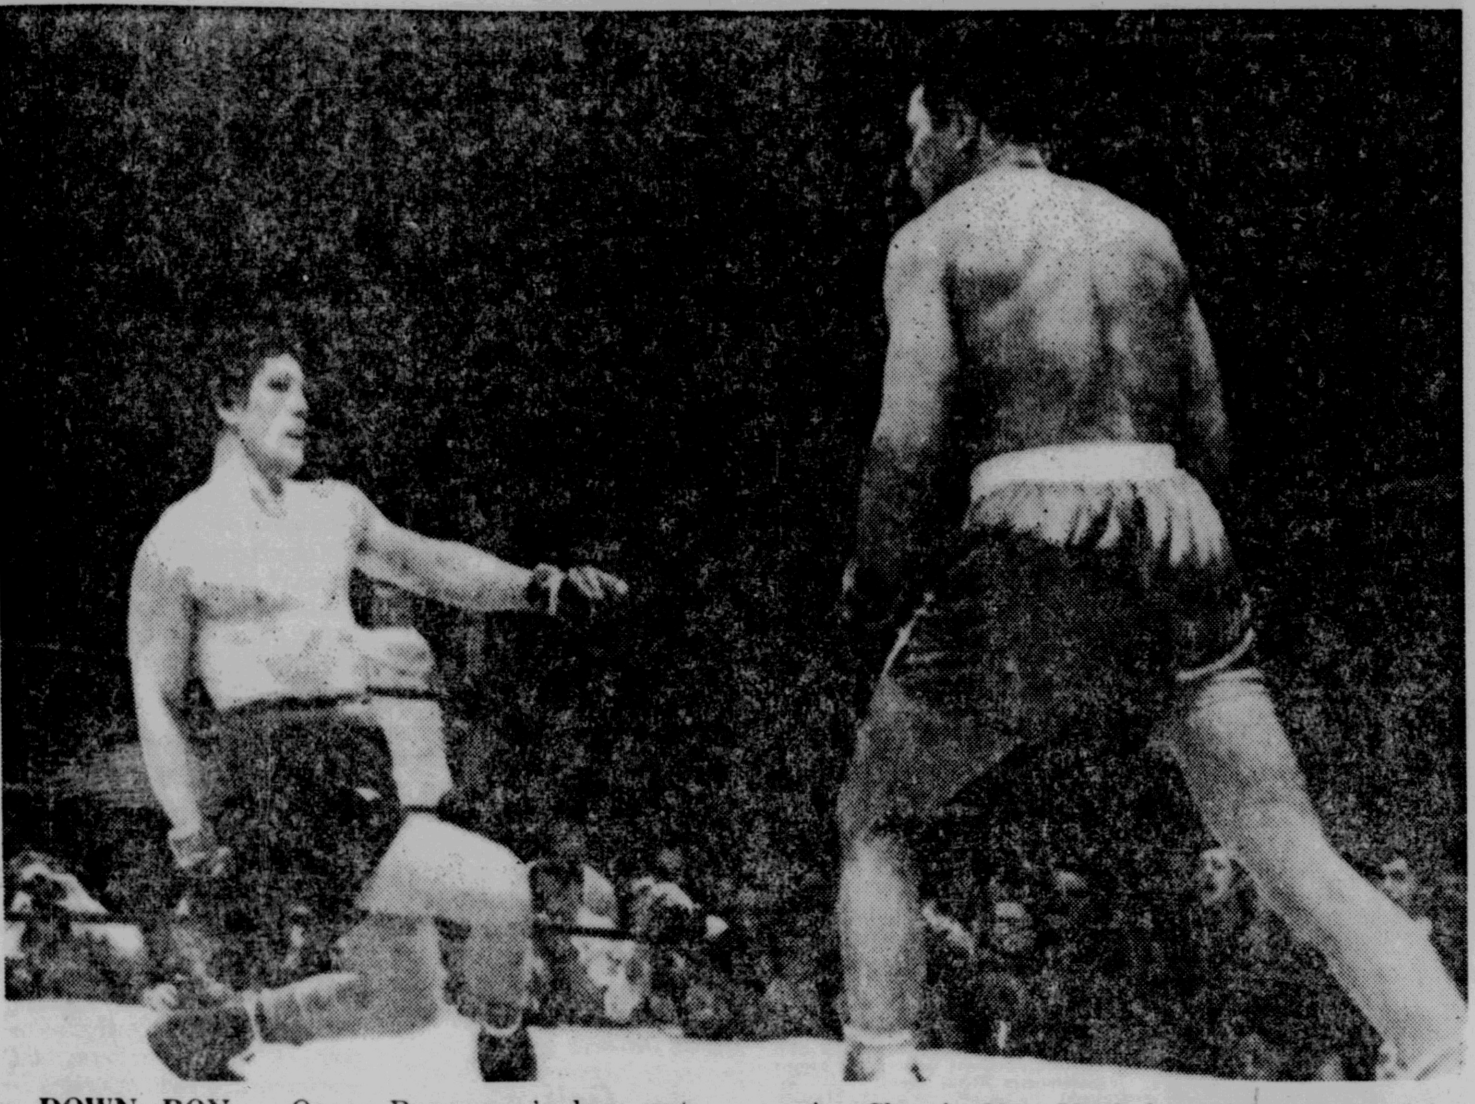
Cassius Clay Thinks Ahead About Fight With Frazier



DOWN, BOY — Oscar Bonavena's legs got rubbery as he went down for the second time in 15th round of heavyweight bout against Cassius Clay in New York last night. Bonavena went down a third time later in the round for an automatic technical knockout.

Nolan's Stirring Halftime Talk

What happens when a team smells out a stadium in the first half and then comes roaring back in championship form in the second half?

That's what the 49ers did Sunday at Kezar Stadium, trailing 13-0 after five minutes of play and 20-7 at half.

What transpired in the locker room at halftime that inspired this most successful 49er team in several years to a dramatic 24-20 triumph? What did Coach Dick Nolan say at halftime?

"For the first time he really read the riot act to us," said Windsor. "And I was glad to see it. We were playing crappy football. Nolan said, 'You just get your fannies out there and play football, rock and sock 'em, or you'll just get blown out of this park.' And we would have."

Windsor admitted Nolan usually keeps his cool under adverse conditions, but Sunday's riot act "did my heart good. It was the most stirring halftime talk I've ever heard in pro football. We needed it after that flat first half."

Like the rest of his teammates, Windsor, a fourth year 49er from Kentucky, exudes confidence. He concluded his question and answer session with the 80 or so Goal Rushers with: "The only thing I can say is that we're going to go all the way." Cheers.

He referred to final regular season games at New Orleans next Sunday and at Oakland in what looms as the game of the year on Dec. 20. "It's going to be a helluva game," Windsor promised. "I feel deep down inside we can beat Oakland; we have the personnel." This in spite of the fact the Raiders have won three straight over the 49ers in their cross-bay rivalry, including a 31-17 romp this pre-season.

Asked to predict next Monday's key Los Angeles-Detroit television battle, Windsor said: "I have to go for Detroit. They have the best team and the momentum going for them."

In comparing L.A. Ram Roman Gabriel with Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, Windsor said Gabriel is "really a strong quarterback but Lamonica is the better play caller. Of course, I can't believe that old man," referring to Lamonica's backup, old George Blanda, who has been pulling miracles all year."

Windsor surprised many Goal Rushers by revealing that running back Bill Tucker was awarded the game ball Sunday. Many thought defensive tackle Earl Edwards deserved it because he was all over Atlanta quarterback Bob Berry most of the afternoon. "Yes," Windsor said, "Earl was really fired up. And I think that Tucker will get a couple (of touchdowns) this week" at New Orleans.

Asked why the 49er screen pass, so effective early this season, has been consistently stopped in recent games, Windsor explained: "I guess maybe we're tipping it off to the defense. Or maybe we've been running it too often."

Key play in Sunday's game was a 58-yard John Brodie-to-Gene Washington pass that assured the 49er victory. It was a risky play called deep from their own territory. "In the huddle," Windsor said, "Brodie told Gene, 'I think we can beat them with this one. Just get out there and go and I'll get it to you.' A play like that," said Windsor, "really charges you up."

He said Atlanta is "one of the most physicial teams in the league" and defensive end Claude Humphrey is ". . . one of the most aggressive men in football."

The 6-foot-4, 229-pounder explained the numerous penalties in the game resulted from "flared tempers. It was a physical game, a bitter game." Also, because Atlanta Coach Norman Van Brocklin has said unkind words about the Niners, "We're all bitter" against the Dutchman. "He said we lay down. We don't lay down and yesterday we showed him we can play rock-sock, too."

No Day Off For Browns

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Cleveland Browns are so determined to beat cross-state rival Cincinnati for the AFC's Central Division crown they passed up a day off this week and returned to work at noon today to begin preparing for Saturday's game with the Dallas Cowboys.

The Players decided to skip the day of rest during a quick meeting in the locker room of the Astrodome Monday night after beating the Houston Oilers 21-10. That put the Browns in a first place tie with Coach Paul Brown's Bengals, each with 6-6 records with only two games to go.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns said he planned to give the players the day off, "but they insisted they wanted to come back and decided to meet at noon.

"Four of us (coaches) won't even go home," Collier said. "We won't get home until 4 a.m. so Fritz (Heisler), (Bob) Nussbaumer and (Howard) Keys and I will stay in a hotel."

Collier said the Browns' goal line stand in the second quarter was the turning point of the game. Trailing 3-0, the Browns stopped the Oilers' Joe Dawkins twice inside the one yard line midway through the second period.

Tackle Jim Houston, who calls defensive plays for the Browns, said the line slanted the correct way both times, first to the left to stop Dawkins going off right tackle and then to the right to stop Dawkins as he headed for left end.

"It's just a matter of sheer luck," Houston said. "If we slant the wrong way, it's a touchdown."

Individually, Ron Snidow, a second team defensive end, was the star of the stand. He moved inside the blockers to stop Dawkins the first time and then raced over to help linebacker Billy Andrews and end Jack Gregory stop him the second time. (Snidow played his Prep ball at San Rafael High School before going onto Oregon.)

Then the Browns drove 99 and two-thirds yards to score and go ahead 7-3 with eight seconds remaining in the first half. The key play in the drive was a third-down-and-seven draw play from their own 4 when Leroy Kelly broke for 32 yards to put the ball out of danger.

The next test was a third-and-eight situation on the Brown 38 and quarterback Bill Nelsen threw 26 yards to wide receiver Fair Hooker to put the ball on the Houston 36.

Seven plays later, Nelsen hit veteran Gary Collins for a one-yard touchdown pass. The other Brown touchdowns were a two-yard run by Bo Scott in the third quarter and a one-yard run by Kelly in the fourth period.

Kelly finished with 20 carries for 108 yards, the second time this season and the 22nd time in his career he has made more than 100 yards in a game. Scott's touchdown came after a pass interference call on Kenny Houston against Chip Glass moved the ball from the 20 to the 2.

The penalty was another big third down play that the Browns and Nelsen kept making all night. In that same drive—on third-and-four—Nel-

Warriors Show Need For Mullins

CHICAGO (UPI) —The San Francisco Warriors have proved the obvious. They need the backcourt gunning of Jeff Mullins.

The 6-4 Mullins missed Monday night's game with Cincinnati and the Royals rolled 124-113. For some strange reason, the game was played in Omaha.

Mullins received a fractured cheekbone when he took an elbow against Phoenix last Saturday. He may be able to play tonight wearing a special mask.

The Warriors emerged with a 15-13 mark. They're not only fading back of Los Angeles (15-10), but San Diego (16-14) is breathing down their neck.

San Francisco must play seven games in nine days in a killing road test and could use a win or two in a hurry. They hope to get hot against the Chicago Bulls tonight.

Peetz Is Elected Yacht Club Head

Dr. C. J. "Jack" Peetz of Corte Madera was elected commodore of Loch Lomond Yacht Club for 1971 at a membership meeting last week. Also elected were Robert C. Ryan as vice commodore and Stanley T. Moore, rear commodore. Both are San Rafael residents.

Other newly elected club officers are R. J. Naylor of Greenbrae, secretary; Robert Candee of San Rafael, treasurer; Henry Serra of San Rafael, port captain; Frank Chun of San Francisco, power fleet captain; and Donald A. Huffman of San Rafael, sail fleet captain.

Dr. Peetz will succeed Robert Montgomery of Daly City, who will become a director. Other directors elected at the meeting are Charles Rosenbaum and Merle S. Greenblat, both of San Rafael.

Whips Oscar Bonavena On TKO In 15th Round

NEW YORK (UPI) – Cassius Clay was hardly out of the ring after his 15th round technical knockout of Oscar Bonavena, but now Joe Frazier was on his mind.

"I'm sore, tired and I don't want to fight no more," said Clay, who was gored and butted by Bonavena before finally ending the evening's frustration with three knockdowns in the last round for a technical knockout with just 57 seconds left.

"He had me going in the six; in the ninth I thought maybe I had been predicting my own knockout all the time instead of his; and sometime during the 12th I said 'is it all worth it?'"

But then Yank Durham, the manager of Frazier, who won the heavyweight title after Clay was stripped of the crown and banned from boxing in 1967, stuck his head in the room. Frazier and Clay will meet here in February. "Joe says you'll go in six," Durham said.

"I'm done with all that predicting myself," the 28-year-old Clay replied," but I'll have some words for him later."

The $10-million bout with Frazier will give the fighters the biggest payday in sports history, but Clay was still counting his blessings for getting past Bonavena instead of counting the money he will get from his next bout.

For nearly the entire fight, the bull from Argentina had gored and butted away at Clay, a matador in red-tasseled dancing shoes. Bonavena's headlong charge across the ring and wild low blow at the opening bell let Clay know exactly what was going to be in store for him. The referee, Mark Conn, frowned on Bonavena's tactics early, however, and took that first round away from him.

From the start of the ninth, Clay, who had an eight-pound advantage at 212, came down off his toes and went for the knockout, and he wound up being staggered himself. Clay fell to the canvas in a vain atempt to connect with the stopper, and Bonavena came back after being momentarily stunned to bloody Clay's mouth and send him reeling back to his corner.

"He should have gone down," Clay complained to his cornermen after the barrage failed.

Even at the end, Clay couldn't put the bull down for good. The matador had hoped for a cruel kill, but Bonavena got up after being clubbed to the canvas for the third time for an automatic technical knockout.

A hard right dropped him on his side with a minute gone in the last round, and Bonavena's eyes were glazed as he staggered to his feet. Then came another barrage, and as Clay stood over him, ignoring the referee's orders to go to a neutral corner, a towel was tossed into the ring by one of the Argentine cornermen. Conn ignored the towel, and Bonavena tumbled to the canvas once again from another flurry to end the bout.

Until the TKO, the scorecards all had Clay leading. Conn had it 12-2, while the judges had it 10-3-1 and 8-5-1.

"That man is better than I thought," admitted Clay, who was making his second comeback fight after disposing of Jerry Quarry on a cut eye only last Oct. 26. "He's better than Joe Frazier. I sure know I won't need another tuneup for Frazier."

The 28-year-old Bonavena, a mere 6-to-1 prohibitive underdog, agreed that Clay was ready for the champion. Bonavena lost two decisions in going a total of 25 rounds with Frazier and knocked him down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"This man, he the champion," Bonavena said, pointing to Clay.

The victory was the 31st in a row and 25th knockout for Clay. It was Bonavena's seventh loss against 46 victories and marked the first time he had ever been stopped.

A crowd of 19,417 paid $615,401 to watch the bout. Even more people will pay more money to watch the battle between the unbeaten champions, Frazier and Clay.

Clay's Win Doesn't Impress Joe Frazier

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier watched Cassius Clay succeed where he had failed, but still was not impressed.

In two bouts, Frazier went a total of 25 rounds in winning a pair of decisions from Bonagena and the champion was knocked down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"The way I saw it, Bonavena won every round," Frazier said after watching the bout on closed circuit television at Monticello Raceway. "Furthermore, I thought Clay fought a dirty fight. I thought Bonavena would fight dirty, but Clay's actions were unsportsmanlike, especially coming from a former champion."

Frazier accused Clay of leaning on his opponent and spinning him into the ropes.

"All those mistakes Clay made tonight," he'll make again," Frazier predicted. "And when he does, hello, look out. One thing for sure, our fight won't go the distance."

Frazier will go into training in Philadelphia next Monday for a proposed bout with Clay in February that will provide the biggest payday in sports history.

"I'm not looking for the money, even though they say it will be the richest purse in history," Frazier said. "This is one guy I want to whip, and I'm going to whip him."

49ers' Edwards Still Gets Praise Over Sunday's Play

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Big Earl Edwards is still getting accolades for his play against Atlanta in the frantic 24-20 win over Atlanta that kept San Francisco in the thick of the division and playoff fights.

Forty Niners defensive line coach Paul Wiggin confirmed what was apparent to the fans —that the 272-pound Edwards outmuscles 257-pound Andy Maurer all day.

Edwards called it "the best game I ever played."

San Francisco emerged with an 8-3-1 record—the first time since the 1957 season that they have achieved the eight win mark. They still have to play Sunday at New Orleans and next week at Oakland.

The 49ers fans also can't quite figure out who to root for in next Monday night's Los Angeles-Detroit titanic. The Rams are also 8-3-1, yet a loss by Detroit, New York, and Dallas and a win by the Forty Niners at New Orleans could get the prospector in the playoffs no matter what.

An underrated tussle for both the Rams and 49er's playoffs hopes is Saturday's Dallas invasion of Cleveland. It would be a huge boost for both Coast squads if Cleveland pulled the small upset to hand Dallas its fifth loss. Cowboys don't figure to lose their final game with Houston.

Washington Blacks Meet With Regents

SEATTLE (UPI) —A dozen black University of Washington athletes held a 2-1-2-hour meeting here Monday night with the school's regents, President Dr. Charles Odegaard and athletic director Joe Kearney.

It was the first meeting between school officials and blacks since four football players resigned Nov. 23 charging the coaching staff with racial injustices.

Raiders' Tackles Ready For Chiefs

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland Raiders not only pulled their weekly miracle act in nipping New York, but they did it without their injured first-string defensive tackles.

This means that both Tom Keating and Carleton Oats should be ready to go when Kansas City and Oakland match 7-3-2 records Saturday in their annual war of the red and black at the Oakland Coliseum.

The last second Warren Wells catch of a Daryle Lamonica toss at Shea Stadium meant that Oakland has won three and tied one with less than five seconds showing on the clock. When they edged Denver, there was 2:28 left when the final score came.

Coach John Madden praised his defensive unit not only for their play throughout the Jets' game, but also for calling quick time outs when the Jets ran their last three plays. The series took only about 20 seconds.

They finally had to punt it to George Atkinson who ran it 10 yards back to the Oakland 30 with 38 seconds on the clock.

Meanwhile, the Raider offense had been huddling on the sideline. "We had a play all ready, so we didn't have to huddle," said Madden. "We just lined up and ran it."

The play resulted in a pass interference at the New York 33. Lamonica then tossed it to Wells, who caught it when one of three New York defenders around him batted it up in the air.

Among those who missed the weekly mwgic show were a host of New York writers who were headed to the Jets' dressing room to congratulate the winners.

They watched in wonder as the Oakland Raiders came by laughing and cheering and the Jets walked glumly into their dressing room.

Need For Increases In Licenses Explained

By AL GIDDINGS

This week, the Department of Fish and Game released a pamphlet called, "Will He Have All This Tomorrow?"

The pamphlet explains the need for $1 raises in the sport fishing licenses, the Pacific Ocean three day license, and the fishing stamps. Also proposed is a $2 raise in the hunting license, a $1 hike for the junior hunting license and a $1 increase in deer tags. All non-resident licenses would increase from 50 per cent to 150 per cent.

The increased fees are recommended in order to insure the people of California a continuing and growing fish and wildlife program, according to the article.

Fish and game conservation is 100 years old, but only the licensed hunters and fishermen pay the $18,000,000 for the services for the wildlife of the state except for the California share of the federal excise taxes on sporting arms and ammunition, and fishing tackle which amounts to $2,000,000. The $18,410,330 are all from license sales.

No general tax funds are used for the protection and management of fish and wildlife in California.

Revenues this year amounting to $20,000,000 total will not approach expenditures. Simply to carry on present programs and services of the Fish and Game Department requires an additional $2,000,000, including $500,000 to cover future inflation. Just to keep the budget balanced, and to keep the department in business, a retrenchment program would require a 10 per cent cut in the current annual $20,000,000 expenditure. The pamphlet goes on to explain why any of these cuts would be unserviceable. They would endanger various wildlife species and eliminate many services requested by the public. Therefore, the department realizes it must revise upward the revenue base, something that hasn't been done since 1958. Therefore the Department of Fish and Game recommends additional revenue totaling $5,000,000 annually for the following purposes:

1. To balance the budget . . . $1,500,000;
2. For future inflation . . . $500,000;
3. Facilities replacement . . . $500,000;
4. New and augmented services . . . $2,500,000.

The $5,000,000 would assist in: (1) Recommended new or augmenting services in law enforcement costing $550,000. Today 229 wardens patrol the states 1,100 miles of coastline, 4,000 lakes, 30,000 miles of streams and 158,000 square miles of land. An increase of 10 per cent in the warden force is necessary.

(2) Inland fisheries programs costing 750,000 include producing 1,000,000 additional trout. Doubling of the department's catchable-sized trout planting program by 1980 through enlargement of some existing hatcheries. Development of a striped bass hatchery and other warm water fish programs.

(3) Anadromous fisheries programs costing $200,000 include habitat improvement, ways and means of increasing production of fingerling salmon and steelhead yearlings. Improved angler access and a higher priority for continuance of the state's excellent shad fishery.

(4) Enviromental services up to $200,000 worth for water pollution and other degradations of the environment.

(5) $450,000 scheduled for Big Game and Upland Game for increasing hunting opportunities. Expansion in habitat improvement programs especially for deer, on other public lands.

(6) $200,000 for ocean sports fishing programs and $150,000 for conservation education.

This article concludes with, "This is a financially realistic program recommended by the department to guarantee that fish and game conservation will continue for generations now and future generations. It will cost $5,000,000, but divide it among California's millions of licensed hunters and fishermen and it comes out a real bargain — a few dollars apiece each year.

Ocean Racing Fans Should Keep Eyes On New Team

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

The newest owner-driver combination in the rugged sport of ocean racing is a team to keep an eye on.

It already has won the first race on the 1970-71 American Power Boat Association schedule and plans to campaign for further laurels in most of the remaining contests.

OWNER

The owner is Carl Kiekhaefer, who resigned as president of Kiekhaefer Mercury in 1969 and now heads a new company, Kiekhaefer Aeromarine Motors. The driver is Bob Magoon, 35-year-old Miami Beach eye surgeon who is this year's national offshore outboard champion and who also won the title in 1968.

Their sleek inboard boat, Aeromarine I, is a 36-footer powered by twin standard MerCruiser 475 horsepower engines. Kiekhaefer purchased the craft recently from Don Aronow's Cigarette Racing Team Company.

With Magoon competing for the first time in an inboard in an offshore event, Aeromarine I raced to an impressive victory a few weeks ago in the 187-mile Hennessy Key West contest, completing the race in 3 hours, 17 minutes, with an average speed of 52.6 miles per hour, in 4-to-6-foot seas.

In second place and 5 miles and 8 minutes behind was Bill Wishnick, 45, a New York business executive who is this year's national offshore powerboat champion.

Magoon's victory marked a triumphant return to offshore racing for Kiekhaefer after a year's absence.

"Naturally, I'm delighted that we won the first race we entered, but the most satisfying sense of pride and accomplishment is in doing it with a seaworthy boat and standard production engines that anyone can buy on the market," Kiekhaefer said.

The Aeromarine racing team also includes two other Miamians, Gene Lanham, as mechanic, and Tom Otto, navigator.

Magoon took first place honors in the Key West event, but the results might have been different if two of his strongest competitors had not met with difficulty about halfway through the race.

Tommy Sopwith, the English racer, had to drop out when his boat caught fire, and Vincenzo Balestrieri of Italy lost his chances to win when he stopped to remove Sopwith and his two-man crew from the burning craft and take them to a checkpoint boat. Balestrieri resumed the race and finished fifth.

Sopwith, son of the British aircraft manufacturer, and Balestrieri entered the Key West race with Balestrieri holding a slim point margin over Sopwith for 1970 world championship honors. Sopwith's mishap virtually assured Balestrieri the title.

However, the Italian won't be crowned officially until the Union of International Motorboating rules on Sopwith's protest against his disqualification in the Miami-Nassau race Oct. 16, in which he finished first. Sopwith was disqualified on the grounds he used supercharged engines in violation of APBA rules. Balestrieri, who finished second, was declared the winner, A UIM ruling is not expected until next spring.

TO PREVENT INJURIES

Skiers Warned To Get In Shape Before Start

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — More than 90 per cent of all ski injuries are caused by poor physical condition, fatigue and overconfidence in skiing ability, warns the California Medical Association.

The first step in accident prevention is to get into sturdy physical condition and stay that way, says the association. Trot and jog each day and take part in other sports such as rowing and swimming well before the skiing season starts. During the season, maintain daily exercises, knee bends, waist bends and pushups.

A skier who is tired is more susceptible to injury because he tends to become careless and is more likely to lose control of his body's coordination.

Get enough sleep before a skiing trip, don't overdo it, and eat regular meals with food that has high energy content. Munch on raisins or chocolate during the day to help keep your body supplied with sufficient energy.

It is imperative that the beginner receive ski instruction from someone who is thoroughly qualified to teach. If he tries to learn alone, he may teach himself bad position and posture habits, and he may develop techniques which expose himself and others to danger.

A few other tips: Ski with proper equipment. Watch snow conditions; there may be midday softening of the snow and, as the sun sets, trail conditions may change rapidly. Never ski alone — if you get hurt, a ski buddy can get help. Every skier should have an elementary knowledge of first aid.

Sid Gillman Is Arrested

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Sunday's 17-14 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals apparently was especially hard to take for San Diego Chargers General Manager Sid Gillman.

Police records reveal he was arrested Sunday night on a charge of drunken driving. He was released from county jail on his own recognizance pending arraignment Dec. 16.

Patrolman Bruce Kertson said he saw Gillman driving the wrong way on a one-way street and run a stoplight before he stopped him.

Mr. World Series

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra, now a coach with the New York Mets, holds the record for playing in the most World Series, having appeared in 14 post season classics, all as a member of the New York Yankees.

An Exciting Day At The Meeting

If you couldn't attend the winter baseball meetings and feel a little left out of things, tell you what you do: Get 200 guys with brooms and one pile of dirt and get them to sweep that same pile back and forth across the floor for five days.

Or, you can sit and stare at a closed door for 12 hours. Arrange for someone to come out solemnly from time to time, rap for attention, and then read off the correct time. Put a notice ostentatiously on a bulletin board calling attention to the fact tomorrow is Saturday. Drink lots of coffee. Phone around for night harness passes. Call your relatives and explain you can't drop around and see them because you're sitting on a lot of fast-breaking stories. Send hairy stories back to the home office hinting the home team is about to trade so that its infield next year would be 8-5 against the league All-Stars and will have Henry Aaron on first, Tony Perez on second, Ron Santo at short, and Brooks Robinson on third.

11:30 a.m. — Dodgers announce they have made "serious" offer to Mets: Fred Norman and Von Joshua for Tom Seaver, Gary Gentry, Staten Island and an unnamed state to be named later.

11:35 — Mets counter-offer Rod Gaspar, Art Shamsky and Duffy Dyer for entire Dodger pitching staff, Griffith Park, and Grauman's Chinese Theater and Alpine County.

Noon — "Minor-League-Executive-of-the-Year" named, committee formed to bring him award at gas station he now works in. His minor league disbanded after setting attendance record of 928 for 150-game schedule.

1 p.m. — Bob Short of Washington Senators petitions baseball for permission to dicker for Eddie Cicotte, Chick Gandil, and Danny Gardella.

1:15 p.m. — Frank Robinson, who wins 80 games a year for Baltimore Orioles, put out as trade bait for pitcher who might win 15.

1:20 p.m. — New Orleans offers to share new domed stadium with existing franchise which might be willing to schedule a portion of its 81 home games in it — say 27 to 30. Baseball enthusiastic. Offers them Little Rock. San Diego, however, offers to share. Suggests 80 games as a starter.

2:15 p.m. — Unofficial Pioneer League averages posted.

2:20 p.m. — Casey Stengel holds impromptu press conference — a detailed critique of John McGraw's pitching choices in the 1923 World Series, followed by a long discourse on how to pitch to Dolph Camilli, followed by capsule observation on the success of the Mets: "It must do 'em some good to go to college, myself, I took up denistry."

2:45 p.m. — Suggestion is made to speed up the game by making the infield-fly rule applicable even when no one is on base. Someone suggests an even better method would be to expand the infield-fly rule to include the outfield. It is moved and seconded that any ball hit in the direction of Frank Howard be excepted.

3 p.m. — Major trade announced: Three .220 hitters exchanged for three five-game winners. "This trade will hurt both clubs," is pressroom consensus.

8 p.m. — First annual Baseball Awards Banquet. Statuettes in the form of banjos will be awarded to hitters and gophers to the pitchers. Umpires' will be white canes. Umpire Ken Burkhart is given first umpiring award for proving conclusively that eyesight and / or position has nothing to do with good play-calling in recognition of his deciding a World Series game (or a World Series) on a play where he interfered with 1) the baserunner; 2) the pticher; 3) the ball — and called it all while both eyes were staring straight up at the sky as he fell. The award will be in Braille, and will include a new collar for his dog.

The next award will go to Henry Aaron, not for his 3,000 hit or his 600th home run, but for his 8,000 popups, his 17,000 foul tips, and his 2,109 dribblers along the first-base line. Frank Howard will be saluted for losing a ball in the lights in a day game. Art Shamsky will be saluted for the throws that took the most bounces on the way to the cut-off man. Earl Weaver will get the award as the "non-manager of the year" for the second consecutive year. Bob Short will be saluted for having put together an act that's funnier than Congress. The Montreal Expos get the award for the highest attendance for a minor-league team. Walter O'Malley gets a plaque for the longest tenure as commissioner of baseball since Arnold Rothstein, and the San Diego Padres get the St. Louis Browns' award for breaking the Browns' season record for playing before most empty seats.

Falcons Dying, Report Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Peregrine falcons, who dive on their prey at 100 miles an hour, are becoming extinct because of pesticides, the State Fish and Game Department reports.

Dr. Steven G. Herman, Humboldt State College naturalist who prepared the report, said Monday that only 10 of the lightning-swift birds were counted in California during this year's nesting season.

Herman said the state survey found only two nests with eggs this summer, from which only four falcons were born.

"This means there are fewer than 10 pairs of falcons that laid eggs," he estimated.

Longhorns Win UPI Top Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Texas, its mighty offensive machine having ground down 10 opponents this season, is United Press International's national champion for 1970.

The high-scoring Longhorns were named first on 25 of the 33 ballots cast Monday by the 35-member UPI Board of Coaches. Texas finished with 321 points to easily outdistance runner-up Ohio State, second with 284.

UPI's national champion is selected on regular season performance only and does not include post-season participation.

Inmont's Prospects Should Be Improving

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our shares of Inmont show about a 70 per cent loss since 1963 when we bought them for $34 a share. Would you recommend holding for recovery? — M. S.

A. Although your loss is sizable, a 50 per cent stock dividend in 1965 and a 1¾-for-1 split in 1969 adjust your per share cost downward to $13 and reduce your loss to 40 per cent. Through September 30, 1970, earnings dropped to 3 cents a share from $1.00 in the first 9 months of 1969.

Sales were off 7 per cent for the period. Full-year results are expected to be in the red. After reducing the quarterly dividend almost 50 per cent in April, directors voted in July to omit it altogether. Although sales reached record levels annually through 1969, earnings have been erratic.

Some pickup in demand is expected by mid-1971, if this prospect becomes a reality, profit margins could improve on higher volume, helping to counteract increased costs, and resulting in some earnings rebound. I favor holding for better selling price.

Q. I am a 75-year-old widow. About five years ago, I invested $10,000 in Security Investment Fund for retirement purposes. The fund is now lower; and I am going to retire next year. — C.R.

A. At the close of 1969, Security Investment was 62 per cent invested in bonds and preferred stocks, a factor which provides good balance in today's unsettled economic conditions. It was among the top 25 performers through October, 1970. While Security shares are somewhat depressed at present, retention is advised for further capital gains and eventual recovery.

Kaiser Stops Stock Dividend

OAKLAND (UPI) —Kaiser Steel Corp. directors suspended the firm's quarterly common stock dividend Monday, blaming higher costs, reduced sales and the uncertainties of a Canadian subsidiary.

Kaiser had paid 37 1-2 cents a quarter in dividends.

After a lapse of six years, the firm in January 1966 began paying 50 cents a year in dividends and that had been raised to $1.50 in 1969.

The suspension is to be reviewed during 1971, with a factor being current price negotiations with customers of Kaiser Resources, a coal mining subsidiary in British Columbia. Kaiser Steel owns 75 per cent of that firm.

San Diego Contract

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) — The Atlantic Research division of the Susquehanna Corp. has been awarded a $223,500 contract to build a firefighting harbor patrol boat for the San Diego Unified Port District. The boat will be delivered in the second half of next year.

Profit Taking Stops Rise

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips eased 2.12 to 816.54 while declines edged advances, 734 to 551, among the 1,614 issues on the tape.

The four-hour volume of 10,370,000 shares slowed from the 11,140,000 shares traded Monday in a comparable period.

Most major groups were mixed while aircrafts and motors were soft.

Woman Is Chief Of Big Auto Firm

She considers the comparison between women and men drivers not even worth talking about, something reconciled to equality years ago.

And as chairman of the world's largest motoring organization, Denise McCann knows more than most about motoring and motorists.

A vital, vicacious and dedicated business woman, Miss McCann took the wheel of the British School of Motoring (BSM) in 1957 after the death of its founder and previous chairman, Stanley C. H. Roberts.

She joined the company six years earlier as interior decorator, assigned to repair several branches damaged during World War II.

She did so well that she was invited to join the permanent staff as assistant managing director.

Her company has taught over three million people to drive in the past 60 years.

Miss McCann confesses that she herself was a pupil — and paid for her course — years before she joined the company.

Since she joined BSM, she has trebled its size and made it the pacemaker in the profession.

She steered it with skill through a difficult period after the death of Roberts, through gas-rationing, and the temporary limit on driving tests.

This year, the company's diamond jubilee, BSM is making "a healthy profit" from its 160 branches scattered over the United Kingdom.

And the position of chairman and managing director is firmly in the grasp of Miss McCann.

Miss McCann's board of seven men meet her almost daily. They, and the headquarters' staff, always call her "chairman," never "Denise" or "Miss McCann."

"I don't insist that the directors and staff call me chairman — they do it out of respect for the position I hold," she said.

She enjoys her femininity, has no envy for men, and will (if necessary) exploit her femininity when trying to score an advantage in business.

Miss McCann is happy behind the wheel of "any little box with four wheels." However, she prefers a fast car for continental roads, "where you can pick up your skirts and run."

The fleet of cars she drives reads like the Who's Who of motoring — XJ6 Jaguar, Rolls-Royce, Ferrari, Jensen, Porsche

"The choice of car depends on the kind of journey I am taking. I prefer the Jaguar for town. All my cars are automatic.

"But don't think I can't drive a manual-gear car — we have a five-speed Ferrari on the high-performance course and I have a lot of fun with her."

Miss McCann is a founder of the Institute of Advanced Motorists and was responsible for launching the comprehensive range of specialized courses now included in BSM's diversified syllabus.

She sums up her success in the business world by saying: "The big difference is that a man just asks — a woman appeals."

FISH AND GAME

Need For Increases In Licenses Explained

By AL GIDDINGS

This week, the Department of Fish and Game released a pamphlet called, "Will He Have All This Tomorrow?"

The pamphlet explains the need for $1 raises in the sport fishing licenses, the Pacific Ocean three day license, and the fishing stamps. Also proposed is a $2 raise in the hunting license, a $1 hike for the junior hunting license and a $1 increase in deer tags. All non-resident licenses would increase from 50 per cent to 150 per cent.

The increased fees are recommended in order to insure the people of California a continuing and growing fish and wildlife program, according to the article.

Fish and game conservation is 100 years old, but only the licensed hunters and fishermen pay the $18,000,000 for the services for the wildlife of the state except for the California share of the federal excise taxes on sporting arms and ammunition, and fishing tackle which amounts to $2,000,000. The $18,410,330 are all from license sales.

No general tax funds are used for the protection and management of fish and wildlife in California.

Revenues this year amounting to $20,000,000 total will not approach expenditures. Simply to carry on present programs and services of the Fish and Game Department requires an additional $2,000,000, including $500,000 to cover future inflation. Just to keep the budget balanced, and to keep the department in business, a retrenchment program would require a 10 per cent cut in the current annual $20,000,000 expenditure. The pamphlet goes on to explain why any of these cuts would be unserviceable. They would endanger various wildlife species and eliminate many services requested by the public. Therefore, the department realizes it must revise upward the revenue base, something that hasn't been done since 1958. Therefore the Department of Fish and Game recommends additional revenue totaling $5,000,000 annually for the following purposes:

1. To balance the budget . . . $1,500,000;
2. For future inflation . . . $500,000;
3. Facilities replacement . . . $500,000;
4. New and augmented services . . . $2,500,000.

The $5,000,000 would assist in:

(1) Recommended new or augmenting services in law enforcement costing $550,000. Today 229 wardens patrol the states 1,100 miles of coastline, 4,000 lakes, 30,000 miles of streams and 158,000 square miles of land. An increase of 10 per cent in the warden force is necessary.

(2) Inland fisheries programs costing 750,000 include producing 1,000,000 additional trout. Doubling of the department's catchable-sized trout planting program by 1980 through enlargement of some existing hatcheries. Development of a striped bass hatchery and other warm water fish programs.

(3) Anadromous fisheries programs costing $200,000 include habitat improvement, ways and means of increasing production of fingerling salmon and steelhead yearlings. Improved angler access and a higher priority for continuance of the state's excellent shad fishery.

(4) Enviromental services up to $200,000 worth for water pollution and other degradations of the environment.

(5) $450,000 scheduled for Big Game and Upland Game for increasing hunting opportunities. Expansion in habitat improvement programs especially for deer, on other public lands.

(6) $200,000 for ocean sports fishing programs and $150,000 for conservation education.

This article concludes with, "This is a financially realistic program recommended by the department to guarantee that fish and game conservation will continue for generations now and future generations. It will cost $5,000,000, but divide it among California's millions of licensed hunters and fishermen and it comes out a real bargain — a few dollars apiece each year.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce. United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depts are always additive to the chart in depts unless preceded by a (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Lightface type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

COTTON CANDY BOWL

Joe Theisman, quarterback of once-beaten Notre Dame, shared cotton candy with his new bride in Las Vegas, Nev., yesterday. Joe and Cheryl, who is sports information secretary for Notre Dame, were married three days ago and are enjoying a short honeymoon before serious workouts begin in preparation for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl against unbeaten Texas.

Ocean Racing Fans Should Keep Eyes On New Team

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

It already has won the first race on the 1970-71 American Power Boat Association schedule and plans to campaign for further laurels in most of the remaining contests.

OWNER

The owner is Carl Kiekhaefer, who resigned as president of Kiekhaefer Mercury in 1969 and now heads a new company, Kiekhaefer Aeromarine Motors. The driver is Bob Magoon, 35-year-old Miami Beach eye surgeon who is this year's national offshore outboard champion and who also won the title in 1968.

Their sleek inboard boat, Aeromarine I, is a 36-footer powered by twin standard Mer-Cruiser 475 horsepower engines. Kiekhaefer purchased the craft recently from Don Aronow's Cigarette Racing Team Company.

With Magoon competing for the first time in an inboard in an offshore event, Aeromarine I raced to an impressive victory a few weeks ago in the 187-mile Hennessy Key West contest, completing the race in 3 hours, 17 minutes, with an average speed of 52.6 miles per hour, in 4-to-6-foot seas.

In second place and 5 miles and 8 minutes behind was Bill Wishnick, 45, a New York business executive who is this year's national offshore powerboat champion.

Magoon's victory marked a triumphant return to offshore racing for Kiekhaefer after a year's absence.

"Naturally, I'm delighted that we won the first race we entered, but the most satisfying sense of pride and accomplishment is in doing it with a seaworthy boat and standard production engines that anyone can buy on the market," Kiekhaefer said.

The Aeromarine racing team also includes two other Miamians, Gene Lanham, as mechanic, and Tom Otto, navigator.

Magoon took first place honors in the Key West event, but the results might have been different if two of his strongest competitors had not met with difficulty about halfway through the race.

Tommy Sopwith, the English racer, had to drop out when his boat caught fire, and Vincenzo Balestrieri of Italy lost his chances to win when he stopped to remove Sopwith and his two-man crew from the burning craft and take them to a checkpoint boat. Balestrieri resumed the race and finished fifth.

Sopwith, son of the British aircraft manufacturer, and Balestrieri entered the Key West race with Balestrieri holding a slim point margin over Sopwith for 1970 world championship honors. Sopwith's mishap virtually assured Balestrieri the title.

However, the Italian won't be crowned officially until the Union of International Motorboating rules on Sopwith's protest against his disqualification in the Miami-Nassau race Oct. 16, in which he finished first. Sopwith was disqualified on the grounds he used supercharged engines in violation of APBA rules. Balestrieri, who finished second, was declared the winner, A UIM ruling is not expected until next spring.

Gals, Juniors Bowl Tourney

Dan Harris rolled a 665 series and Bea Hoffman a 245 game and 650 series, both scores including handicap, to be among the winners of the Marin County Woman's 600 Club - Juniors challenge bowling tournament.

High doubles handicap winners in the tourney, held Sunday at Nave Lanes near Ignacio, were Jon Dorsey, and Pat Ness with a 445 score. Mrs. Ness rolled a 226-610.

Playoff Record

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers holds the National Basketball Association playoff scoring record for one game with 61 points.

Wildcat Roar

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's 116 to 86 basketball victory over Georgia last season marked another milestone for the Wildcats.

In addition to being a home floor scoring record for Kentucky, it also marked the 10th time the Cats passed the century mark in their last 24 games against Georgia.

TO PREVENT INJURIES

Skiers Warned To Get In Shape Before Start

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — More than 90 per cent of all ski injuries are caused by poor physical condition, fatigue and overconfidence in skiing ability, warns the California Medical Association.

The first step in accident prevention is to get into sturdy physical condition and stay that way, says the association. Trot and jog each day and take part in other sports such as rowing and swimming well before the skiing season starts. During the season, maintain daily exercises, knee bends, waist bends and pushups.

A skier who is tired is more susceptible to injury because he tends to become careless and is more likely to lose control of his body's coordination.

Get enough sleep before a skiing trip, don't overdo it, and eat regular meals with food that has high energy content. Munch on raisins or chocolate during the day to help keep your body supplied with sufficient energy.

It is imperative that the beginner receive ski instruction from someone who is thoroughly qualified to teach. If he tries to learn alone, he may teach himself bad position and posture habits, and he may develop techniques which expose himself and others to danger.

A few other tips: Ski with proper equipment. Watch snow conditions; there may be midday softening of the snow and, as the sun sets, trail conditions may change rapidly. Never ski alone — if you get hurt, a ski buddy can get help. Every skier should have an elementary knowledge of first aid.

Sid Gillman Is Arrested

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Sunday's 17-14 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals apparently was especially hard to take for San Diego Chargers General Manager Sid Gillman.

Police records reveal he was arrested Sunday night on a charge of drunken driving. He was released from county jail on his own recognizance pending arraignment Dec. 16.

Patrolman Bruce Kertson said he saw Gillman driving the wrong way on a one-way street and run a stoplight before he stopped him.

Mr. World Series

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra, now a coach with the New York Mets, holds the record for playing in the most World Series, having appeared in 14 post season classics, all as a member of the New York Yankees.

Inmont's Prospects Should Be Improving

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our shares of Inmont show about a 70 per cent loss since 1963 when we bought them for $34 a share. Would you recommend holding for recovery? — M. S.

A. Although your loss is sizable, a 50 per cent stock dividend in 1965 and a 1¾-for-1 split in 1969 adjust your per share cost downward to $13 and reduce your loss to 40 per cent. Through September 30, 1970, earnings dropped to 3 cents a share from $1.00 in the first 9 months of 1969.

Sales were off 7 per cent for the period. Full-year results are expected to be in the red. After reducing the quarterly dividend almost 50 per cent in April, directors voted in July to omit it altogether. Although sales reached record levels annually through 1969, earnings have been erratic.

Some pickup in demand is expected by mid-1971, if this prospect becomes a reality, profit margins could improve on higher volume, helping to counteract increased costs, and resulting in some earnings rebound. I favor holding for better selling price.

Q. I am a 75-year-old widow. About five years ago, I invested $10,000 in Security Investment Fund for retirement purposes. The fund is now lower; and I am going to retire next year. — C.R.

A. At the close of 1969, Security Investment was 62 per cent invested in bonds and preferred stocks, a factor which provides good balance in today's unsettled economic conditions. It was among the top 25 performers through October, 1970. While Security shares are somewhat depressed at present, retention is advised for further capital gains and eventual recovery.

Kaiser Stops Stock Dividend

OAKLAND (UPI) —Kaiser Steel Corp. directors suspended the firm's quarterly common stock dividend Monday, blaming higher costs, reduced sales and the uncertainties of a Canadian subsidiary.

Kaiser had paid 37 1-2 cents a quarter in dividends.

After a lapse of six years, the firm in January 1966 began paying 50 cents a year in dividends and that had been raised to $1.50 in 1969.

The suspension is to be reviewed during 1971, with a factor being current price negotiations with customers of Kaiser Resources, a coal mining subsidiary in British Columbia. Kaiser Steel owns 75 per cent of that firm.

San Diego Contract

COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) — The Atlantic Research division of the Susquehanna Corp. has been awarded a $223,500 contract to build a firefighting harbor patrol boat for the San Diego Unified Port District. The boat will be delivered in the second half of next year.

LIGHT ECHOES

Profit Taking Stops Rise

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips eased 2.12 to 816.54 while declines edged advances, 734 to 551, among the 1,614 issues on the tape.

The four-hour volume of 10,370,000 shares slowed from the 11,140,000 shares traded Monday in a comparable period.

Most major groups were mixed while aircrafts and motors were soft.

Woman Is Chief Of Big Auto Firm

She considers the comparison between women and men drivers not even worth talking about, something reconciled to equality years ago.

And as chairman of the world's largest motoring organization, Denise McCann knows more than most about motoring and motorists.

A vital, vicacious and dedicated business woman, Miss McCann took the wheel of the British School of Motoring (BSM) in 1957 after the death of its founder and previous chairman, Stanley C. H. Roberts.

She joined the company six years earlier as interior decorator, assigned to repair several branches damaged during World War II.

She did so well that she was invited to join the permanent staff as assistant managing director.

Her company has taught over three million people to drive in the past 60 years.

Miss McCann confesses that she herself was a pupil — and paid for her course — years before she joined the company.

Since she joined BSM, she has trebled its size and made it the pacemaker in the profession.

She steered it with skill through a difficult period after the death of Roberts, through gas-rationing, and the temporary limit on driving tests.

This year, the company's diamond jubilee, BSM is making "a healthy profit" from its 160 branches scattered over the United Kingdom.

And the position of chairman and managing director is firmly in the grasp of Miss McCann.

Miss McCann's board of seven men meet her almost daily. They, and the headquarters' staff, always call her "chairman," never "Denise" or "Miss McCann."

"I don't insist that the directors and staff call me chairman — they do it out of respect for the position I hold," she said.

She enjoys her femininity, has no envy for men, and will (if necessary) exploit her femininity when trying to score an advantage in business.

Miss McCann is happy behind the wheel of "any little box with four wheels." However, she prefers a fast car for continental roads, "where you can pick up your skirts and run."

The fleet of cars she drives reads like the Who's Who of motoring — XJ6 Jaguar, Rolls-Royce, Ferrari, Jensen, Porsche

"The choice of car depends on the kind of journey I am taking. I prefer the Jaguar for town. All my cars are automatic.

"But don't think I can't drive a manual-gear car — we have a five-speed Ferrari on the high-performance course and I have a lot of fun with her."

Miss McCann is a founder of the Institute of Advanced Motorists and was responsible for launching the comprehensive range of specialized courses now included in BSM's diversified syllabus.

She sums up her success in the business world by saying: "The big difference is that a man just asks — a woman appeals."

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Dr. Lyons' Cancer Diagnosis Firm Joins Ross Medical Corp.

Another medically oriented organization has been added to the growing family of Ross Medical Corp., which has now taken on Cytohistological Laboratory, Inc. of Corte Madera.

This is a 25-year old enterprise of Dr. Harold M. Lyons, engaged in the examination of cells and tissues in the early diagnosis of cancer. The laboratory receives samples for study from all over California and parts of Nevada, Washington and Alaska.

Cytohistological Laboratory will continue its same work under Dr. Lyons' supervision as a Ross Medical subsidiary.

It brings to 11 the number of organizations now in the Ross Medical group. Others are Allied Pulmonary Services, Ross General Hospital, Broadway Hospital, Broadway Hospital Properties, Norcal Laboratories, Hospital Linen Supply, Co Lease, Inc., Ukiah General Hospital, Palm Drive Hospital and Helwig Investments.

SAN RAFAEL ATTORNEY, estate planning and tax specialist Victor Obninsky has moved his offices from 900 Mission Avenue to 225 West End Avenue. This in in the former office building of Hageman-Thomas-Eklund. The lease was handled by John Hourihan of Grubb and Ellis Co.

NEW OWNER of Jacques Coiffure at 2092 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax has been purchased from Jacque M. Guiraut by Miss Betty Murry who has been working in this beauty shop for the past four years.

She has brought in a new male hair stylist, Robert Kiesling of San Anselmo, who was with H. Liebes and Co. at Northgate until its recent closing. He will replace Guiraut in this position Guiraut has moved to Portland.

Name of the shop will remain the same.

JOHN E. COUNTRYMAN of Novato, director and retired chairman of the board of the Del Monte Corp., San Francisco, has been elected a director of Planning Research Corp., Los Angeles. He also holds directorships in Transamerica Corp. and Wells Fargo Bank and is chairman of the board of trustees of the San Francisco Bay Area Council.

DR. HARRY F. HLAVAC of San Anselmo has joined the staff of the San Rafael Podiatry Group at 411 Fourth Street, San Rafael. He taught orthopedics for three years at the Pennsylvania College of Podiatry and is now assistant professor of podiatric medicine in the outpatient department of the California College of Podiatry. He is also on the medical and surgical staffs of the California Podiatry Hospital and Golden Gate Community Hospital in San Francisco.

JACK R. YELVERTON of Sausalito has been appointed president of Wilkinson, Sedwick and Yelverton, Inc., a nationwide firm of management consultants headquartered in San Francisco. He was previously a vice president.

John R. Morrison of San Rafael is a vice president and director of the firm and a member of the executive committee.

WILLIAM H. JOHNSON of Tiburon has been elected a director of the Pacific Coast Banking School which provides an annual three-weeks course in advanced banking at the University of Washington, Seattle. He is a senior vice president of Crocker-Citizens National Bank.

Gas Plan Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission has announced it is deferring action on the multimillion dollar pipeline proposed by Northern Natural Gas Co. to bring Canadian gas into Northern Plains states. The Canadian National Energy Board has turned the project down and FPC examiner has recommended its rejection.

Gordon's. It's how the Merrie Olde English keep their gin up!

Noel
GORDON'S
DISTILLED LONDON DRY GIN
THE HEART OF A GOOD COCKTAIL

Let down on the crackling dryness, the delicate flavour of Gordon's Gin? Especially during Christmas? Never! Every bottle is based on Mr. Gordon's original 1769 formula. So you pour a drink that's dry as Scrooge all holiday. A fanatic devotion to our discoverer? Pernaps. But anything less wouldn't be the holiday spirit!

$4.59 4/5 qt

Information

COPY ACCEPTANCE

The INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL reserves the right to edit, or withhold publication, and may exercise its discretion in acceptance or classification of any and all advertising.

DEADLINES

New ads, corrections, and cancellations must be made before 5:30 p.m. the day before publication, 1 p.m. Saturday for Monday and 24 hours before holidays. Suburban office deadline, 4:45 p.m. the day before publication.

ERRORS

We make every effort to avoid errors. But when hundreds of ads are handled daily, mistakes do slip through. We ask that you check your ad and call immediately if it is in error. We regret that we cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion or for errors not clearly affecting the value of the ad, and are responsible only for that line or portion of the ad that appeared incorrectly.

SELL WITH FAMILY THRIFT ADS

Individuals may advertise any item of merchandise up to a total value of $250, 3 lines, 4 days for a flat charge of $3. Price of each item advertised must be included.

Some Practical Tips In Buying
YOUR NEXT AUTOMOBILE

First, if you live - in Marin - you have an instant advantage. Marin dealers, with much lower overhead than "metropolitan" dealers, pass the savings on to you. And being local, they can service your car with far greater convenience. Saves the rat race, saves on sales tax, (to 1/2% lower in Marin) . . . Better deal all around!!!

Plan To Recycle Solid Wastes Is Given Support

A comprehensive plan to collect and recycle solid wastes was endorsed in principle last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

The proposal, advanced by Whole Systems, a San Francisco planning and design firm, calls for monthly collection service to subscribers in Mill Valley.

Neill Smith of Tiburon, representing Whole Systems, told the council that the service would cost each household $1 a month.

A cardboard divider would be issued which would fit into a standard garbage can, he said. The waste would be separated into newspapers, glass, cardboard, cans, rags and miscellaneous scrap metal.

The materials would be trucked to a staging area located on two acresat the Mill Valley corporation yard, which the city would lease to Whole Systems for a nominal sum, and then sent to salvage plants.

While all councilmen said they favored the concept, they questioned whether Mill Valley Refuse Service would be willing to give up part of its exclusive franchise to Whole Systems.

In the end, the council voted 4-0, Mayor George E. Wickham abstaining, to endorse the plan in principle providing details can be worked out with the refuse company.

Threatens Not To Pay City Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeremy Ets-Hokin threatens not to pay most taxes on his 20 apartment houses in order to "prod the supervisors and the mayor into some action" on taxes.

Ets-Hokin, a resident of Ross and onetime San Francisco art commissioner, was especially outspoken at a news conference he called Monday about the War Memorial complex, which houses the city opera, symphony and an art gallery.

"We have been subsidizing the Atherton suburbanites for too long," he said.

In an hour-long talk, he urged 100 per cent or 200 per cent surcharges on tickets for the opera, symphony, "dirty movies and topless houses" as well as a 100 per cent tax during commute hours of tolls on the two bridges into San Francisco and commute hour toll gates on highways.

To balance the city budget, he suggested, among other things, modernizing the Port of San Francisco, eliminating the city Redevelopment Agency, building more high-rise developments, and enacting a city income tax to support schools.

Cable cars now charge 25 cents a ride and Ets-Hokin asserts that "almost all the passengers are rubbernecks anyway and they'll pay."

Ets-Hokin declared he would pay his federal and state taxes and that his real estate company would meet all its tax bills.

But he said he would pay only $2 of the $12.82 per $100 assessed value tax on his personally-owned buildings. He estimates the apartment structures are worth $500,000.

The money he does pay, he said, would be earmarked for police and fire protection.

A spokesman at the city tax office said Ets-Hokin would be penalized 6 per cent interest on what he does not pay, to start.

Ets-Hokin is suing the city for enforcement of Proposition K which as approved by city voters two years ago would have limited city levies to $4 per $100 assessed valuation. The city attorney said the proposition was illegal.

Review Of Projects Is Urged

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Legislation to require state projects in the Bay Area to be reviewed by the Association of Bay Area Governments was urged last night by ABAG's regional planning committee.

Such projects now can proceed without any regional review, the committee objected. Its recommendation will go to the association's executive committee on Dec. 17.

The federal government recently set a policy of submitting its projects to regional review, and the state should have a parallel policy, the committee agreed.

In other business, the committee urged the Army Corps of Engineers to contract with ABAG for portions of the corps' study of water based commerce and commodity flow in the region. The $4.5 million study is to take four years.

The committee said that the environmental and "social well-being" parts of the study should be done by ABAG to avoid duplication of work ABAG already has done in this field.

Single-Car Crash Fatal

An 18-year-old Petaluma girl was fatally injured in an accident at 7:46 a.m. today on Highway 101, just north of the Marin County line.

Diane Heagy, 1609 Sarkesian Drive, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for head and chest injuries and died two hours after admittance.

The California Highway Patrol had no details on the accident, but said it involved only her southbound car.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Parent Funeral Chapel.

Hardy Lot Ride Marin Ferries, Brave Weather

Despite the long spell of bad weather, district officials reported today, some 300 to 350 commuters still flock aboard during the three morniing commute runs to San Francisco. And about 500 still are counted through the gate during the late afternoon commute runs back to Sausalito.

Midday ridership, however, has been down by 20 to 25 per cent, reported transit manager Donald White. The later afternoon totals are higher than in the morning because they include returning shoppers.

Total daily weekday patronage during the wet weather has averaged about 1,000, compared to about 1,300 when the weather was better.

Meeting Will Be Open to Public

A meeting of the Tiburon Boulevard and Shoreline Study Committee tomorrow at Tiburon City Hall will not be closed to the public, as reported last week by chairman Alvin R. Khun.

Acting City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert said the public is welcome to the 8 p.m. meeting but discussion will be limited to committee members.

Rock Trio Pleads To Marijuana

I-J Special Report

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO — Two Marin members of the Quicksilver Messenger Service and a third member of the rock group pleaded innocent yesterday to narcotics law violations in municipal court here.

The three rock musicians, David A. Freiburg, 32, of 7 Farvue Street, Novato, George A. Bonney, 24, of 1492 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, and Jose G. Reyes, 25, of San Francisco were ordered to reappear in court Jan. 12 for preliminary hearing.

Each is charged with possession and transportation of marijuana and possession and transportation of dangerous drugs.

The rock musicians were arrested Nov. 15 at San Francisco International Airport as they prepared to board an Hawaii-bound jet.

A metal detector picked up bullets in Bonney's pocket alerting a marshal to search him. Bonney then fled sprinkling the contents of a plastic bag, marshals said.

After he was caught, the luggage of all three was searched and suspected drugs were found, according to marshals.

Tool Box Stolen

Fred W. Newman, 1200 D Street, Apt. 9, Petaluma, told police yesterday that a tool box valued at $400 had been stolen from his truck over the weekend.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Eat Less After Age 25 To Avoid Progressive Gain In Excess Fat

Van Dellen

Many overweight persons are not obese. The added poundage stems from a large frame and heavy musculature, not from fat. Their health picture is brighter than that of blubbery individuals.

The bony frame remains constant after maturity. Muscle bulk reaches its maximum size, as a rule, by age 25. Weight gained after that time is traced to deposits of fat. The only way to prevent a progressive accumulation of extra padding is to eat less after age 25.

THIS MAY explain why many physicians use the weight at age 25 as the best target for weight reduction in a middle-aged man and age 21 for a middle-aged woman. It may be a better guide for ideal weight than are insurance tables.

Fifty per cent of all body fat is deposited beneath the skin. A rough estimate of the amount can be obtained by picking up a fold of skin between the thumb and index finger. Physicians prefer the back of the arm between the shoulder and the elbow where the fold should not exceed ¾ inch in men and 1 inch in women. A caliper can also be used. For self-analysis the abdomen below the navel is a more practical area. A skinfold of more than 1 inch in men and 1½ inches in women is a sign of being fat.

FAT DISTRIBUTION varies in different individuals and at different ages. Small children, for example, have more on the arms than on the abdomen. Adults show the opposite picture. Women have more fat layers on the calf of the leg but the layers are so tightly adherent they cannot be used for testing.

Some adults accumulate visible excess fat in the upper half of the body (android obesity) making them look like John Bull. The lower half enlarges in other persons (gynecoid obesity).

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

ENLARGED LYMPH GLANDS

A reader writes: What disease causes the lymph glands to enlarge?

REPLY

Lymph glands are the body's first line of defense against the spread of infections and cancer. The person with a sore throat may develop swollen glands in the neck. An infected toe may be followed by tenderness and swelling of the glands in the groin. Swelling of the entire lymph gland system may occur in Hodgkin's disease or leukemia. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on lymphadenitis.

WASHING THE HAIR

G.T. writes: I am 12 years old with hair a little below my shoulders. How many times a week should I wash it! P.S. Please reply soon; this is very important.

REPLY

Wash it whenever it is dirty. The condition of the scalp also plays a role, in that extremely oily hair may need to be shampooed twice a week. Conversely, if the scalp is dry, shampooing once a week should do it. I can't understand why a boy wants the trials and care that go with long hair.

PAIN IN THE ARMS

A.P.T. writes: Can pain in the arms (not in the chest) be due to heart trouble?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the pain comes with exertion or excitement and is relieved by rest or calm. But a disturbance in the vertebrae of the neck is a more likely cause. Pressure on the nerves from muscles, blood vessels and tumors must also be considered. X-rays of the neck and spine will answer your question.

Today's Health Hint — The skier who makes a "Sitzmark" (hole in the snow) should fill it so the next person will not fall.

Vandals Hit Again, Breaking Windows

Another San Francisco store, with a Marin County branch that advertises in the Independent-Journal, has been vandalized, a store official said today.

Ray Lewsader, manager of Lachman Brothers furniture store in San Francisco, said three plate glass windows were smashed between 10 and 11:30 p.m. last Saturday.

The Saturday before, Nov. 28, he said, he received a telephoned warning that unless the firm stopped advertising in the I-J, windows would be smashed.

That Saturday, Lewsader said, two plate glass windows were broken and a Christmas ornament stinkbomb was thrown into the company's carpet warehouse.

Lachman's San Rafael store is an I-J advertiser.

The San Francisco branch of a Kentfield food market which advertises in the newspaper was similarly vandalized last week.

The destruction at Lachman's was the most recently reported case of violence in a long series of attacks by vandals since San Francisco Typographical Union 21 struck the Independent-Journal Jan. 7.

Gnoss Field Approved For Bad Weather Flights

Marin County's airportat Gnoss Field has been approved for instrument approach and takeoff by the Federal Aviation Agency, airport manager Francis E. Torr reported last night to the Marin Aviation Commission.

Torr said this means that pilots will be able to take off and land in bad weather through the use of facilities in Napa County Airport and radar at Hamilton Air Force Base. There will be no added cost to the county and no additional manpower needed.

Torr also reported that rentals for airplane tie-downs at Gnoss Field should be raised to meet costs.

On a motion by William Schwarzer, the commissioners recommended to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that tie-down fees be raised from the present $15 per plane per month to $20 per month.

Marin Aviation Commissioners also:

THIRD OPERATOR — Decided that facilities and economic conditions will not allow a third fixed base operator at Gnoss Field. Robert Chestnut of Novato wanted to join Marin Aviation Co. and Spectrum Air as the third fixed base operator.

IMPROVEMENTS — Heard from Gerald Bonner, spokesman for the Aviation Improvement Committee of Marin, that the committee has set up several goals, including resurfacing of the main runway, adding a cross runway, and to make Marin supervisors aware of the importance of the airport to the growth of Marin.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Jan. 11 in the Marin Aviation Co. building at Gnoss Field.

Proposed Diabetes Group Sets Session

An organizational meeting of a proposed diabetes association for Marin County will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the College of Marin's Olney Hall.

Coordinated by Sandra Clazunov of 108 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, the meeting will include a speech on "What's Happening in Diabetes Research" by Dr. Seymour Levin of San Rafael.

Collegian To Appear On Charges

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Morgan Gilbert Doyle, 19, of 42 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday on $3,000 bail and ordered to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court today on charges arising from last Tuesday's antiwar protest on Nob Hill.

The six-foot-two-inch student at the University of California in Berkeley, has been charged with attacking San Francisco Patrolman William Navin and Lt. Donald Taylor, and with robbery in the taking of Navin's helmet.

Doyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Doyle, was arrested Saturday in his Ross home, on the basis of identification from news photos made while officer Navin was under attack by five young hoodlums during the visit of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam.

Some Practical Tips In Buying YOUR NEXT AUTOMOBILE

First, if you live - in Marin - you have an instant advantage. Marin dealers, with much lower overhead than "metropolitan" dealers, pass the savings on to you. And being local, they can service your car with far greater convenience. Saves the rat race, saves on sales tax, (to 1/2% lower in Marin) . . . Better deal all around!!!

Shots Fired In Area Of Prison

Two series of shots were fired last night in the area of the unmanned west gate of San Quentin Prison, sheriff's deputies said today.

A San Quentin officer said the shots fired at 10:10 p.m. and again at 10:25 p.m., apparently came from a high caliber weapon.

A car followed by sheriff's officers was stopped but the occupants released after no weapons were found.

There was no damage from the shots, fired each time in a series of six to eight blasts.

Louise Thoresen Named Executrix

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Louise B. Thoresen has been named executrix of the estate of her husband William E. Thoresen III, whom she killed June 10 in the bedroom of their home.

Fresno County Administrator John Cartwright had handled his estate while Mrs. Thoresen faced murder charges in the death of her eccentric, gun-collecting husband.

Arrested On Three Counts

A 36-year-old Berkeley man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon, a loaded fire arm in a vehicle and being drunk in or about a car.

Chandler was arrested at 3 a.m. at Locke Brothers at 911 Francisco Boulevard when he had the loaded gun in his pocket, police reported. He told police his car was in an accident and that he did not want to leave the gun in the car.

Details of the accident involving Locke's car were not available.

Plan To Recycle Solid Wastes Is Given Support

A comprehensive plan to collect and recycle solid wastes was endorsed in principle last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

The proposal, advanced by Whole Systems, a San Francisco planning and design firm, calls for monthly collection service to subscribers in Mill Valley.

Neill Smith of Tiburon, representing Whole Systems, told the council that the service would cost each household $1 a month.

A cardboard divider would be issued which would fit into a standard garbage can, he said. The waste would be separated into newspapers, glass, cardboard, cans, rags and miscellaneous scrap metal.

The materials would be trucked to a staging area located on two acresat the Mill Valley corporation yard, which the city would lease to Whole Systems for a nominal sum, and then sent to salvage plants.

While all councilmen said they favored the concept, they questioned whether Mill Valley Refuse Service would be willing to give up part of its exclusive franchise to Whole Systems.

In the end, the council voted 4-0, Mayor George E. Wickham abstaining, to endorse the plan in principle providing details can be worked out with the refuse company.

Review Of Projects Is Urged

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Legislation to require state projects in the Bay Area to be reviewed by the Association of Bay Area Governments was urged last night by ABAG's regional planning committee.

Such projects now can proceed without any regional review, the committee objected. Its recommendation will go to the association's executive committee on Dec. 17.

The federal government recently set a policy of submitting its projects to regional review, and the state should have a parallel policy, the committee agreed.

In other business, the committee urged the Army Corps of Engineers to contract with ABAG for portions of the corps' study of water based commerce and commodity flow in the region. The $4.5 million study is to take four years.

The committee said that the environmental and "social well-being" parts of the study should be done by ABAG to avoid duplication of work ABAG already has done in this field.

Threatens Not To Pay City Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeremy Ets-Hokin threatens not to pay most taxes on his 20 apartment houses in order to "prod the supervisors and the mayor into some action" on taxes.

Ets-Hokin, a resident of Ross and onetime San Francisco art commissioner, was especially outspoken at a news conference he called Monday about the War Memorial complex, which houses the city opera, symphony and an art gallery.

"We have been subsidizing the Atherton suburbanites for too long," he said.

In an hour-long talk, he urged 100 per cent or 200 per cent surcharges on tickets for the opera, symphony, "dirty movies and topless houses" as well as a 100 per cent tax during commute hours of tolls on the two bridges into San Francisco and commute hour toll gates on highways.

To balance the city budget, he suggested, among other things, modernizing the Port of San Francisco, eliminating the city Redevelopment Agency, building more high-rise developments, and enacting a city income tax to support schools.

Cable cars now charge 25 cents a ride and Ets-Hokin asserts that "almost all the passengers are rubbernecks anyway and they'll pay."

Ets-Hokin declared he would pay his federal and state taxes and that his real estate company would meet all its tax bills.

But he said he would pay only $2 of the $12.82 per $100 assessed value tax on his personally-owned buildings. He estimates the apartment structures are worth $500,000.

The money he does pay, he said, would be earmarked for police and fire protection.

A spokesman at the city tax office said Ets-Hokin would be penalized 6 per cent interest on what he does not pay, to start.

Ets-Hokin is suing the city for enforcement of Proposition K which as approved by city voters two years ago would have limited city levies to $4 per $100 assessed valuation. The city attorney said the proposition was illegal.

Single-Car Crash Fatal

An 18-year-old Petaluma girl was fatally injured in an accident at 7:46 a.m. today on Highway 101, just north of the Marin County line.

Diane Heagy, 1609 Sarkesian Drive, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for head and chest injuries and died two hours after admittance.

The California Highway Patrol had no details on the accident, but said it involved only her southbound car.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Parent Funeral Chapel.

Hardy Lot Ride Marin Ferries, Brave Weather

Despite the long spell of bad weather, district officials reported today, some 300 to 350 commuters still flock aboard during the three morniing commute runs to San Francisco. And about 500 still are counted through the gate during the late afternoon commute runs back to Sausalito.

Midday ridership, however, has been down by 20 to 25 per cent, reported transit manager Donald White. The later afternoon totals are higher than in the morning because they include returning shoppers.

Total daily weekday patronage during the wet weather has averaged about 1,000, compared to about 1,300 when the weather was better.

Meeting Will Be Open to Public

A meeting of the Tiburon Boulevard and Shoreline Study Committee tomorrow at Tiburon City Hall will not be closed to the public, as reported last week by chairman Alvin R. Khun.

Acting City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert said the public is welcome to the 8 p.m. meeting but discussion will be limited to committee members.

Rock Trio Pleads To Marijuana

I-J Special Report

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO — Two Marin members of the Quicksilver Messenger Service and a third member of the rock group pleaded innocent yesterday to narcotics law violations in municipal court here.

The three rock musicians, David A. Freiburg, 32, of 7 Farvue Street, Novato, George A. Bonney, 24, of 1492 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, and Jose G. Reyes, 25, of San Francisco were ordered to reappear in court Jan. 12 for preliminary hearing.

Each is charged with possession and transportation of marijuana and possession and transportation of dangerous drugs.

The rock musicians were arrested Nov. 15 at San Francisco International Airport as they prepared to board an Hawaii-bound jet.

A metal detector picked up bullets in Bonney's pocket alerting a marshal to search him. Bonney then fled sprinkling the contents of a plastic bag, marshals said.

After he was caught, the luggage of all three was searched and suspected drugs were found, according to marshals.

Tool Box Stolen

Fred W. Newman, 1200 D Street, Apt. 9, Petaluma, told police yesterday that a tool box valued at $400 had been stolen from his truck over the weekend.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Eat Less After Age 25 To Avoid Progressive Gain In Excess Fat

Van Dellen

Many overweight persons are not obese. The added poundage stems from a large frame and heavy musculature, not from fat. Their health picture is brighter than that of blubbery individuals.

The bony frame remains constant after maturity. Muscle bulk reaches its maximum size, as a rule, by age 25. Weight gained after that time is traced to deposits of fat. The only way to prevent a progressive accumulation of extra padding is to eat less after age 25.

THIS MAY explain why many physicians use the weight at age 25 as the best target for weight reduction in a middle-aged man and age 21 for a middle-aged woman. It may be a better guide for ideal weight than are insurance tables.

Fifty per cent of all body fat is deposited beneath the skin. A rough estimate of the amount can be obtained by picking up a fold of skin between the thumb and index finger. Physicians prefer the back of the arm between the shoulder and the elbow where the fold should not exceed ¾ inch in men and 1 inch in women. A caliper can also be used. For self-analysis the abdomen below the navel is a more practical area. A skinfold of more than 1 inch in men and 1½ inches in women is a sign of being fat.

FAT DISTRIBUTION varies in different individuals and at different ages. Small children, for example, have more on the arms than on the abdomen. Adults show the opposite picture. Women have more fat layers on the calf of the leg but the layers are so tightly adherent they cannot be used for testing.

Some adults accumulate visible excess fat in the upper half of the body (android obesity) making them look like John Bull. The lower half enlarges in other persons (gynecoid obesity).

(Questions on medical topics will be answered by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

ENLARGED LYMPH GLANDS

A reader writes: What disease causes the lymph glands to enlarge?

REPLY

Lymph glands are the body's first line of defense against the spread of infections and cancer. The person with a sore throat may develop swollen glands in the neck. An infected toe may be followed by tenderness and swelling of the glands in the groin. Swelling of the entire lymph gland system may occur in Hodgkin's disease or leukemia. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on lymphadenitis.

WASHING THE HAIR

G.T. writes: I am 12 years old with hair a little below my shoulders. How many times a week should I wash it! P.S. Please reply soon; this is very important.

REPLY

Wash it whenever it is dirty. The condition of the scalp also plays a role, in that extremely oily hair may need to be shampooed twice a week. Conversely, if the scalp is dry, shampooing once a week should do it. I can't understand why a boy wants the trials and care that go with long hair.

PAIN IN THE ARMS

A.P.T. writes: Can pain in the arms (not in the chest) be due to heart trouble?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the pain comes with exertion or excitement and is relieved by rest or calm. But a disturbance in the vertebrae of the neck is a more likely cause. Pressure on the nerves from muscles, blood vessels and tumors must also be considered. X-rays of the neck and spine will answer your question.

Today's Health Hint — The skier who makes a "Sitzmark" (hole in the snow) should fill it so the next person will not fall.

Vandals Hit Again, Breaking Windows

Another San Francisco store, with a Marin County branch that advertises in the Independent-Journal, has been vandalized, a store official said today.

Ray Lewsader, manager of Lachman Brothers furniture store in San Francisco, said three plate glass windows were smashed between 10 and 11:30 p.m. last Saturday.

The Saturday before, Nov. 28, he said, he received a telephoned warning that unless the firm stopped advertising in the I-J, windows would be smashed.

That Saturday, Lewsader said, two plate glass windows were broken and a Christmas ornament stinkbomb was thrown into the company's carpet warehouse.

Lachman's San Rafael store is an I-J advertiser.

The San Francisco branch of a Kentfield food market which advertises in the newspaper was similarly vandalized last week.

The destruction at Lachman's was the most recently reported case of violence in a long series of attacks by vandals since San Francisco Typographical Union 21 struck the Independent-Journal Jan. 7.

Gnoss Field Approved For Bad Weather Flights

Marin County's airportat Gnoss Field has been approved for instrument approach and takeoff by the Federal Aviation Agency, airport manager Francis E. Torr reported last night to the Marin Aviation Commission.

Torr said this means that pilots will be able to take off and land in bad weather through the use of facilities in Napa County Airport and radar at Hamilton Air Force Base. There will be no added cost to the county and no additional manpower needed.

Torr also reported that rentals for airplane tie-downs at Gnoss Field should be raised to meet costs.

On a motion by William Schwarzer, the commissioners recommended to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that tie-down fees be raised from the present $15 per plane per month to $20 per month.

Marin Aviation Commissioners also:

THIRD OPERATOR — Decided that facilities and economic conditions will not allow a third fixed base operator at Gnoss Field. Robert Chestnut of Novato wanted to join Marin Aviation Co. and Spectrum Air as the third fixed base operator.

IMPROVEMENTS — Heard from Gerald Bonner, spokesman for the Aviation Improvement Committee of Marin, that the committee has set up several goals, including resurfacing of the main runway, adding a cross runway, and to make Marin supervisors aware of the importance of the airport to the growth of Marin.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Jan. 11 in the Marin Aviation Co. building at Gnoss Field.

Proposed Diabetes Group Sets Session

An organizational meeting of a proposed diabetes association for Marin County will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the College of Marin's Olney Hall.

Coordinated by Sandra Clazunov of 108 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, the meeting will include a speech on "What's Happening in Diabetes Research" by Dr. Seymour Levin of San Rafael.

Collegian To Appear On Charges

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Morgan Gilbert Doyle, 19, of 42 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday on $3,000 bail and ordered to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court today on charges arising from last Tuesday's antiwar protest on Nob Hill.

The six-foot-two-inch student at the University of California in Berkeley, has been charged with attacking San Francisco Patrolman William Navin and Lt. Donald Taylor, and with robbery in the taking of Navin's helmet.

Doyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Doyle, was arrested Saturday in his Ross home, on the basis of identification from news photos made while officer Navin was under attack by five young hoodlums during the visit of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam.

Forecast Bleak On Finance

A bleak financial forecast of soaring municipal expenditures and static income which may put Corte Madera more than $300,000 in the red by 1975 was outlined last night for the town council.

Frank Bigley, director of finance, told the council his predictions — excluding an $11,579 deficit for this year — were based on expected loss of retail business in the community and estimated increases in salaries and material costs.

The $11,579 deficit for this year he blamed on "short falls" in interest rates and minor collections.

Deficits predicted through fiscal 1974-75 are: $71,143 in 1971-72; $143,940 in 1972-73; $223,266 in 1973-74, and $310,013 in 1974-75.

Bigley said the figures included an average employee pay hike of 7.5 per cent per year and a 10 per cent annual increase in the price of supplies and materials.

Further, Bigley said, his five-year budget forecast limited capital outlays to replacement of four-and-one-half autos per year at a cost of $18,250 and miscellaneous office equipment at $3,000 per year. Deleted from the projected budgets was any consideration of completing the town park (at a cost of $100,000) or construction of another park in East Corte Madera (at a cost of between $200,000 and $300,000).

Bigley told the council the only foreseeable increase in income is a 2 per cent average annual increase in property taxes based on increased assessed valuation.

Means of combating the deficit are limited to two means — increasing the property tax or expanded business growth, Bigley said.

A maximum of $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation may be levied against property taxpayers for general fund revenue. The town currently collects about 26 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the general fund leaving the most the government could acquire through property taxes at about $257,000. (Each cent of the property tax rates yields about $2,600 in revenue.)

The finance director said the picture could get darker once Sears Roebuck and Co., locates an outlet at the Northgate Shopping Center in San Rafael and Macy's locates at the proposed Greenbrae shopping center.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, claiming the condition of the center is already nearing the point of driving customers away, predicted no change in physical appearance until the center's "monopoly" on business ends.

Colthurst said later Corte Madera, like many other communities, will have to expand its business base if it is to avoid a deficit.

The council discussed briefly, but dismissed the possibility of state legislation proposed by the League of California Cities to provide communities with additional sales and income taxes.

A Wedding Gift

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Arlene Dahl, 42, and television executive Rounsevelle Schaum, 42, became parents of a boy on their first wedding anniversary Monday.

Switchboards Of Marin, Musicians Out Of Business

Both Switchboard of Marin and the Marin Musicians Switchboard were out of business today — at least temporarily.

Telephone calls to either facility were referred to a San Francisco number that turned out to be the San Francisco Musicians Switchboard.

There, the persons answering were unable to report how to call David Hutchinson, operator of the Marin Musicians Switchboard, and they had no idea what had happened to the Switchboard of Marin.

The two switchboards temporarily merged operations last month, after a fire damaged the quarters of the Switchboard of Marin. But Hutchinson warned at the time that unless financial help became available, the musicians switchboard, too, would lose its quarters Dec. 1.

Jury Trial Set For Pair In Yacht Case

Daniel Patrick Smith, 22, and Kelly Sanford Walter, 21, both of Marin City, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a locker in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor in September.

A jury trial was set for the week of March 8.

Novatan Fined $250 For Grass

Al Joaquin Miranda, 22, of Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Dec. 22, 1969, when arrested for a traffic violation.

Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense to be a misdemeanor and fined Miranda $250.

Bid For San Clemente Creek Mud Dike Accepted

The Corte Madera Town Council last night accepted the $16,000 bid from Willamette-Western Corp., to construct a mud dike along San Clemente Creek at Marina Village.

The bid was one of six received with a high ranging to $28,100, and was accepted as part of the town continuing flood control program.

In accepting the bid, the council also accepted a $3,400 rate for dredging a backflow channel of the creek which borders 21 Golden Hind Passage loop homes. The homeowners have agreed to pay for the dredging to rid the inlet of tangled swampland growth.

Willamette-Western also set a $75 per hour rate to dredge the main creek channel for residents of Mariner's Cove. Arthur N. Morrison, town engineer, said last night he estimates it will take the company about three hours per home to dredge the foliage.

Some homeowners, like those along Golden Hind, have agreed to pay the cost of dredging the channel by placing $200 deposits with the town.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

MANAGER — Approved hiring Ronald E. Bartels as town manager at a salary of $20,000 per year. He will also receive $100 per month car allowance and a $1,000 moving allowance to relocate in Marin.

REAPPOINTMENT — Approved unanimously reappointment of Albert E. Kogler to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

HOME OCCUPATION — Approved a home occupation permit for Mrs. R.W. Cowart of 325 Montecito Drive to operate a wig cleaning and setting business.

SANTA CLAUS — Received a report from the town's fire department that Santa Claus will arrive in Corte Madera Dec. 19 aboard the department's new high pressure truck.

BID REJECTION — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, rejected bids for construction of a sewer system along Lucky Road and directed the district engineer to redesign the project.

EASEMENT — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, held over until Dec. 21 consideration of a request for road easement on district property on Paradise Drive. The request was from Kenco Development Co., of Sausalito.

Fireman Falls Down Shaft

NEW YORK (UPI)—An New York city fireman, fighting a fire at a West Side apartment building, plunged 11 stories to his death Monday when he stepped into an open elevator shaft. A tenant was charged with arson and murder.

The dead fireman was identified as Timothy J. Gray, 26. Another fireman was treated for smoke inhalation. More than 100 residents of the building were evacuated.

Police charged Armondo Hernandez, 37, with arson and Homicide. They charged he set fire to mattresses in his apartment then ran into the hallway shouting, "Fire!"

Fire officials said Gray had been on the roof of the building when he stepped into the elevator shaft. They quoted one witness as saying Gray walked into the shaft "as if there were an elevator waiting for him."

Shots Fired In Area Of Prison

Two series of shots were fired last night in the area of the unmanned west gate of San Quentin Prison, sheriff's deputies said today.

A San Quentin officer said the shots fired at 10:10 p.m. and again at 10:25 p.m., apparently came from a high caliber weapon.

A car followed by sheriff's officers was stopped but the occupants released after no weapons were found.

There was no damage from the shots, fired each time in a series of six to eight blasts.

Louise Thoresen Named Executrix

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Louise B. Thoresen has been named executrix of the estate of her husband William E. Thoresen III, whom she killed June 10 in the bedroom of their home.

Fresno County Administrator John Cartwright had handled his estate while Mrs. Thoresen faced murder charges in the death of her eccentric, gun-collecting husband.

Arrested On Three Counts

A 36-year-old Berkeley man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon, a loaded fire arm in a vehicle and being drunk in or about a car.

Chandler was arrested at 3 a.m. at Locke Brothers at 911 Francisco Boulevard when he had the loaded gun in his pocket, police reported. He told police his car was in an accident and that he did not want to leave the gun in the car.

Details of the accident involving Locke's car were not available.

GAZETTE PRESS BERKELEY, CALIF.

Forecast Bleak On Finance

A bleak financial forecast of soaring municipal expenditures and static income which may put Corte Madera more than $300,000 in the red by 1975 was outlined last night for the town council.

Frank Bigley, director of finance, told the council his predictions — excluding an $11,579 deficit for this year — were based on expected loss of retail business in the community and estimated increases in salaries and material costs.

The $11,579 deficit for this year he blamed on "short falls" in interest rates and minor collections.

Deficits predicted through fiscal 1974-75 are: $71,143 in 1971-72; $143,940 in 1972-73; $223,266 in 1973-74, and $310,013 in 1974-75.

Bigley said the figures included an average employee pay hike of 7.5 per cent per year and a 10 per cent annual increase in the price of supplies and materials.

Further, Bigley said, his five-year budget forecast limited capital outlays to replacement of four-and-one-half autos per year at a cost of $18,250 and miscellaneous office equipment at $3,000 per year. Deleted from the projected budgets was any consideration of completing the town park (at a cost of $100,000) or construction of another park in East Corte Madera (at a cost of between $200,000 and $300,000).

Bigley told the council the only foreseeable increase in income is a 2 per cent average annual increase in property taxes based on increased assessed valuation.

Means of combating the deficit are limited to two means — increasing the property tax or expanded business growth, Bigley said.

A maximum of $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation may be levied against property taxpayers for general fund revenue. The town currently collects about 26 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the general fund leaving the most the government could acquire through property taxes at about $257,000. (Each cent of the property tax rates yields about $2,600 in revenue.)

The finance director said the picture could get darker once Sears Roebuck and Co., locates an outlet at the Northgate Shopping Center in San Rafael and Macy's locates at the proposed Greenbrae shopping center.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, claiming the condition of the center is already nearing the point of driving customers away, predicted no change in physical appearance until the center's "monopoly" on business ends.

Colthurst said later Corte Madera, like many other communities, will have to expand its business base if it is to avoid a deficit.

The council discussed briefly, but dismissed the possibility of state legislation proposed by the League of California Cities to provide communities with additional sales and income taxes.

A Wedding Gift

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Arlene Dahl, 42, and television executive Rounsevelle Schaum, 42, became parents of a boy on their first wedding anniversary Monday.

Switchboards Of Marin, Musicians Out Of Business

Both Switchboard of Marin and the Marin Musicians Switchboard were out of business today — at least temporarily.

Telephone calls to either facility were referred to a San Francisco number that turned out to be the San Francisco Musicians Switchboard.

There, the persons answering were unable to report how to call David Hutchinson, operator of the Marin Musicians Switchboard, and they had no idea what had happened to the Switchboard of Marin.

The two switchboards temporarily merged operations last month, after a fire damaged the quarters of the Switchboard of Marin. But Hutchinson warned at the time that unless financial help became available, the musicians switchboard, too, would lose its quarters Dec. 1.

Jury Trial Set For Pair In Yacht Case

Daniel Patrick Smith, 22, and Kelly Sanford Walter, 21, both of Marin City, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a locker in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor in September.

A jury trial was set for the week of March 8.

Novatan Fined $250 For Grass

Al Joaquin Miranda, 22, of Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Dec. 22, 1969, when arrested for a traffic violation.

Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense to be a misdemeanor and fined Miranda $250.

Bid For San Clemente Creek Mud Dike Accepted

The Corte Madera Town Council last night accepted the $16,000 bid from Willamette-Western Corp., to construct a mud dike along San Clemente Creek at Marina Village.

The bid was one of six received with a high ranging to $28,100, and was accepted as part of the town continuing flood control program.

In accepting the bid, the council also accepted a $3,400 rate for dredging a backflow channel of the creek which borders 21 Golden Hind Passage loop homes. The homeowners have agreed to pay for the dredging to rid the inlet of tangled swampland growth.

Willamette-Western also set a $75 per hour rate to dredge the main creek channel for residents of Mariner's Cove. Arthur N. Morrison, town engineer, said last night he estimates it will take the company about three hours per home to dredge the foliage.

Some homeowners, like those along Golden Hind, have agreed to pay the cost of dredging the channel by placing $200 deposits with the town.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

MANAGER — Approved hiring Ronald E. Bartels as town manager at a salary of $20,000 per year. He will also receive $100 per month car allowance and a $1,000 moving allowance to relocate in Marin.

REAPPOINTMENT — Approved unanimously reappointment of Albert E. Kogler to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

HOME OCCUPATION — Approved a home occupation permit for Mrs. R.W. Cowart of 325 Montecito Drive to operate a wig cleaning and setting business.

SANTA CLAUS — Received a report from the town's fire department that Santa Claus will arrive in Corte Madera Dec. 19 aboard the department's new high pressure truck.

BID REJECTION — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, rejected bids for construction of a sewer system along Lucky Road and directed the district engineer to redesign the project.

EASEMENT — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, held over until Dec. 21 consideration of a request for road easement on district property on Paradise Drive. The request was from Kenco Development Co., of Sausalito.

Another Holiday Certificate Idea

Dad and the children will be proud to have portraits of themselves, but as an added plus you also can create a family portrait gallery by borrowing a simple modern arrangement from art museums. Attach parallel strips of molding to the wall. Have your professional photographer mount the Christmas gift portraits on matboard sized to fit between the two strips. Then slide the finished portraits into the long "frame," rearranging and adding portraits as your initial collection grows. Why not make new portraits a Christmas tradition each year?

Bank Credit Card

And don't forget, a gift that the budget-expanding Santa can give himself might be a bank credit card. Virtually every bank is a member of an inter-bank credit system, and many many business firms honor these cards.

FOR A MONTH OF SUN DAYS

If there's a sun vacation ahead for the Number One man on your Christmas list, why not give him the jacket to make the most of it. Here's a likely candidate from Hart, Schaffner & Marx, whose local dealer is Hastings, On The Mall - Northgate. Its natural shoulder lines reflect the new wide lapel influence with a traced waist, wide pocket flaps and deep center vent for good measure. The chalk chevron fabric is available in a variety of shades.

Be Smart Santa, Shop Before Rush

All tied up for the holidays? Great! There's no need to become tied down with last minute details, particularly in the fashion and beauty department.

Smart Santas begin early to get ready for the Christmas rush. There's still time to enroll in a needlework class and make special gifts for some of your closest friends. Or to take that cooking course you've been putting off and make your own fruitcake this year.

If your children are old enough to participate, why not plan an old-fashioned Christmas trees? The rule is, though, only homemade decorations allowed. Bake and decorate cookie ornaments to hang on the tree. Make balls from bits of crinkly, aluminum foil. Cut pretty pictures from magazines or last year's Christmas cards to add color. And, don't forget the old stand-bys like popcorn ropes, chains of colored paper, and candy canes.

You, of course, don't want to overlook yourself while planning holiday gaiety for your family. Best bets here are to start early, and plan beauty short cuts that allow you to breeze through the holidays.

Hair, always an important part of any "look", is even more so during the holidays. You'll want to look special, without spending hours in the beauty parlor or sleepless nights trying not to muss a fussy coif.

And you can have flair without fuss if you give yourself a home wave before the holidays. There's a Lilt Home Wave designed for every type of hair, to achieve every type of style. Choose super, regular, or gentle Lilt for hard-to-wave, normal or easy-to-wave hair. With all Lilt Style Kits, you can use the Soft Wave Method that gives the soft, loose curls necessary for today's feminine styles and waves.

Or, if you just want control in hard-to-manage areas, such as tendrils, guiches, bangs, or ends, choose the push button type. This dispenses the waving agent as a soft, aerosol foam with no messy dripping — just-the thing for "here and there" curls where ever you want them.

SUEDE AND LACED!

Space No Problem For These Machines

Wives are sometimes hard to surprise at Christmas, so it isn't always easy to dream up even one different gift idea.

But, here's a pair of ideas if your wife hasn't had her own laundry appliances because installation or space is a problem.

The Porta-Washer and Porta-Dryer fit anywhere. Each appliance measures only 24 inches wide by 15 inches deep by about 30 inches high.

Both units operate on 115-volt household current and don't require special installation. The spinner type washer hooks up to any sink for doing the laundry and no special venting is required for the dryer.

. Though small in size, each appliance handles about half a standard size washer load, making the pair ideal for small families, newly marrieds, retired couples or single persons.

An accessory stack rack, which holds the dryer just high enough above the floor so that the washer can be rolled in under it, converts a narrow space into a handy laundry nook. All that is needed is an adequately wired 115-volt outlet for the dryer, but the closer the nook to the kitchen or bathroom sink, the more convenient it would be for the user.

Other storage possibilities for Maytag's Porta-Pair include hanging the dryer on a wall or parking it on a shelf or counter over the washer. Or, the dryer may be fitted with caeters and both units rolled into a closet when not in use.

If the family moves to a new location, the appliances transport easily and the versatile storage possibilities of the compact laundry pair enable them to adapt easily to new surroundings. As with all Maytag appliances, they are covered by warranties that move with the appliances. In the case of the Porta-Pair, the warranties assure one-year free labor and two-year parts replacement.

New Game Is Out For Entire Family

Have you ever bought a family game for the holidays — and then been bored stiff playing it yourself? Families enjoy togetherness, especially during the holidays, but find it hard to decide on an activity which will please and involve children and adults as well as family guests. There's a new kind of game that will get Junior away from the TV, Grandmother from her needlepoint and Dad from his reading to enjoy a family evening of fun.

It's called Connquiz, and it's both a game and an entertaining way to learn the sounds of 75 musical instruments and music forms. The game is played much like bingo, using as clues musical sounds on the record that comes with the game, rather than numbers. Connquiz consists of 40 different game cards, the record, markers, and the game leader's set of clue sheets. The colorful game cards have the letters MUSIC across the top, heading five vertical rows of squares. Each square contains a drawing of an instrument and its name, or an illustration of a music form such as rock and roll, cha cha, the waltz, a march or opera.

Each clue is identified to make the game easy to play. For example, the announcer on the record will say, "Under M, an instrument," and the players may hear a tuba, tenor sax, or violin. If it is a music form, this will be announced and they may hear excerpts from a rhumba, square dance, or ballet.

Each player listens to the clue, and if the answer appears on his card, he covers the appropriate square with a Connquiz marker. The first player who successfully covers a line of five squares vertically, horizontally, or diagonally, calls "Connquiz." He then reads off the squares he has covered while the game leader checks the clue sheet. If he has identified all the instruments correctly, he wins.

To avoid confusion, instruments which sound very much alike, such as the trumpet and cornet, never appear in the same column on the game cards.

You'll be surprised at how many instruments you can recognize — and just how the different instruments do sound when you really listen. Parents will be delighted at the number of sounds they and their children will learn, and at their increased appreciation of music.

The first greeting cards were wood cuts printed in Germany in 1450.

Be Smart Santa, Shop Before Rush

All tied up for the holidays? Great! There's no need to become tied down with last minute details, particularly in the fashion and beauty department.

Smart Santas begin early to get ready for the Christmas rush. There's still time to enroll in a needlework class and make special gifts for some of your closest friends. Or to take that cooking course you've been putting off and make your own fruitcake this year.

Heed these suggestions from experts at the Lilt Beauty Service:

If your children are old enough to participate, why not plan an old-fashioned Christmas trees? The rule is, though, only homemade decorations allowed. Bake and decorate cookie ornaments to hang on the tree. Make balls from bits of crinkly, aluminum foil. Cut pretty pictures from magazines or last year's Christmas cards to add color. And, don't forget the old stand-bys like popcorn ropes, chains of colored paper, and candy canes.

You, of course, don't want to overlook yourself while planning holiday gaiety for your family. Best bets here are to start early, and plan beauty short cuts that allow you to breeze through the holidays.

Hair, always an important part of any "look", is even more so during the holidays. You'll want to look special, without spending hours in the beauty parlor or sleepless nights trying not to muss a fussy coif.

And you can have flair without fuss if you give yourself a home wave before the holidays. There's a Lilt Home Wave designed for every type of hair, to achieve every type of style. Choose super, regular, or gentle Lilt for hard-to-wave, normal or easy-to-wave hair. With all Lilt Style Kits, you can use the Soft Wave Method that gives the soft, loose curls necessary for today's feminine styles and waves.

Or, if you just want control in hard-to-manage areas, such as tendrils, guiches, bangs, or ends, choose the push button type. This dispenses the waving agent as a soft, aerosol foam with no messy dripping — just the thing for "here and there" curls where ever you want them.

Consider Banks As Gift Center

For unflurried, unhurried shopping — early or last minute Santa and his helpers might consider a local full service bank

At the bank, gift givers can choose gift certificates, for money to be spent in any store

Or, perhaps a certificate of deposit from the bank — a gift that will grow might have appeal Because they are time deposits " certificates of deposit earn an interest rate higher than that paid on regular savings

This means the money must be left in the bank for a specific time — for periods between six months and five years

Create Massive Candlesticks For Holidays

When you plan the menu for a holiday gathering, take time to plan an original centerpiece and set the mood for a memorable occasion. The Directoire Candlesticks, suggested by the Norcross Design Studio, are created from gift wrap foil and cardboard ribbon spools. A subtle interplay of textured and polished foil is accented with bands and circles of gold Lustre-Cord.

It is easy to make as many candlesticks as needed to achieve the desired effect. Try a group of three or four, of varying heights, on a bed of evergreen for a massed effect on a buffet Or use them singly on individual tables for four

Norcross offers instructions for making the candlesticks in a booklet titled "Decorate with Gift Wraps" Included in the booklet are over twenty-five decorations and gift ideas for Christmas and all year To get a copy, send 50 cents to "Decorate with Gift Wraps," 14 Main Street, Park Ridge, Ill 60068

ZIP IT UP

There's more zip to this boot than the fastening. "Men's feet will have it pretty soft this spring," Vic Pappas, buyer for Gallenkamp shoe stores, predicts. The softest materials — krinkle patent in this case — combine with a slightly higher heel and with simplicity of design to give this mid-high boot a real zip for Spring Available at the Northgate Mall, downtown San Rafael on Fourth Street and at Corte Madera Shopping Center

Savings Account Is Good For Godchild

For a nephew, niece or godchild, another gift choice could be a savings account. Many banks offer special ones that can be opened for as little as a five-or ten-dollar deposit.

The savings account can be added to on other gift occasions, to delight the child niftily and thriftily

Give Framed Art For Unusual Gift

Stumped for Christmas gift ideas? (Aren't we all?) Searching for something different — yet with a true holiday feeling?

Take a tip from the Picture and Frame Institute Framed art, perhaps with a religious motif makes a superb Christmas gift and is a welcome change from the usual "books-and-records" syndrome for that hard-to-please individual

Religious art comes in a wide range of subjects and styles, one of which is certain to please just about everybody on your shopping agenda. A person with a traditional outlook should be delighted with, say, a simply-framed print of Leonardo DaVinci's "The Last Supper." Or what about an elaborately framed reproduction of Leonardo's 'Virgin?"

But it's unnecessary to stick with the old master' religious painting, if you want Christmasy art for more modern tastes Many modern designs have a subtle religious message, such as the elegant Picasso lithograph, "The Dove" flying gracefully with the olive branch of peace in his beak. What could more appropriately symbolize the peace on earth and goodwill toward men we all pray for during this holiday season?

Abstracts, too, can have a religious theme: the striking triangel print is a lovely symbol of the Trinity.

Once you have chosen a picture, make sure you take all the work out of it before it's bedecked with bright wrappings and bows. The print, lithograph or original painting should be framed, and matted under glass too, if appropriate Investigate the new non-glare glass — it can add a note of elegance to even the most economical reproduction.

The Picture and Frame Institute also suggests the frame blends with the artwork. A small traditional painting is probably most effective with an ornate frame, while a more modern work is shown off to best advantage against sleek aluminum. But be wary of generalizations. Your own good taste should decide what frame is best for the print you have chosen

When we think of pictures, we automatically think walls. But consider a tiny painting in a heavily carved frame, propped up with its own mini display easel. A favorite aunt with a passion for antiques should love a wee painting to display on its own miniature easel.

The trick is simply . . . buying creativity. Almost all department stores have a framed art department. Browse for awhile, shopping list in hand. You're sure to find the gift for everyone, aged 8 to 80.

Turn Play Clay Into Fun Gifts

Do you sit wondering what on earth to give some of those "have everything" people on your Christmas gift list . trying to balance your savings against your forthcoming spendings? Well, have you ever given your talents a fair try? If not, this is the year to begin, for self expression's the thing. You might take the plunge with an amusing one-of-a-kind chess set guaranteed to warm the cockles of a father's heart, a grandfather's or favorite uncle's. It's a snap to stir up a game with play clay and the financial investment is tiny. You'll need baking soda, corn starch, straight pins, white glue, poster paint and brush and clear nail polish. And here's the recipe for the play clay:

2 cups baking soda (1-pound package)
1 cup corn starch
1 1&4 cups cold water

In a saucepan, thoroughly combine baking soda and corn starch Add water, mixing until smooth Bring to boil over medium heat stirring constantly Cook a minute longer or until mixture resembles mashed potatoes (overcooking makes clay crumbly). Remove from heat immediately, transfer to plate and cover with a damp cloth until cool enough to handle. Knead a little and store all but what you're about to use in closed plastic bag so it won't dry out.

Now, move over, Michelan-

Shower Head Is Gift Of The Unusual

Everyone loves a gift that 1) nobody ever heard of, (2 is useful as well as good-looking 3) keeps on giving all year What we're saying is that a new easy-to-install shower head called Body Toner could be your Gift Gimmick of the Year

This beautifully designed shower accessory boasts three swirling jets which toss triple streams of diffused droplets in a rhythmic pattern thus creating a massaging sensation on neck shoulders and back which is simultaneously invigorating and calming Finger flick settings range from springtime sprinkle to drumming deluge obviously great for facials and shampoos as well as showers

Should your beloved giftee happen to be a member of the family won't it be nice to share that new-found sense of well-being the shower accessory promises" Self-cleaning is guaranteed clog and corrosion-proof. Attractively packaged and ready to gift wrap, this extraordinary contrivance comes in chrome harvest gold, porcelain white or avocado green Body Toner makes a gift of the 'first water

Consider Banks As Gift Center

For unflurried, unhurried shopping – early or last minute Santa and his helpers might consider a local full service bank

At the bank, gift givers can choose gift certificates, for money to be spent in any store

Or, perhaps a certificate of deposit from the bank – a gift that will grow – might have appeal Because they are time deposits " certificates of deposit earn an interest rate higher than that paid on regular savings

This means the money must be left in the bank for a specific time – for periods between six months and five years

The Toppers

Perfect toppings for gals of all ages wigs, wiglets, wigettes cones, switches and pony tails are beauty bonuses for every occasion

Create Massive Candlesticks For Holidays

When you plan the menu for a holiday gathering, take time to plan an original centerpiece and set the mood for a memorable occasion. The Directoire Candlesticks, suggested by the Norcross Design Studio, are created from gift wrap foil and cardboard ribbon spools. A subtle interplay of textured and polished foil is accented with bands and circles of gold Lustre-Cord.

It is easy to make as many candlesticks as needed to achieve the desired effect. Try a group of three or four, of varying heights, on a bed of evergreen for a massed effect on a buffet Or use them singly on individual tables for four

Norcross offers instructions for making the candlesticks in a booklet titled "Decorate with Gift Wraps" Included in the booklet are over twenty-five decorations and gift ideas for Christmas and all year To get a copy, send 50 cents to "Decorate with Gift Wraps," 14 Main Street, Park Ridge, Ill 60068

Southpaws can now buy left handed power tools

ZIP IT UP

There's more zip to this boot than the fastening. "Men's feet will have it pretty soft this spring," Vic Pappas, buyer for Gallenkamp shoe stores, predicts. The softest materials – krinkle patent in this case – combine with a slightly higher heel and with simplicity of design to give this mid-high boot a real zip for Spring Available at the Northgate Mall, downtown San Rafael on Fourth Street and at Corte Madera Shopping Center

Savings Account Is Good For Godchild

For a nephew, niece or godchild, another gift choice could be a savings account. Many banks offer special ones that can be opened for as little as a five-or ten-dollar deposit.

The savings account can be added to on other gift occasions, to delight the child niftily and thriftily

Poet Immortalizes Santa's White Mane

Christmas without Santa Claus? Never. Santa without his flowing white beard? Ridiculous.

Well, don't tell the kids but Saint Nick hasn't always had all those whiskers. There's a statue of St. Nicholas in Bari, Italy, showing him with a neat, pointed Vandyke.

St. Nick's great white mane was a German and Dutch addition to the original legend which dates back to 300 A.D. It was immortalized by the American poet Clement Moore in his classic "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" in 1822.

Beards have always been a mark of very special importance and legendary figures such as King Arthur are almost always shown with beards in paintings even though no one knows for sure that they even existed.

Santa's beard may be the most beloved beard of all time but it doesn't hold the record for length. That distinction may belong to George Killingworth who was Queen Elizabeth's agent in the Court of Ivan the Terrible of Russia. Killingworth's beard was five feet long. The story has it that Ivan, who also wore a beard, would stroke the Englishman's whiskers while they talked.

Not all Russian rulers liked beards. Clean-shaven Peter the Great went so far as to levy a tax on beards. There is no record of a taxpayers' revolt. But there was one in France in 1907 when waiters walked off their jobs to protest a rule prohibiting moustaches.

The care and removal of facial hair has become a big business complete with high powered research programs. Remington, for example, had a team of metallurgists develop the special steels which are used in the extra sharp cutters in their new Lektro Blade shaver line, and many makers of false moustaches, sideburns and beards consult with doctors in an effort to avoid allergy aggravating whiskers. Recently, luxury barber shops which charge as much as $20 for a shave and haircut have come into vogue. There have even been actors who have insured their beards.

Beards have had their ups and downs throughout the years and from country to country. For example, most European monarchs wore beards until the end of the last century. But in 1909 only one, Leopold of Belgium, had a full set of whiskers. In England, beards have gone in and out of style several times.

No one seems quite sure why beards have become so popular among today's young men. A psychologist recently attempted an explanation by noting that beards have always been associated with wisdom. Young men, he said, are trying to tell us that they really are very wise despite their youth.

If beards are a sign of wisdom, the merry gentleman who is due down our chimneys the night before Christmas must have all the answers.

Why Not Socks For Day's Yule Stocking?

Christmas is traditionally the season for socks, stockings, and stuffings, with everyone from Baby to Grandpa hanging his own personalized hosiery by the chimney with care.

And this Christmas, the season's soxiest gift-giving suggestion is "Sock it to Dad in His Stocking." Socks, particularly over-the-calf styles, are the up and coming trend in stocking stuffers for Dad, Son, Boyfriend or Boss.

Over-the-calfs reveal a lot about the man who wears them — and the woman who buys them. Over 75 per cent of all men's hosiery is purchased by women who like the longer leg-fitting styles that make her man look fashionable and successful. According to a recent "Soxology" survey conducted by the Institute for Motivational Research, women enjoy taking care of their man's socks for it is reportedly a way of paying homage to his fasculinity.

Among the things she's most concerned about is helping her man cover "calf gap" — that hairy patch of shin that bristles forth when a man crosses his legs. Over-the-calf socks provide greater comfort, don't bag a the ankles, and remain "at attention" throughout the most hectic day. Calf gap suggests a lack of continuity and follow through, but the man with shins covered presents a dignified and well organized appearance.

Today's choice of these socks is almost as colorful as those stockings traditionally hung by the fireplace. Famous designers such as Bill Blass, John Weitz, Schiaparelli, and Christian Dior are offering the fashionable male a wide range of colors, patterns, and textures. The socks come in argyles and diamonds, herringbone and houndstooth, stripes and plaids, checks and window panes — and more.

Colors are bursting forth in such thought-provoking shades as plum, rum, whiskey, wine, mint, melon, persimmon, pumpkin and raspberry.

Today's sox-cessful man has an average of 12 to 18 over-the-calfs in his drawer. How's your man's quota? Start off his New Year on sound footing with a stocking stuffed with a wardrobe of these. Remember, Christmas 'tis the season to be soxy!

Give Framed Art For Unusual Gift

Stumped for Christmas gift ideas? (Aren't we all?) Searching for something different — yet with a true holiday feeling?

Take a tip from the Picture and Frame Institute Framed art, perhaps with a religious motif makes a superb Christmas gift and is a welcome change from the usual "books-and-records" syndrome for that hard-to-please individual

Religious art comes in a wide range of subjects and styles, one of which is certain to please just about everybody on your shopping agenda. A person with a traditional outlook should be delighted with, say, a simply-framed print of Leonardo DaVinci's "The Last Supper." Or what about an elaborately framed reproduction of Leonardo's 'Virgin?"

But it's unnecessary to stick with the old master' religious painting, if you want Christmasy art for more modern tastes Many modern designs have a subtle religious message, such as the elegant Picasso lithograph, "The Dove" flying gracefully with the olive branch of peace in his beak. What could more appropriately symbolize the peace on earth and goodwill toward men we all pray for during this holiday season?

Abstracts, too, can have a religious theme: the striking triangel print is a lovely symbol of the Trinity.

Once you have chosen a picture, make sure you take all the work out of it before it's bedecked with bright wrappings and bows The print, lithograph or original painting should be framed, and matted under glass too, if appropriate Investigate the new non-glare glass — it can add a note of elegance to even the most economical reproduction.

The Picture and Frame Institute also suggests the frame blends with the artwork. A small traditional painting is probably most effective with an ornate frame, while a more modern work is shown off to best advantage against sleek aluminum. But be wary of generalizations. Your own good taste should decide what frame is best for the print you have chosen

When we think of pictures, we automatically think walls. But consider a tiny painting in a heavily carved frame, propped up with its own mini display easel. A favorite aunt with a passion for antiques should love a wee painting to display on its own miniature easel.

The trick is simply . . . buying creativity. Almost all department stores have a framed art department. Browse for awhile, shopping list in hand. You're sure to find the gift for everyone, aged 8 to 80.

Turn Play Clay Into Fun Gifts

Do you sit wondering what on earth to give some of those "have everything" people on your Christmas gift list . trying to balance your savings against your forthcoming spendings? Well, have you ever given your talents a fair try? If not, this is the year to begin, for self expression's the thing. You might take the plunge with an amusing one-of-a-kind chess set guaranteed to warm the cockles of a father's heart, a grandfather's or favorite uncle's. It's a snap to stir up a game with play clay and the financial investment is tiny. You'll need baking soda, corn starch, straight pins, white glue, poster paint and brush and clear nail polish. And here's the recipe for the play clay:

2 cups baking soda (1-pound package)
1 cup corn starch
1 1&4 cups cold water

In a saucepan, thoroughly combine baking soda and corn starch Add water, mixing until smooth Bring to boil over medium heat stirring constantly Cook a minute longer or until mixture resembles mashed potatoes (overcooking makes clay crumbly). Remove from heat immediately, transfer to plate and cover with a damp cloth until cool enough to handle. Knead a little and store all but what you're about to use in closed plastic bag so it won't dry out.

Now, move over, Michelan-

A DECORATOR ITEM

While it has been called a decorator item, this type of Chippendale bench is an ideal addition to any living room, especially during the Christmas company season. It is being offered in various colors at the Elegant Room Interiors at the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Celebrate The Season With Tasteful Gifts

Celebrate the Christmas season-by shopping carefully for gifts that match tastes and needs with the names on the list.

Make some gifts — not only to save money, but for the sake of thoughtfulness.

Toughfully, too, add a little extra something to gifts large and small. A small, but thoughtful, gift can accompany and enhance a gift. And a pretty bow or an imaginative touch in the wrapping, makes a small gift big.

When all this is done, chances are most Santa's helpers will still be left with some last-minute problems, some thoughtful things undone. Even the far-sighted and prudent Santa may overlook someone he really wants to remember.

CLAY

gelo, and start creating.

One chess set requires two kings, two queens, four each bishops, knights and rooks and 16 pawns. Plan to work on a single group at a time.

In the set shown, the larger cubes and balls are about 1-inch in diameter, the smaller ones about 5x8-inch in diameter. The balls used for horse ears and rook towers are so tiny they defy measurement. So that everything comes out the same size make a sketch to guide you. you.

To form balls, roll clay between the palms of your hands and to form cubes pat the balls square. Make all components needed for one group, set them on waxed paper to dry for half an hour, then rework any that have settled into "squash-hood." Allow another half hour drying period. Meanwhile, start another group.

To build the pieces, cut the heads off a batch of straight pins. Dip pin in white glue and stick it half-way down into the center of each cube base. Push protruding pin top into a ball, which comes next. Repeat for each section you use. The pinning should be done before the clay is completely dry. The mini balls on the rooks and knights are applied by moistening with water and pressing. The crowns for the king and queen are cut from a big coin shaped silver sequin and pushed into the clay at this stage. Or you can use little jewels, a bit of gilt braid, anything shiny.

When the pieces are hard and completely dry, paint them with poster paint. When the paint's dry, coat with nail polish

Poet Immortalizes Santa's White Mane

Christmas without Santa Claus? Never. Santa without his flowing white beard? Ridiculous.

Well, don't tell the kids but Saint Nick hasn't always had all those whiskers. There's a statue of St. Nicholas in Bari, Italy, showing him with a neat, pointed Vandyke.

St. Nick's great white mane was a German and Dutch addition to the original legend which dates back to 300 A.D. It was immortalized by the American poet Clement Moore in his classic " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas" in 1822.

Beards have always been a mark of very special importance and legendary figures such as King Arthur are almost always shown with beards in paintings even though no one knows for sure that they even existed.

Santa's beard may be the most beloved beard of all time but it doesn't hold the record for length. That distinction may belong to George Killingworth who was Queen Elizabeth's agent in the Court of Ivan the Terrible of Russia. Killingworth's beard was five feet long. The story has it that Ivan, who also wore a beard, would stroke the Englishman's whiskers while they talked.

Not all Russian rulers liked beards. Clean-shaven Peter the Great went so far as to levy a tax on beards. There is no record of a taxpayers' revolt. But there was one in France in 1907 when waiters walked off their jobs to protest a rule prohibiting moustaches.

The care and removal of facial hair has become a big business complete with high powered research programs. Remington, for example, had a team of metallurgists develop the special steels which are used in the extra sharp cutters in their new Lektro Blade shaver line, and many makers of false moustaches, sideburns and beards consult with doctors in an effort to avoid allergy aggravating whiskers. Recently, luxury barber shops which charge as much as $20 for a shave and haircut have come into vogue. There have even been actors who have insured their beards.

Beards have had their ups and downs throughout the years and from country to country. For example, most European monarchs wore beards until the end of the last century. But in 1909 only one, Leopold of Belgium, had a full set of whiskers. In England, beards have gone in and out of style several times.

No one seems quite sure why beards have become so popular among today's young men. A psychologist recently attempted an explanation by noting that beards have always been associated with wisdom. Young men, he said, are trying to tell us that they really are very wise despite their youth.

If beards are a sign of wisdom, the merry gentleman who is due down our chimneys the night before Christmas must have all the answers.

Why Not Socks For Day's Yule Stocking?

Christmas is traditionally the season for socks, stockings, and stuffings, with everyone from Baby to Grandpa hanging his own personalized hosiery by the chimney with care.

And this Christmas, the season's soxiest gift-giving suggestion is "Sock it to Dad in His Stocking." Socks, particularly over-the-calf styles, are the up and coming trend in stocking stuffers for Dad, Son, Boyfriend or Boss.

Over-the-calfs reveal a lot about the man who wears them — and the woman who buys them. Over 75 per cent of all men's hosiery is purchased by women who like the longer leg-fitting styles that make her man look fashionable and successful. According to a recent "Soxology" survey conducted by the Institute for Motivational Research, women enjoy taking care of their man's socks for it is reportedly a way of paying homage to his fasculinity.

Among the things she's most concerned about is helping her man cover "calf gap" — that hairy patch of shin that bristles forth when a man crosses his legs. Over-the-calf socks provide greater comfort, don't bag a the ankles, and remain "at attention" throughout the most hectic day. Calf gap suggests a lack of continuity and follow through, but the man with shins covered presents a dignified and well organized appearance.

Today's choice of these socks is almost as colorful as those stockings traditionally hung by the fireplace. Famous designers such as Bill Blass, John Weitz, Schiaparelli, and Christian Dior are offering the fashionable male a wide range of colors, patterns, and textures. The socks come in argyles and diamonds, herringbone and houndstooth, stripes and plaids, checks and window panes — and more.

Colors are bursting forth in such thought-provoking shades as plum, rum, whiskey, wine, mint, melon, persimmon, pumpkin and raspberry.

Today's sox-cessful man has an average of 12 to 18 over-the-calfs in his drawer. How's your man's quota? Start off his New Year on sound footing with a stocking stuffed with a wardrobe of these. Remember, Christmas 'tis the season to be soxy!

A DECORATOR ITEM

While it has been called a decorator item, this type of Chippendale bench is an ideal addition to any living room, especially during the Christmas company season. It is being offered in various colors at the Elegant Room Interiors at the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Celebrate The Season With Tasteful Gifts

Celebrate the Christmas season-by shopping carefully for gifts that match tastes and needs with the names on the list.

Make some gifts — not only to save money, but for the sake of thoughtfulness.

Toughfully, too, add a little extra something to gifts large and small. A small, but thoughtful, gift can accompany and enhance a gift. And a pretty bow or an imaginative touch in the wrapping, makes a small gift big.

When all this is done, chances are most Santa's helpers will still be left with some last-minute problems, some thoughtful things undone. Even the far-sighted and prudent Santa may overlook someone he really wants to remember.

A New Focus

The face takes on a new focus More color and more drama s expected for eyes, lips and even fingernails. The languid, beckoning courtesan eye, the bee-stung mouth and deep red fingernails are part of the story. This is reminiscent of the past, but will be enhanced by new transparent, translucent and gossamer foundations.

For Neighbor

For a nice neighbor Dishwashing, diapers and detergents may mean that hands need help for the holidays. Pretty-up a pair of household gloves with a big red rose and glittering braid and stuff each glove with hand cream. There are several creamy hand-savers from which to choose — extra dry skin cream, medicated cream and anti-detergent cream.

CLAY

gelo, and start creating.

One chess set requires two kings, two queens, four each bishops, knights and rooks and 16 pawns. Plan to work on a single group at a time.

In the set shown, the larger cubes and balls are about 1-inch in diameter, the smaller ones about 5x8-inch in diameter. The balls used for horse ears and rook towers are so tiny they defy measurement. So that everything comes out the same size make a sketch to guide you. you.

To form balls, roll clay between the palms of your hands and to form cubes pat the balls square. Make all components needed for one group, set them on waxed paper to dry for half an hour, then rework any that have settled into "squash-hood." Allow another half hour drying period. Meanwhile, start another group.

To build the pieces, cut the heads off a batch of straight pins. Dip pin in white glue and stick it half-way down into the center of each cube base. Push protruding pin top into a ball, which comes next. Repeat for each section you use. The pinning should be done before the clay is completely dry. The mini balls on the rooks and knights are applied by moistening with water and pressing. The crowns for the king and queen are cut from a big coin shaped silver sequin and pushed into the clay at this stage. Or you can use little jewels, a bit of gilt braid, anything shiny.

When the pieces are hard and completely dry, paint them with poster paint. When the paint's dry, coat with nail polish

City Gets Gift In Odd Land Deal

By C. P. McCARTHY

San Rafael City Council last night accepted a gift — with $170,000 worth of strings attached — of 539 acres of undeveloped property in the Black Canyon area of the city.

The council, which indicated at the beginning of a discussion of the offer that it was in favor of accepting, almost balked after running into an hour's worth of squabbling with proponents of the plan and a representative of the gift-givers.

In the end, the council approved a much amended motion which accepted the gift of the land, with thanks, and assumed a final mortgage payment on the property with the deal to be effective tomorrow, subject to approval of a preliminary title report by City Atty. Fred C. Robbins Jr., and with the council reserving the right to sell portions of the property to recoup its $170,000 investment. (Another San Rafael council story, page 5.)

The property, valued at about $1.5 million, was given to San Rafael by its owners, a Southern California partnership headed by entertainer Frank Sinatra. The group purchased the property in 1961 for a sum estimated to be more than $400,000.

The property, part of it shrub-covered and part densely forested, will be maintained as a recreational "greenbelt" area, according to San Rafael City Mgr. James H. McCown.

Prior to accepting the offer, a move which was greeted with applause by the 100 persons attending the meeting, the council heard from about 15 persons in favor of accepting one opposed and Los Angeles attorney Norman Tyre, representing the Sinatra group.

It was Tyre who gave the councilmen their most serious concern about the offer as he demanded that the transfer of property be termed a gift and insisted that the deal be closed immediately.

The $170,000 the city will pay includes a $167,000 final mortgage payment and the cost of two appraisals and a title report.

Tyre denounced everyone — councilmen and audience alike

35th Story Of My Lai Horror

FT. BENNING, Ga. (UPI)—A soldier who was under 1st Lt. William L. Calley's command at My Lai testified today he refused to obey Calley's order to shoot screaming civilians in a ditch where mothers piled atop their children to save them from automatic rifle fire.

The witness, James Joseph Dursi, employe of an electrical manufacturing firm in Brooklyn, N.Y., was the 35th produced by the government in its attempt to convict the diminutive Calley of the premeditated murder of 102 civilians in the Vietnamese village March 16, 1968.

His testimony followed that of another former soldier who said he watched Calley act as the lone executioner of five to 10 separate groups brought to the ditch during a 90-minute period.

Dursi, a huge man with black hair, sideburns and mustasche, said he was a private first class in the platoon Calley commanded.

After his testimony, Capt. Auburey M. Daniel III, the prosecutor, told the court Dursi probably was the last prosecution witness, but that he would not rest the government case without making an effort to find two more witnesses he has been trying to locate. Dursi said at Calley's order, he, Pfc. Paul D. Meadlo, and Calley put their rifles in the port-arms position and pushed people into a ditch at My Lai.

"Some started to cry and they were yelling," he said. "Meadlo was crying and pushing the people. We were ordered to shoot by Lt. Calley.

"I don't remember his exact words, but he said something like: Start firing.'

"Calley and Meadlo started firing into the ditch down at the

UAW, Ford Reách Tentative Contract

DETROIT (UPI)The Ford Rouncil of the United Auto Workers today examined a tentative contract agreement with Ford Motor Co. which almost certainly averts a second crippling strike this year in the auto industry.

Once the 200-member council has finished examining the agreement, which will cost Ford an additional $1.2 billion, at least, in wages alone over three years, it will decide whether to recommend acceptance by the union's 166,000 members at Ford's U.S. plants.

Traditionally, the council recommends that the workers accept—and the workers always have accepted—the agreement their bargainers worked out. The council is expected to recommend acceptance in this case.

The tentative pact is virtually identical to the contract the union's General Motors members ratified Nov. 20 after a 67-day strike.

Like the GM workers, Ford's UAW members will get an average 51 cents per hour pay increase in the first year and 3 per cent boosts in each of the second and third years of the three-year pact, assuming they ratify it.

But the company and union tentatively agreed to pay 26 cents of the first-year increase retroactively to Sept. 15, when the old contract expired. The remaining 25 cents would be paid retroactively to Nov. 15.

Originally, the union demanded the entire 51 cents be paid retroactively to Sept. 15, while the company wanted to pay 26 cents then and the remainder only when the national contract was signed and the last local settlement was in.

The compromise on the effective date of retroactive pay will give Ford workers an average $175 as a Christmas bonus in their paychecks.

Ford workers, as their GM counterparts, would get between $12,000 and $13,000 per year. Under the old contract, they made about $9,000 per year.

In the Ford contract, the union also won the right for the company to make arrangements with local unions to deduct from a worker's pay check payments for dental care insurance. The union originally demanded company-paid dental care for workers and their families, and it won no concessions in that area from GM. The Ford deductions would work much like the present Blue Cross and Blue Shield payments, except the company pays those.

Although ratification of the Ford pact was expected, production could be hampered by unsettled local disputes. So far, 31 of the Union's 99 bargaining units at Ford still have not agreed on local contracts.

Chrysler Corp., which is not under a strike deadline, is now the only member of the "Big Three" which has not come to terms with the UAW. American Motors begins negotiations with tue UAW in Green Bay, Wis., this week.

LIVING CELL

Major Breakthrough In Stopping Genetic Defects

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—Dr. James Danielli, who says he constructed a living and reproducing cell from already existing living matter, believes man soon may be able to stop genetic defects and "end the deterioration of the human race."

Danielli revealed last month he and other researchers at the State University of New York at Buffalo had for the first time successfully synthesized living and reproducing cells. He said it was done by breaking cells down into their basic components and then reassembling them into new cells.

Some of the applications of his discovery, he said, were:

-The development of new crops from semiarid areas.

-The development of special organisms from environmental control, including organisms that could more effectively treat sewage or remove salt from the water.

-Present methods of chemical engineering which pollute the atmosphere with biological synthesis would be replaced by tailor-made organisms that would be nontoxic and could later be used as either food or fertilizer.

"We may wish to reverse our toleration of genetic defects and end the deterioration of the human race," Danielli said. He declined to set down a timetable for man's ability to "add or subtract genes" in human reproduction, but said "many of these things will be done in 100 years and a great deal will be done in 20."

Dandelli said it would even be possible to cross a man and a horse," in a sense, though I can't see any reason for doing it, mind you."

Danielli's process for the artificial synthesis of living and reproducing cells involves taking several amoebae —simple one-celled organisms —and breaking them down into their basic components —membrane, cytoplasm and nucleus.

The cytoplasm of one amoeba is then added to the membrane of another. Finally, the nucleus of a third amoeba is added and an entirely new cell is in existence.

Danielli said the reassembled cells "feed, digest, move and reproduce in a manner indistinguishable from that of the original cells."

Danielli and Dr. Robert Rosen, assistant director of the center, cautioned those who continue research in the area of all cell synthesis care must be taken to "prevent the accidental introduction of harmful properties."

They said within the next 20 years man's capacity to develop new viruses, new cells and new organisms will be greatly extended.

Rogers Pledges No-Involvement Type Military Aid To Cambodia

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers pledged today that the United States would aid Cambodia without resorting to ground combat troops or giving the embattled government sophisticated military equipment that might require U.S. advisers.

Rogers told the Senate Appropriations Committee the Nixon administration was depending on "the united will and patriotic fervor" of the Cambodians to hold off Communist troops and permit the United States to make a speedy exit from Southeast Asia.

Rogers and Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird appeared before the committee to urge swift approval of the administration's $1 billion supplemental aid request that includes $255 million for Cambodia. They said 70 per cent of the Cambodia outlay was earmarked for ammunition and the rest for small arms, trucks and other equipment that the Cambodians could maintain and use themselves without U. S. advisers.

Rogers said when the United States withdrew from Cambodia following last spring's offensive it "had no intention at that time, nor have we any today, of sending further combat troops or military advisers into Cambodia.

"What we have done instead is to take advantage of the assets that have enabled the Cambodian government thus far to stand up to the Communists: the united will and patriotic fervor of a people confronted with external ag-

Nation's Railroads On Brink Of Strike

Union Defies President In Deadline Statement

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks said today there will be a nationwide strike at 12:01 A.M. Thursday regardless of what Congress does and even if he is jailed in the process.

C. L. Dennis, president of the clerks, said it was not possible to reach an agreement with the railroads before the deadline and his men would defy any government order to stay on the job.

"If I'm thrown in jail, I think you guys will keep the ranks firm," Dennis told 150 applauding legislative representatives of the clerks.

They fanned out to try to persuade members of Congress to defeat President Nixon's request for a 45-day postponement of the strike. On Capitol Hill, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield urged Nixon to take "a direct, active part" in finding a solution and said he doubted Congress could enact a postponement before the deadline.

The clerks are one of four unions who are seeking wage increases and other benefits. The clerks want a higher money settlement than the 37 per cent increase over three years recommended by a White House commission. The other three unions have not officially announced a strike but have said they will honor the clerks' picket lines.

"We are going to strike," said L. E. Dennis, son of the clerks' president and the brotherhood's executive director.

AFL-CIO President George Meany issued a statement urging Congress to reject Nixon's proposed 45-day extension because "there is no justification for forcing workers to labor against their will for the private profit of employers."

"Simple justice demands that, if the Congress deems the railroads so vital to the economy that workers are to be denied their rights as free ment, then the government should seize and operate the railroads, with the operating income going to the public treasury," Meany said.

In Congress, Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., introduced a resolution calling for the 45-day postponement sought by the administration.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said "the administration has done almost all it could do" to prevent the approaching rail strike and he urged "prompt consideration" of the resolution.

However, Mansfield also urged the President "to give serious consideration to laying his prestige on the line" in the face of the union's refusal to postpone its walkout.

Dennis charged that Nixon, in asking for delaying legislation, had sided with "profit-taking railroad management" and had "destroyed any hope of collec-

Angela Case To State

Marin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales revealed today that he has pulled out of the Angela Y. Davis - Ruchell Magee Case, saying he was too personally involved to handle it.

The state attorney general's office will take over prosecution of the case.

Bales made the following statement to Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch in a letter sent to him:

"After long and hard reflection upon my deep personal involvement in the tragic events of Aug. 7 involving the slaying of my close friend Judge Harold Joseph Haley, who gave my my first position as a practicing attorney, and the terrible injuries suffered by my chief assistant, Gary W. Thomas, I have concluded that the interests of justice will be better served by having an independent office prosecute . . . the case."

Bales said today that he received a reply from Lynch saying he agreed to have his office step into the case.

"Since I am very well aware of your long experience and your proven competence as a prosecutor, I accept the validity of your conclusion and I commend your decision reached . . . after long and hard reflection," Lynch wrote.

He said that he had assigned Asst. Atty. Gen. Albert W. Harris Jr. to the case.

Cars Crawl In Rush Hour

A series of stalled vehicles on Highway 101 this morning snarled commute traffic on the freeway from Hamilton Air Force Base to Waldo Grade.

The California Highway Patrol said a car stalled on the Waldo Grade at 7:30 a.m. and another near the Greenbrae interchange combined with heavy rains to slow traffic.

One motorist reported it took her an hour to drive from the Air Force base to Ross.

At about 8:30 a.m. a truck broke down on the Richardson Bay Bridge and caused further delays.

Terra Linda Gets Man On Council

Lawrence F. Mulryan, 32, was appointed to the San Rafael City Council last night.

Mulryan, who lives at 74 Upper Oak Drive, will take the council seat of Fred C. Robbins Jr., who was appointed city attorney to succeed David Menary Jr. when the latter was named a Marin Municipal Court judge.

The council's decision to appoint Mulryan was reached in a closed meeting of the council prior to its regular meeting last night. The appointment, made at the regular meeting, was moved by Councilman Fred E. Jensen and passed unanimously.

Jensen said the council had been pressured to appoint someone from Terra Linda.

Mulryan, an attorney in San Francisco, was appointed to the San Rafael Planning Commission in 1969.

He attended San Diego State College and received his law degree from Hastings College of Law in San Francisco. He and his wife, Betty, have lived in Marin County since 1963.

Mulryan's term on the council will expire in April 1973.

Suit Is Possible On Trails

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County is prepared to sue the state to keep from going bankrupt from the burden of expensive trials and security measures.

The existence of San Quentin Prison and the violence resulting from the Aug. 7 shoot-out added $73,000 to court and security cost for just three months (July through September), County Auditor-Controller Michel Mitchell reported today to the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

COSTS BILLED

The costs were billed to the state Department of Corrections, but the state rejected all the claims, County Administrator Alan Bruce told the supervisors.

Supervisors asked County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney to investigate the possiblility of a suit against the state to get reimbursement.

"The situation is wacky," said Maloney. "The governor doesn't have the money so he leans on the various departments, and they in turn lean on the counties."

"It's adding insult to injury to have the state throw out the claims," bristled chariman John F. McInnis. He asked Bruce to contact other counties in the state where state prisons are located and "descend on Sacramento en masse."

QUESTIONS PRISON

"Couldn't we develop something to say that San Quentin is obsolete and accomplishing nothing but incarceration and no rehabilitation?" asked Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

Supervisor Louis H. Baar said the Marin legislators should be asked to put some pressure on the governor. "Just have them make a date with the governor and lay it on the line."

"Marin taxpayers will face a financial crisis unless the state assumes the cost of San Quentin trials," warned Mitchell. "The cost could go into the hundreds

Farmer Quits; Lectures Next

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James Farmer has resigned after 22 months as the Nixon administration's top black official, declining to criticize the system within which he worked but conceding he longed for the days when he was a critic and a civil rights activist

His immediate plans, Farmer said, are for six months of lecturing and writing an autobiography and book and magazine articles.

Farmer once headed the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and was outspoken in the civil rights movement of the last decade before black power and militant black nationalism began playing a major role in the struggle. In his post as an assistant secretary in the Health, Education and Welfare department, Farmer was not much in the spotlight, and even eschewed publicity.

After meeting with President Nixon Monday, he said:

"I'm not repudiating the machinery of government. I am not repudiating the establishment." But he said he longed to regain his "old role as advocate, critic and activist."

"I came to Washington believing I could at that point serve my people better inside the new administration, planning programs and influencing actions —especially as they affect blacks and other minorities.

"The achievements are not sufficient or fast enough to satisfy my appetite for progress," he said.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Farmer was leaving "on a very, very good basis" as far as Nixon was concerned.

Banker's Son Is Safe; Pair Held

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The kidnaped son of a bank manager was found safe late Monday and two men arrested in a foiled $100,000 ransom plot which sent the victim's father to Las Vegas, Nev. to deliver the money.

Police said the two men offered no resistance when taken into custody in two separate cars in nearby Burbank. The victim, Lee Spath, 20, a student, was found safe in one of the suspect's vehicles.

Booked on suspicion of kidnap for ransom were George Foorens, 35, and Thomas Leroy Coleman, 20.

Police said the kidnap plot evolved when two men, one armed with a sawed-off shotgun, went to the home of Lee's father, William Spath, 48, in Granada Hills Sunday night.

They demanded the elder Spath give them the key to the night deposit box of the branch of the bank of America he manages in Glendale. When Spath explained he did not have the key and could not obtain one at night, the men took an undetermined amount of money from the home and forced his son to accompany them in the youth's car.

Police said Spath was contacted by telephone the next morning and told to take the money by bus to Las Vegas, Nev. Spath left the money in a locker at the depot and returned home by plane.

Several hours later, one of the men went to the Spath home in the son's car and demanded the locker key, which Spath handed over.

For the next two hours, more than a dozen unmarked police vehicles and a helicopter were employed to follow the suspect.

When he met with the other suspect, officers saw Lee Spath in the back seat of the second suspect's vehicle and moved in. No shots were fired.

Meanwhile, FBI agents and Las Vegas police had staked out the locker and recovered the money after the arrests. A Los Angeles police spokesman said no other arrests were anticipated.

Officers, aware of the kidnap shortly after it occurred, asked news media not to release the story until after the arrests were made.

Romanian Plane Crash Kills 19

VIENNA UPI — The death toll in the crash of a Romanian airliner rose to 19 today with the death of a woman injured when the plane crashed Monday night on a flight from Israel to Romania.

The Israeli Embassy in Bucharest said the 19th victim was a Romanian woman. A Romanian man was in critical condition, the embassy said, while seven other injured passengers were in good condition.

The BAC 111 jetliner of the Romanian airline Tarom — crashed in fog three miles from the airport at the Black Sea city of Constanta, after being diverted from the Romanian capital of Bucharest, its destination. It had taken off from Tel Aviv.

Field Car Hits Mine, Killing Two

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command said today a U.S. Army armored personnel carrier ran over a Communist mine on South Vietnam's northern coast, killing two Americans and wounding 22 others.

The mine explosion occurred Monday afternoon west of Tam Ky, 340 miles north-northeast of Saigon.

Field reports from Phnom Penh said North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units launched simultaneous attacks Monday night against Cambodian positions in Svay Rieng province near the South Vietnamese border.

Viet Cong and North Vietnamese artillerymen Monday night shelled a position of a unit of the Americal Division, resulting in what the U.S. Command described as light casualties.

Although the Command called casualties in the shelling light, wording of the communique indicated there might have been a fatality.

Curtis W. Tarr, director of the Selective Service System, visited sailors aboard two U.S. aircraft carriers off the coast of Vietnam Monday and headed to the Americal Division to talk to draftees on ways to improve the draft.

Rube Goldberg Dies Of Cancer At 87

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rube Goldberg, whose drawings of bizarre "inventions" and other cartoons poked fun at America's foibles and technology and earned him a place in the dictionary, died Monday at his home here. He was 87.

His satires and ludicrous situations earned Goldberg vast popularity and a personal fortune from 1916-38 in the comic strips "Boob McNutt," "Lala Palooza" and "Mike and Ike — They Look Alike." His most famous character, however, was Professor Lucifer Gorgonzola Butts, the demonstrator of the "inventions" which made Rube Goldberg a dictionary definition.

Goldberg turned to editorial cartooning in 1938 when he was 55. Ten years later he won a Pulitzer Prize for "Peace Today," a drawing warning of the perils of atomic weapons. He continued cartooning until six years ago.

The "inventions" were devices which used a series of common, everyday items to demonstrate convincingly that the simplest task was impossibly difficult.

Each of the contraptions used many mechanical steps to accomplish the goal—abridging the laws of physics with flights of fancy whenever necessary.

The cartoonist was compared to Mark Twain and Will Rogers as one "who helps us see the world in proportion."

"Rube Goldberg" is an adjective in Webster's Third New International Dictionary. It means "accomplishing by extremely complex roundabout means what actually or seemingly could be done simply."

Reuben Lucius Goldberg, born in San Francisco in 1883, began drawing as a child but was discouraged by his father, a banker and real estate man, who convinced him to study engineering at the University of California. After graduation and a brief job in the city engineer's office, Goldberg's natural desire held sway and he went to work for the San Francisco Chronicle as a sports cartoonist.

Caught In Ambush

By UP International

A Jordanian army patrol came under heavy fire today in an ambush deliberately set by Arab guerrillas in northern Jordan, an official Jordanian spokesman said in Amman. The incident threatened Monday's cease-fire that ended five days of guerrilla-army fighting.

The spokesman, in a statement broadcast by Amman Radio, said the guerrillas set up the ambush at a road fork outside Jerash, 24 miles north of Amman, and attacked with machine guns, mortars and Chinese Katusha rockets which are banned by Cairo and Amman agreements.

New Treatment?

CHICAGO (UPI) — Television cameras soon may be used in large scale programs to detect potential skin cancer victims at an early age, a scientist said today.

The TV-testing program would be similar to the mass X-ray screenings employed to spot tuberculosis.

Dr. Frederick Urbach, the head of the dermatology department at Temple University, outlined the program to the convention of American Academy of Dermatology. He said a special filter placed on the television camera lens permits it to show lower layers of skin with ultraviolet light.

These layers of skin have patterns of pigmentation that show a patient's susceptibility to severe sunburn and skin cancer — the most preventable, curable and common form of cancer in the United States, Urbach said.

Hunt For Envoy

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (UPI) — Police carried out a massive search today for the Swiss ambassador, kidnapped Monday by a band of terrorists as he was being driven to work. Officials also were checking ransom notes to see if they were authentic.

One of the ransom notes demanded 68 prisoners be released in exchange for the life of Giovanni Enrico Bucher, 57, a career diplomatic noted for his love of adventure. Bucher, a bachelor, was the fourth diplomat kidnapped in Brazil in the past 14 months.

About 3,000 police were mobilized in Rio in the hunt for the ambassador.

KARACHI (UPI) — Socialist parties led by a champion of East Pakistan autonomy and a pioneer of the nation's friendly relations with Communist China today swept toward victory in Pakistan's first general election.

The election in which nearly 50 million of Pakistan's 125 million people voted was to choose a national assembly which will draft a new constitution.

The election's Socialistic direction was led by Sheikh Mujibur Rehman of East Pakistan and former Foreign Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto in the West.

Ky At Home

SAIGON (UPI) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky returned to South Vietnam today after an absence of nearly two months, carrying assurances by the United States it will adopt a hands-off policy in South Vietnam's 1971 presidential election.

Ky told a news conference upon his arrival, "I have a clear understanding that any political solution, including the presidential elections, will be purely South Vietnamese."

Asked who gave him the assurances in the United States, Ky replied: "The President, vice president, secretary state and other officials."

Take To Foot

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 800,000 New Yorkers who normally ride cabs made their way around town on foot and public transportation Monday, the firstbusiness day of the taxi strike, but transit authorities reported only minor congestion on buses and subways.

Traffic moved relatively freely through the city's streets unclogged by the 12,000 taxis now sitting in their parking lots for the fourth day today.

Gypsy cabs, as well as private citizens illegally hacking on their own time, charged exorbitant fares hustling riders from point to point.

British Strikes

LONDON (UPI) — strikes and simmering industrial unrest blacked out wide areas of Britain today, left most Britons without newspapers, closed two of London's central food markets and hit docks and some automotive plants.

Although the trouble did not approach proportions of a general strike, leaders of the strike claimed about 500,000 workers stayed off the job.

'Peaceful' Budget

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet leaders today presented a "peaceful" national budget that included one of the more modest military outlays of recent years.

The defense appropriation placed before the Supreme Soviet Parliament of the Soviet Union was still the largest since World War II, but just barely.

Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov presented the budget, listing projected expenditures of $188.2 billion, including a defense outlay of $19.9 billion.

The defense total was only slightly higher than $19.81 billion appropriated last year for 1970.

Talks Pleasing

HELSINKI (UPI) — The United States said today it is satisfied with the rate of progress at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks — SALT — with Russia. Following the 11th working session at the present third round of SALT, U.S. delegation sources said the negotiations are going along as had been expected when they began one year ago.

They said no one believed agreement was possible within one year, not even a partial accord.

Railway Union Defies Appeal, Sets Strike

tive bargaining in the two critical days that could have brought a settlement."

He called on Congress to "show greater wisdom and stay out of this dispute."

It also was disclosed that Dennis earlier sent out a strike notice to union locals saying that if the government attempted to prevent a strike, "we will not tolerate such action," and that union members should be prepared to see their leaders go to jail and the union treasury depleted by court fines.

In answer to a question early today of what he would do if Congress ordered the postponement, Dennis said:

"My intentions, at this time, if there are no further developments, are to strike. By developments I mean agreement with the carriers. I don't believe it's ethical for anyone to change the rules of the game when one team is at the goal line."

He added: "We are not prepared to forego our basic right to strike . . . the law says we can strike at 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 10. We intend to do that."

Dennis' statement came after a four and one-half hour session at a Washington hotel, during which Assistant Labor Secretary W.J. Usery Jr. attempted unsuccessfully to negotiate a voluntary delay in the strike. The meeting broke up at 1:30 a.m. EST today.

The four unions involved—of which the BRAC is the most militant —earlier Monday refused a personal request from Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson in a meeting at the same hotel that they postpone their strike.

Nixon asked Congress for the 45-day postponement after the unions rejected Hodges' plea. Nixon said a nationwide stoppage would harm the econoomy and cause hardship for all Americans, "particularly a stoppage at the height of the pre-Christmas season."

"It is essential that our railroads continue to operate," Nixon said Monday in a statement, adding that if the 45-day delay did not produce a negotiated settlement, "I shall make additional recommendations to the Congress."

The BRAC is demanding a higher money settlement than the 37 per cent increase over three years recommended by a White House commission. The other three unions have not officially announced a strike, but have said they will honor the clerks' picket lines.

The four unions represent three of every four rail workers.

Some 150 to 2200 local union legislative representatives were brought into Washington earlier, in anticipation that they would have to lobby against delaying legislation.

But Dennis' strike notice made it clear there would be a strike even if the lobbying effort did not bear fruit. In the notice, he mentioned the possibility of government intervention and said:

"This time we will fight such action with every resource at our command. We must, therefore, be prepared for the same kind of struggle which has been waged in this nation by postal workers, school teachers, firemen, policemen, transit workers and others.

"We must be prepared to defend ourselves and hold the line in spite of any government intervention.

"Throughout this whole struggle we have followed all the rules of the game. Now the rules say we have the right to strike. If they try to remove that right, we have to denonstrate that we will not tolerate such action."

He said the stand "can possibly mean jail sentences for some union officers," and "it can mean fines which may seriously diminish your union treasury."

New Lease Talk For Depot Building

Declaring itself unhappy with conditions at the Lytton Square bus depot, the Mill Valley City Council last night decided to negotiate a new lease on the building.

On a motion by Councilman Edward J. Boessenecker, the council voted to discuss terms on the city-owned building with Janice Aronoff, who operates the depot bookstore and sells bus tickets as well.

Western Greyhound Lines, which previously leased the building for $200 a month and sublet it to Mrs. Aronoff, has told the city it wants to terminate the lease effective Dec. 31.

In moving to negotiate directly with Mrs. Aronoff, several councilmen said they wanted to see her made responsible for cleaning up litter around the depot.

"The scene at that building can be summed up in one word — crummy," declared Councilman Jerome C. Hauke. "This isn't Seventh Street in San Francisco, but when you walk inside you're suddenly there."

L. D. Hofeditz, a Greyhound official, told the council that service to Mill Valley would continue even though the firm no longer leased the depot.

But he objected to moving the bus stop to another location in Mill Valley, as has been suggested. If ticket sales and waiting room facilities were removed from the depot, he said, Greyhound would continue to loop buses through downtown Mill Valley but passengers would have to buy tickets in San Francisco or San Rafael.

Councilman Robert H. Andresen said he hoped the new lease would make Mrs. Aronoff responsible for cleaning the area and would earn the city more than $200 a month, which he termed "grossly inadequate."

A fairer price, he said, would be $375.

people. Meadlo turned to me and told me: 'Shoot! Why don't you shoot?'

'He was crying and yelling to me.

"I just said: 'I can't! I won't!' And I looked down at the ground. 'The people were screaming and yelling. It was mostly automatic and some semiautomatic fire, and the weapons were pointed down into the ditch. I remember Meadlo changing magazines at one time. They fired three to four minutes.

"The people were diving on top of each other—some of the mothers trying to protect their children.

"Lt. Calley came to me right after the firing and told me to get across the ditch before I got sick."

Dursi said he saw "a lot of blood on the chests and arms and some head wounds" on the bodies.

Earlier, the military judge at Calley's trial, Co. Reid W. Kennedy, denied a motion to prevent the testimony of the first witness of the day. He also refused to strike out an account of a 90-minute execution given by the witness on direct examination Monday.

Kennedy also denied a defense motion for a mistrial on the basis that the testimony of the 24-year-old former infantry team leader in the Calley platoon, Thomas W. Turner of Bellevue, Neb., went beyond the confines of prosecution covered in the government's bll of particulars.

The bill mentioned only 30 killings in the southern part of My Lai, 70 killings in the ditch area and two individual killings. The defense contended that a 90-minute parade of several groups of civilians to the ditch was testimony that went beyond the bill.

"If there is any factual variance, that will have to be resolved by the jury," Kennedy ruled. "I'm satisfied the testimony falls within the bill."

Kennedy late Monday granted a defense motion to strike out the other big point of Turner's testimony—that he saw Calley pump bullets into the chest of a young Vietnamese woman who had her arms upraised in a sign of surrender.

Bikers Hurt In Hit-Run Crash

Two San Rafael boys riding a bicycle were injured yesterday by the hit-and-run driver of a pickup truck, police reported.

Alvin Holmes, 11, of 509 Canal Street, Apt. 15, was treated for bruises on back and left knee at Marin General Hospital. His passenger, James Bianchi, 7, of 35 Fairfax Street, Apt. 2, was treated for bruises of back, abdomen and both knees at Marin General Hospital.

The boys were riding east on Second Street at 5:25 p.m. when they were knocked down in front of 620 Second Street, police reported. A witness said that it was an International pickup truck which hit them, police reported.

— who had used the words sell or sale during the discussion, as he insisted the offer be called a "gift for public purposes."

"In no sense," he told the council, "are you buying anything."

Toward the end of last night's discussion, as Jensen moved to accept the offer with the deal to be completed by the end of the year, Tyre leapt from his seat to announce that the deal had to be recorded today.

The attorney said his group had been trying to transfer the land to the city since March of 1969 and the council had had plenty of time to investigate it.

McCown explained to the council that the Sinatra group had first offered the land for sale to the city but he had told them the price was out of the question. The gift offer was made Oct. 29 he said, with the stipulation that there be no public announcement.

McCown said a title report had been obtained by the city in October, but Robbins said he thought it should be updated to the date the deal was recorded.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said he was hesitant about accepting the offer without an updated title report, and Tyre reluctantly agreed to wait until tomorrow to complete the deal.

The council retained the right to sell part of the property at the insistence of Jensen and Councilman Harry A. Barbier who expressed concern about depleting the city's reserve fund.

The $170,000 cost to the city will leave only $30,000 in the fund.

Several members of the audience — the most persistent of whom was Peter C. Meyer, county elections officer — attempted to dissuade the council from retaining the right to sell. Failing that, they sought to persuade the council to limit the right to exercise only after a year or in an emergency or only to recover the $170,000 investment. That, too, failed.

Although Bettini had asked only opponents of the offer to speak, several individuals and representatives of homeowners associations voiced their support of the plan.

Alfred W. Berney of 8 Lillian Lane was the sole opponent. He said that if the city was paying $170,000 for the property, it was not a gift and he said the assessed valuation of the land was only $306,000.

McCown said the county appraised valuation was $358,000 and that figure was used for tax purposes only. The appraisals which valued the parcel at about $1.5 million indicated the price a buyer would be willing to pay for the land, he said.

Berney argued the property should be left on the tax rolls and the $170,000 be spent for a new fire house or senior citizens center.

When the council voted to accept the offer and Bettini called for a short recess, Berney was asking why it hadn't been mentioned that the "gift" was actually a tax write-off for the Sinatra group.

Normally, the extra cost for San Quentin trials have been running about $60,000 per year, which the state has been reimbursing.

This routine cost for July through September came to $16,400. The added special cost stemming from the Aug. 7 shhot-out amounted to $56,600 for the three months, Mitchell explained. Those special expenses include insurance, medical and state compensation costs for the victims and survivors of the shoot-out.

These costs will continue as compensation payments are made to the survivors, said Mitchell.

If a lawsuit is filed against the state, Maloney said the county will take the stand that the law provides for reimbursement of costs attributable to the existence of a state prison.

"We believe the Aug. 7 incident and the Angela Davis trial costs are added to the county's burden solely by virtue of the fact that San Quentin is located in Marin," said Maloney.

Voting was reported very light today in Novato's Sanitary District's $5.5 million bond election to finance improvements in the district's system.

A random check of five polling places after 11 a.m. indicated the turnout was light throughout the district.

At Sinaloa Junior High School 19 out of a possible 700 cast ballots; at Marion School 50 of a possible 1,434; at the Novato Community House 42 of a possible 500; at Novato High School 57 of a possible 700 and at All Saints Church, 68 of a possible 600

Center Gift Of $30,000 Draws Ire

A group of citizens today objected to a "gift of $30,000" which Marin County Board of Supervisors authorized for the Child Development Center in Tiburon on Nov. 24.

Jerry R. Bendshadler of Corte Madera told the supervisors this morning he represents about 100 citizens who are opposed to the county subsidy of the center, a private school to care for 21 disturbed children at a cost of about $90,000 per year.

"This $30,000 is not to start a new school," chairman John E. McInnis declared. "It's an ongoing concern of a highly specialized nature." Supervisor William A. Gnoss and other supervisors said they believe the special school for disturbed children deserved county support to keep it open through June of next year.

The county is not committed to further subsidization beyond next June, said Supervisor Peter R. Arrigoni Jr.

"What grounds do we have to allocate public funds to a private school?" demanded A.J. Weber of Tiburon.

McInnis explained that the $30,000 aid had been discussed by the Marin Mental Health Advisory board, which approved the expenditure by unanimous vote.

"No," said Sally Mishkind, a member of the mental health advisory board. She said several members abstained from voting because they were afraid the $30,000 outlay would open a pandora's box. "Paying $90,000 per year for 20 children is quite expensive," said Mrs. Mishkind.

McInnis asked the county administrator to prepare for the public an explanation of how the child development center operates and the costs involved.

ROGERS

gression."

The request for extra funds faced an end-of-the-session attack by war critics who believed the Cambodian money might lead to another Vietnam.

But the fight for a ban on U.S. troops in Cambodia appeared to be finished at least so far as the Senate was concerned. The restriction was sealed into a $64 billion defense appropriations bill which reached the Senate floor Thursday with no sign that an effort would be made to take it out. Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said the White House does not like the restriction but is not prepared to fight it, as it did for two months last summer against a similar proposal after the U.S. offensive into Cambodia.

The limitation, added to the bill by the Senate Appropriations panel, would prohibit use of funds to introduce U.S. ground combat troops into Cambodia. A similar ban is already in effect for Laos and Thailand —South Vietnam's other neighboring allies.

The measure was aimed at blocking the President from renewing May's offensive into Communist border sanctuaries inside Cambodia. But administration backers were expected to contend that Nixon still would have the constitutional power to do this, regardless of the restriction, if such action was necessary to protect American lives. American lives.

The administration, however, so far has ignored the proposed language and has concentrated its Senate efforts instead on getting approval this year for money to equip the 150,000-man army of Premier Lon Nol. Scott contends the administration's effort for the Lon Nol government will emphasize "dollars instead of blood."

The Cambodia aid for which Rogers and Laird testified is part of a $1 billion supplemental foreign aid bill for Cambodia, South Korea, Indonesia, Jordan, Lebanon, South Vietnam and Israel. Congress already has provided authority for $500 million in aid to Israel, but the other half of the package must be cleared by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee before the aid money bill can be enacted.

The committee, headed by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ar., has not been friendly to the proposal and may attempt to bottle it up for the few days left in the current Congress.

OBITUARIES

Ettore Esposti Dies At 85

Funeral for Ettore Degli Esposti, a former Mill Valley restaurateur, will be tomorrow at 10 a.m. at the Bates, Evans and Fehrensen Mortuary, 19981 Broadway, Sonoma.

Esposti, who resided in Sonoma for 26 years, died Sunday at his home following a short illness. He was 85.

Esposti, a native of Bologna, Italy, owned Esposti's Restaurant on Throckmorton Avenue in Mill Valley for 20 years prior to his retirement in 1944.

He is survived by his wife, Marie; a daughter, Jane A. Breen of Salinas; a son, Rudolph of Tehachapi, Kern County; six grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Burial will be at Mountain Cemetery, Sonoma.

ROBERT WILLIAMS

Grace Williams, wife of the late Robert Williams of Tiburon, retired last year as principal of the Maringate Nursery School of Sausalito.

In the obituary of Williams, 60, who died Friday after a long illness, the Independent-Journal erroneously reported she is still principal of the school.

The I-J also erred in reporting the sex of his daughter, Meredith Williams, and misspelled the name of a sister, Mrs. Charles Shiner of Harrisburg, Pa.

DOMENICO BALDINI

Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at All Souls Catholic Church, South San Francisco, for Domenico Baldini, father of Anna Lamperti of San Rafael. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Nauman and Lincoln Mortuary in South San Francisco, and entombment will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Baldini, 88, of South San Francisco, died Sunday at a Burlingame hospital following a short illness.

He was a native of Italy and had lived in the United States and California 63 years. He was a retired laborer.

Baldini was a member of the Italian Catholic Federation, Societa di Opera, Sons of Italy and the Druids, all of South San Francisco.

In addition to Mrs. Lamperti, he is survived by his wife, Italia; a son, Aldo, and a sister, Erminia Lombardi, all of South San Francisco; three brothers in Italy, four grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

WILLIAM KELLY

William Thomas Kelly, 61, collapsed and died at 3:40 a.m. today in his home at 1032-C Los Gamos Road, San Rafael. Death was believed due to a heart attack, according to Keith C. Craig, coroner's investigator. Kelly had a history of heart trouble, Craig said.

Kelly was found by his wife Agnes, who summoned a doctor and a son, Morgan Kelly, of 1036-E Los Gamos Road.

Kelly, an apartment house manager, had lived four months in San Rafael, and three years in California. He was a native of Toronto, Canada.

He also is survived by another son, Donald Kelly of St. Lamberts, Quebec, Canada, and a daughter, Beverly Alderson of Greenfield Park, Quebec.

Funeral arrangements were pending today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

COL. WORLEY

He was born in San Francisco, but grew up in Sausalito. He graduated from Tamalpais High School. He was a veteran of World War II. He worked federal civil service in transportation, retiring last April from both his civilian job and from the Army reserve. He was assistant to the director of operations of the Army Pacific Terminal Command at Oakland.

He was a member of Marin Lodge No. 191, Free and Accepted Masons, member and past secretary of the National Defense Transportation Association-Oakland Army Base and a member of the Officers Club of Fort Mason.

He is survived by his wife, Frances H.Worley and a daughter, Marian W. Kenst of Pleasanton, who said her father had apparently suffered a heart attack.

Masonic service will be conducted by Marin Lodge No. 191, at 10 a.m., Thursday, at Harry M. Williams Mortuary. Burial will be in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

MANUEL CABRAL

The obituary also erred in reporting Rosary will be recited at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow. It will be at 8:30 p.m. today at the Redwood Chapel Funeral Home, Novato. Requiem Mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Our Lady of Loretto Church in Novato, and burial will be at Mount Olivet Cemetery in San Rafael.

MRS. HEGARTY

Requiem Mass will be offered at 10 a.m. tomorrow at St. Petpetuas Catholic Church in Lafayette for Irene M. Hegarty, sister of Louis J. Geissberger of Larkspur. Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at Grant Miller Mortuaries Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette, and burial will be at Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Hegarty died Saturday at a convalescent hospital in Rheem, Contra Costa County, following a long illness.

She was a native of San Francisco and a long-time resident of Lafayette. She had worked for more than 30 years as a switchboard operation with Transamerica Corp. in San Francisco.

She is also survived by another brother, Harry I. Geissberger of El Cerrito.

Homeowners Organize

The Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association organized and adopted by-laws last night and set regular meetings for the second Monday of every month.

The meetings will be held at 8 p.m. in the multiuse room of La Tercera School.

Membership chairman Janet Fountain said a list of 70 members had been compiled and that prospective members may contact her at 1637 Sarkesian Drive.

Hitchhike Thugs To Be Sentenced

Jerry Ray Wade, 20, of San Rafael, and John Edward Brown, 20, of Santa Rosa, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of stealing money from a hitchhiker on Sept. 17.

A second count of armed robbery was dismissed.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 25. Brown is already serving a one-year sentence for burglary.

The youths were arrested in San Rafael after officers spotted them in a car which matched the description of one given by the hitchhiker who said he had been strong-armed by two men.

16-Year-Old Struck By Car

A 16-year-old Corte Madera girl was injured yesterday when she was hit by a car on C Street south of Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, police reported.

Judy Ann Underhill of 109 Harbor Drive, was treated for multiple bruises at Marin General Hospital.

She was walking west on C Street at 1:34 p.m. when she was hit by a car driven by Jonathan Baker, 47, of 14 West Castlewood Drive, San Rafael, going north on C Street, police reported.

Reason For Late Delivery

If your copy of the Independent-Journal arrived later than normal yesterday it was because of the I-J's change to a new printing method.

According to Allan Howells, circulation manager, papers arrived from one to five hours late to some Marin and Southern Sonoma locations.

Unions Comply On Documents

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Four Bay Area labor unions yesterday submitted in federal court documents connected with their participation in San Francisco Typographical Union 21's strike against the Independent-Journal.

The papers were handed over to U.S. District Court Judge William T. Sweigert by attorneys for the typographical union, Teamsters Union locals 85 of San Francisco and 70 of Oakland and longshoremen's local 10 of San Francisco.

The documents — names and address of officers, constitutions and by-laws, minutes of union meetings, financial records and copies of union publications — were sought by the National Labor Relations Board which is seeking contempt of court findings against the unions for their alleged secondary boycott activity against I-J advertisers in defiance of earlier court orders.

The unions had fought Sweigert's order to produce the documents, but lost an appeal to the U.S. District Court of Appeals last Friday.

In presenting the records yesterday, union attorneys said they still reserved the right to appeal Sweigert's order to a higher court.

The attorneys said that some records supoenaed by the NLRB did not exist. These included records of ownership of union automobiles, reimbursement to union members for use of their own cars in Marin, and bills paid for renting cars and hotel rooms and for meals in Marin.

The contempt action was begun by the NLRB after picketing began in October at Marin supermarkets and other stores advertising in the I-J. Truck drivers reported being turned back while attempting deliveries in Marin, and there were reports of tire slashing and other vandalism to delivery trucks.

Nod To Novato Plan For Regional Center

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended adoption of the plan for a regional shopping center in the Pinheiro Ranch area.

Commissioners also recommended adoption of the proposed program for the Highway 101 eastside by-pass and for a transit station in the general vicinity of Olive Avenue near the proposed regional center.

The plan by consultants Sedway and Cooke calls for a regional shopping center to serve Novato, northern Marin and Southern Sonoma, on 90 acres, north of Olive Avenue, east and west of Highway 101.

Planning Director Brian W. Mattson said there was no protest from a small audience.

Commissioners considered the need to have land uses in the area north of Cherry Street, between Highway 101 and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right of way, compatible with the regional center, Mattson reported. The property is used for various industrial pruposes.

The commission also discussed the staff recommendation that the regional center site be extended to Second Street and Kaehler Street to eliminate future potential conflict with residential property backing up to a major shopping center, Mattson said.

Under the plan there would be a transit station with land area sufficient to accommodate from 800 to 1,000 cars, with the preferred location immediately north of Olive Avenue.

Commissioners felt that because of the large scale of the garage and parking requirements for a transit station, special consideration should be given to the design of the project, Mattson said.

The hearing was the first in a series on the downtown plan, with the next session at 8 p.m. Thursday at the Novato Community House to cover the Novato Downtown Center, Creekside area and Novato sub-areas of the plan and the program for Novato Creek.

Sonoma Gives Approval To New Refuse Disposal Site

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved acquisition of a new refuse disposal site, but only over objections of neighboring property owners.

The site approved included the 395-acre Stefenoni dairy ranch at Meacham and Hammel roads, west of Petaluma. Donald B. Head, director of public works, said he hoped the prooperty could be acquired as soon as possible with the disposal area in operation by next May.

As some residents complained that their property values would decrease because of odors, noise and litter from the dump, Head maintained that all possibel steps will be taken to avert such problems.

He said that only one-third of the property would be used initially and that long range plans call for converting the dump into a park area.

Head said the Roblar Road dump site would be phased out and that the new facility would serve Petaluma, Rohnert Park, Cotati, Sebastopol and South Santa Rosa.

In a four-hour hearing, residents said roads in the area would be inadequate to handle the flow of traffic and forecast large amounts of litter on roadways leading to the site.

Head said the refuse would be covered daily, but residents said they still expected to be bothered by insects, rodents and bad odors.

The board vote on the proposal was 4-0 with Supervisor Arthur Ruonavaara absent. The price for the property has been set at $266,000.

In other action, the board approved a special election next November for Petaluma Hospital District directors. The election, which was scheduled for last November, was not held because of late filing by the district.

Man Switches To Guilty Plea

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A San Francisco man accused of beating a cocktail waitress from Mill Valley has changed his plea to guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

Lloyd J. Hartman, who is charged with clubbing Patty Noland, 32, with a tire iron, is to appear for sentencing in superior court here Dec. 23.

Hartman, 39, who had previously pleaded innocent changed his plea Nov. 27.

He was arrested in July after an early-morning fracas outside a San Francisco bar. He was subdued by several customers, police said, as he allegedly attacked Miss Noland, who lives at 31 Millay Place.

Petition Protests Home Use

The San Anselmo Planning Commission last night was presented a petiton protesting continued residential-commercial use of a home at 205 The Alameda.

The petition, signed by 20 neighbors, protested a use permit application from Beatrice H. Blum to teach dancing at the residence currently used by Helen O. Gui to teach music (organ, accordion and guitar).

According to the commission secretary, Mrs. Blum has an option to buy the home conditional upon obtaining a permit from the city for continued joint use of the home.

Claiming there is sufficient property available elsewhere in the city for such use, the protesters said their main concerns were increases in traffic and noise.

The commission delayed consideration of the use permit request until its next meeting Dec. 21 when it will reconsider the original use permit granted Mrs. Gui in 1966.

The commission agreed to recommend to the city council a proposed ordinance amendment governing types of businesses in residential areas.

The proposed amendment maintains that "uses permitted within this district (neighborhood business districts) be reasonably compatible with the surrounding residential use and that in allowing any particular use, special attention be given to traffic, sound production and impact on the neighborhood."

The commission also continued to its next meeting consideration of rezoning four lots on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Oak Knoll Avenue from commercial to residential and discussion on future development of properties served by Sonoma Avenue.

Mill Valley Chamber Picks New Officers

New officers for 1971 were elected at yesterday's meeting of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, according to Secretary-mgr. Granville L. Beedle.

The officers are president, Richard C. Conrad; first vice president, Samuel W. Schneider; second vice president, Christain R. Steindl and treasurer, Jack Packard, ast year's president.

In addition, Schneider will serve as chairman of the merchants division and Steindl will head the civic affairs division.

New directors are William R. Bacon and Gerald W. Belanger. Lawrence A. Meyer and Edward N. Mills were reelected directors.

Sentencing Set In Burglary Case

Steven Joseph O'Brien, 21, of Corte Madera, and Robert Donzill Price, 18, of Marin City, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to the second degree burglary of a Mill Valley residence on June 6.

They are to be sentenced Jan. 15. It was indicated in court that the district attorney's office will recommend a six-month jail sentence.

The two were arrested inside a house at 28 Vasco Drive, which police said had been ransacked although nothing appeared to be missing.

City Retirement Program Upgraded

The San Rafael City Council, rejecting a plea for a higher package for police and fireman, last night approved an upgraded retirement program for all city employees. (Other San Rafael council stories, page 1)

The total cost of the package to the city this year will be $409,580, an increase of about $69,000 over last year.

The new program, operating under the state public employees retirement system, was made necessary when employees voted in September to drop out of the federal social security program.

The package lowers the age of eligibility for retirement to 55 for safety employees and 60 for other employees.

Douglas pleaded for a state package, called the CHP program, which would have allowed retirement at age 50, but Councilman Fred E. Jensen, 70, told Douglas 50 was too young to retire anyway.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

HOUSING — Received a presentation of the City-County Planning Council's housing element report from Adelaide Wilson, chairman of the council's housing and social planning committee; Werner von Gundell, Marin County planning director, and Marjorie Macris, a county planner.

GOALS — Endorsed an Association of Bay Area Government's statement supporting a goal to provide adequate housing opportunities for all persons.

IMPROVEMENTS — Approved a five-year capital improvement program through 1975 for the public works department.

SEARS — Passed a resolution of intention to vacate utilities easement on the site of a proposed Sears Roebuck and Company store at Northgate Shopping Center and set a public hearing on the vacation for Jan. 4.

PERSONNEL — Referred back to McCown for revision a report on personnel reclassifications and wage adjustments.

MEETING — Adjourned to its next regular meeting at 8 p.m Dec. 21.

Rohnert Park Reverses On Underground Utilities

The Rohnert Park City Council reversed itself last night and said Young America Homes Inc. need not underground utility lines to its new headquarters on Commerce Boulevard.

William Mueller of Young America Homes complained that the council action two weeks ago requiring undergrounding was unfair. He said that property around the building under construction is undeveloped and that other property owners would benefit at the expense of Young America.

Councilman Arthur R. Roberts reversed his vote from the last meeting and joined James W. Rogers and Jack Buchanan in voting to allow overhead lines. Mayor Vernon P. Smith and Councilman Warren K. Hopkins voted for undergrounding.

The Rohnert Park City Council Also:

SIGNS — Approved an ordinance regulating political signs and requiring they not be posted until 45 days before the election and be removed immediately after. They will be confined to private property.

ETHICS — Rejected the request of Smith to adopt a code of ethics, saying all ethical questions are covered by state laws.

UNDERGROUND — Received a report from Ralph Fitch of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. that an undergrounding utility line district at Adrian Drive and Southwest Boulevard would cost an estimated $43,000. City Mgr. Peter M. Callinan said he would see what county funds are available and will start paper work on the project.

BRIDGE — Approved plans to build a small bridge over Hinebaugh Creek on Commerce Boulevard and authorized the advertising for bids. Cost has been estimated at $42,000.

DRAINAGE — Heard developer Paul Golis complain that flood control work being done behind the Bart Mitchell realty building was being done at the expense of other projects. The council asked for a report from the Sonoma County water agency.

Nobel Winner Would Aid Slums

STOCKHOLM (UPI) —Prof. Paul A. Samuelson, the American winner of the 1970 Nobel Economy award, today called for stepped up economic efforts in the city slums in the United States.

The 55-year-old Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) economist, a leading critic of the Nixon administration's economic policies, told a news conference, "American economists have a renewed concern for the city slum problem."

Samuelson, who was awarded the $78,400 prize for "raising the level of analysis in economic science," will receive his award at a ceremony in Stockholm Dec. 10.

Design Board Rejects Plan For Enclosures

The Corte Madera Board of Design last night rejected an application from architect Ervin H. Hille for mass approval of deck enclosures for 115 residences in the Mariner Green subdivision.

According to board secretary Lillian Moller, the board said it would only consider the enclosures on an individual basis.

Hille requested the additions for 86 three-bedroom and 29 two-bedroom condominiums.

In other action, the board approved remodeling of the Standard service stations at 90 Corte Madera Center and 706 Tamalpais Drive, deck additions to three Mariner Green Court residences and landscaping and modernization plans submitted by Kenneth E. Niles for the building at 5643 Paradise Drive.

Grand Jury Won't Hold Wide Probe

The Sonoma County Grand Jury has rejected the request of the Petaluma City Council for an investigation of "governmental affairs," saying it was beyond the jury's scope.

Foreman Edward C. Trigiero, in a letter to the council, said the request was too broad to warrant an investigation. He said the jury could concern itself only with specific charges or willful or corrupt practices by city officials.

The council had asked for the citywide investigation after misconduct charges were leveled at Planning Commission Chairman Paul Stanley.

City Atty. Edouard E. Robert said the jury and district attorney's office are investigating the charges against Stanley, but that the final determination will probably be made by the 1971 grand jury.

Petaluma's Growing Pains Scrutinized

Petaluma's population may leap by more than 6,000 in the next year, but that could bring development to a standstill because of sewage plant limitations, the city council heard last night.

Councilman David W. Brainerd said his council committee had three meetings with developers and found that 1,918 single family units may be built in 1971. He said that coupled with 264 multi-family units and a mobile home park already approved, the developments could yield a population addition of 6,089 on the east side.

He said the present operation of the sewage plant could accommodate an additional 5,000 residents while still reserving some space for new industry.

Brainerd said that the figures indicate the plant will be operating beyond its capacity, but he added that the building projections given by developers may be as much as 30 per cent above actual construction.

After the meeting, Brainerd said his committee, which also included Councilman Robert A. Brunner and Vice Mayor John W. Cavanagh Jr., had not asked builders to slow development voluntarily as had been suggested by City Mgr. Robert H. Meyer.

He said the committee had discussed only treatment plant problems and had not talked about any problems related to crowded schools or the lack of recreational facilities on the east side that residents have been complaining about for several months.

Brainerd said that tentative and final development maps already approved would bring a total population of 33,090 in the next year. The September city population was estimated at 26,001. Another 1,000 residents outside the city limits are also served by city sewers.

As an indication of a possible timetable for plant expansion, City Engineer David A. Young estimated the design phase might begin in August with construction bids advertised in May of 1972 with the new plant operational by May, 1974.

In line with Brainer's report that no future development can be considered until a plant expansion plan is prepared and financed, the council later turned down an annexation request.

Denied was the request of Taylor and Mazza Inc. to annex 55 acres on Casa Grande Road for future single and multi-family residences. Representatives said the development would include 80 homes per year over a five-year period, but could be scaled down if necessary because of sewage limitations.

The council also put off a rezoning request by Arthur Condiotti for a 28-acre mobile home park on North McDowell Boulevard, adjacent to the Candlewood Mobile Home Park.

The council delayed the request for three months, saying the rezoning could be granted, but development might have to be delayed for up to two years.

The Petaluma City Council also:

ANNEXATION — Approved the annexation of five acres on North McDowell Boulevard as requested by David A. Young of Novato. He said he had no immediate development plan for the property.

WRISTWRESTLING — Heard a request from Bill Soberanes that $1,000 be transferred to his non-profit corporation for the 1971 World's Wristwrestling Championship. The council said the funds had been set aside in the promotion fund, but asked Soberanes for a more detailed accounting on how the money would be spent.

LUCCHESI — Approved the expenditure of $600 to hire San Rafael landscape architect Sidney M. Lewin to prepare grading, drainage and landscape plans for the development of another five acres at Lucchesi Park.

REZONING — Approved rezoning 601 D Street from single family residential to multi-family to permit duplexes.

FIRE HOSE — Authorized the purchase of $6,000 worth of fire hose.

Tate Trial Is In Postponement

LOS ANGELES (UPI) —The Sharon Tate murder trial has been postponed until Dec. 16 to allow the "associate counsel" of missing defense lawyer Ronald Hughes to study the massive 18,000-page transcript of more than five months of court proceedings.

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older granted the continuance Monday after Maxwell Keith told him he needs more time to bone up on the transcript. If Keith is ready by that date, closing arguments will begin.

Guaraldi And Wife Granted A Dissolution

Pianist Vincent A. Guaraldi and his wife Shirley were granted dissolution of their marriage today by Judge Samuel W. Gardiner inMarin Superior Court.

Only the long-haired bespectacled musician appeared in court to testify that the couple had been separated over two years and that irreconcilable differences existed between them.

A property settlement had been reached between Guaraldi, 41, and Mrs. Guaraldi in which assets were divided approximately equally. She is to receive $300 support monthly plus $150 for each of their two children.

Guaraldi testified that the youngsters, David, and Dia, live with their mother in Mill Valley.

The Guaraldis were married in San Francisco in 1953 and separated in June 1968, when Mrs. Guaraldi filed for divorce. She had also filed in 1966 but the suit was dismissed when the couple reconciled.

Asphalt Plant Meets Opposition

The Novato Beautification Committee last night opposed an application by McPhails Inc. to construct an asphalt plant at Highways 101 and 37 where the firm operates a concrete batch plant.

The Novato City Council will have a hearing on the application at 8 p.m. today at Novato Community House.

THE GOURMET
By Petrini's
Presents

LONDON BROIL PEPPER STEAK

One LONDON BROIL, 2 to 2½ lbs. 1½ tbls. olive oil
1½ tbls. whole black peppercorns ¼ cup brandy

Allow LONDON BROIL to reach room temperature, approximately 1 hour. Crush peppercorns by wrapping in a cloth and crush with a mallet or rolling pin. Press pepper firmly into both sides of LONDON BROIL. Let stand at room temperature 15 to 20 minutes. Heat olive oil in a heavy frying pan. Pan broil steak to desired doneness — approximately 25 minutes for medium. Season with salt to taste. Place LONDON BROIL on a hot platter. Pour brandy into frying pan, set aflame. Stir to extinguish flame. When sauce is bubbling hot, pour over LONDON BROIL. Slice diagonally in ¼ inch slices and serve 4 to 6 servings

ALMANAC

Today is Tuesday, Dec. 8, the 342nd day of 1970.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Venus, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Mercury and Saturn.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Sagittarius.

Cotton gin inventor Eli Whitney was born Dec. 8, 1876.

On this day in history:

In 1776 George Washington crossed the Delaware near Trenton, J. J.

In 1863 President Abraham Lincoln announced his plan for reconstruction of the South. It provided amnesty for all who supported the Confederacy except the highest leaders.

In 1886 delegates from 25 unions founded the American Federation of Labor at Columbus, Ohio.

In 1949 the Chinese Nationalist Government defeated by the Communists, moved its headquarters from the mainland to Formosa.

A thought for today: Lincoln said, "Truth is generally the best vindication against slander."

Fremont Plant Resumes Work

FREMONT (UPI) — General Motors' assembly plant resumed production of cars and trucks today after a two-month strike.

The 4,500 workers at the plant on the east side of San Francisco Bay ratified a local settlement last Friday, two weeks after the nationwide GM strike by the United Auto Workers was settled.

The Fremont plant produces Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac and Chevrolet cars and Chevrolet and GMC trucks.

Today's Hand Shows Why Culbertson Was Top Player

People sometimes ask how good a player Ely Culbertson was. (For the benefit of those who just came in, Culbertson was the monarch of bridge in the early 30s.) Culbertson was as good a player as he needed to be to stay on top. The game has advanced since his time, but if he had maintained his interest in bridge he would have kept pace with the best players. Today's hand shows a typical Culbertson coup.

VERY DIFFICULT

Culbertson could not reproach his wife, Josephine, for taking him out of the double of four spades since West would have lost only one spade, one heart and one diamond. But making five clubs was a very difficult proposition since there seemed to be no way to avoid the loss of one heart and two diamonds.

Nevertheless, Culbertson found a persuasive way to swindle his opponents out of a trick. Mind you, the opponents were not exactly beginners, since the hand was played during the 1937 world championships in Budapest. See if you can find Culbertson's coup before you read on.

PLAYS SMOOTHLY

When West opened the king of spades, Culbertson played the six of spades smoothly from the South hand. Naturally, each opponent thought that his partner had the ace of spades.

West shifted to the eight of diamonds, and West took the ace of diamonds and returned the queen of hearts. Culbertson won with the ace of hearts and led out seven rounds of trumps, discarding the nine of diamonds and the two hearts from his hand.

LAST THREE CARDS

Culbertson's last three cards were the king of diamonds and the A-2 of spades. The defenders were so sure that Culbertson had no spades (since he hadn't ruffed any in the dummy) that they had thrown away their spades to save "protection" in the red suits. The old master therefore took the king of diamonds and then won the last two tricks with the ace and deuce of spades.

Don't sniff. The same play might work today against any but the very best.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold:
♠—A 6 2
♥—A 8 3
♦—K 9 3
♣—A Q 10 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid 1 no-trump, promising 16 to 18 points in high cards, with balanced distribution and strength in three suits. (Culbertson's bidding methods were different when he held this hand in 1937.)

Disbarment Issue

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—A hearing to determine whether defense attorney F. Lee Bailey should be barred from practicing in New Jersey was scheduled Tuesday before the State Supreme Court. The hearing resulted from a recommendation by Superior Court Justice Morris Pashman that Bailey be disbarred because of his actions in the Kavanaugh-DeFranco murder trials.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

County Fire And Police Proposals Need Hard Look

The Marin County Board of Su- that could materially change the structure of local government in the county.

The board last week called for an election in March on formation of a county-wide fire district, which would include all areas not now within a city or a fire district.

On the same day, the board set for Jan. 26 hearing on a proposal for a county police services area, to include all territory now dependent on the sheriff's office for law enforcement.

THE PROPOSED county fire district and the proposed county police services area have two goals in common:

First, they supposedly would provide better fire and police protection to those areas which do not have local setups in these fields.

Second, they supposedly would make it possible to shift some of the tax load for county fire and police protection away from those who are "double-taxed" to support their local fire and police departments plus the county fire department and sheriff's office.

The proposed setups might do neither of these things, however. They without doubt would result in increased taxation for residents of unincorporated areas. And they might not save much of anything for those who live within cities and fire districts.

FIRST, LET'S CONSIDER fire protection.

The county fire department exists to fight grass, brush and forest fires. It never was intended for structural fire protection. It does its best to save homes and other structures within its jurisdiction from being destroyed by fire, but that is not its purpose.

If residents want more fire protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a fire district.

However, a fire district embracing all those areas not now within one would be a patchwork of disconnected parcels. Each would require its own complement of men and equipment — in essence a separate district.

What part of the cost of this extra manpower and equipment would be chargeable to the fire district? All of it? But if so, would then the county fire department be needed also to protect against forest and brush fires? And who would pay for it? And if it were not needed, should not city residents help pay for this protection which benefits them also?

HOW ABOUT POLICE protection?

The sheriff's office was no more created to provide police patrols than was the county fire department to fight structural fires.

If the residents want more police protection, they have two choices: Annex their property to a city, or if that is impossible, set up a police district.

A county services area for police protection would embrace a greater assortment of disconnected parcels than the proposed county fire district. It would be under administration of the board of supervisors — so probably it would be operated by the sheriff's department.

Then, how much of the sheriff's department's increased cost should be charged county-wide, and how much only within the police services area? How would the tax be broken down?

There are cans of worms here. Each worm should be examined before buying the cans. The imagined "tax equity" may prove ephermal.

Reinecke's Under-River Sewer Plan Faces Many Difficulties

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A unique plan to end pollution of Sacramento River waters has been proposed by Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke. Whether the plan is practical remains to be seen.

Reinecke, who is an engineer, proposes a river-bottom sewer line beginning at the point of effluent discharge into the river and continuing to a sewage treatment plant at the mouth of the river.

In the plant, the water would be treated and discharged into San Francisco Bay.

HIS ULTIMATE plan would be to have sewage discharges all along the river, into the sewer line. This would result in a tremendous load with the necessity of having to sink a really large pipe line in the river.

Discharges from various communities, he says, could be effected without much expense, as most of the communities have pipe lines to the river anyhow, which discharge sewage into it.

"From the economic standpoint", Reinecke said, "one very large treatment plant could handle larger volumes of effluent at less cost than large number of smaller ones, and do a better job in the long run. Initial treatment would continue to be accomplished near the source, but final treatment to a purity quality necessary to permit return to the river would be the responsibility of the master plant."

REINECKE SUGGESTS feasibility study, which should also include industrial waste and pesticide content.

"There are engineering problems which must be looked into," he said. "There may be navigational and dredging problems that are not visible at this time. However, a feasibility study would determine if the idea has merit, or whether the cost would be justifiable.

"The plan also might end the spectre of one sewage plant dumping partially treated effluent into the river just a few miles upstream from the drinking water intake of such cities as Sacramento, as is now the case."

He believes elimination of pollution in rivers and San Francisco Bay could become an accomplished fact if such a sewer line were constructed. But of course, there is no cost estimate as to how much the taxpayers would be stuck to construct it.

ALSO THERE IS no assurance that the federal government would issue a permit for construction of such a sewer line. The federal government controls the river channel.

With all the obstacles tossed in the way, it probably will be another lifetime before much, if any, serious consideration is given to the Reinecke proposal, but at least, it's something to think about.

Vote Unanimous Against Fence

The editor erred in an editor's note on a letter yesterday in saying that City Councilman William G. Fleckles voted to allow Dr. Robert C. Ceniceros's eight-foot scrap lumber fence in Larkspur. Fleckles said he liked the fence, but joined the other four council members in an unanimous turndown, since it exceeded the height limit set by ordinance.

Pot Smoking But No Religion

I noticed the news story "No Noon Religious Rites."

It seems strange to me that the school officials can look the other way on pot-smoking teachers and students, violent attacks on students in rest rooms, and revolutionary literature distributed, while we have here a group of kids who are not harming anyone and trying to do good, to whom the school says, "no, you can't meet."

It's time for the citizens to regain control of their schools, from these over-degreed and over-paid intellectuals who can't even maintain decent discipline and respect.

I'd like to see how many "men of the cloth" have enough fortitude to back up these good kids at San Rafael High School.

Is it any wonder that school bonds are voted down?

Need Stop Sign At School Crossing

This letter is about a stop sign being put at Laurel Dell Primary School crosswalk.

It started when my brother's dog got hit by a speeding car which didn't stop at the crosswalk. A boy was crossing at the Laurel Dell Primary, a speeding car almost hit him. Two dogs got hit by a speeding car. One was my brother's.

By putting a stop sign or light we can stop accidents before they happen. There is a danger of people crossing the street and a speeding car not seeing them. I have already made a petition. I have 86 signatures from teachers and the principal and the kids of Laurel Dell Primary and Intermediate. I think something should be done about this.

Let's Remember Pearl Harbor

I heard a person comment on the radio this morning (Dec. 7) about the lack of the "mentioning" of Pearl Harbor and he stated, "Perhaps it's just as well. We all have so much on our minds." Do we have so much on our minds that we must forget so easily?

The small flag in my window this morning was to signify I remember Pearl Harbor. I remember the many who gave their lives there. I remember our entry into World War Two. Can I forget my six brothers and sister serving there? Yet another brother served in the Korean conflict. I can pause to remember Pearl Harbor for I like to feel that those who died there made the world a better place for me and my children.

Comparing Defense And HEW Costs

Editorial cartoons are swell. They can imply anything, without directly stating it. And no one should complain, especially if the cartoons are anti-American.

Your Dec. 5 cartoon, with the rocket labelled "More and More and More and More Defense Spending" is a splendid example.

I challenge you to publish a table listing, by year, the Defense Department budget and the HEW Department budget for the last five available years. Show the American side of the picture once in a while.

DANIEL T. MAHONEY

(The latest five budgets for the Defense Department and Health, Education and Welfare Department as as follows:

|---|---|
| Fiscal | 1967 |
| Defense, | $69,090,000,000 |
| HEW, | $34,890,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1968 |
| Defense, | $79,098,000,000 |
| HEW, | $40,706,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1969 |
| Defense | $81,240,000,000 |
| HEW, | $55,920,000,000 |
| Fiscal | 1970 |
| Defense, | $79,432,000,000 |

| Fiscal | 1971 |
| Defense, | $73,585,000,000 |
| HEW, | $73,450,000,000 |

The increases in the HEW budget have been due chiefly to the increased cost to the federal government of the welfare program. "Income protection" totaled $37,399,000,000 in fiscal 1969, rose to $43,832,000,000 in 1970, and to $50,384,000,000 in this year's budget. — Editor.)

U.S. Generals Detention Shows Double Standard

(Reprinted from St. Louis Post-Dispatch

The detention of two American generals in Russia after their plane strayed across the Turkish frontier comes within a few weeks after the Nixon administration raised a calculated uproar over highly tendentious allegations that the Soviets might be building a submarine base in Cuba. The two events bear thinking about in juxtaposition.

Turkey has been a military outpost of the United States for 20 years, and that is why American generals were close enough to the Soviet border to "stray" across in the now familiar bad weather. Americans might ask themselves what gives the United States the right to base nuclear weapons and aircraft in a country hard against the Russian frontier while at the same time we object fiercely to Soviet bases in Cuba, 90 miles from our shores.

NOTHING, OF COURSE, gives us any such right. If we would be honest with ourselves, we should either withdraw our military bases from Turkey, or withdraw objections to comparable Soviet bases in our own back yard. But for many years Americans have been accustomed to applying a double standard of international conduct, one for ourselves and a quite different one for others.

During the Cuba missile crisis in 1962, the late Adlai E. Stevenson was roundly abused for daring to suggest that in exchange for getting Soviet missiles out of Cuba the United States might remove its Jupiter missile bases from Turkey. Some of the abuse came from sources close to the Kennedy administration; the mere suggestion of such a single standard of conduct was deemed a species of appeasement or worse.

Years later the information came out that at the peak of the crisis the Kennedy administration had, in fact, made a secret offer to remove the Jupiters from Turkey if Khrushchev would back off from Cuba. Khrushchev's backdown was widely publicized, but the Jupiter withdrawal was kept quiet.

Well, the Jupiters were obsolete anyway, and nothing was given up by removing them. Meanwhile our government went right on pouring other weapons and additional dollars into Turkey, and today we remain in the same position as before. We claim the right to hold a loaded pistol at Russia's head, but howl with righteous indignation at the very thought of hostile bases in our own hemisphere.

WHAT MAKES the situation doubly absurd is the declining value of conventional military positions like those in Turkey. It is a safe bet that Soviet missiles are locked into every Turkish air field, and that in the event of war they would be among the first fired. If nuclear deterrence deters at all, it is not from Turkish bases, but from intercontinental missile bases in the United States and Polaris submarines at sea.

The strong suspicion is that we go on maintaining bases in Turkey only because we got started doing it, and that they could be abandoned without the slightest effect on genuine national security. It is true that reducing such commitments overseas would narrow the career opportunities for military officers, and shrink the market for the military-industrial complex. But if the result were to check the arms race and bring the superpowers closer to a reliable peace, those disadvantages could be endured.

Europe Questions U.S. Reliance On Force To Settle Vietnam Issue

PARIS — The day after the latest bombing of North Vietnam, the two top representatives of Hanoi paid a formal call on one of the highest officials in the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Xuan Thuy, head of Hanoi's delegation to the Paris peace talks, and Mai Van Bo, chief delegate of North Vietnam, had a twofold purpose.

They wanted to register their indignation at the resumption of the bombing. But, more important, they expressed their conviction that they would never capitulate regardless of the extent to which bombing was used.

THIS SAME opinion is widely held within the Pompidou government. The belief is more or less openly expressed that the war cannot be brought to an end by the tactics now pursued by the Nixon administration and that the illusion persists in Washington that force will eventually prevail.

There is evidence that, despite the comparatively small show of outward opposition, the new bombing and the commando raid on what proved to be an empty prison camp has shaken Western Europe once again over the erratic nature of America's course in Vietnam. The government here issued a statement deploring the bombing. But it was with a sense of the helplessness of any outsider, however friendly or sympathetic, to influence the course of events in Southeast Asia.

The substance as against the shadow of America's place in the world is increasingly in question. The nearly 300,000 American troops in Europe 25 years after the end of World War II are to be kept here for at least another year. But Europeans are asking whether this is merely holding a fort that has little meaning for the future.

WHEN PRESIDENT Nixon on his first European tour in February, 1969, called on President Charles de Gaulle, the discussion centered on France's opening to the East and the importance of developing relations with the Communist bloc. De Gaulle, as his close associates recall it today, was impressed by Nixon's understanding of the need to try to bridge the great divide. It was, after all, scarcely a month since in his inaugural address the President had pronounced the end of the era of confrontation and the beginning of the era of negotiation.

But does the President, the American visitor is asked, hold these same views on negotiation as against confrontation? The doubt is over the ill wind out of Washington that seems intended to slow the pace of the opening to the East.

If it is meant to freeze the bold initiative taken by West Germany's Willy Brandt in the treaty with Moscow and the subsequent pact with Poland, doubts of the Nixon administration will grow. Brandt's position is precarious enough as the Christian Democrat opposition tries to bring him down and balk ratification of the treaties. High French officials were outraged when they learned only two days before it happened that the Christian Democrats were to hold a party conference in Berlin which would be certain to cut across delicate four-power negotiations for an improved status of the city.

FRANCE'S NO. 1 diplomat, Herve Alphand, secretary general of the ministry of Foreign Affairs, is shortly with his charming wife, Nicole, to visit America. In the 10 years he was ambassador to Washington, Alphand made myriad friends.

He will meet with the President and the whole panoply of power and place. And it is certain that in his engaging, often witty, way he will express the doubts over America's shifting course. This will be the service of a friend who feels the United States is his second home.

It is easy to discount the doubter and the critic. France lost one Indochina war. But, as de Gaulle repeatedly warned American visitors, Vietnam is quicksand in which the white man, the American, the symbol of wealth and power, will be drawn deeper and deeper, finally to be left alone. The wisdom of experience can be ignored only at the gravest risk.

WINDOW ON THE WORLD

Japan Dislikes Peking — But Likes Peking's Trade

By ROBERT CRABBE

TOKYO (UPI)—"She's a bad woman," a Frenchman said of his mistress, "but such good company!"

Japanese businessmen feel much the same way about Communist China. They have just asked Peking for a one-year renewal of the humiliating but profitable commercial agreement that makes Japan Red China's leading trade partner.

Chances are good the pact will be renewed. The Chinese need the chemicals, steel and machinery that Japan has to offer. Japan wants the profits it is making on the Chinese mainland, which this year will be the highest since the two countries resumed trade in 1962.

However, Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi says Japan will go right on recognizing President Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa-based regime as the government of all China. He adds Japan will continue opposing Red China's entry into the United Nations, even if America should drop the idea.

ON A TWO-WAY basis, Japan's sales and purchases from Communist China this year will hit a post World War II record of around $800 million. Japan sells Red China much more than she buys. The 1970 balance probably will be more than $200 million in its favor.

Since the Peking and Tokyo governments have no contacts, Japan's trade with China is conducted by the "Memorandum Trade Office," an association of Japanese businessmen who do business on the mainland.

Each year their representatives travel to Peking, sign a communique denouncing the Japanese government's China policy, and then sit down with the Communists to negotiate an extension of the agreement.

Last year's communique said Japan's security treaty with the United States was in danger of becoming "a new Japanese-American military alliance ained at the Chinese people, the Korean people, and the various nations of Asia."

It was signed by Yoshimi Furui, a Conservative member of the Japanese parliament, who belongs to a faction of "doves" on the China question.

This year he will be replaced by Kaheita Okazaki, chief of the Memorandum Trade Office. Okazaki is president of All Nippon Airways, Japan's main domestic air carrier.

THE CHINESE never buy consumer goods — only industrial equipment, special types of steel they don't make themselves, wheat and certain metals like copper.

The Japanese turned a neat profit by filling the breach when the Soviet Union slashed its trade with the Chinese during a dispute between the Communist giants in the early 1960s. During the decade, Russian trade with Japan sank from around $2 billion a year to $50 million.

The Chinese turned to Japan and the European Common Market countries as suppliers of industrial goods. Japan won the lion's share of the market.

City Parks No Longer Viewed As Blessings Without Drawbacks

There was a time when no one knocked motherhood or parks, but those days are gone.

Even the Novato Jaycees had to concede recently that not everyone stands up and cheers when the talk turns to acquiring park land.

The Jaycees had worked long and hard compiling a community-wide park survey, and learned that 82 per cent of the 1,271 persons who responded believed the city should provide parks.

The bad news came when the Jaycees said the survey also brought to light "a surprising community-wide awareness of the problems no one really enjoys admitting to or discussing."

The "most tragic" of the findings was the "overall belief this community, not unlike others our size and makeup, has a most explosive and potential drug problem."

The Jaycees came across this information by the simple process of asking those opposing parks why they were against them.

ROBERT K. MADGETT, Jaycees president, told the Novato City Council the "no" group was worried about the use of narcotics in parks.

They also cited vandalism and "lack of order" at existing parks, and asked for better police protection at the parks, he said.

In one district of the city 41.7 per cent of the "no" group cited vandalism as the reason for opposing more parks, and in another district it was 40.4 per cent.

They also mentioned that parks would mean higher taxes and there was a greater need for better streets than more parks.

A little later in the evening, the parks came under fire during a hearing on Boise Cascade Building Co's plan to develop townhouses in an area west of the city.

Neighboring residents not only opposed the townhouse plan, but also looked askance at the firm's offer to donate 20 acres at the site for park land.

Again came the comments that parks create problems, that they are hangouts for youths smoking marijuana and areas where the "drug subculture" flourishes.

According to the Jaycee survey, residents said they wanted parks for picnicking, swimming, hiking, loafing or camping and their children would participate in tennis, baseball, bicycle riding and the like.

No one said they wanted the parks for pot smoking.

FOR THOSE WHO wonder if high school students change their outlook in the first few years after graduation, Novato High School's newspaper, the Hornet's Buzz, had a revealing item in its latest edition.

There were a few paragraphs about Mrs. Richard J. Zell of 1428 Cambridge Street, of the class of 1965, now the mother of a four-year-old son and working in the pharmacy department at Long's Drug's.

The Buzz reported: "Ronni feels that high school was sufficient in her days for preparing her for life, but now she feels that students have way too much liberty."

It quotes her as saying: "Students guide the faculty more than the faculty guides the students. I think the dress code is too liberal. The students should have more pride in their campus and themselves."

Five years is a mighty short generation gap.

Drop Charges, Defense Asks

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Defense attorneys asked Municipal Court on Monday to dismiss armed robbery and auto theft charges against six Latin-American youths who were acquitted of killing a San Francisco policeman.

The six are charged with stealing $10 and an automobile at gunpoint from a couple at Pescadero Beach five days after patrolman Joseph Brodnik was shot to death last May 1.

Their attorneys argued those charges should be dropped because the six did not receive a speedy trial and should have been tried in San Mateo County before the slaying trial in San Francisco.

Judge Paul I. Meyers scheduled a hearing on the plea for Jan. 15.

Two of the six—Jose Rios, 19, and Nelson Rodriguez, 20—were arrested earlier in the day by San Francisco police who said they found marijuana and dangerous drugs in their car.

Solution To Railroads' Passenger Troubles: Commuter Container

WASHINGTON — The question of what to do about American passenger railroads is still very much on the administration's mind. There is no doubt that the railroads are losing money on passenger business. If they had their druthers, they would just stay with freight. At the same time, the public's need for passenger trains, particularly commuter trains, is great.

What is the solution? Professor Heinrich Applebaum, who holds the Casey Jones chair of railroad philosophy at Pullman University, has come up with a radical idea that could save both the railroads and the needed passenger service.

PROFESSOR Applebuam says the solution to the problem can be found in large aluminum containers which are now being used for freight.

These containers are placed on trains already packed, and unloaded the same way. This saves companies money in freight handling, loss due to pilferage and breakage, and also saves time.

Applebaum claims there is no reason you can't use the same containers for people.

THIS IS HOW it would operate: Let us assume that 150 people are going to take the 7:30 a.m from Greenwich. When they arrived at the platform, they would be placed horizontally in the containers. (This would give everyone an extra hour's sleep to New York.) The container would be insulated as well as air-conditioned.

When everyone was squeezed in the container, it would be sealed. Then a freight train going through Greenwich would stop and the container would be hoisted on board a flatcar.

The same thing would happen all along the way. Commuters in containers at Portchester, Rye and Larchmont would all be waiting to be picked up by the freight train.

When the train arrived at Grand Central Station, the containers would be taken off by cranes and opened on the platform, and everyone could go to work.

THE REVERSE would happen in the evening, Applebaum said, except in this case, to break the monotony, the commuters would be loaded in vertically.

The beauty of the plan, says Applebaum, is that by using containers, railroads could cut the cost of a ticket from Greenwich to New York by $3.50.

They could also profit by the fact that they would not have to build new passenger trains, and they could eliminate the bar cars.

Psychologically, they wouldn't have to worry about customer relations, as the commuter service would be run by the freight department.

THE BIG ADVANTAGE of this is that once the railroads were able to legitimately treat passengers as freight, they would improve their service rather than try to discourage people from using the railroads.

Applebaum says that, at the moment, the container idea would only be practical on short runs, but he felt that as time went on a method could be developed for long runs to freeze people in refrigerator cars and then thaw them out when they reach their destinations.

The Department of Transportation, which is trying to find a solution to the passenger train problem, has expressed great interest in the Applebaum plan. A spokesman for the department said:

Tenement Fire Traps 50, Kills 1

NEW YORK (UPI)—A man died and four other persons were seriously burned in a fire that trapped an estimated 50 residents for a short time early today in a city-owned tenement on the Lower East Side.

Firemen said they cleared the six-story building of the 18 "legitimate" occupants and a large number of "squatters" during the two-hour blaze fought in freezing, windy weather. The fire was brought under control about 5 a.m. EST.

The victims were not immediately identified.

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—A thief walked into a house Sunday and stole a single bed, police said.

Five Injuries Reported In Marin, Sonoma Mishaps

Five persons were injured — one hospitalized — in five accidents in Marin and Southern Sonoma counties during the weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Roger W. Sheridan, 18, of 120 Evergreen Drive, Kentfield, was reported in good condition yesterday at Marin General Hospital with leg injuries received at 1 p.m. Saturday in a two motorcycle accident.

The Sheridan motorycyle and one driven by Randal S. Roan, 15, of 17 Sondra Way, Corte Madera, collided on a dirt road south of Endeavor Drive, Corte Madera, officers said.

Imogene S. Hovey, 61, of Huntington, W. Va., was treated for a cut forehead at Marin General Hospital from an accident at 1:45 p.m. Saturday, the hospital reported.

She was a passenger in the southbound car dirven by her husband, Bry E. Hovey, 67, on Shoreline highway south of Stinson Beach, CHP reported. Their car collided with one driven northbound by Richard Thomas Hankins, 22 of Mare Island.

Rene Bernadsky, 9, of 200 Bay View Drive, Mill Valley, was treated Sunday at Marin General Hospital for scalp bruises suffered in a one-car accident at 4 p.m. in the driveway of her home. Officers said she was injured when the brakes failed in a car driven by her sister, Jeanette M., 16, causing the vehicle to plunge over an embankment.

Two men received minor injuries early yesterday when their autos collided on Highway 37 just west of the Sonoma Creek Bridge, according to the Highway patrol.

Jay W. Bailinson, 23, of Forrestville, Sonoma County, was treated at Broadway Hospital in Vallejo for face cuts and pain in the left ankle. Joseph W. Nesbit, 30, of Vallejo, was treated for cut lips and loose teeth.

Officers said the accident occured at 12:45 a.m. when Nesbit's eastbound auto apparently crossed the center line and collided with the Bailinson's westbound vehicle.

Vietnam Visit

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Rev. Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the 3 million-member Lutheran Church in America, will visit Vietnam Jan. 24-30 to meet with Lutheran chaplains and talk to members of the U.S. armed forces. Marshall, who will travel to Africa before proceeding to the Far East, also will visit church leaders in Thailand and Hawaii.

Free Calls Offer To Overseas GIs

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American Federation of Musicians (AFM) said yesterday it expects about 350 overseas servicement to take advantage of its offer of free calls to their families in the United States Dec. 24 through 26.

The calls are handled by the Military Amateur Radio Service (MARS) which is located at al' military installations. A union spokesman said interested servicemen should contact the MARS radio operator as soon as possible to specify a date and time for his phone call to the United States.

In addition, the serviceman must write Robert Altomonte, 3460 Park Avenue West, Mansfield, Ohio, 44906, giving the date and time his call can be expected and also the frequency and call sign of the sending station. He should also inform his family of the scheduled call so they can be at home.

Old Wives' Tales Include Many About Heart Disease

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rub an onion on your wart and then bury the onion in the back yard. This will make the wart go away.

Don't break a mirror or you will have bad luck for the next seven years.

These "Scientific" techniques for avoiding misfortune are usually referred to as "old wives' tales." Many false beliefs about heart disease could also be classified as "old wives' tales."

Test yourself on the following questions supplied by the San Francisco Heart Association and then check your answers. Each correct answer is worth 10 points. Nine or 10 correct is very good, 7 or 8 is good, 6 is fair, 5 or below is poor.

1. Strenuous exercise is not harmful to the healthy youth or young adult who is in good physical condition (true or false).

2. For a healthy diet you should eat how many eggs per week? (A) all you want (B) no more than three (C) seven.

3. Polyunsaturates are found in (A) animal fats (B) vegetable oils (C) completely hydrogenated margarine.

4. Getting up and around after a heart attack usually takes from six months to a year (true or false).

5. Chest pains usually indicate a heart attack (true or false).

6. To stop smoking and gain weight is about as detrimental to your health as to continue smoking and remain slim (true or false).

7. If you have a family history of heart disease, there is little you can do to avoid this disorder (true or false).

8. Low blood pressure is always a serious condition. (true or false).

9. Headaches usually indicate that a person had high blood pressure (true or false).

10. An occasional throbbing or skipping sensation of the heart that you can feel means that you have heart disease (true or false).

Answers:

1. True. Many doctors believe that regular physical activity protects people from heart disease. Older persons and those with histories of heart disease should consult with their physicians about the type and amount of activity.

2. (B) No more than three yolks because of the high cholesterol count. However, you may eat as many egg whites as you desire.

3. (B) Vegetable oils. They tend to lower the cholesterol level in the blood by helping the body eliminate excess, newly formed cholesterol.

4. False. Many patients are exercising and leading lives similar to that which they experienced before their heart attack six weeks after the initial attack.

5. False. Chest pains do not necessarily indicate heart attack. Indigestion can produce symptoms similar to heart attack. Attacks of pain behind the breast bone which shoot down the left arm (sometimes the right) for an extended period may indicate a heart attack.

6. False. Many doctors will overlook an initial 10 to 15 pound weight gain if their patient has quit smoking. Of course, the patient should work on returning to normal weight after a short time.

7. False. Heredity can't be changed, but you can reduce your risk of heart disease by watching your weight, avoiding animal fats, giving up smoking, taking regular exercise and seeing your doctor annually for a check-up.

8. False. Very occasionally low blood pressure is a serious condition. However, it is usually thought of as an asset because it places less strain on the heart and arteries.

9. False. In most cases only a physician can diagnose high blood pressure.

10. False. These sensations are called palpitations and are only rarely related to heart disease.

TO PUBLISH ENGAGEMENT AND WEDDING STORIES IN THE I-J

Forms for engagement and wedding story information to be printed in the Independent-Journal are available from the I-J offices in San Rafael, Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma

Wedding forms should be returned promptly to the I-J office in your area and information will be printed immediately after the wedding. Photographers should be urged to submit a print of the wedding picture promptly. Color photographs cannot be used.

The Independent-Journal does not print wedding stories or photographs received more than seven days after the wedding.

An engagement form may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph, which may be picked up at the I-J office after publication. Snapshots, polaroid or color pictures are not suitable.

Against The Midi

"The main reaction against the midi length is from older women who are afraid of aging themselves by wearing longer skirts," says French couturier Pierre Balmain. "With the mini, older women felt they looked younger. It was completely psychological. They were not looking younger, they were looking silly."

BRITISH AUTHORITY FINDS

Gaps In Care Of U.S. Old People

By BARBARA HOSMER

The problems are the same but the attitude is somewhat different when it comes to caring for old people in England and America, says an authority on the aged in Britain.

People in England are quite concerned about the old, says Miss Barbara O. Glasgow, who has been in America on an observation tour of programs for the elderly.

"They ask themselves, 'what kind of life would I want when I reach that age' and most people do now reach old age," she said during her visit yesterday to the Bayside Convalescent Hospital in Greenbrae as a part of a daylong tour of senior citizens programs and residences in Marin.

"In England the government policy is different from America. It is that old people should remain in their own home, and all services are based on this idea: people should remain in homes that perhaps they have lived in all their lives."

Miss Glasgow, herself barely 40, is the senior officer in charge of the Council for Old People for Birmingham, England's second largest city, with one million population. It is a private committee run largely with volunteers and serves as channeling group to all clubs or programs that care for the elderly in the city.

But it offers a wide range of services that go beyond what the city provides.

MOST UNLIKE America's is the variety of housing schemes it offers to older persons in varying stages of health.

"Here in America there is nothing really comprehensive that fits between home living and full nursing service of convalescent hospitals," Miss Glasgow said.

Services in Birmingham, which she said was fairly typical of the plan throughout Britain, range from residential care for those who can't cope with any housekeeping or food preparation to bungalow housing in which hot food is brought in by volunteers through the Meals on Wheels program. In between, she explained, is the sheltered housing scheme.

This takes the form of blocks of 22 apartments owned by the council and providing each old person dwelling in the one or two bedroom apartment a communication system with a direct line to a resident manageress, who is on call 24 hours a day. She is called only in emergency and in that case she can summon all services needed. Sheltered housing residents do their own cooking and carry on their normal life until an emergency arises or they have need of more supervisory or nursing home care.

WITH SOME 143,000 retired persons in the city of Birmingham, Miss Glasgow said that there are day centers in 15 areas to serve the people who are housebound otherwise.

"A different group of 14 to 20 persons comes each day, brought by taxi and cared for by volunteers. They stay until 3:30 p.m.

"This program is really to keep their link with the community. They might have no social contact otherwise, and the volunteers are extremely good to them.

Another emphasis in Britain for elderly persons is the hot meal program, she said.

At the day centers and the five senior centers in Birmingham, for instance, she said that a hot lunch is served daily. And for persons who live in their own homes the twice a week Meals-on-Wheels program takes a hot meal to assure proper nutrition is maintained. Volunteers run the program for 1,500 persons and the food is prepared in volunteers' homes, the senior centers or hospitals.

Miss Glasgow said that another facet of the council's program is to offer yearly vacations for some 3,000 elderly and housebound persons. A vacation for the frail means a trip to the country where, in a special hotel converted for use of the handicapped, the frail also can enjoy special outings each year.

"We're the largest organization in the country but there is a network of 1,500 similar groups," Miss Glasgow explained.

Not many have their own housing such as Birmingham does. A house was given to the council, then another was donated. Then someone capitalized the job of converting another. And two industrialists gave money for a home and a nursing home, and one subsidizes the vacation for 400 frail persons. Another house was bought for elderly housing by the students of Birmingham University. The city subsidizes some housing, also.

"People in sheltered homes pay rent and it covers the cost. The basic rent would be about $13 a week for a two bedroom apartment. Of course, your values are much higher here. We can manage for that.

THE ENGLISH rely mostly on volunteers to run their programs for the aged.

"We don't give them too much training because when they offer to give two hours a week, they want to do it. They don't want to be faced with a training program instead.

"We accept all the offers of help we can, and we put a new person with someone with experience. Training is subtle and each year we have a study day, a form of conference which is really subtle training.

"We might have medical people saying how much elderly patients have benefitted from the programs, then perhaps an occupational therapist describing what has worked and why. This is really training for volunteers, but it is not done blatantly.

There are currently some 1,200 volunteers who visit 5,000 housebound aged in Birmingham, a program that is paralleled in Marin on a smaller scale.

"WE DON'T have high rise apartments for the elderly," she said, referring to The Tamalpais residence just up the hill in Greenbrae. "People in England aren't used to that. It's a government policy for homes for the aged not to have more than 60 persons in them.

"There are lots of people here who are under nursing care who don't need it," she said of residences and convalescent hospitals where the aged abound, adding that it drives the expenses

SPENDING THE DAY observing the various residences and programs for the elderly in Marin yesterday, British authority on aging Miss Barbara O. Glasgow talks with a resident at Bayside Convalescent Home in Greenbrae. She accompanied Ed Ryken, right, director of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, as he conducted a Christmas music program at the home. More "sheltered housing" for the elderly is what she recommends here after a tour of U.S. cities the past two months.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Help Others And You'll Notice Your Problems Aren't So Bad

DEAR HELEN:
I'm going to mail four letters to you at once, because one wouldn't tell all my troubles. Maybe you can condense them. I can't.

It's just awful. Another year of being "tease target" at school. I'm in eighth grade and my nose is bo big and ugly you wouldn't believe it. I can't get it fixed until I'm 16 (and get my growth or whatever). How can I stand being Eaglebeak until then? My friends — the few I have — are gorgeous, which makes it worse.

Trying to hide my nose isn't my only trouble: I hate school and my teachers and the kids that tease me. I need to be loved, but I can't get new friends, especially boys, because I'm so witch-nosed. I have a good figure, but boys only look at pretty faces. I hate them too.

I get in fights with my parents, and they think I'm "impossible," but it's just because I'm so miserable. I can't stand walking into class any more. I'm so self-conscious.

You've got to help me. Our guidance counselor can't because I can see she thinks my nose is hideous too. — MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:
Before I or anyone esle can help, you've got to help yourself. You're so busy "hating" you can't see that at least three-fourths of your troubles are caused, not by your nose or appearnce, but by your attitude. As long as you think all the kids are "out to get you" they'll oblige. As long as you focus attention on your "defects," they'll tease you about them.

Self-pity is a form of selfishness. You're too involved with your own problems to notice that other people are unhappy also. Try helping them, and maybe you'll discover you aren't so bad off after all.

About your nose: It's true you probably can't have it bobbed until around age-16, but a visit to a plastic surgeon would give you hope for the future and make the waiting less painful. Perhaps your folks will make an appointment — if you show them how much it means to you. — H.

DEAR HELEN:
I'd like to add my bit to the letter from "Let The Light Shine On" who asks everyone to keep on porch lights overnight. Thank goodness the right persons did.

I was walking home along a dark street. I heard footsteps behind me, and then someone grabbed me. Just then a porch light went on. It startled my attacker enough so he let go, and I ran up to the house, called my parents, and they came after me. If those people hadn't turned on their light at that moment, well, maybe I wouldn't be here.

A porch light not only protects houses from burglars, but it protects passers-by too. — LUCKY TEEN-AGER

DEAR HELEN:
This letter is for girls who really go for older guys and then get let down. I waited two years while my guy served in Vietnam — he was 19, and I was 15. I missed out on the fun of high school dating because I had to be "true."

Well, he came back — and told me he wasn't sure if he cared enough. Then I found out that he'd stepping out on me all along, besides writing to an old girl friend who is now divorced. And he's with her today, while I'm regretting all the fun I missed.

I've forgotten him (almost), but not the hurt. Girls, don't tie yourselves down while you're in high school and he's far away. He won't!! — SORRY TOO LATE.

Mrs. Wist

Mrs. Wist Is Elected

Mrs. John R. Wist of San Rafael has been elected president of the Central Marin Newcomers Club, which was organized three months ago.

Carol Wist and her husband have lived in Marin for three months, coming from Southern California. She has been interim treasurer of the Newcomers Club, is also a substitute teacher and was a ways and means chairman of the nursery school in Southern California. She is now a member of the Lucas Valley Home and School Club and is editor of the school newsletter.

Mrs. Wist says of the Newcomers, no fund raising activities are planned. Rather, each special interest group within the club will plan its own activities and trips. The general membership will have luncheons and excursions to various restaurants with the husbands for dinner. Special interest groups within the club now are bridge, antiques, art, stitchery and Canasta, she says. The club is open to any woman who has lived in Marin less than a year and a half.

Carol Wist was born in Wichita, Kan., and attended Fremont High School in Los Angeles and Long Beach City College. She hopes to enroll at the College of Marin to obtain a degree in nursery education.

She and her husband, a sales engineer, are parents of three children, Paul, 18, and Missy and Jody, both 5.

Other Newcomers Club officers are Mrs. Roger Steinhorst, vice president; and Mrs. Robert Arnold, secretary-treasurer.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM FOR CHRISTMAS

Los Angeles — Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might be perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A featherstitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem

The girdle itself is part "wonder" Lycra spandex. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer - genius, Olga. They are available at all 9 Emporium stores, in the Shape Shop Come in soon to try one and charge it' up. Nursing homes in England cost about $43 a week, while simple supervisory care situations cost $17 a week.

In America perhaps the emphasis is on youth, while in England people care a great deal about the old, she said.

Miss Glasgow is at the end of a two month tour on a Winston Churchill Fellowship, with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare arranging her visit to various U.S. cities.

And when she is not working with the aged she serves once each two weeks as a magistrate in the City of Birmingham courts.

PRESS GUIDE IS AVAILABLE

A guide for press chairmen of organizations interested in getting news to the Marin Women's Section of the Independent-Journal is available at the San Rafael main office and the Novato, Mill Valley and Southern Sonoma I-J offices.

The booklet, "Getting News Into Your Newspaper," is issued as a service of the Independent-Journal Women's Section to assist press chairmen for women's organizations.

The guide explains policies of coverage, how to prepare news stories and meeting notices, and the special stories and features emphasized by the section.

The booklets at the San Rafael office may be obtained from the switchboard on the main floor.

Rios-Soares Nuptial Held In Priory Chapel

The Dominican Priory Chapel in Kentfield was the setting for the wedding of Ester Soares and Louis Rios on Nov. 28.

Ester is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Soares of Lisbon, Portugal. Louis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Rios of New York City.

The attendents were Mrs. Al Freitas of Terra Linda and Barney Whitehill of San Anselmo. A reception was held at the Whitehill home, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel. They are living in San Anselmo.

The bride was graduated from Saint Isabella High School in Lisbon and is the sister of Mari Soares of Lisbon.

Louis, a student at the University of California, is the brother of Blanche, Teresa, Mary Elsie, Carmen, John, Nick and Joseph Rios, all of New York.

Sausalito Woman's Club To Have Traditional Swedish Celebration

"God Jul" may replace "Merry Christmas" as the greeting exchanged by Sausalito Woman's Club members when they gather for a traditional Swedish holiday afternoon at the clubhouse Thursday at 1:30.

The program will be based on the Festival of Lights celebrated in Sweden during the season of Long Winter Nights, beginning with the first day of Advent and ending on St. Canute' Day, Jan. 13.

One of the high points of the long season of feasting is Lucia Day on Dec. 13., when the eldest daughter in the family dons a long white dress and holly crown with seven lighted candles and awakens her parents by serving them hot coffee and saffron buns.

Lucia on Thursday will be Martha Ann Thomson, 11-year-old daughter of club president Mrs. Walter Thomson and Mr. Thomson. Wearing the candled crown she will lead younger children, each carrying a lighted candle, into the darkened clubhouse to accompaniment of authentic Lucia music recorded in Sweden. The children (including Erik Gergus, Peter Eckman, Cicely Muldoon, Heidi Reckenwald and Doretta and Bettina Boehm) will then sing "Silent Night."

Mrs. Albert F. Boehm, soprano, will sing a pair of Christmas songs, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Frank E. Rossman.

"Lucia" will then lead the group to the table of Swedish-style refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Robert R. Lyon. Accompanying the traditional saffron rolls and heart-shaped ginger cookies will be a steming bowl of "Julglogg," the good-cheer drink of spiced wine popular in Sweden on Lucia Day. Serving will be Mmes. Clifford Raisbeck and Patrick Flynn.

The Swedish program will be prefaced by a slide-illustrated talk on "Holiday Foods from Many Lands" presented by Peggy Hopkins, home economist for the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

She will discuss the influence of other countries' cultures on holiday customs and will give festive cooking ideas from England, France, Italy, Mexico, Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

NEW MEMBERS of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 of Mill Valley will be initiated Thursday at 8 p.m. at Odd Fellows Temple in Mill Valley.

Being initiated with members of Petaluma Rebekah Lodge 86 and Sebastopol Rebekah Lodge 44 are Mrs. Rebecca Robbins, Linda Williams, Rhonda Nordgren and Sheran Sherade, all of Mill Valley.

Noble grand, Ethel Skinner, will preside, and chairman for the evening, Mrs. Connie Post, will be assisted by Mrs. Betty Columbo and Florence Popp.

"WE GROW — And Then We Grow Some More," will be the topic of Dr. Robert Shukraft's talk at the dessert meeting of the Congregation Rodef Sholom Sisterhood Thursday at 12:30 p.m. at the temple in Santa Venetia.

There will also be a talk by the sisterhood president, Mrs. Betty Harris, who attended the Sisterhood Regional Conference in Seattle, Wash.

Dr. Shukraft, a graduate of the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, is a member of the psychology staff at Dominican College and a doctor of theology candidate at the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley.

TAMALPAIS CENTRE Woman's Club is having a Christmas party Friday at noon at the clubhouse in Kentfield.

Mmes. Louis Ravicz and C.D. Bessellieu are in charge of the program and will be assisted by Mmes. G.K. Burgen and R.D. Bailey.

Students from the Kentfield School District, directed by Miss Joyce Niboli, will present holiday music.

SAUSALITO'S Star of the Sea Church's Men's Club is sponsoring the parish's fifth annual Christmas dinner dance Saturday at the church hall in Sausalito.

Ralph M. Bell is chairman of the party, which will begin at 6:30 p.m. Dinner will be served at 8 with dancing beginning at 9.

THE NOVATO Hostess Club members will have a holiday dinner dance Friday at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club with Mrs. Jerry Carstens as chairman.

A cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m. with dinner and dancing at 8:30 p.m.

Mmes. Frank Nelson and Don Braun are co-chairmen for the prizes; C. J. Goudeau, decorations and Richardson Cuthbert, name tags. Mrs. Richard Watts is reservations chairman.

Vows Said In Fairfax

Marilyn Castell-Blanch exchanged vows with Edward C. Olson in a Saturday afternoon wedding ceremony at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch Jr. of San Anselmo, was attended by Sandra Grimm of Fairfax as maid of honor and Virginia Partridge of Novato and Cecilia Castell-Blanch of San Francisco were the bridesmaids.

Michael Halkovich of Novato served as best man for Edward. Seating the guests were John Bjor of Vallejo and Ramon Castell-Blanch III of Seattle, brother of the bride.

A reception followed at the Sleepy Hollow Clubhouse.

The bride is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and will attend San Diego State College in February. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. J. Partridge of Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Castell-Blanch of San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olson of San Anselmo are parents of the bridegroom. He is a graduate of Sir Francis Drake High School and is serving with the U. S. Navy aboard the USS Frank Knox. Edward is the brother of Robert Olson of San Anselmo and Mrs. Harry Harnett, also of San Anselmo.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Olson of Daly City are his grandparents.

The couple will live in San Diego.

Math Has Spark, Animation

New math or old math — some kids still can't add or subtract.

Despite the fact that kids today as in years past, learn the concept of numbers, educators have found that in increasing numbers they are unable to transfer their knowledge to the real test — solving problems.

"This has been the big problem we've faced in mathematics for many years," said Dr. Lola J. May, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University and math consultant to the Winnetka, Ill., public schools.

ST. RAPHAEL'S Catholic Church in San Rafael was the setting for the marriage of Kathleen Virginia Richards and James Morgan. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell S. Richards of San Anselmo. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan of Atkinson, Neb., and the brother of Patricia, Joh, Harold, Pete, Michael and Maureen Morgan and Mrs. LaVerne Kreiger.

(Klepsch photo)

"WE HAVE always felt that by the end of second grade a child should have mastered his number facts — that is, he should be able to add all of the combinations and subtract all of the combinations of numbers up to 20. But, understanding the concept and being able to do the job just aren't the same.

"So, for years, we've relied on a 'number line', Dr. May continued. "This is a device which simply lists the number through 20, and when called for, a child can add two to one, for example, and get three. But, we've found too, that children get entirely too dependent on this and cannot transfer their knowledge to the problem format of math."

Dr. May maintains that nothing replaces "good old drill," for learning numbers, but in the past learning number facts has been drudgery and dull.

As author of Borg-Warner Educational Systems math programs, Dr. May has put spark and animation into math teaching. She's put mathematic drills onto System 80, a new diagnostic and prescriptive audio-visual teaching approach that was designed to give children individual instruction without disturbing classroom activities and to give teachers more time to do more creative work.

SYSTEM 80 includes a television like audio-visual unit, special 12-inch records, and 80-frame filmslides. Each filmslide lesson presents illustrations and problems representing possible responses to the questions asked on the coordinated recording. If the student selects the wrong answer, the question is repeated. If however, he selects the correct answer and pushes the right response button, the lesson moves on to a new picture and question.

"System 80 allows us to have organized drill in math," said Dr. May. "It takes three or four facts and drills a student in an organized way, seeking a variety of responses to assure the teacher and student, that the child not only understands the math concept, but is able to do problems as well.

"System 80 makes math drill, basically an unattractive and unpalatable activity, more interesting and therefore creates an effective learning environment," Dr. May said.

Dr. May maintains that one of the breakdowns in math teaching is that the teacher always had to be involved in the various drill techniques available.

"FOR EXAMPLE," she said, "the 'number line' requires that a teacher observe each child solve each problem. Flash cards, used extensively in classrooms throughout the country, require a teacher or aide to turn the cards and ascertain that correct responses are given."

With System 80, a child can work quietly in the back of a classroom and test himself. Quick observation of the self-testing tab informs the teacher whether the student has satisfactorily accomplished the required drill.

With the recent addition of 46 new lessons, Learning Number Facts series created by Dr. May now numbers 92 in the basic addition, subtraction, multiplication and division program which teaches number readiness including concept development and counting.

System 80 also has created programs in the areas of alphabet + phonics, spelling, and reading.

Prosecution In Riot Case Rests

I-J Special Report

FAIRFIELD — After seven weeks of trial, the prosecution rested its case yesterday against seven men arrested during the Valentine's Day riot outside the Independent-Journal in San Rafael.

Later in the day, the defense opened its case before Judge William E. Jensen in Solano County Superior Court. Defense attorneys said they did not know how many witnesses they would call but hoped the trial would end by Christmas.

Officer Harold Pennington of the San Rafael police, who testified he was assaulted by one of the seven defendants, was the 19th and final witness called by the prosecutor, Marin Deputy Dist. Atty. Joshua W. Thomas.

To date, more than 4,200 pages of testimony have been taken and 189 exhibits, most of them photographs depicting the violent events of Feb. 14, introduced into evidence.

The seven — John J. DeMartini, 47, of Mill Valley; Joe E. Reese, 32, of Hayward; Terry W. Lansing, 20, of Berkeley, and Charles P. Vance, 56, James S. Brooke, 36, Nimmes H. Shelton, 41, and Alvis D. Bailey, 43, all of San Francisco — are charged in a 36-count indictment returned by the Marin County Grand Jury.

All are accused of participating in a riot and unlawful assembly, while all but Shelton are charged with felony assault on a police officer.

The trial was switched here when the defense claimed it couldn't get a fiar trial in Marin.

The Feb. 14 violence erupted at a demonstration called in support of San Francisco Typographical Union 21, on strike against the I-J since Jan. 7. Police estimates of the number of protesters ranged up to 800. In the morning, I-J windows were smashed and the building splattered with paint. A delivery truck was set afire.

The seven were arrested in the afternoon as police attempted to enforce orders to a crowd of chanting demonstrators on Julia Street to disperse. Prosecution testimony indicated a policeman began struggling with a member of the chanting crowd and other officers surged to his aid.

DeMartini, Reese, Lansing, Vance, Brooke and Bailey were alleged to have struck officers either during or just prior to the police sweep. The defense contends police used excessive force to clear the narrow street.

Attorney Robert Y. Bell began the defense case by delivering his opening statement to the jury of two men and 10 women. His remarks had been deferred from the start of the trial.

He said defense evidence would show police were disorganized and confused on Julia Street and that the tactic of some officers was to "knock heads and knock bodies and arrest people later."

Testimony would prove, he claimed, that the orders to disperse, given via loudspeaker, were unfounded and that demonstrators couldn't hear them anyway because of crowd chanting.

The defense further would show, Bell said, that the morning acts of vandalism were irrelevant because the seven defendants did not take part and that the prosecution could not even present evidence they were present.

The first defense witness was DeMartini, vice president of the printers' union local and formerly an employee at the I-J for 15 years.

Under questioning by his attorney, Carl B. Shapiro, DeMartini said the rally was planned by a special labor committee and he took no part in its preparation. He said his only role the day of the demonstration was to take pictures for union use, noting he had a camera slung around his neck.

In other developments yesterday, Judge Jensen approved a bid by Thomas to bus the jury to San Rafael to view the scene of the demonstration, if time permitted, and also required the defense to supply Thomas names and addresses of witnesses and to permit him to view photographs it intended to introduce.

Testimony is to resume tomorrow. Legal arguments were scheduled today.

Minor Injuries To Pedestrian

A 54-year-old Larkspur man was treated yesterday at Marin General Hospital for scalp cuts sustained when he was struck by an auto while crossing Magnolia Avenue in Larkspur.

Police said today Branko Rakic of 137 Baltimore Avenue apparently darted into the path of the car driven by Richard L. Slack of 38 Park Street, Woodacre.

Rakic was crossing Magnolia at Baltimore when the 6:45 p.m. accident occurred, Police said.

Crash Pad Fire Hazard

The hostelry for transient youth at the Methodist Church of Mill Valley is illegal and the building must be modified or the use stopped, the Mill Valley city council declared last night.

Mayor George E. Wickham said the church at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue has been warned three or four times of the violations.

To comply with the city's zoning ordinance, the church would have to remodel the crash pad room to meet the fire code and obtain a use permit.

The pad is operated at the church by the Street Ministry of Southern Marin for about 14 transient youths each night.

Failure to comply with the ordinance makes the church liable to a $500 fine, City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said.

Councilman Jerome C. Hauke said he wanted to avoid wasting time bytelling the church to apply for a use permit if the council did not intend to grant one.

"I get the distinct impression we don't like the use," he said. "If so, I'd like to get it out in the open."

But the council decided to inform the church of the violation and then consider a use permit application if one is made.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

SEWER — Awarded a $5,534 contract to API Specialty Construction Co. of San Rafael to extend the Ethel Avenue sewer main. Engineer's estimate: $5,536.

REZONING — Instructed Jordan to prepare an ordinance rezoning four acres of land near La Goma Street and Miller Avenue from commercial to multiple family residential. Developer Peter Haywood wants to build 68 condominiums on the property.

RETIREMENT — Approved in principle a plan to build 317 apartments for retirees at Camino Alto and Miller Avenue. The applicant, the Community Church of Mill Valley, must return to the council with a detailed plan.

CONTINUANCES — Put off to Jan. 4 hearings on abating a nuisance at 135 Monte Vista Avenue and a minor subdivision at 67 Molino Avenue.

LIGHTING — Instructed staff to do further work on a proposed ordinance controlling lighting in residential zones.

DEPOSITS — Endorsed a resolution by the city of Modesto, calling on the state Legislature to require deposits on all beer and soft drink containers.

REDWOOD — Annexed lots at 480-484 Edgewood Avenue, the so-called Redwood Camp, into the city and rezoned the property single-family residential, one unit per 10,000 square feet.

HOLIDAYS — Adopted the state schedule of 1971 holidays.

CREEK — Appropriated $1,000 for flood control work on Warner Creek at Glen Drive and $3,000 to control erosion of Boyle Park by the creek.

CLINIC — Endorsed the establishment of a cat spaying clinic in Marin.

SEWER — Approved plans and called for bids for sewer main replacement on Hillside and Oakdale avenues.

NEXT MEETING — Adjourned to Jan. 4 at 8 p.m. at city hall in memory of Dorothy Boericke Symmes, mother of Councilman Jean S. Barnard. Mrs. Symmes died Nov. 24.

Bids Called For Widening Of 101

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The state Division of Highways Monday called for bids on a $4.3 million project to widen U.S. 101 in Marin County from six to eight lanes near Mill Valley.

The project will involve Richardson Bay Bridge and its approaches.

Seven Injured On Rain-Slick Highways

Three rear-end accidents on rain-slick highways, one involving a Greyhound bus on the Golden Gate Bridge, injured seven persons yesterday, none seriously, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said the bridge pileup occurred in the southbound lanes at 2:15 p.m. when a car driven by Kathee L. Sperling, 21, of San Francisco, stalled near midspan.

A car behind her, driven by Winifred S. Dammann, 34, of Los Altos Hills, also halted, but a Greyhound bus driven by William L. Sullivan, 40, of San Jose, was unable to stop, and skidded into the vehicles.

Miss Sperling said she would see her own doctor, and a passenger, Jack Warnick, 27, of Daly City, was to see his own doctor for pain in the left knee.

The second accident, the patrol said, occurred when Gunvor M. Galvan, 38, of Santa Rosa, and Charles M. Hinke, 26, of Sonoma, stopped in traffic on southbound Highway 101 in San Rafael at 7 a.m.

A car driven by Edward T. Haines, 29, of 1145 Adrian Way, Santa Venetia, failed to stop, officers said, and struck the other vehicles. Galvan was to see his own doctor for neck and back pain, while Hinke complained of neck pain.

The third accident took place at 5 p.m. on northbound Highway 101, south of Novato when Robert W. Noble, 42, of 6 Ruben Court, Novato, stopped in traffic.

His vehicle was struck by a car driven by Robert E. Kinney, 16, of 40 Jacinto Way, Novato, and pushed into one driven by Mary A. Beck, 34, of 956 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard.

Noble, Kinney and Thomas Emerson, 16, of 45 Paladini Road, Novato, were treated at Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for cuts and scrapes.

Sierra Club Supporting Proposed Recreation Area

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The Sierra Club has announced its support of the proposed Golden Gate National Recreation Area which would include Army forts Baker, Barry and Cronkhite in Marin.

In the resolution adopted during a quarterly meeting of the club's board of directors here Saturday and Sunday, the conservation group calls for a 10,000 acre recreation area on both sides of the Golden Gate Bridge.

The club supported the concept of a headlands park that would include "those parts of the military forts (Funston, Miley, Mason, Presidio, Barry, Baker, Cronkhite) which have for their highest and best use the provision of public recreation" plus state, city and private lands needed to make a 10,000-acre park.

Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Sixth District, introduced legislation in June that would have created the recreation area on land "no longer vital for military purposes."

The U.S. House of Representatives has not acted on the bill.

Meanwhile, the commanding general of the Sixth Army has announced that parts of Fort Baker are being considered by the Army for development of housing for personnel employed at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Sign Sprayer Gets 30 Days

Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. of Marin Municipal Court has sent Phillip J. Byrne II, 22, of Sausalito to jail for 30 days for spraying a slogan on the wall of Olney Hall at College of Marin last May.

The judge also placed Byrne on probation for one year and ordered him to make $42 restitutition.

The youth had been arrested after spraying "Free Bobby Seale" on the wall of the building.

Women Hurt As Cars Hit

Two San Rafael women were hurt in a two-car accident at 1:34 p.m. yesterday at Hetherton and Third Street, San Rafael, police reported.

Frances Marie Rae, 52, of 130 Surrey Lane, San Rafael, was treated for a broken rib and bruises on her right side and face at Marin General Hospital. Her passenger, Gwendolyn Boyle, 79, same address, was treated for a scalp cut at Marin General Hospital.

The Rae car was southbound on Hetherton Street when it collided with one driven west on Third Street by Frank Harold Wendell, 60, of 115 Sequoia Avenue, San Anselmo, police reported.

Preserves Decision Postponed

Action on the question of Marin's agricultural preserve area, too complicated to be decided in one hearing, will be taken Dec. 21, county planning commissioners decided yesterday.

The Land Conservation Advisory Committee recommended that the present 313,000 acres in the agricultural preserve area should be reduced to the 92,000 acres already under contract. It recommended 49 small parcels be taken out of the preserve.

A dozen property owners who were given notices their preserve contracts would not be renewed protested the recommendations during the hearing.

Motorcycle enthusiasts asked that riding trails be designated compatible to agriculture. Planning Director Werner Von Gundell agreed the trails should be included.

Von Gundell, however, objected to the drastic reduction in the agricultural preserve area. He suggested a new zoning district to be set up for open areas presently designated limited agricultural.

John L. Donovan of Marshall suggested that present open areas be designated a "holding zone" allowing only uses compatible with agriculture.

Faced with various alternatives and pleas from small property owners who want to retain their agricultural preserve contracts, the planning commissioners decided to take another look at the whole picture on Dec. 21.

Planning Commissioners also:

PET CLINIC — Put over until Dec. 21 a request for a use permit to open a pet clinic at 524 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley.

FRIED CHICKEN — Put over until Dec. 21 a use permit request to open a take-home restaurant at the former C's Drive-In at 510 Miller Avenue, near Tamalpais High School.

SHOP BUILDING— Declared a proposed shop building for retarded children at Lucas Valley County Farm should be relocated to reduce noise nuisance for nearby residents and asked the county schools office to return Dec. 21 with new plans for the shop.

BAYVIEW HEIGHTS — Deferred until Jan. 11 decision on a proposed five-unit town house development on Bayview Heights near Bel Aire.

White House Tree

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House Christmas tree, a 20-foot white spruce from Wisconsin, will be delivered tomorrow. A spokesman said the tree will be brought to the White House by the families of Calvin and George Frelik, who grew the tree on their Merrillan, Wis., farm.

Musical Variety At Promenade Concert

A free public "promenade" concert will be presented Sunday by San Rafael High School and other Marin Musicians at 3 p.m. in the San Rafael High School Auditorium.

The school's orchestra will play the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major featuring violinist Mark Jordan and cellist Jed Barahal and the first movement of the same composer's Concerto in A Minor under the direction of Barahal; and Blues Suite by Gerry Olds, a San Francisco State College faculty member who wrote the work on commission for the school.

The blues suite conducted by Barry Ehrlich, a musician doing his practice teaching in San Rafael schools, will feature a jazz solo group composed of Nancy Levinsohn, piano; Chris Braun, drums; Bert Truax, trumpet; and Joe Weiss, bass.

Hugo Rinaldi, San Rafael schools' music department head, will conduct the Vivaldi Concerto in F Major, ballet music from Gounod's opera "Faust" and the Vaughn Williams Cantata "Dona Nobis Pacem." The orchestra for this work will be the Orchestra Piccola, a top group of young musicians in the Marin Youth Orchestra. Soloists will be soprano Marian Marsh and baritone Byron Jones. Other sqngers will be the San Rafael High School A Cappella Choir.

Jones, head of vocal music in San Rafael schools, will conduct the high school's chamber choir in Randall Thompson's "Glory to God in the Highest" and a Bach /Swingle canon.

Band, Choir Plan Concert At High School On Sunday

San Marin High School's concert band and concert choir will present their third annual fall concert at 3 p.m. Sunday at the school gymnasium.

Among the selections to be played by the 43-piece band will be "Zaragoza" by Odivadoti, tunes from "West Side Story," selections from Wagner's "Die Meistersinger" and "Windmills of Your Mind."

The 46-voice choir will sing "Alleluia" by Boyce, "Ave Verum" by Mozart, "What the World Needs Now is Love," "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," among other selections.

The choir will be accompanied by a special instrumental ensemble.

The finale will be a combined choir-band performance of a paraphrased of "America the Beautiful" by Ward entitled "From Sea to Shining Sea." John F. Yardas will be director of the concert.

Tickets can be purchased from any member of the band or choir or at the door.

Proceeds To Litchfield

The American Cancer Society isn't getting a cent from all that smoke at Pepperland, the rock music hall at 737 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael.

A story in last Wednesday's Independent-Journal erred when it reported that proceeds of a cigarette machine on the premises were donated to the cancer society.

A sign over the machine says the proceeds are given to the society, but a Pepperland spokesman said yesterday that the sign had been put there by someone as a joke.

Proceeds actually go to Irving (White Litchfield, the Pepperland sookesman said, who owns the building housing the concert hall.

Music of India In Two Concerts

Two concerts of classical music of India will be presented by Debu Chaudhuri Thursday at San Rafael High School and the College of Marin.

The high school concert will be at 3 p.m. and the college concert will be at 8 p.m. in the Theater of Fine Arts Building at the Kentfield campus.

Chaudhuri is a leading player of the sitar. He will be accompanied on the Tabla (drums) by Sharma and by classical singer and tambourinist, Manjustree.

Belvedere To Study Merging Its Police With Tiburon's

The Belvedere City Council last night voted to form a committee to study the possible merger of its police force with Tiburon's.

The vote was 4-0 with Councilman Willard G. Pittman abstaining.

Mayor Edwin J. Drechsel was authorized to select a committee to meet with a similar committee from Tiburon.

The city attorney was asked to work with the city attorney of Tiburon to study ways in which this could be done legally.

Mayor Drechsel suggested possible ways of doing it: joint jurisdiction, the formation of a community service district or Belvedere contracting with Tiburon to furnish police service on an annual basis.

Tiburon Mayor Denis L. Rice asked for the study, following council action.

Councilman Thomas S. Price said he was willing to discuss the pros and cons, but did not want to rush into anything hastily. "With our police chief leaving, we might be pushed into action immediately," Price said.

Mayor Drechsel said that the committees should make a thorough study and perhaps have recommendations ready by July 1.

Retiring Police Chief William S. Woodington said he thought merger was a good idea because it would give more efficient service.

"The two departments (the sheriff's seven deputies on contract to Tiburon and the five Belvedere police officers) have been working closely together now," the chief said. He added that there were times when each department called for help,but the other could not give it in time.

The chief said that in his opinion a combined department should have two additional personnel as each department was too short handed at present time.

Price warned that the council should not lead the people into believing that it was feasible at this time.

"This is just a study to explore the possibilities," he said.

The Belvedere City Council also:

DISABILITY — Granted Police Chief Woodington 100 per cent disability. This will increase his retirement by approximately $8,000 if he takes it in one sum. The chief will retire at the end of this month.

CABLE TV — Passed a resolution asking the Tiburon City Council to approve a trunk line connection through Tiburon to Cable Television of Marin so that Belvedere would get better cable reception.

LANE — Voted to abandon an unnamed lane at 280, 286, 288 and 290 Beach Road. The lane has been unused for years and houses have been constructed over it.

DEBRIS BOX — Authorized City Mgr. William L. Cavalli to see if the City of Belvedere could put a collection box beside that of the City of Tiburon on the land owned by Sanitary District 5.

ANNEXATION — Passed a resolution setting the effective date of San Rafael Avenue annexation as Oct. 6, 1969. Residents of the area have been paying taxes to Belvedere and the Tiburon Fire Protection District since that time.

GENERATOR — Rejected the two bids for a standby generator for the Community House as neither bid met specifications.

CREST ROAD — Authorized the city manager to put a stop order on a new house being constructed on Crest Road to study if it meets the five foot setback requirement. The council received a petition from 10 families on the private road against the house.

VARIANCES — Referred to the planning commission for study the question of whether or not there should be a one-year delay between applications for a variance on the same property.

CORPORATION YARD — Authorized the city manager to see what restrictions should be placed on the Ireland and Robinson Inc corporation yard. The manager is to report back to the Jan. 5 meeting.

FRONTAGE — Passed an ordinance limiting lots to 65 foot frontage.

TELEPHONES — Heard a report that Pacific Telephone Co would start improving the equipment in June and that the city would have tree calls to San Francisco in October of next year.

CLOSED MEETING — Adjourned at midnight to a closed meeting to discuss qualifications for a new police chief.

2 Ex-Convicts To Be Tried

Two 30-year-old San Francisco men pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to charges of burglarizing Tiburon and Corte Madera apartments.

A jury trial for George Ruiz Gonzales and Paul Herrera was set for the week of Jan. 4.

The men were arrested July 1 while seen fleeing from a Tiburon apartment. Both men are ex-convicts and are reportedly heroin addicts.

Civic Groups Canvassed For Prospective Jurors

Marin Superior Court judges have asked 82 civic organizations in the county to submit names of prospective members for next year's grand jury.

Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of the Superior Court,said that he and the other four judges hope that 100 or more names will be submitted by Friday, the deadline.

Carrying out a suggestion made by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, the judges have asked the organizations for nominees in order that a broader cross section of the community will be represented on the jury panel than in the past.

Before, the judges have relied upon suggestions made to them by friends and acquaintances and persons whom they knew.

Judge Wilson explained that the list of those proposed will be whittled by the judges down to between 25 and 30 names as required by law. From that number, 19 names will be drawn at random for grand jury duty.

Although the judges drew up no rigid rules for qualifications, they suggested that only persons who had lived in the county at least two years and had exhibited an interest in county affairs be nominated.

The new grand jury will probably be selected at the end of January.

Shepherd Named To Housing Authority

Wallace K. Shepherd has been chosen executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, replacing Donald O. Stutsman who resigned from the post in June.

Shepherd, who has served as acting executive director since July, was named Saturday by commissioners of both groups. He was one of 77 applicants for the job.

In assuming his new role, Shepherd said he hopes to "break the log jam which exists in regard to redevelopment in Marin County" and he indicated he will attempt "to make future housing programs compatible with Marin County's unique environment."

The new director came to work for the housing authority as administrative assistant in June of 1968. Before that, he worked for a year as field representative for the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

He has also been a representative for the North Bay Development Corporation and for 10 years was a civilian employee for the U.S. Air Force's Aero-Medical Squadron at Travis Air Force Base, Solano County.

While in Solano, Shepherd was instrumental in setting up a citizens police review committee to study problems between law enforcement officials and the community. He was also chairman of the labor and industry committee for the county chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Shepherd established the state's first Youth Opportunity Center — to provide employment and recreational opportunities for young people — in Vallejo and assisted in the organization of the Marin County Ecumenical Housing Council.

He and his wife, Artimae and three children live at 30 Amber Court, Novato.

Pool Drive Not Part Of CSD

The Marin City Communit Services District has disclaime all responsibility for a fun drive, now under way in Mari County, to build a swimmin pool for Marin City children according to Reba G. Mason secretary for the district.

The drive, including mone collection cans, is the work o Karibuni, Inc., a Sausalit community service organizatio headed by Gene Jones.

Mrs. Mason said the servic district wants the public to kno "that there has never been a firm committment fron Karibuni that such a pool woul actually be built in Marin City.

Since the district "is without proper information" regarding the proposed pool, Mrs. Maso said it would be impossible fo the district to "endorse solicitation of funds in our name.

"This does not, however, mean that Karibuni, Inc. is engaged in any nefarious activities," she continued. "It merely indicates they have no connection with this organization an have not received our approval for their project."

Last Election Race Settled

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — The nation's last undecided congressional race was settled Monday when Republican Rep. William O. Cowger conceded to Democrat Romano L. Mazzoli in the 3rd congressional district.

Mazzoli, 38, a state senator for four years, won the Nov. 3 election by 211 votes. Final certification has been blocked by a temporary injunction obtained by Cowger's lawyers.

Jefferson Circuit Judge Marvin J. Sternberg dissolved the injunction Friday. The judge denied Cowger's request for permanent injunction to hold up certification, which the congressman sought on the basis of a two-vote discrepancy found in one voting machine.

Cowger, a former Louisville mayor seeking his third term in the House, said in conceding that he would for years wonder "why the local Democratic power structure . . . used their muscle to block my attempt to remove this dark cloud over the election."

Annexation Door Open In Tiburon

Tiburon's planning commission and city council last night adopted a resolution legally opening the doors for the Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts to annex to the city.

The resolution, approved by the planners at 8 p.m. and then rushed to the council upstairs at city hall about 8:20 p.m., concerns only those areas which are north of Tiburon Boulevard. It does not include the Strawberry Peninsula.

Residents may now begin circulating petitions calling for the annexation which, if approved, would add about 985 registered voters to Tiburon's rolls.

SIMPLE MAJORITY

If at least 10 per cent of the voters in the area sign the petition, then the city will set a series of public hearings on the annexation proposal and call a special election. Only a simple majority of voters favoring the annexation is needed.

Councilmen last night voted 4-0 — with Carlisle Becker absent — to adopt the resolution.

The council made it clear that by last night's action that it was not discouraging annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula.

"This only means that the area north of Tiburon Boulevard might come into the city a little sooner," said Branwell D. Fanning.

The annexation of both of the areas received the approval of the Marin Council Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) last September.

A HOT ISSUE

The annexation of the Strawberry Peninsula area, which has the revenue-producing Strawberry Shopping Center, has been the object of some controversy since both Tiburon and Mill Valley have sought to annex it. Mill Valley's request to LAFCO however was rejected last September.

The Strawberry Peninsula area — which was not included in last night's action — is much larger in area and population. Annexation of that area would bring another 5,684 registered voters into Tiburon, almost doubling the city's number of voters.

The Assessed valuation of the Strawberry Peninsula is also much larger than the area north of Tiburon Boulevard. Its assessed valuation is currently set at $8.9 million compared to $3.6 million for the Bel Aire, Eagle Rock and Bay View tracts.

U.S. Withdrawal An Accepted Fact

By LARRY MOWELL

"The United States pullout is accepted as a fact of life in South Vietnam," according to Saigon's representative in San Francisco.

Luong Nhi Ky, consul general of South Vietnam, told the San Rafael Rotary Club yesterday that American withdrawal is expected "by this time next year at the latest."

Nevertheless, Ky said, "we shall continue to fight until peace and security are shielded."

Vietnam wants peace, but not peace at any price, Ky said.

He called the Communists a "small group of fanatic and organized revolutionaries who impose their will on a confused and frightened public" to achieve "liberation by terrorism and murder."

The Communists, he said, want peace on their terms only so the war-weary South Vietnamese will fight on.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are willing to negotiate peace only after unilateral American withdrawal, Ky said.

"You know very well it is not the allies in the Far East (who block peace); it is the totally ruthless Communists," he said.

The Communits will continue to hold a hard-line policy at the Paris peace talks, he said, as long as they are convinced America does not have the patience to thrash out a fair settlement to the war.

"This is very much a contest of determination and will," Ky said.

Ky has been consul general in San Francisco since 1967. He was attached to the Vietnamese embassy in Washington D.C. in 1965 when American combat troops were committed to Southeast Asia.

South Vietnam called for help only "when we were at the brink of disaster," Ky said.

About 100,000 South Vietnamese soldiers have been killed and twice that number wounded in 10 years of fighting, he said. South Vietnam currently has more than one million of its 16 million people bearing arms, he said.

The opposition has about 150,000 regular troops in South Vietnam and 120,000 in neighboring countries, Ky maintained.

To turn back the Communist tide, Ky said it would take cooperation between America and Asian countries.

"Only close cooperation between the nations of Southeast Asia can prevent further incursions," Ky said.

America, as a Pacific power, must remain active in Asia or create a power vacuum that would be filled by Red China and Russia.

However, he saw no danger of either country committing itself to the Vietnamese conflict.

Captured Americans are considered as hostages by North Vietnam, which is trying to sap American will, he said.

However, if Americans can maintain their resolve while South Vietnam assumes the complete fighting burden, the Communist strategy will fail, Ky said.

Order Behind Defector Flap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Coast Guard admiral who ordered a Lithuanian sailor handed back to the Soviets did so in part because he did not want to jeopardize fishing talks that had been underway between the United States and Russia, according to an official report.

Reports released Monday by the White House pinpointed Adm. William B. Ellis, commander of the 1st Coast Guard District at Boston, as the man who gave the order without consulting Washington.

According to the Department of Transportation report, Ellis told the commander of the Coast Guard cutter involved that he was taking the action "in the interest of not fouling up any of our arrangements as far as the fishing situation is concerned."

Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group Plans Concert

The Bach-To-Mozart Chamber Group will present the second program in the Homestead Valley Community Association's candlelight Concert series Sunday at 8 p.m. in Brown's Hall, Mill Valley.

For this first of the three concerts to be performed by the group during the 1970-71 series the group will play: Kimmertrio in G Minor, Handel; Sinfonia from Cantata no. 12 for Oboe, Strings and Continuo, J. S. Bach; the Christmas Cantata "Was Gleicht Dem Adel Wahrer Christen" and Concerto for Trumpet and Two Oboes in D Minor, Telemann; Cantata Pastorale, Scarlatti; and London Trio for Two Violins and Cello, Haydn.

Musicians performing will be Gwen Curatilo, soprano; Raymond Duste and Eleanor Biondi, Oboes; George Nagata and Donna Salarpi, violins; Asbjorn Finess, viola; Teressa Adams, cello; and Donald Pippin, harpsichord.

The evening concert will be preceded in the afternoon by a children's concert starting at 2:30 o'clock.

DOWN, BOY — Oscar Bonavena's legs got rubbery as he went down for the second time in 15th round of heavyweight bout against Cassius Clay in New York last night. Bonavena went down a third time later in the round for an automatic technical knockout.

Cassius Clay Thinks Ahead About Fight With Frazier

Whips Oscar Bonavena On TKO In 15th Round

NEW YORK (UPI) – Cassius Clay was hardly out of the ring after his 15th round technical knockout of Oscar Bonavena, but now Joe Frazier was on his mind.

"I'm sore, tired and I don't want to fight no more," said Clay, who was gored and butted by Bonavena before finally ending the evening's frustration with three knockdowns in the last round for a technical knockout with just 57 seconds left.

"He had me going in the six; in the ninth I thought maybe I had been predicting my own knockout all the time instead of his; and sometime during the 12th I said 'is it all worth it?'"

But then Yank Durham, the manager of Frazier, who won the heavyweight title after Clay was stripped of the crown and banned from boxing in 1967, stuck his head in the room. Frazier and Clay will meet here in February. "Joe says you'll go in six," Durham said.

"I'm done with all that predicting myself," the 28-year-old Clay replied," but I'll have some words for him later."

The $10-million bout with Frazier will give the fighters the biggest payday in sports history, but Clay was still counting his blessings for getting past Bonavena instead of counting the money he will get from his next bout.

For nearly the entire fight, the bull from Argentina had gored and butted away at Clay, a matador in red-tasseled dancing shoes. Bonavena's headlong charge across the ring and wild low blow at the opening bell let Clay know exactly what was going to be in store for him. The referee, Mark Conn, frowned on Bonavena's tactics early, however, and took that first round away from him.

In the eighth, Clay's stabbing left finally drew blood from Bonavena's nose, lifting the deposed champion's hopes that he could make his prediction for a ninth round knockout come true.

From the start of the ninth, Clay, who had an eight-pound advantage at 212, came down off his toes and went for the knockout, and he wound up being staggered himself. Clay fell to the canvas in a vain atempt to connect with the stopper, and Bonavena came back after being momentarily stunned to bloody Clay's mouth and send him reeling back to his corner.

"He should have gone down," Clay complained to his cornermen after the barrage failed.

Even at the end, Clay couldn't put the bull down for good. The matador had hoped for a cruel kill, but Bonavena got up after being clubbed to the canvas for the third time for an automatic technical knockout.

A hard right dropped him on his side with a minute gone in the last round, and Bonavena's eyes were glazed as he staggered to his feet. Then came another barrage, and as Clay stood over him, ignoring the referee's orders to go to a neutral corner, a towel was tossed into the ring by one of the Argentine cornermen. Conn ignored the towel, and Bonavena tumbled to the canvas once again from another flurry to end the bout.

Until the TKO, the scorecards all had Clay leading. Conn had it 12-2, while the judges had it 10-3-1 and 8-5-1.

"That man is better than I thought," admitted Clay, who was making his second comeback fight after disposing of Jerry Quarry on a cut eye only last Oct. 26. "He's better than Joe Frazier. I sure know I won't need another tuneup for Frazier."

The 28-year-old Bonavena, a mere 6-to-1 prohibitive underdog, agreed that Clay was ready for the champion. Bonavena lost two decisions in going a total of 25 rounds with Frazier and knocked him down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"This man, he the champion," Bonavena said, pointing to Clay.

The victory was the 31st in a row and 25th knockout for Clay. It was Bonavena's seventh loss against 46 victories and marked the first time he had ever been stopped.

A crowd of 19,417 paid $615,401 to watch the bout. Even more people will pay more money to watch the battle between the unbeaten champions, Frazier and Clay.

POWEE — Argentina's Oscar Bonavena caught Cassius Clay with a stinging right to the cheek, but Clay went on to win the heavyweight bout on a 15th round technical knockout last night at Madison Square Garden.

Nolan's Stirring Halftime Talk

What happens when a team smells out a stadium in the first half and then comes roaring back in championship form in the second half?

That's what the 49ers did Sunday at Kezar Stadium, trailing 13-0 after five minutes of play and 20-7 at half.

What transpired in the locker room at halftime that inspired this most successful 49er team in several years to a dramatic 24-20 triumph? What did Coach Dick Nolan say at halftime?

Big Bob Windsor, the Niners' sober tight end, answered that question at the Marin 49er Goal Rushers Luncheon at the Holiday Inn, Terra Linda, yesterday.

"For the first time he really read the riot act to us," said Windsor. "And I was glad to see it. We were playing crappy football. Nolan said, 'You just get your fannies out there and play football, rock and sock 'em, or you'll just get blown out of this park.' And we would have."

Windsor admitted Nolan usually keeps his cool under adverse conditions, but Sunday's riot act "did my heart good. It was the most stirring halftime talk I've ever heard in pro football. We needed it after that flat first half."

Like the rest of his teammates, Windsor, a fourth year 49er from Kentucky, exudes confidence. He concluded his question and answer session with the 80 or so Goal Rushers with: "The only thing I can say is that we're going to go all the way." Cheers.

He referred to final regular season games at New Orleans next Sunday and at Oakland in what looms as the game of the year on Dec. 20. "It's going to be a helluva game," Windsor promised. "I feel deep down inside we can beat Oakland; we have the personnel." This in spite of the fact the Raiders have won three straight over the 49ers in their cross-bay rivalry, including a 31-17 romp this pre-season.

Asked to predict next Monday's key Los Angeles-Detroit television battle, Windsor said: "I have to go for Detroit. They have the best team and the momentum going for them."

In comparing L.A. Ram Roman Gabriel with Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, Windsor said Gabriel is "really a strong quarterback but Lamonica is the better play caller. Of course, I can't believe that old man," referring to Lamonica's backup, old George Blanda, who has been pulling miracles all year."

Windsor surprised many Goal Rushers by revealing that running back Bill Tucker was awarded the game ball Sunday. Many thought defensive tackle Earl Edwards deserved it because he was all over Atlanta quarterback Bob Berry most of the afternoon. "Yes," Windsor said, "Earl was really fired up. And I think that Tucker will get a couple (of touchdowns) this week" at New Orleans.

Asked why the 49er screen pass, so effective early this season, has been consistently stopped in recent games, Windsor explained: "I guess maybe we're tipping it off to the defense. Or maybe we've been running it too often."

Key play in Sunday's game was a 58-yard John Brodie-to-Gene Washington pass that assured the 49er victory. It was a risky play called deep from their own territory. "In the huddle," Windsor said, "Brodie told Gene, 'I think we can beat them with this one. Just get out there and go and I'll get it to you.' A play like that," said Windsor, "really charges you up."

He said Atlanta is "one of the most physicial teams in the league" and defensive end Claude Humphrey is ". . . one of the most aggressive men in football."

The 6-foot-4, 229-pounder explained the numerous penalties in the game resulted from "flared tempers. It was a physical game, a bitter game." Also, because Atlanta Coach Norman Van Brocklin has said unkind words about the Niners, "We're all bitter" against the Dutchman. "He said we lay down. We don't lay down and yesterday we showed him we can play rock-sock, too."

No Day Off For Browns

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Cleveland Browns are so determined to beat cross-state rival Cincinnati for the AFC's Central Division crown they passed up a day off this week and returned to work at noon today to begin preparing for Saturday's game with the Dallas Cowboys.

The Players decided to skip the day of rest during a quick meeting in the locker room of the Astrodome Monday night after beating the Houston Oilers 21-10. That put the Browns in a first place tie with Coach Paul Brown's Bengals, each with 6-6 records with only two games to go.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Browns said he planned to give the players the day off, "but they insisted they wanted to come back and decided to meet at noon.

"Four of us (coaches) won't even go home," Collier said. "We won't get home until 4 a.m. so Fritz (Heisler), (Bob) Nussbaumer and (Howard) Keys and I will stay in a hotel."

Collier said the Browns' goal line stand in the second quarter was the turning point of the game. Trailing 3-0, the Browns stopped the Oilers' Joe Dawkins twice inside the one yard line midway through the second period.

Tackle Jim Houston, who calls defensive plays for the Browns, said the line slanted the correct way both times, first to the left to stop Dawkins going off right tackle and then to the right to stop Dawkins as he headed for left end.

"It's just a matter of sheer luck," Houston said. "If we slant the wrong way, it's a touchdown."

Individually, Ron Snidow, a second team defensive end, was the star of the stand. He moved inside the blockers to stop Dawkins the first time and then raced over to help linebacker Billy Andrews and end Jack Gregory stop him the second time. (Snidow played his Prep ball at San Rafael High School before going onto Oregon.)

Then the Browns drove 99 and two-thirds yards to score and go ahead 7-3 with eight seconds remaining in the first half. The key play in the drive was a third-down-and-seven draw play from their own 4 when Leroy Kelly broke for 32 yards to put the ball out of danger.

The next test was a third-and-eight situation on the Brown 38 and quarterback Bill Nelsen threw 26 yards to wide receiver Fair Hooker to put the ball on the Houston 36.

Seven plays later, Nelsen hit veteran Gary Collins for a one-yard touchdown pass. The other Brown touchdowns were a two-yard run by Bo Scott in the third quarter and a one-yard run by Kelly in the fourth period.

Kelly finished with 20 carries for 108 yards, the second time this season and the 22nd time in his career he has made more than 100 yards in a game. Scott's touchdown came after a pass interference call on Kenny Houston against Chip Glass moved the ball from the 20 to the 2.

The penalty was another big third down play that the Browns and Nelsen kept making all night. In that same drive—on third-and-four—Nel-

Warriors Show Need For Mullins

CHICAGO (UPI) —The San Francisco Warriors have proved the obvious. They need the backcourt gunning of Jeff Mullins.

The 6-4 Mullins missed Monday night's game with Cincinnati and the Royals rolled 124-113. For some strange reason, the game was played in Omaha.

Mullins received a fractured cheekbone when he took an elbow against Phoenix last Saturday. He may be able to play tonight wearing a special mask.

Without Mullins, backcourt mate Ron Williams took over the outside work and hit 28. Meanwhile, Tommy Van Arsdale and 36-year-old John Green swished 37 and 24 for Cincinnati.

The Warriors emerged with a 15-13 mark. They're not only fading back of Los Angeles (15-10), but San Diego (16-14) is breathing down their neck.

San Francisco must play seven games in nine days in a killing road test and could use a win or two in a hurry. They hope to get hot against the Chicago Bulls tonight.

Peetz Is Elected Yacht Club Head

Dr. C. J. "Jack" Peetz of Corte Madera was elected commodore of Loch Lomond Yacht Club for 1971 at a membership meeting last week. Also elected were Robert C. Ryan as vice commodore and Stanley T. Moore, rear commodore. Both are San Rafael residents.

Other newly elected club officers are R. J. Naylor of Greenbrae, secretary; Robert Candee of San Rafael, treasurer; Henry Serra of San Rafael, port captain; Frank Chun of San Francisco, power fleet captain; and Donald A. Huffman of San Rafael, sail fleet captain.

Dr. Peetz will succeed Robert Montgomery of Daly City, who will become a director. Other directors elected at the meeting are Charles Rosenbaum and Merle S. Greenblat, both of San Rafael.

Clay's Win Doesn't Impress Joe Frazier

MONTICELLO, N.Y. (UPI)—Heavyweight champion Joe Frazier watched Cassius Clay succeed where he had failed, but still was not impressed.

Clay dumped Oscar Bonavena to the canvas three times in the last round Monday night for a technical knockout with only 57 seconds left in their 15-round bout.

In two bouts, Frazier went a total of 25 rounds in winning a pair of decisions from Bonagena and the champion was knocked down twice in the second round of their first meeting.

"The way I saw it, Bonavena won every round," Frazier said after watching the bout on closed circuit television at Monticello Raceway. "Furthermore, I thought Clay fought a dirty fight. I thought Bonavena would fight dirty, but Clay's actions were unsportsmanlike, especially coming from a former champion."

Frazier accused Clay of leaning on his opponent and spinning him into the ropes.

"All those mistakes Clay made tonight," he'll make again," Frazier predicted. "And when he does, hello, look out. One thing for sure, our fight won't go the distance."

Frazier will go into training in Philadelphia next Monday for a proposed bout with Clay in February that will provide the biggest payday in sports history.

"I'm not looking for the money, even though they say it will be the richest purse in history," Frazier said. "This is one guy I want to whip, and I'm going to whip him."

49ers' Edwards Still Gets Praise Over Sunday's Play

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Big Earl Edwards is still getting accolades for his play against Atlanta in the frantic 24-20 win over Atlanta that kept San Francisco in the thick of the division and playoff fights.

Forty Niners defensive line coach Paul Wiggin confirmed what was apparent to the fans —that the 272-pound Edwards outmuscles 257-pound Andy Maurer all day.

Edwards called it "the best game I ever played."

San Francisco emerged with an 8-3-1 record—the first time since the 1957 season that they have achieved the eight win mark. They still have to play Sunday at New Orleans and next week at Oakland.

The 49ers fans also can't quite figure out who to root for in next Monday night's Los Angeles-Detroit titanic. The Rams are also 8-3-1, yet a loss by Detroit, New York, and Dallas and a win by the Forty Niners at New Orleans could get the prospector in the playoffs no matter what.

An underrated tussle for both the Rams and 49er's playoffs hopes is Saturday's Dallas invasion of Cleveland. It would be a huge boost for both Coast squads if Cleveland pulled the small upset to hand Dallas its fifth loss. Cowboys don't figure to lose their final game with Houston.

Washington Blacks Meet With Regents

SEATTLE (UPI) —A dozen black University of Washington athletes held a 2-1-2-hour meeting here Monday night with the school's regents, President Dr. Charles Odegaard and athletic director Joe Kearney.

It was the first meeting between school officials and blacks since four football players resigned Nov. 23 charging the coaching staff with racial injustices.

Raiders' Tackles Ready For Chiefs

OAKLAND (UPI) —The Oakland Raiders not only pulled their weekly miracle act in nipping New York, but they did it without their injured first-string defensive tackles.

This means that both Tom Keating and Carleton Oats should be ready to go when Kansas City and Oakland match 7-3-2 records Saturday in their annual war of the red and black at the Oakland Coliseum.

The last second Warren Wells catch of a Daryle Lamonica toss at Shea Stadium meant that Oakland has won three and tied one with less than five seconds showing on the clock. When they edged Denver, there was 2:28 left when the final score came.

Coach John Madden praised his defensive unit not only for their play throughout the Jets' game, but also for calling quick time outs when the Jets ran their last three plays. The series took only about 20 seconds.

They finally had to punt it to George Atkinson who ran it 10 yards back to the Oakland 30 with 38 seconds on the clock.

Meanwhile, the Raider offense had been huddling on the sideline. "We had a play all ready, so we didn't have to huddle," said Madden. "We just lined up and ran it."

The play resulted in a pass interference at the New York 33. Lamonica then tossed it to Wells, who caught it when one of three New York defenders around him batted it up in the air.

Among those who missed the weekly mwgic show were a host of New York writers who were headed to the Jets' dressing room to congratulate the winners.

They watched in wonder as the Oakland Raiders came by laughing and cheering and the Jets walked glumly into their dressing room.

An Exciting Day At The Meeting

If you couldn't attend the winter baseball meetings and feel a little left out of things, tell you what you do: Get 200 guys with brooms and one pile of dirt and get them to sweep that same pile back and forth across the floor for five days.

Or, you can sit and stare at a closed door for 12 hours. Arrange for someone to come out solemnly from time to time, rap for attention, and then read off the correct time. Put a notice ostentatiously on a bulletin board calling attention to the fact tomorrow is Saturday. Drink lots of coffee. Phone around for night harness passes. Call your relatives and explain you can't drop around and see them because you're sitting on a lot of fast-breaking stories. Send hairy stories back to the home office hinting the home team is about to trade so that its infield next year would be 8-5 against the league All-Stars and will have Henry Aaron on first, Tony Perez on second, Ron Santo at short, and Brooks Robinson on third.

11:30 a.m. — Dodgers announce they have made "serious" offer to Mets: Fred Norman and Von Joshua for Tom Seaver, Gary Gentry, Staten Island and an unnamed state to be named later.

11:35 — Mets counter-offer Rod Gaspar, Art Shamsky and Duffy Dyer for entire Dodger pitching staff, Griffith Park, and Grauman's Chinese Theater and Alpine County.

Noon — "Minor-League-Executive-of-the-Year" named, committee formed to bring him award at gas station he now works in. His minor league disbanded after setting attendance record of 928 for 150-game schedule.

1 p.m. — Bob Short of Washington Senators petitions baseball for permission to dicker for Eddie Cicotte, Chick Gandil, and Danny Gardella.

1:15 p.m. — Frank Robinson, who wins 80 games a year for Baltimore Orioles, put out as trade bait for pitcher who might win 15.

1:20 p.m. — New Orleans offers to share new domed stadium with existing franchise which might be willing to schedule a portion of its 81 home games in it — say 27 to 30. Baseball enthusiastic. Offers them Little Rock. San Diego, however, offers to share. Suggests 80 games as a starter.

2:15 p.m. — Unofficial Pioneer League averages posted.

2:20 p.m. — Casey Stengel holds impromptu press conference — a detailed critique of John McGraw's pitching choices in the 1923 World Series, followed by a long discourse on how to pitch to Dolph Camilli, followed by capsule observation on the success of the Mets: "It must do 'em some good to go to college, myself, I took up denistry."

2:45 p.m. — Suggestion is made to speed up the game by making the infield-fly rule applicable even when no one is on base. Someone suggests an even better method would be to expand the infield-fly rule to include the outfield. It is moved and seconded that any ball hit in the direction of Frank Howard be excepted.

3 p.m. — Major trade announced: Three .220 hitters exchanged for three five-game winners. "This trade will hurt both clubs," is pressroom consensus.

8 p.m. — First annual Baseball Awards Banquet. Statuettes in the form of banjos will be awarded to hitters and gophers to the pitchers. Umpires' will be white canes. Umpire Ken Burkhart is given first umpiring award for proving conclusively that eyesight and / or position has nothing to do with good play-calling in recognition of his deciding a World Series game (or a World Series) on a play where he interfered with 1) the baserunner; 2) the ptcher; 3) the ball — and called it all while both eyes were staring straight up at the sky as he fell. The award will be in Braille, and will include a new collar for his dog.

The next award will go to Henry Aaron, not for his 3,000 hit or his 600th home run, but for his 8,000 popups, his 17,000 foul tips, and his 2,109 dribblers along the first-base line. Frank Howard will be saluted for losing a ball in the lights in a day game. Art Shamsky will be saluted for the throws that took the most bounces on the way to the cut-off man. Earl Weaver will get the award as the "non-manager of the year" for the second consecutive year. Bob Short will be saluted for having put together an act that's funnier than Congress. The Montreal Expos get the award for the highest attendance for a minor-league team. Walter O'Malley gets a plaque for the longest tenure as commissioner of baseball since Arnold Rothstein, and the San Diego Padres get the St. Louis Browns' award for breaking the Browns' season record for playing before most empty seats.

A Football First

NEW YORK (UPI) — The first touchdown scored in National Football League title play was in 1933 by Red Badgro of the New York Giants against the Chicago Bears. Badgro caught a 29-yard pass for the score.

Kerr, Furlong Are Honored By Boosters

Larry Kerr of Terra Linda High School and Dan Furlong of Tomales High, Marin County's nominees for the 11th annual National Football Foundation Hall of Fame scholar-athlete scholarships, were honored yesterday by the Marin chapter of the San Francisco 49ers Boosters.

Kerr, a linebacker-quarterback who was the Marin County Athletic League player of the year, and Furlong, a two-way tackle named to the North Coast League's all-conference team for two straight years, were honored along with head coach Jim Kovalik of Tomales and assistant coach Dick Schultz of Terra Linda at the Boosters' weekly luncheon at Holiday Inn in Terra Linda.

Armed Man Shot During TV Fight

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A man, armed with a "small sword," was shot to death Monday night at the Spectrum where the Cassius Clay-Oscar Bonavena bout was telecast from New York City.

Captain Alex Sikora said the victim was shot to death by an off-duty police officer. The victim carried "a small sword about 12 inches long" and was shot as he tried to attack the off-duty officer, Sikora said.

The shooting occurred in a rear level concourse of the multi-million dollar South Philadelphia sports facility.

Falcons Dying, Report Says

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Peregrine falcons, who dive on their prey at 100 miles an hour, are becoming extinct because of pesticides, the State Fish and Game Department reports.

Dr. Steven G. Herman, Humboldt State College naturalist who prepared the report, said Monday that only 10 of the lightning-swift birds were counted in California during this year's nesting season.

Herman said the state survey found only two nests with eggs this summer, from which only four falcons were born.

"This means there are fewer than 10 pairs of falcons that laid eggs," he estimated.

Longhorns Win UPI Top Honor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Texas, its mighty offensive machine having ground down 10 opponents this season, is United Press International's national champion for 1970.

The high-scoring Longhorns were named first on 25 of the 33 ballots cast Monday by the 35-member UPI Board of Coaches. Texas finished with 321 points to easily outdistance runner-up Ohio State, second with 284.

UPI's national champion is selected on regular season performance only and does not include post-season participation.

Nebraska (10-0-1) finished third behind Ohio State, with Tennessee fourth and Notre Dame fifth. Louisiana State, Michigan, Arizona State, Auburn and Stanford completed the top 10.

SPORTS SHORTS

Alcindor Retains His Scoring Lead

Robertson, one of Alcindor's key feeders, has the fourth best assists record with an 8.3 average. This scoring duo propelled Milwaukee to a 20-3 record in the fastest getaway of the league this season.

Elvin Hayes of San Diego and Boston's John Havlicek are tied for second place in scoring with 29.4 averages.

Jerry West of Los Angeles, the defending scoring champion, heads the league in assists with a 10.2 average. The likeable Laker will soon become the fifth man in league history to reach the 20,000-point plateau. He now has 19,829 career points.

Golf

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lee Trevino has regained the lead in 1970 golf earnings with a total of $147,522 after tying for third in the Coral Springs Open last weekend, it was announced Monday by the PGA Tournament Players Division.

FISH AND GAME

Need For Increases In Licenses Explained

By AL GIDDINGS

This week, the Department of Fish and Game released a pamphlet called, "Will He Have All This Tomorrow?"

The pamphlet explains the need for $1 raises in the sport fishing licenses, the Pacific Ocean three day license, and the fishing stamps. Also proposed is a $2 raise in the hunting license, a $1 hike for the junior hunting license and a $1 increase in deer tags. All non-resident licenses would increase from 50 per cent to 150 per cent.

The increased fees are recommended in order to insure the people of California a continuing and growing fish and wildlife program, according to the article.

Fish and game conservation is 100 years old, but only the licensed hunters and fishermen pay the $18,000,000 for the services for the wildlife of the state except for the California share of the federal excise taxes on sporting arms and ammunition, and fishing tackle which amounts to $2,000,000. The $18,410,330 are all from license sales.

No general tax funds are used for the protection and management of fish and wildlife in California.

Revenues this year amounting to $20,000,000 total will not approach expenditures. Simply to carry on present programs and services of the Fish and Game Department requires an additional $2,000,000, including $500,000 to cover future inflation. Just to keep the budget balanced, and to keep the department in business, a retrenchment program would require a 10 per cent cut in the current annual $20,000,000 expenditure. The pamphlet goes on to explain why any of these cuts would be unserviceable. They would endanger various wildlife species and eliminate many services requested by the public. Therefore, the department realizes it must revise upward the revenue base, something that hasn't been done since 1958. Therefore the Department of Fish and Game recommends additional revenue totaling $5,000,000 annually for the following purposes:

1. To balance the budget . . . $1,500,000;
2. For future inflation . . . $500,000;
3. Facilities replacement . . . $500,000;
4. New and augmented services . . . $2,500,000.

The $5,000,000 would assist in: (1) Recommended new or augmenting services in law enforcement costing $550,000. Today 229 wardens patrol the states 1,100 miles of coastline, 4,000 lakes, 30,000 miles of streams and 158,000 square miles of land. An increase of 10 per cent in the warden force is necessary.

(2) Inland fisheries programs costing 750,000 include producing 1,000,000 additional trout. Doubling of the department's catchable-sized trout planting program by 1980 through enlargement of some existing hatcheries. Development of a striped bass hatchery and other warm water fish programs.

(3) Anadromous fisheries programs costing $200,000 include habitat improvement, ways and means of increasing production of fingerling salmon and steelhead yearlings. Improved angler access and a higher priority for continuance of the state's excellent shad fishery.

(4) Enviromental services up to $200,000 worth for water pollution and other degradations of the environment.

(5) $450,000 scheduled for Big Game and Upland Game for increasing hunting opportunities. Expansion in habitat improvement programs especially for deer, on other public lands.

(6) $200,000 for ocean sports fishing programs and $150,000 for conservation education.

This article concludes with, "This is a financially realistic program recommended by the department to guarantee that fish and game conservation will continue for generations now and future generations. It will cost $5,000,000, but divide it among California's millions of licensed hunters and fishermen and it comes out a real bargain — a few dollars apiece each year.

Gals, Juniors Bowl Tourney

Dan Harris rolled a 665 series and Bea Hoffman a 245 game and 650 series, both scores including handicap, to be among the winners of the Marin County Woman's 600 Club - Juniors challenge bowling tournament.

High doubles handicap winners in the tourney, held Sunday at Nave Lanes near Ignacio, were Jon Dorsey, and Pat Ness with a 445 score. Mrs. Ness rolled a 226-610.

High scratch game honors went to junior Kent Dlugokenski, 231, and Barbara Swisher, 211.

Ocean Racing Fans Should Keep Eyes On New Team

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press International

The newest owner-driver combination in the rugged sport of ocean racing is a team to keep an eye on.

It already has won the first race on the 1970-71 American Power Boat Association schedule and plans to campaign for further laurels in most of the remaining contests.

OWNER

The owner is Carl Kiekhaefer, who resigned as president of Kiekhaefer Mercury in 1969 and now heads a new company, Kiekhaefer Aeromarine Motors. The driver is Bob Magoon, 35-year-old Miami Beach eye surgeon who is this year's national offshore outboard champion and who also won the title in 1968.

Their sleek inboard boat, Aeromarine I, is a 36-footer powered by twin standard Mer-Cruiser 475 horsepower engines. Kiekhaefer purchased the craft recently from Don Aronow's Cigarette Racing Team Company.

With Magoon competing for the first time in an inboard in an offshore event, Aeromarine I raced to an impressive victory a few weeks ago in the 187-mile Hennessy Key West contest, completing the race in 3 hours, 17 minutes, with an average speed of 52.6 miles per hour, in 4-to-6-foot seas.

In second place and 5 miles and 8 minutes behind was Bill Wishnick, 45, a New York business executive who is this year's national offshore powerboat champion.

Magoon's victory marked a triumphant return to offshore racing for Kiekhaefer after a year's absence.

"Naturally, I'm delighted that we won the first race we entered, but the most satisfying sense of pride and accomplishment is in doing it with a seaworthy boat and standard production engines that anyone can buy on the market," Kiekhaefer said.

The Aeromarine racing team also includes two other Miamians, Gene Lanham, as mechanic, and Tom Otto, navigator.

Magoon took first place honors in the Key West event, but the results might have been different if two of his strongest competitors had not met with difficulty about halfway through the race.

Tommy Sopwith, the English racer, had to drop out when his boat caught fire, and Vincenzo Balestrieri of Italy lost his chances to win when he stopped to remove Sopwith and his two-man crew from the burning craft and take them to a checkpoint boat. Balestrieri resumed the race and finished fifth.

Sopwith, son of the British aircraft manufacturer, and Balestrieri entered the Key West race with Balestrieri holding a slim point margin over Sopwith for 1970 world championship honors. Sopwith's mishap virtually assured Balestrieri the title.

However, the Italian won't be crowned officially until the Union of International Motorboating rules on Sopwith's protest against his disqualification in the Miami-Nassau race Oct. 16, in which he finished first. Sopwith was disqualified on the grounds he used supercharged engines in violation of APBA rules. Balestrieri, who finished second, was declared the winner. A UIM ruling is not expected until next spring.

TO PREVENT INJURIES

Skiers Warned To Get In Shape Before Start

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — More than 90 per cent of all ski injuries are caused by poor physical condition, fatigue and overconfidence in skiing ability, warns the California Medical Association.

The first step in accident prevention is to get into sturdy physical condition and stay that way, says the association. Trot and jog each day and take part in other sports such as rowing and swimming well before the skiing season starts. During the season, maintain daily exercises, knee bends, waist bends and pushups.

A skier who is tired is more susceptible to injury because he tends to become careless and is more likely to lose control of his body's coordination.

Get enough sleep before a skiing trip, don't overdo it, and eat regular meals with food that has high energy content. Munch on raisins or chocolate during the day to help keep your body supplied with sufficient energy.

It is imperative that the beginner receive ski instruction from someone who is thoroughly qualified to teach. If he tries to learn alone, he may teach himself bad position and posture habits, and he may develop techniques which expose himself and others to danger.

A few other tips: Ski with proper equipment. Watch snow conditions; there may be midday softening of the snow and, as the sun sets, trail conditions may change rapidly. Never ski alone — if you get hurt, a ski buddy can get help. Every skier should have an elementary knowledge of first aid.

Sid Gillman Is Arrested

SAN DIEGO (UPI)—Sunday's 17-14 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals apparently was especially hard to take for San Diego Chargers General Manager Sid Gillman.

Police records reveal he was arrested Sunday night on a charge of drunken driving. He was released from county jail on his own recognizance pending arraignment Dec. 16.

Patrolman Bruce Kertson said he saw Gillman driving the wrong way on a one-way street and run a stoplight before he stopped him.

Mr. World Series

NEW YORK (UPI) — Yogi Berra, now a coach with the New York Mets, holds the record for playing in the most World Series, having appeared in 14 post season classics, all as a member of the New York Yankees.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Inmont's Prospects Should Be Improving

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Our shares of Inmont show about a 70 per cent loss since 1963 when we bought them for $34 a share. Would you recommend holding for recovery? — M. S.

A. Although your loss is sizable, a 50 per cent stock dividend in 1965 and a 1¾-for-1 split in 1969 adjust your per share cost downward to $13 and reduce your loss to 40 per cent. Through September 30, 1970, earnings dropped to 3 cents a share from $1.00 in the first 9 months of 1969.

Sales were off 7 per cent for the period. Full-year results are expected to be in the red. After reducing the quarterly dividend almost 50 per cent in April, directors voted in July to omit it altogether. Although sales reached record levels annually through 1969, earnings have been erratic.

Some pickup in demand is expected by mid-1971, if this prospect becomes a reality, profit margins could improve on higher volume, helping to counteract increased costs, and resulting in some earnings rebound. I favor holding for better selling price.

Q. I am a 75-year-old widow. About five years ago, I invested $10,000 in Security Investment Fund for retirement purposes. The fund is now lower; and I am going to retire next year. — C.R.

A. At the close of 1969, Security Investment was 62 per cent invested in bonds and preferred stocks, a factor which provides good balance in today's unsettled economic conditions. It was among the top 25 performers through October, 1970. While Security shares are somewhat depressed at present, retention is advised for further capital gains and eventual recovery.

Kaiser Stops Stock Dividend

OAKLAND (UPI) —Kaiser Steel Corp. directors suspended the firm's quarterly common stock dividend Monday, blaming higher costs, reduced sales and the uncertainties of a Canadian subsidiary.

Kaiser had paid 37 1-2 cents a quarter in dividends.

After a lapse of six years, the firm in January 1966 began paying 50 cents a year in dividends and that had been raised to $1.50 in 1969.

The suspension is to be reviewed during 1971, with a factor being current price negotiations with customers of Kaiser Resources, a coal mining subsidiary in British Columbia. Kaiser Steel owns 75 per cent of that firm.

San Diego Contract

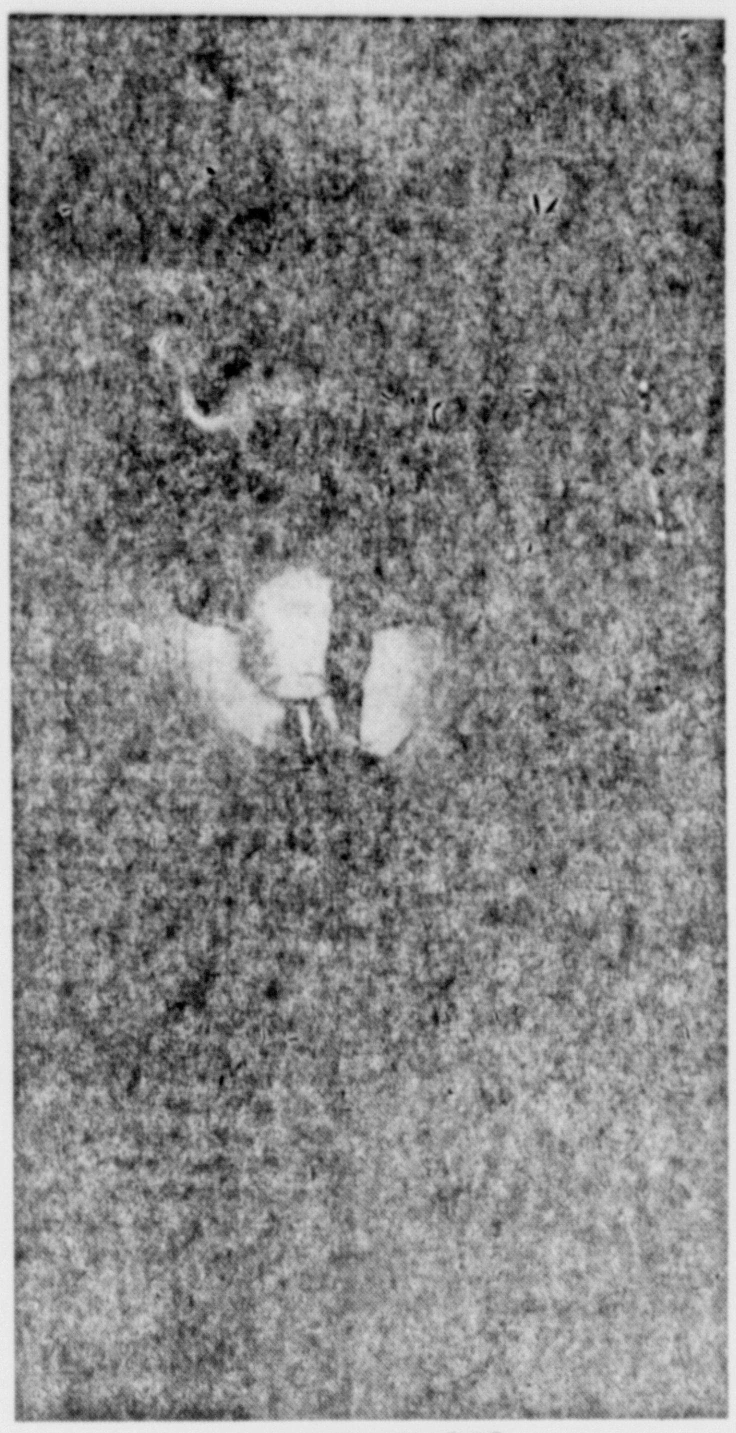
COSTA MESA, Calif. (UPI) — The Atlantic Research division of the Susquehanna Corp. has been awarded a $223,500 contract to build a firefighting harbor patrol boat for the San Diego Unified Port District. The boat will be delivered in the second half of next year.



LIGHT ECHOES

Profit Taking Stops Rise

The Dow Jones industrial average of 30 selected blue chips eased 2.12 to 816.54 while declines edged advances, 734 to 551, among the 1,614 issues on the tape.

The four-hour volume of 10,370,000 shares slowed from the 11,140,000 shares traded Monday in a comparable period.

Most major groups were mixed while aircrafts and motors were soft.

Woman Is Chief Of Big Auto Firm

LONDON (Toronto Telegram News Service) — Her smile is tight-lipped, resigned, hardly a smile at all, when anyone sneers at women drivers.

She considers the comparison between women and men drivers not even worth talking about, something reconciled to equality years ago.

And as chairman of the world's largest motoring organization, Denise McCann knows more than most about motoring and motorists.

A vital, vicacious and dedicated business woman, Miss McCann took the wheel of the British School of Motoring (BSM) in 1957 after the death of its founder and previous chairman, Stanley C. H. Roberts.

She joined the company six years earlier as interior decorator, assigned to repair several branches damaged during World War II.

She did so well that she was invited to join the permanent staff as assistant managing director.

Her company has taught over three million people to drive in the past 60 years.

Miss McCann confesses that she herself was a pupil — and paid for her course — years before she joined the company.

Since she joined BSM, she has trebled its size and made it the pacemaker in the profession.

She steered it with skill through a difficult period after the death of Roberts, through gas-rationing, and the temporary limit on driving tests.

This year, the company's diamond jubilee, BSM is making "a healthy profit" from its 160 branches scattered over the United Kingdom.

And the position of chairman and managing director is firmly in the grasp of Miss McCann.

Miss McCann's board of seven men meet her almost daily. They, and the headquarters' staff, always call her "chairman," never "Denise" or "Miss McCann."

"I don't insist that the directors and staff call me chairman — they do it out of respect for the position I hold," she said.

She enjoys her femininity, has no envy for men, and will (if necessary) exploit her femininity when trying to score an advantage in business.

Miss McCann is happy behind the wheel of "any little box with four wheels." However, she prefers a fast car for continental roads, "where you can pick up your skirts and run."

The fleet of cars she drives reads like the Who's Who of motoring — XJ6 Jaguar, Rolls-Royce, Ferrari, Jensen, Porsche

"The choice of car depends on the kind of journey I am taking. I prefer the Jaguar for town. All my cars are automatic.

"But don't think I can't drive a manual-gear car — we have a five-speed Ferrari on the high-performance course and I have a lot of fun with her."

Miss McCann is a founder of the Institute of Advanced Motorists and was responsible for launching the comprehensive range of specialized courses now included in BSM's diversified syllabus.

She sums up her success in the business world by saying: "The big difference is that a man just asks — a woman appeals."

Gas Plan Veto

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Power Commission has announced it is deferring action on the multimillion dollar pipeline proposed by Northern Natural Gas Co. to bring Canadian gas into Northern Plains states. The Canadian National Energy Board has turned the project down and FPC examiner has recommended its rejection.

Gordon's. It's how the Merrie Olde English keep their gin up!

Let down on the crackling dryness, the delicate flavour of Gordon's Gin? Especially during Christmas? Never! Every bottle is based on Mr. Gordon's original 1769 formula. So you pour a drink that's dry as Scrooge all holiday. A fanatic devotion to our discoverer? Perhaps. But anything less wouldn't be the holiday spirit!

$4.59 4/5 qt

Information

COPY ACCEPTANCE

The INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL reserves the right to edit, or withhold publication, and may exercise its discretion in acceptance or classification of any and all advertising.

DEADLINES

New ads, corrections, and cancellations must be made before 5:30 p.m. the day before publication, 1 p.m. Saturday for Monday and 24 hours before holidays. Suburban office deadline, 4:45 p.m. the day before publication.

ERRORS

We make every effort to avoid errors. But when hundreds of ads are handled daily, mistakes do slip through. We ask that you check your ad and call immediately if it is in error. We regret that we cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion or for errors not clearly affecting the value of the ad, and are responsible only for that line or portion of the ad that appeared incorrectly.

SELL WITH FAMILY THRIFT ADS

Individuals may advertise any item of merchandise up to a total value of $250. 3 lines, 4 days for a flat charge of $3. Price of each item advertised must be included.

Some Practical Tips In Buying
YOUR NEXT AUTOMOBILE

First, if you live - in Marin - you have an instant advantage. Marin dealers, with much lower overhead than "metropolitan" dealers, pass the savings on to you. And being local, they can service your car with far greater convenience. Saves the rat race, saves on sales tax, (to 1/2% lower in Marin) . . . Better deal all around!!!

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE ON APPLICATION FOR CHANGE OF NAME
No. 58613

Superior Court of the State of California for the County of Marin.

In the Matter of the Application of BOLESLAW JOSEPH BATOR and MARION LUCILLE BATOR. For Change Of Name.

WHEREAS, BOLESLAW JOSEPH BATOR and MARION LUCILLE BATOR have filed their petition with the Clerk of this Court for permission to change their names from BOLESLAW JOSEPH BATOR and MARION LUCILLE BATOR to BOLESLAW JOSEPH BATORY and MARION LUCILLE BATORY respectively and changing the names of their minor children from STEVEN WILLIAM BATOR, MATTHEW LYNN BATOR and KEITH DAVID BATOR to STEVEN WILLIAM BATORY, MATTHEW LYNN BATORY and KEITH DAVID BATORY respectively,

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that all persons interested in the matter aforesaid appear at Dept. No. 2 of the above entitled Court, Hall of Justice, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, on December 23, 1970 at 9:00 o'clock A.M. of said day, and then and there show cause, if any they have, why said application for change of name should not be granted.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that a copy of this Order to Show Cause be published in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation, published in San Rafael, Marin County, California, for four consecutive weeks.

DATED: Nov. 19, 1970.

Plan To Recycle Solid Wastes Is Given Support

A comprehensive plan to collect and recycle solid wastes was endorsed in principle last night by the Mill Valley City Council.

The proposal, advanced by Whole Systems, a San Francisco planning and design firm, calls for monthly collection service to subscribers in Mill Valley.

Neill Smith of Tiburon, representing Whole Systems, told the council that the service would cost each household $1 a month.

A cardboard divider would be issued which would fit into a standard garbage can, he said. The waste would be separated into newspapers, glass, cardboard, cans, rags and miscellaneous scrap metal.

The materials would be trucked to a staging area located on two acresat the Mill Valley corporation yard, which the city would lease to Whole Systems for a nominal sum, and then sent to salvage plants.

While all councilmen said they favored the concept, they questioned whether Mill Valley Refuse Service would be willing to give up part of its exclusive franchise to Whole Systems.

In the end, the council voted 4-0, Mayor George E. Wickham abstaining, to endorse the plan in principle providing details can be worked out with the refuse company.

Review Of Projects Is Urged

I-J Special Report

BERKELEY — Legislation to require state projects in the Bay Area to be reviewed by the Association of Bay Area Governments was urged last night by ABAG's regional planning committee.

Such projects now can proceed without any regional review, the committee objected. Its recommendation will go to the association's executive committee on Dec. 17.

The federal government recently set a policy of submitting its projects to regional review, and the state should have a parallel policy, the committee agreed.

In other business, the committee urged the Army Corps of Engineers to contract with ABAG for portions of the corps' study of water based commerce and commodity flow in the region. The $4.5 million study is to take four years.

The committee said that the environmental and "social well-being" parts of the study should be done by ABAG to avoid duplication of work ABAG already has done in this field.

Threatens Not To Pay City Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jeremy Ets-Hokin threatens not to pay most taxes on his 20 apartment houses in order to "prod the supervisors and the mayor into some action" on taxes.

Ets-Hokin, a resident of Ross and onetime San Francisco art commissioner, was especially outspoken at a news conference he called Monday about the War Memorial complex, which houses the city opera, symphony and an art gallery.

"We have been subsidizing the Atherton suburbanites for too long," he said.

In an hour-long talk, he urged 100 per cent or 200 per cent surcharges on tickets for the opera, symphony, "dirty movies and topless houses" as well as a 100 per cent tax during commute hours of tolls on the two bridges into San Francisco and commute hour toll gates on highways.

To balance the city budget, he suggested, among other things, modernizing the Port of San Francisco, eliminating the city Redevelopment Agency, building more high-rise developments, and enacting a city income tax to support schools.

Cable cars now charge 25 cents a ride and Ets-Hokin asserts that "almost all the passengers are rubbernecks anyway and they'll pay."

Ets-Hokin declared he would pay his federal and state taxes and that his real estate company would meet all its tax bills.

But he said he would pay only $2 of the $12.82 per $100 assessed value tax on his personally-owned buildings. He estimates the apartment structures are worth $500,000.

The money he does pay, he said, would be earmarked for police and fire protection.

A spokesman at the city tax office said Ets-Hokin would be penalized 6 per cent interest on what he does not pay, to start.

Ets-Hokin is suing the city for enforcement of Proposition K which as approved by city voters two years ago would have limited city levies to $4 per $100 assessed valuation. The city attorney said the proposition was illegal.

Single-Car Crash Fatal

An 18-year-old Petaluma girl was fatally injured in an accident at 7:46 a.m. today on Highway 101, just north of the Marin County line.

Diane Heagy, 1609 Sarkesian Drive, was treated at Hillcrest Hospital for head and chest injuries and died two hours after admittance.

The California Highway Patrol had no details on the accident, but said it involved only her southbound car.

Funeral arrangements were pending at Parent Funeral Chapel.

Hardy Lot Ride Marin Ferries, Brave Weather

Despite the long spell of bad weather, district officials reported today, some 300 to 350 commuters still flock aboard during the three morniing commute runs to San Francisco. And about 500 still are counted through the gate during the late afternoon commute runs back to Sausalito.

Midday ridership, however, has been down by 20 to 25 per cent, reported transit manager Donald White. The later afternoon totals are higher than in the morning because they include returning shoppers.

Total daily weekday patronage during the wet weather has averaged about 1,000, compared to about 1,300 when the weather was better.

Meeting Will Be Open to Public

A meeting of the Tiburon Boulevard and Shoreline Study Committee tomorrow at Tiburon City Hall will not be closed to the public, as reported last week by chairman Alvin R. Khun.

Acting City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert said the public is welcome to the 8 p.m. meeting but discussion will be limited to committee members.

Rock Trio Pleads To Marijuana

I-J Special Report

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO — Two Marin members of the Quicksilver Messenger Service and a third member of the rock group pleaded innocent yesterday to narcotics law violations in municipal court here.

The three rock musicians, David A. Freiburg, 32, of 7 Farvue Street, Novato, George A. Bonney, 24, of 1492 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera, and Jose G. Reyes, 25, of San Francisco were ordered to reappear in court Jan. 12 for preliminary hearing.

Each is charged with possession and transportation of marijuana and possession and transportation of dangerous drugs.

The rock musicians were arrested Nov. 15 at San Francisco International Airport as they prepared to board an Hawaii-bound jet.

A metal detector picked up bullets in Bonney's pocket alerting a marshal to search him. Bonney then fled sprinkling the contents of a plastic bag, marshals said.

After he was caught, the luggage of all three was searched and suspected drugs were found, according to marshals.

Tool Box Stolen

Fred W. Newman, 1200 D Street, Apt. 9, Petaluma, told police yesterday that a tool box valued at $400 had been stolen from his truck over the weekend.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Eat Less After Age 25 To Avoid Progressive Gain In Excess Fat

Van Dellen

Many overweight persons are not obese. The added poundage stems from a large frame and heavy musculature, not from fat. Their health picture is brighter than that of blubbery individuals.

The bony frame remains constant after maturity. Muscle bulk reaches its maximum size, as a rule, by age 25. Weight gained after that time is traced to deposits of fat. The only way to prevent a progressive accumulation of extra padding is to eat less after age 25.

THIS MAY explain why many physicians use the weight at age 25 as the best target for weight reduction in a middle-aged man and age 21 for a middle-aged woman. It may be a better guide for ideal weight than are insurance tables.

Fifty per cent of all body fat is deposited beneath the skin. A rough estimate of the amount can be obtained by picking up a fold of skin between the thumb and index finger. Physicians prefer the back of the arm between the shoulder and the elbow where the fold should not exceed ¾ inch in men and 1 inch in women. A caliper can also be used. For self-analysis the abdomen below the navel is a more practical area. A skinfold of more than 1 inch in men and 1½ inches in women is a sign of being fat.

FAT DISTRIBUTION varies in different individuals and at different ages. Small children, for example, have more on the arms than on the abdomen. Adults show the opposite picture. Women have more fat layers on the calf of the leg but the layers are so tightly adherent they cannot be used for testing.

Some adults accumulate visible excess fat in the upper half of the body (android obesity) making them look like John Bull. The lower half enlarges in other persons (gynecoid obesity).

ENLARGED LYMPH GLANDS

A reader writes: What disease causes the lymph glands to enlarge?

REPLY

Lymph glands are the body's first line of defense against the spread of infections and cancer. The person with a sore throat may develop swollen glands in the neck. An infected toe may be followed by tenderness and swelling of the glands in the groin. Swelling of the entire lymph gland system may occur in Hodgkin's disease or leukemia. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on lymphadenitis.

WASHING THE HAIR

G.T. writes: I am 12 years old with hair a little below my shoulders. How many times a week should I wash it? P.S. Please reply soon; this is very important.

REPLY

Wash it whenever it is dirty. The condition of the scalp also plays a role, in that extremely oily hair may need to be shampooed twice a week. Conversely, if the scalp is dry, shampooing once a week should do it. I can't understand why a boy wants the trials and care that go with long hair.

PAIN IN THE ARMS

A.P.T. writes: Can pain in the arms (not in the chest) be due to heart trouble?

REPLY

Yes, especially when the pain comes with exertion or excitement and is relieved by rest or calm. But a disturbance in the vertebrae of the neck is a more likely cause. Pressure on the nerves from muscles, blood vessels and tumors must also be considered. X-rays of the neck and spine will answer your question.

Today's Health Hint — The skier who makes a "Sitzmark" (hole in the snow) should fill it so the next person will not fall.

Vandals Hit Again, Breaking Windows

Another San Francisco store, with a Marin County branch that advertises in the Independent-Journal, has been vandalized, a store official said today.

Ray Lewsader, manager of Lachman Brothers furniture store in San Francisco, said three plate glass windows were smashed between 10 and 11:30 p.m. last Saturday.

The Saturday before, Nov. 28, he said, he received a telephoned warning that unless the firm stopped advertising in the I-J, windows would be smashed.

That Saturday, Lewsader said, two plate glass windows were broken and a Christmas ornament stinkbomb was thrown into the company's carpet warehouse.

Lachman's San Rafael store is an I-J advertiser.

The San Francisco branch of a Kentfield food market which advertises in the newspaper was similarly vandalized last week.

The destruction at Lachman's was the most recently reported case of violence in a long series of attacks by vandals since San Francisco Typographical Union 21 struck the Independent-Journal Jan. 7.

Gnoss Field Approved For Bad Weather Flights

Marin County's airportat Gnoss Field has been approved for instrument approach and takeoff by the Federal Aviation Agency, airport manager Francis E. Torr reported last night to the Marin Aviation Commission.

Torr said this means that pilots will be able to take off and land in bad weather through the use of facilities in Napa County Airport and radar at Hamilton Air Force Base. There will be no added cost to the county and no additional manpower needed.

Torr also reported that rentals for airplane tie-downs at Gnoss Field should be raised to meet costs.

On a motion by William Schwarzer, the commissioners recommended to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that tie-down fees be raised from the present $15 per plane per month to $20 per month.

Marin Aviation Commissioners also:

THIRD OPERATOR — Decided that facilities and economic conditions will not allow a third fixed base operator at Gnoss Field. Robert Chestnut of Novato wanted to join Marin Aviation Co. and Spectrum Air as the third fixed base operator.

IMPROVEMENTS — Heard from Gerald Bonner, spokesman for the Aviation Improvement Committee of Marin, that the committee has set up several goals, including resurfacing of the main runway, adding a cross runway, and to make Marin supervisors aware of the importance of the airport to the growth of Marin.

NEXT MEETING — Set the next meeting for 8 p.m. Jan. 11 in the Marin Aviation Co. building at Gnoss Field.

Proposed Diabetes Group Sets Session

An organizational meeting of a proposed diabetes association for Marin County will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the College of Marin's Olney Hall.

Coordinated by Sandra Clazunov of 108 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, the meeting will include a speech on "What's Happening in Diabetes Research" by Dr. Seymour Levin of San Rafael.

Collegian To Appear On Charges

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Morgan Gilbert Doyle, 19, of 42 Southwood Avenue, Ross, was released yesterday on $3,000 bail and ordered to appear in San Francisco Municipal Court today on charges arising from last Tuesday's antiwar protest on Nob Hill.

The six-foot-two-inch student at the University of California in Berkeley, has been charged with attacking San Francisco Patrolman William Navin and Lt. Donald Taylor, and with robbery in the taking of Navin's helmet.

Doyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Doyle, was arrested Saturday in his Ross home, on the basis of identification from news photos made while officer Navin was under attack by five young hoodlums during the visit of Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam.

Shots Fired In Area Of Prison

Two series of shots were fired last night in the area of the unmanned west gate of San Quentin Prison, sheriff's deputies said today.

A San Quentin officer said the shots fired at 10:10 p.m. and again at 10:25 p.m., apparently came from a high caliber weapon.

A car followed by sheriff's officers was stopped but the occupants released after no weapons were found.

There was no damage from the shots, fired each time in a series of six to eight blasts.

Louise Thoresen Named Executrix

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI) — Louise B. Thoresen has been named executrix of the estate of her husband William E. Thoresen III, whom she killed June 10 in the bedroom of their home.

Fresno County Administrator John Cartwright had handled his estate while Mrs. Thoresen faced murder charges in the death of her eccentric, gun-collecting husband.

Arrested On Three Counts

A 36-year-old Berkeley man was arrested yesterday on suspicion of carrying a concealed weapon, a loaded fire arm in a vehicle and being drunk in or about a car.

Terry Lee Chandler was released on his own recognizance to appear Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

Chandler was arrested at 3 a.m. at Locke Brothers at 911 Francisco Boulevard when he had the loaded gun in his pocket, police reported. He told police his car was in an accident and that he did not want to leave the gun in the car.

Details of the accident involving Locke's car were not available.

Forecast Bleak On Finance

A bleak financial forecast of soaring municipal expenditures and static income which may put Corte Madera more than $300,000 in the red by 1975 was outlined last night for the town council.

Frank Bigley, director of finance, told the council his predictions — excluding an $11,579 deficit for this year — were based on expected loss of retail business in the community and estimated increases in salaries and material costs.

The $11,579 deficit for this year he blamed on "short falls" in interest rates and minor collections.

Deficits predicted through fiscal 1974-75 are: $71,143 in 1971-72; $143,940 in 1972-73; $223,266 in 1973-74, and $310,013 in 1974-75.

Bigley said the figures included an average employee pay hike of 7.5 per cent per year and a 10 per cent annual increase in the price of supplies and materials.

Further, Bigley said, his five-year budget forecast limited capital outlays to replacement of four-and-one-half autos per year at a cost of $18,250 and miscellaneous office equipment at $3,000 per year. Deleted from the projected budgets was any consideration of completing the town park (at a cost of $100,000) or construction of another park in East Corte Madera (at a cost of between $200,000 and $300,000).

Bigley told the council the only foreseeable increase in income is a 2 per cent average annual increase in property taxes based on increased assessed valuation.

Means of combating the deficit are limited to two means — increasing the property tax or expanded business growth, Bigley said.

A maximum of $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation may be levied against property taxpayers for general fund revenue. The town currently collects about 26 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the general fund leaving the most the government could acquire through property taxes at about $257,000. (Each cent of the property tax rates yields about $2,600 in revenue.)

The finance director said the picture could get darker once Sears Roebuck and Co., locates an outlet at the Northgate Shopping Center in San Rafael and Macy's locates at the proposed Greenbrae shopping center.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst, claiming the condition of the center is already nearing the point of driving customers away, predicted no change in physical appearance until the center's "monopoly" on business ends.

Colthurst said later Corte Madera, like many other communities, will have to expand its business base if it is to avoid a deficit.

The council discussed briefly, but dismissed the possibility of state legislation proposed by the League of California Cities to provide communities with additional sales and income taxes.

A Wedding Gift

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Actress Arlene Dahl, 42, and television executive Rounsevelle Schaum, 42, became parents of a boy on their first wedding anniversary Monday.

Switchboards Of Marin, Musicians Out Of Business

Both Switchboard of Marin and the Marin Musicians Switchboard were out of business today — at least temporarily.

Telephone calls to either facility were referred to a San Francisco number that turned out to be the San Francisco Musicians Switchboard.

There, the persons answering were unable to report how to call David Hutchinson, operator of the Marin Musicians Switchboard, and they had no idea what had happened to the Switchboard of Marin.

The two switchboards temporarily merged operations last month, after a fire damaged the quarters of the Switchboard of Marin. But Hutchinson warned at the time that unless financial help became available, the musicians switchboard, too, would lose its quarters Dec. 1.

Jury Trial Set For Pair In Yacht Case

Daniel Patrick Smith, 22, and Kelly Sanford Walter, 21, both of Marin City, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of burglarizing a locker in the Sausalito Yacht Harbor in September.

A jury trial was set for the week of March 8.

Novatan Fined $250 For Grass

Al Joaquin Miranda, 22, of Novato, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge of possessing marijuana Dec. 22, 1969, when arrested for a traffic violation.

Judge E. Warren McGuire declared the offense to be a misdemeanor and fined Miranda $250.

Bid For San Clemente Creek Mud Dike Accepted

The Corte Madera Town Council last night accepted the $16,000 bid from Willamette-Western Corp., to construct a mud dike along San Clemente Creek at Marina Village.

The bid was one of six received with a high ranging to $28,100, and was accepted as part of the town continuing flood control program.

In accepting the bid, the council also accepted a $3,400 rate for dredging a backflow channel of the creek which borders 21 Golden Hind Passage loop homes. The homeowners have agreed to pay for the dredging to rid the inlet of tangled swampland growth.

Willamette-Western also set a $75 per hour rate to dredge the main creek channel for residents of Mariner's Cove. Arthur N. Morrison, town engineer, said last night he estimates it will take the company about three hours per home to dredge the foliage.

Some homeowners, like those along Golden Hind, have agreed to pay the cost of dredging the channel by placing $200 deposits with the town.

The Corte Madera Town Council also:

MANAGER — Approved hiring Ronald E. Bartels as town manager at a salary of $20,000 per year. He will also receive $100 per month car allowance and a $1,000 moving allowance to relocate in Marin.

REAPPOINTMENT — Approved unanimously reappointment of Albert E. Kogler to the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

HOME OCCUPATION — Approved a home occupation permit for Mrs. R.W. Cowart of 325 Montecito Drive to operate a wig cleaning and setting business.

SANTA CLAUS — Received a report from the town's fire department that Santa Claus will arrive in Corte Madera Dec. 19 aboard the department's new high pressure truck.

BID REJECTION — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, rejected bids for construction of a sewer system along Lucky Road and directed the district engineer to redesign the project.

EASEMENT — Acting as directors of the Corte Madera Sanitary District, held over until Dec. 21 consideration of a request for road easement on district property on Paradise Drive. The request was from Kenco Development Co., of Sausalito.

Fireman Falls Down Shaft

NEW YORK (UPI)—An New York city fireman, fighting a fire at a West Side apartment building, plunged 11 stories to his death Monday when he stepped into an open elevator shaft. A tenant was charged with arson and murder.

The dead fireman was identified as Timothy J. Gray, 26. Another fireman was treated for smoke inhalation. More than 100 residents of the building were evacuated.

Police charged Armondo Hernandez, 37, with arson and Homicide. They charged he set fire to mattresses in his apartment then ran into the hallway shouting, "Fire!"

Fire officials said Gray had been on the roof of the building when he stepped into the elevator shaft. They quoted one witness as saying Gray walked into the shaft "as if there were an elevator waiting for him."

Another Holiday Certificate Idea

Solve all the "problems" on your Christmas list, by presenting each member of the family with a gift certificate for a portrait sitting at your local professional photographer's studio. (Mom included, of course.)

Dad and the children will be proud to have portraits of themselves, but as an added plus you also can create a family portrait gallery by borrowing a simple modern arrangement from art museums. Attach parallel strips of molding to the wall. Have your professional photographer mount the Christmas gift portraits on matboard sized to fit between the two strips. Then slide the finished portraits into the long "frame," rearranging and adding portraits as your initial collection grows. Why not make new portraits a Christmas tradition each year?

Bank Credit Card

And don't forget, a gift that the budget-expanding Santa can give himself might be a bank credit card. Virtually every bank is a member of an inter-bank credit system, and many many business firms honor these cards.

FOR A MONTH OF SUN DAYS

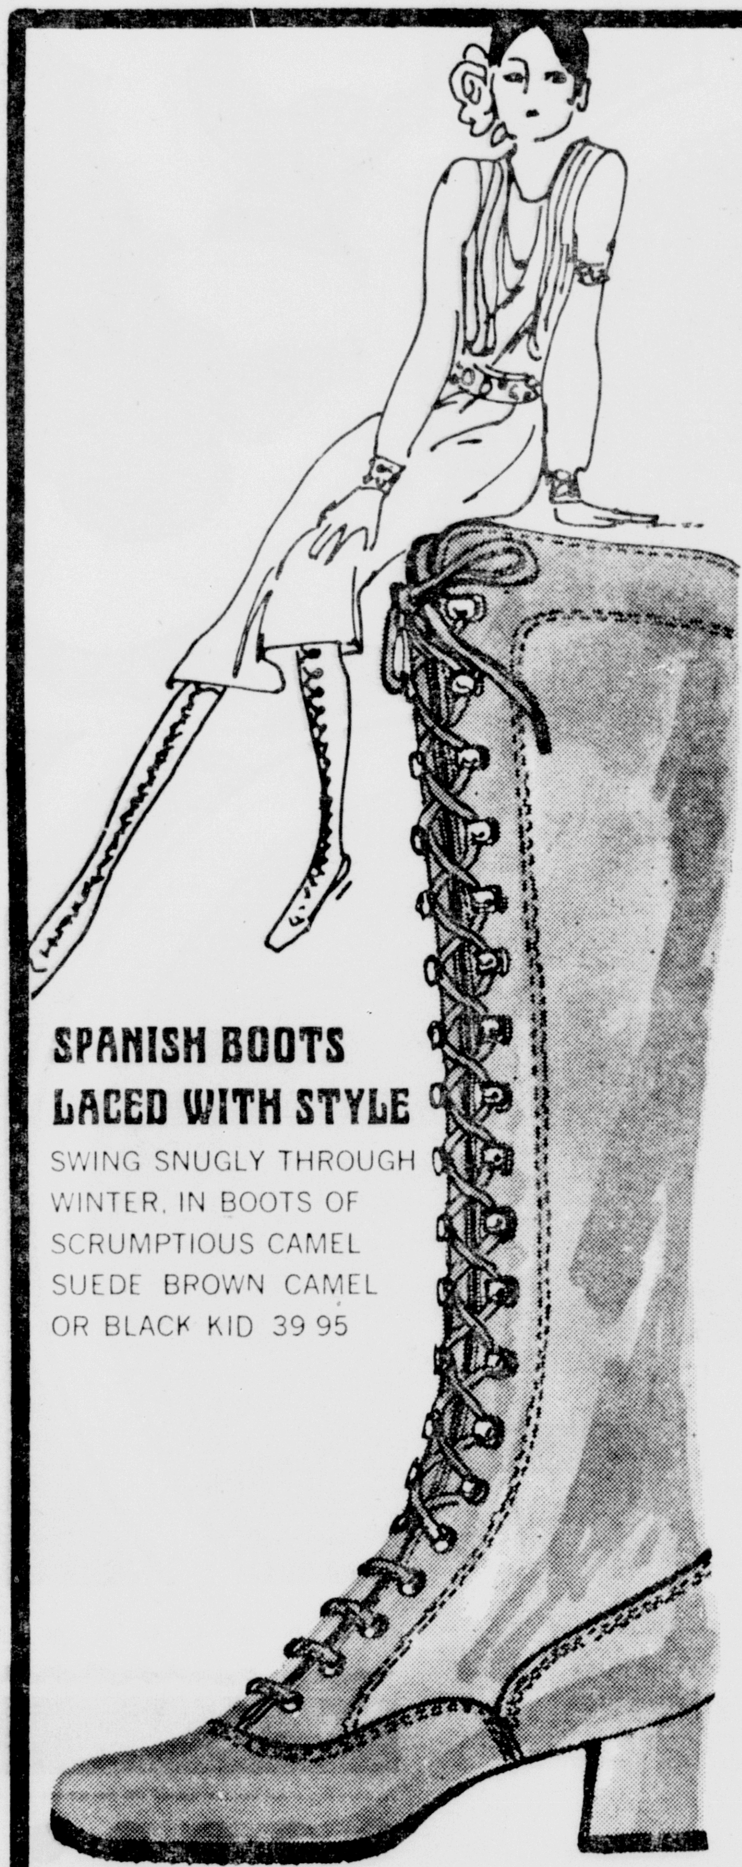
If there's a sun vacation ahead for the Number One man on your Christmas list, why not give him the jacket to make the most of it. Here's a likely candidate from Hart, Schaffner & Marx, whose local dealer is Hastings, On The Mall - Northgate. Its natural shoulder lines reflect the new wide lapel influence with a traced waist, wide pocket flaps and deep center vent for good measure. The chalk chevron fabric is available in a variety of shades.



Christmas hours: mon. to fri., 9:30 to 9:30, sat 9:30 to 5:30, sun. 12 to 5

Be Smart Santa, Shop Before Rush

All tied up for the holidays? Great! There's no need to become tied down with last minute details, particularly in the fashion and beauty department.

Smart Santas begin early to get ready for the Christmas rush. There's still time to enroll in a needlework class and make special gifts for some of your closest friends. Or to take that cooking course you've been putting off and make your own fruitcake this year.

Heed these suggestions from experts at the Lilt Beauty Service:

If your children are old enough to participate, why not plan an old-fashioned Christmas trees? The rule is, though, only homemade decorations allowed. Bake and decorate cookie ornaments to hang on the tree. Make balls from bits of crinkly, aluminum foil. Cut pretty pictures from magazines or last year's Christmas cards to add color. And, don't forget the old stand-bys like popcorn ropes, chains of colored paper, and candy canes.

You, of course, don't want to overlook yourself while planning holiday gaiety for your family. Best bets here are to start early, and plan beauty short cuts that allow you to breeze through the holidays.

Hair, always an important part of any "look", is even more so during the holidays. You'll want to look special, without spending hours in the beauty parlor or sleepless nights trying not to muss a fussy coif.

And you can have flair without fuss if you give yourself a home wave before the holidays. There's a Lilt Home Wave designed for every type of hair, to achieve every type of style. Choose super, regular, or gentle Lilt for hard-to-wave, normal or easy-to-wave hair. With all Lilt Style Kits, you can use the Soft Wave Method that gives the soft, loose curls necessary for today's feminine styles and waves.

Or, if you just want control in hard-to-manage areas, such as tendrils, guiches, bangs, or ends, choose the push button type. This dispenses the waving agent as a soft, aerosol foam with no messy dripping — just the thing for "here and there" curls where ever you want them.

SUEDE AND LACED!

Space No Problem For These Machines

Wives are sometimes hard to surprise at Christmas, so it isn't always easy to dream up even one different gift idea.

But, here's a pair of ideas if your wife hasn't had her own laundry appliances because installation or space is a problem.

The Porta-Washer and Porta-Dryer fit anywhere. Each appliance measures only 24 inches wide by 15 inches deep by about 30 inches high.

Both units operate on 115-volt household current and don't require special installation. The spinner type washer hooks up to any sink for doing the laundry and no special venting is required for the dryer.

Though small in size, each appliance handles about half a standard size washer load, making the pair ideal for small families, newly marrieds, retired couples or single persons.

An accessory stack rack, which holds the dryer just high enough above the floor so that the washer can be rolled in under it, converts a narrow space into a handy laundry nook. All that is needed is an adequately wired 115-volt outlet for the dryer, but the closer the nook to the kitchen or bathroom sink, the more convenient it would be for the user.

Other storage possibilities for Maytag's Porta-Pair include hanging the dryer on a wall or parking it on a shelf or counter over the washer. Or, the dryer may be fitted with caeters and both units rolled into a closet when not in use.

If the family moves to a new location, the appliances transport easily and the versatile storage possibilities of the compact laundry pair enable them to adapt easily to new surroundings. As with all Maytag appliances, they are covered by warranties that move with the appliances. In the case of the Porta-Pair, the warranties assure one-year free labor and two-year parts replacement.

New Game Is Out For Entire Family

Have you ever bought a family game for the holidays — and then been bored stiff playing it yourself? Families enjoy togetherness, especially during the holidays, but find it hard to decide on an activity which will please and involve children and adults as well as family guests. There's a new kind of game that will get Junior away from the TV, Grandmother from her needlepoint and Dad from his reading to enjoy a family evening of fun.

It's called Connquiz, and it's both a game and an entertaining way to learn the sounds of 75 musical instruments and music forms. The game is played much like bingo, using as clues musical sounds on the record that comes with the game, rather than numbers. Connquiz consists of 40 different game cards, the record, markers, and the game leader's set of clue sheets. The colorful game cards have the letters MUSIC across the top, heading five vertical rows of squares. Each square contains a drawing of an instrument and its name, or an illustration of a music form such as rock and roll, cha cha, the waltz, a march or opera.

Each clue is identified to make the game easy to play. For example, the announcer on the record will say, "Under M, an instrument," and the players may hear a tuba, tenor sax, or violin. If it is a music form, this will be announced and they may hear excerpts from a rhumba, square dance, or ballet.

Each player listens to the clue, and if the answer appears on his card, he covers the appropriate square with a Connquiz marker. The first player who successfully covers a line of five squares vertically, horizontally, or diagonally, calls "Connquiz." He then reads off the squares he has covered while the game leader checks the clue sheet. If he has identified all the instruments correctly, he wins.

To avoid confusion, instruments which sound very much alike, such as the trumpet and cornet, never appear in the same column on the game cards.

You'll be surprised at how many instruments you can recognize — and just how the different instruments do sound when you really listen. Parents will be delighted at the number of sounds they and their children will learn, and at their increased appreciation of music.

Create Massive Candlesticks For Holidays

When you plan the menu for a holiday gathering, take time to plan an original centerpiece and set the mood for a memorable occasion. The Directoire Candlesticks, suggested by the Norcross Design Studio, are created from gift wrap foil and cardboard ribbon spools. A subtle interplay of textured and polished foil is accented with bands and circles of gold Lustre-Cord.

It is easy to make as many candlesticks as needed to achieve the desired effect. Try a group of three or four, of varying heights, on a bed of evergreen for a massed effect on a buffet Or use them singly on individual tables for four

Norcross offers instructions for making the candlesticks in a booklet titled "Decorate with Gift Wraps" Included in the booklet are over twenty-five decorations and gift ideas for Christmas and all year To get a copy, send 50 cents to "Decorate with Gift Wraps," 14 Main Street, Park Ridge, Ill 60068

Give Framed Art For Unusual Gift

Stumped for Christmas gift ideas? (Aren't we all?) Searching for something different — yet with a true holiday feeling?

Take a tip from the Picture and Frame Institute. Framed art, perhaps with a religious motif makes a superb Christmas gift and is a welcome change from the usual "books-and-records" syndrome for that hard-to-please individual.

Religious art comes in a wide range of subjects and styles, one of which is certain to please just about everybody on your shopping agenda. A person with a traditional outlook should be delighted with, say, a simply-framed print of Leonardo DaVinci's "The Last Supper." Or what about an elaborately framed reproduction of Leonardo's 'Virgin?'"

But it's unnecessary to stick with the old master' religious painting, if you want Christmasy art for more modern tastes. Many modern designs have a subtle religious message, such as the elegant Picasso lithograph, "The Dove" flying gracefully with the olive branch of peace in his beak. What could more appropriately symbolize the peace on earth and goodwill toward men we all pray for during this holiday season?

Abstracts, too, can have a religious theme: the striking triangel print is a lovely symbol of the Trinity.

Once you have chosen a picture, make sure you take all the work out of it before it's bedecked with bright wrappings and bows. The print, lithograph or original painting should be framed, and matted under glass too, if appropriate. Investigate the new non-glare glass — it can add a note of elegance to even the most economical reproduction.

The Picture and Frame Institute also suggests the frame blends with the artwork. A small traditional painting is probably most effective with an ornate frame, while a more modern work is shown off to best advantage against sleek aluminum. But be wary of generalizations. Your own good taste should decide what frame is best for the print you have chosen.

When we think of pictures, we automatically think walls. But consider a tiny painting in a heavily carved frame, wrapped up with its own mini display easel. A favorite aunt with a passion for antiques should love a wee painting to display on its own miniature easel.

The trick is simply . . . buying creativity. Almost all department stores have a framed art department. Browse for awhile, shopping list in hand. You're sure to find the gift for everyone, aged 8 to 80.

Turn Play Clay Into Fun Gifts

Do you sit wondering what on earth to give some of those "have everything" people on your Christmas gift list . . . trying to balance your savings against your forthcoming spendings? Well, have you ever given your talents a fair try? If not, this is the year to begin, for self expression's the thing. You might take the plunge with an amusing one-of-a-kind chess set guaranteed to warm the cockles of a father's heart, a grandfather's or favorite uncle's. It's a snap to stir up a game with play clay and the financial investment is tiny. You'll need baking soda, corn starch, straight pins, white glue, poster paint and brush and clear nail polish. And here's the recipe for the play clay:

2 cups baking soda (1-pound package)
1 cup corn starch
1 1&4 cups cold water

In a saucepan, thoroughly combine baking soda and corn starch. Add water, mixing until smooth. Bring to boil over medium heat stirring constantly. Cook a minute longer or until mixture resembles mashed potatoes (overcooking makes clay crumbly). Remove from heat immediately, transfer to plate and cover with a damp cloth until cool enough to handle. Knead a little and store all but what you're about to use in closed plastic bag so it won't dry out.

Now, move over, Michelan-

Poet Immortalizes Santa's White Mane

Christmas without Santa Claus? Never. Santa without his flowing white beard? Ridiculous.

Well, don't tell the kids but Saint Nick hasn't always had all those whiskers. There's a statue of St. Nicholas in Bari, Italy, showing him with a neat, pointed Vandyke.

St. Nick's great white mane was a German and Dutch addition to the original legend which dates back to 300 A.D. It was immortalized by the American poet Clement Moore in his classic "'Twas the Night Before Christmas" in 1822.

Beards have always been a mark of very special importance and legendary figures such as King Arthur are almost always shown with beards in paintings even though no one knows for sure that they even existed.

Santa's beard may be the most beloved beard of all time but it doesn't hold the record for length. That distinction may belong to George Killingworth who was Queen Elizabeth's agent in the Court of Ivan the Terrible of Russia. Killingworth's beard was five feet long. The story has it that Ivan, who also wore a beard, would stroke the Englishman's whiskers while they talked.

Not all Russian rulers liked beards. Clean-shaven Peter the Great went so far as to levy a tax on beards. There is no record of a taxpayers' revolt. But there was one in France in 1907 when waiters walked off their jobs to protest a rule prohibiting moustaches.

The care and removal of facial hair has become a big business complete with high powered research programs. Remington, for example, had a team of metallurgists develop the special steels which are used in the extra sharp cutters in their new Lektro Blade shaver line, and many makers of false moustaches, sideburns and beards consult with doctors in an effort to avoid allergy aggravating whiskers. Recently, luxury barber shops which charge as much as $20 for a shave and haircut have come into vogue. There have even been actors who have insured their beards.

Beards have had their ups and downs throughout the years and from country to country. For example, most European monarchs wore beards until the end of the last century. But in 1909 only one, Leopold of Belgium, had a full set of whiskers. In England, beards have gone in and out of style several times.

No one seems quite sure why beards have become so popular among today's young men. A psychologist recently attempted an explanation by noting that beards have always been associated with wisdom. Young men, he said, are trying to tell us that they really are very wise despite their youth.

If beards are a sign of wisdom, the merry gentleman who is due down our chimneys the night before Christmas must have all the answers.

Why Not Socks For Day's Yule Stocking?

Christmas is traditionally the season for socks, stockings, and stuffings, with everyone from Baby to Grandpa hanging his own personalized hosiery by the chimney with care.

And this Christmas, the season's soxiest gift-giving suggestion is "Sock it to Dad in His Stocking." Socks, particularly over-the-calf styles, are the up and coming trend in stocking stuffers for Dad, Son, Boyfriend or Boss.

Over-the-calfs reveal a lot about the man who wears them — and the woman who buys them. Over 75 per cent of all men's hosiery is purchased by women who like the longer leg-fitting styles that make her man look fashionable and successful. According to a recent "Soxology" survey conducted by the Institute for Motivational Research, women enjoy taking care of their man's socks for it is reportedly a way of paying homage to his fasculinity.

Among the things she's most concerned about is helping her man cover "calf gap" — that hairy patch of shin that bristles forth when a man crosses his legs. Over-the-calf socks provide greater comfort, don't bag a the ankles, and remain "at attention" throughout the most hectic day. Calf gap suggests a lack of continuity and follow through, but the man with shins covered presents a dignified and well organized appearance.

Today's choice of these socks is almost as colorful as those stockings traditionally hung by the fireplace. Famous designers such as Bill Blass, John Weitz, Schiaparelli, and Christian Dior are offering the fashionable male a wide range of colors, patterns, and textures. The socks come in argyles and diamonds, herringbone and houndstooth, stripes and plaids, checks and window panes — and more.

Colors are bursting forth in such thought-provoking shades as plum, rum, whiskey, wine, mint, melon, persimmon, pumpkin and raspberry.

Today's sox-cessful man has an average of 12 to 18 over-the-calfs in his drawer. How's your man's quota? Start off his New Year on sound footing with a stocking stuffed with a wardrobe of these. Remember, Christmas 'tis the season to be soxy!

A DECORATOR ITEM

While it has been called a decorator item, this type of Chippendale bench is an ideal addition to any living room, especially during the Christmas company season. It is being offered in various colors at the Elegant Room Interiors at the Northgate Fashion Mall.

Celebrate The Season With Tasteful Gifts

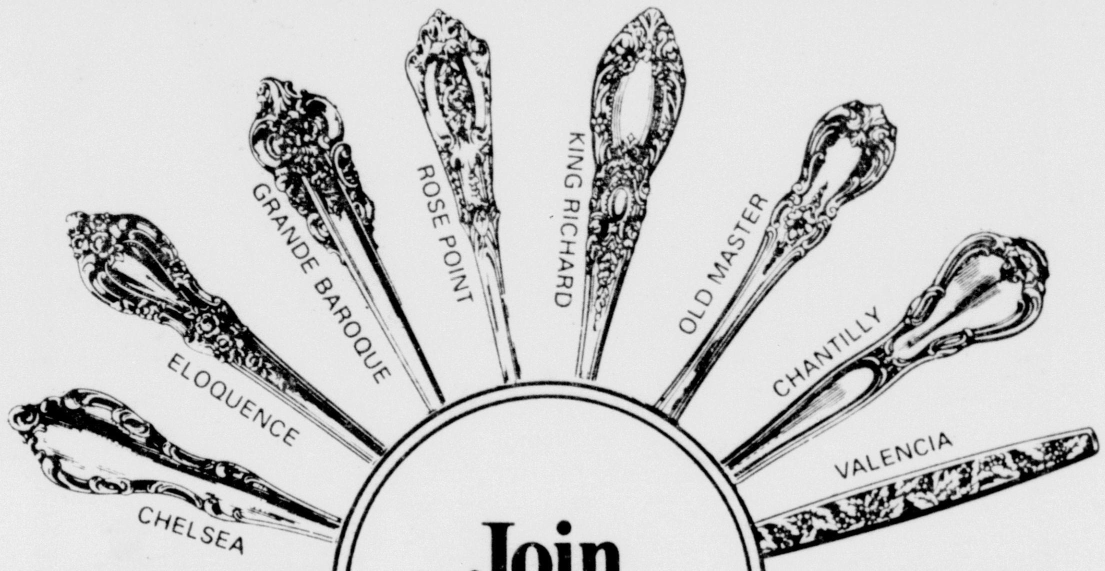
Celebrate the Christmas season by shopping carefully for gifts that match tastes and needs with the names on the list.

Make some gifts — not only to save money, but for the sake of thoughtfulness.

Toughfully, too, add a little extra something to gifts large and small. A small, but thoughtful, gift can accompany and enhance a gift. And a pretty bow or an imaginative touch in the wrapping, makes a small gift big.

When all this is done, chances are most Santa's helpers will still be left with some last-minute problems, some thoughtful things undone. Even the far-sighted and prudent Santa may overlook someone he really wants to remember.

Fine watches, enduringly beautiful silver, good-investment jewelry-all these presents from the jewelry store combine the practical and luxurious



Join our Sterling Silver Club

Just picture yourself entertaining this Christmas season using your very own complete set of Sterling Silver.

It's not as impossible as it may seem. Through our Silver Club Plan, you may purchase your entire service for six, eight or twelve. There's no down payment, no finance charge. And, depending upon the size of your purchase, you'll have up to 12 months to pay in equal monthly amounts.

In other words, use your silver while you're paying for it — instead of getting a piece or place setting at a time. To join our Silver Club, simply stop by our silver department and select your pattern from our complete selections.

CLAY

gelo, and start creating.

One chess set requires two kings, two queens, four each bishops, knights and rooks and 16 pawns. Plan to work on a single group at a time.

In the set shown, the larger cubes and balls are about 1-inch in diameter, the smaller ones about 5x8-inch in diameter. The balls used for horse ears and rook towers are so tiny they defy measurement. So that everything comes out the same size make a sketch to guide you. you.

To form balls, roll clay between the palms of your hands and to form cubes pat the balls square. Make all components needed for one group, set them on waxed paper to dry for half an hour, then rework any that have settled into "squash-hood." Allow another half hour drying period. Meanwhile, start another group.

To build the pieces, cut the heads off a batch of straight pins. Dip pin in white glue and stick it half-way down into the center of each cube base. Push protruding pin top into a ball, which comes next. Repeat for each section you use. The pinning should be done before the clay is completely dry. The mini balls on the rooks and knights are applied by moistening with water and pressing. The crowns for the king and queen are cut from a big coin shaped silver sequin and pushed into the clay at this stage. Or you can use little jewels, a bit of gilt braid, anything shiny.

When the pieces are hard and completely dry, paint them with poster paint. When the paint's dry, coat with nail polish

Remember The Personal Touch

This Christmas is a good time to remind yourself that it's the personal touch that counts. Instead of trying to make a big splash with ostentatious gifts and a great show of extravagance, concentrate on the thoughtful, small gift . one which contains something of yourself. Here is the real Christmas treasure — something created especially for the recipient. And even though we're in the space, taking up needle and thread might be the most contemporary gesture you could make.

There's still time to whip up a piece of patchwork for fashion-minded friends, to crochet a cap for your favorite niece, to design a crewel-work pillow showing the family pet. As for the lord of the manor, wouldn't he like a hand-made suede vest, or a pair of petit-point slippers stitched especially for him? You'll find great new patterns that are easy and fun to do

Begin Schedule Now For The Sleek Look

Resolving to find more grooming-and-preening time? Great. Set up a schedule now. A schedule puts first things first and what's more primary than you? Assign yourself to a twice a week beauty bath in addition to your morning shower.

For this ritual employ all fairy princess goodies: fragrant bubble bath, emollient beauty balms, pumice stones, manicure tools ... the works. These sessions in your at home spa should result in your greeting 1971 in rare, sleek form

New dimensions for realistic play add excitement

A New Focus

The face takes on a new focus More color and more drama is expected for eyes, lips and even fingernails. The languid, beckoning courtesan eye, the bee-stung mouth and deep red fingernails are part of the story. This is reminiscent of the past, but will be enhanced by new transparent, translucent and gossamer foundations.

For Neighbor

For a nice neighbor Dishwashing, diapers and detergents may mean that hands need help for the holidays. Pretty-up a pair of household gloves with a big red rose and glittering braid and stuff each glove with hand cream. There are several creamy hand-savers from which to choose — extra dry skin cream, medicated cream and anti-detergent cream.

New and fantastic!
